No. 65,512

MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996

The miracle moliuse

How Caribbean barnacles can cure cancer

Julian Clary unmasked

Why my stage persona has become a drag PAGE 15

CONCERT FOR 30p

Details and token PAGE 38

13 PAGES OF SPORT

Cricket World Cup England v South Africa Section 2, PAGE 25 WIN tickets for the World cup final see PAGE 24

Ministers ready to admit mistakes Ulster Unionist vote on the Scott report tonight will be decisive

By PHILIP WEBSTER POLITICAL EDITOR

admit that mistakes were embarrassing Commons de-

With tonight's vote hingeing on the Ulster Unionists, the Government will put forward a series of proposals to show that it takes Sir Richard Scott's criticisms seriously and to answer concerns that it ap-

at on the Scott report.

MEASURES to restore public confidence in standards of government will be outlined in protecting ministers than Matrix Churchill trial Mr by ministers today when they learning lessons. While we went on the made in the arms-to-Iraq af-fair and try to head off an attack initially — and were right to do so — today there will be a lot more humility," a source said yesterday.

Ian Lang, President of the needs of a trading nation in Board of Trade, is expected to announce reviews of export control legislation and of the second continuing shakeup in public interest immunity certificate system under which ministers tried to withhold peared to be more interested sensitive documents from the

Lang is likely to promise a consultation paper to consider how to update export controls laid down in 1939, to meet Sir Richard's call for a system

ise a continuing shakeup in the Government's intelligence handling operation.

talks on improving ministers' accountability to Parliament, including clearer guidelines on answering questions. The Government believes that it will win tonight, even though a handful of Tory MPs are threatening to rebel, but the nine Ulster Unionists were keeping ministers guessing last night.

The Rev Ian Paisley's three Democratic Unionists have promised to abstain, as they have done in all recent critical votes, and if David Trimble's rebel. "I have always made it clear that if William Waldeparty does the same, the Government will be home and grave was prepared to take dry. But Mr Trimble is deeply responsibility for misleading critical of the Government over Scott and his MPs will meet after the debate has Parliament my position would change," he said. "But that does not appear to be the case. started to decide how to vote. We have to restore confidence Quentin Davies, the Tory in Parliament and the values MP for Stamford and Spalthat underlie the Conservative ding, confirmed yesterday that he would vote against the Mr Davies could be joined Government and said there in the revolt tonight by Richwas no question of second ard Shepherd, Rupert Aliason thoughts over his decision to and Peter Thurnam, the latest MP to resign the whip. Others believed to be considering their position are Christopher Gill and John Marshall, while several others have said that had the Government's position not been so weak they.

too, would have rebelled. Mr Major is insisting that he will keep Mr Waldegrave and Sir Nicholas Lyell, the Attorney-General, in his Government even if he loses tonight and has to face a Heseltine, the Deputy Prime Minister, said that they would survive: "I think they should. I've read every word of the report about William Waldegrave and it's inconceivable that man would set out to deceive anybody."

Mr Heseltine said that Sir Richard found there was no foundation for the two central suggestions that ministers had conspired to send innocent men to prison and that the Government was arming Saddam Hussein.

William Rees-Mogg, page 16 Lyell letter, page 17

Double suicide bomb attack on Israel kills 25

FROM ROSS DUNN IN JEKUSALEM by a Jewish extremist at

The rush-hour explosion in Jerusalem killed 23 and in-jured 49, at least 14 of them

Hebron two years ago.

ISLAMIC extremist suicide bombers launched twin attacks on Israel yesterday, killing 25 people and wounding 77 in the country's bloodiest day. for twenty years.
The first blast, in Jerusalem, ripped a packed commuter bus apart, scattering victims and debris across a wide area. The second, 50 minutes later, levastated a bus stop used by soldiers in the seaside town of Ashkelon

The double attack was the peace deal struck by Israel and the Palestine Liberation Organisation in 1993, and Shimon Peres immediately suspended contacts with Yassir Arafat, who condemned the bombings. The Israeli Prime Minister also. sealed off the West Bank and Gaza Strip and threatened retaliation against Hamas, the extremist Islamic movement

Harnas said that its two "heroes" had carried out the attacks to avenge the killing last month of its master bomber Yahya Ayyash, known as the Engineer, and the massa-cre of 29 Muslim worshippers and seven cars were damaged.

Dazed bystanders wept and chanted psalms as police investigators looking for clues worked alongside ultra-Orthohuman remains for burial. A makeshift memorial of canmost devastating blow to the dies and a twisted piece of metal from the bus was set up on the pavement and last might hundreds of people gathered there for a protest vigil. Arye Amit, the Jerusalem police chief, estimated that the bomb contained 22lb of explo-sives and had been packed with ball bearings and nails to inflict maximum harm. The second explosion killed two people and injured many soldiers. An onlooker said: "I saw a ball of fire and a huge explosion. The road was covered in blood." Mr Peres rushed to Jaffa

Road, scene of the Jerusalem blast, but he was greeted by angry Israelis shouting "Peres go home" and "Death to the Arabs". When he was gone, others yelled: "With blood and fire we will throw out Peres". and police later exchanged blows with demonstrators Mr Peres, who has called elections for May 29, has critically, leaving the bus a charred skeleton. Another bus feared such an attack which might swing security-convoters towards the Likud party, which opposes dismissed questions about possible damage to his election chances. That's the last question you should have asked," he said. Although he was freezing negotiations with Mr Arafat until after the funerals, Mr Peres said that he was determined to continue Middle East peace talks and said: "I know deep in my heart that on the way to peace, we shall have to pay a heavy toll for it." Mr Arafat said in Gaza City: 'This is not a military operation. This is a terrorist operation. It is not only against civilians. It is against the whole peace process."

> Blow to Peres, page 9 Leading article, page 17

Changing the guard: Camouflage fatigues replaced uniforms at Buckingham Palace yesterday as security was tightened after the IRA bombings in London

Labour to back anti-terror Act in policy shift

LABOUR is to drop its 15-year opposition to the Prevention of Terrorism Act in a move to kill any suggestion that it would be softer on the IRA than the Government.

The change, announced by Jack Straw, the Shadow Home Secretary, after consultations with Tony Blair and Marjorie Mowlam, the Shadow Northern Ireland Secretary, seems certain to provoke opposition on the Left.

Mr Blair and Mr Straw have decided that the renewal of the IRA campaign after the 17-month ceasefire, and the imminence of a general elec-tion, mean that they have to send a message that there would be no succour for the IRA in the election of a Labour

It is also clearly designed to remove an important weapon from the Government. Ministers have used Labour's opposition to the Act to claim that it is soft on terrorism. There have been signs that Sinn Fein believes it would receive better treatment from Labour.

Mr Straw's announcement came as 100,000 people in Northern Ireland and the republic demonstrated their determination to maintain the peace process when Protestants and Roman Catholics stood together at peace railies.

The ending of the ceasefire has put us in a new situation. We have to look at this afresh," a senior Labour source said yesterday. Labour MPs will be asked to abstain on the Act rather than vote against it, as in the past. Mr Blair, a former Shadow Home Secretary, is understood to have had reservations about the policy of opposing the Act for some time. Both he and John Smith, the former Labour leader, repeatedly pressed the Govern review of the Act's workings on the ground that it was flawed. Had they been granted a review they would have changed their stance.

The Act gives police power to detain and exclude suspected IRA criminals. Labour leaders have always said that it has been inefffective and counterproductive.
Michael Howard, the Home

Secretary, said last night: "I very much hope the Shadow Cabinet will support Jack Straw's recommendation to renew the Prevention of Terrorism Act. It will be an admission that Labour now recognises how wrong they have been for the last 13

> Peace rallies, page 2 Photograph, page 22

United close gap Manchester United crushed

The Times on the Internet http://www.the-times.co.uk

Atherton caught out by 'buffoon' jibe at cricket inquest

BY SIMON WILDE

IT IS safe to assume that Michael Atherton had not heard of the Pakistan Federal Union of Journalists before yesterday. But after one of its number asked him a series of long-winded questions — fol-lowing England's cricket World Cup defeat in Rawalpindi - the England captain may soon be apologising to it.

Atherton, no doubt irritable after another personal failure and another heavy defeat by

TV & RADIO

WEATHER

CROSSWORDS.....

journalist's first question and thought his second tiresomely similar. "I think I've already answered that," he said.

Another question. "Some-body remove this buffoon." Atherton muttered. Few people in the room heard the remark but it was audible on tape-recordings. A spokesman for the journalists' union later demanded Atherton apologise for his "contemptuous manner" and "highly deplorable" remarks.

Atherton is not an enthusiastic supporter of these question-and-answer sessions, but only last week stressed to his players the importance of creating a good impression in a country where England cricketers have often done the England have not toured Pakistan since 1987 because of the row Mike Gatting, then England captain, shared with Shakoor Rana, a local umpire, during the Faisalabad Test. That incident began when apologised Indeed, rarely has

OBITUARIES

LETTERS 17

WILLIAM REES-MOGG......16

Shakoor rejected several Eng-land appeals for a wicket and accused Gatting of attempted sharp practice by illegally moving a fielder. Their confrontation held up the match and it continued - after the loss of a day - only when Gatting tendered an apology. On the tour before that, in 1984, Ian Botham returned home early through illness and declared that he would not send his mother-in-law to such a place. Botham too a series between the countries passed without some misunderstanding or other, often over allegations of unfair play or unfair umpiring.

Even a moment of careless ness at an informal social function can be inflammatory. although the former England foreigner to "pass the salt, Gunga Din" ought to have known he was asking for

England shambles, page 25

ARTS12, 13

CHESS & BRIDGE 33

COURT & SOCIAL 18

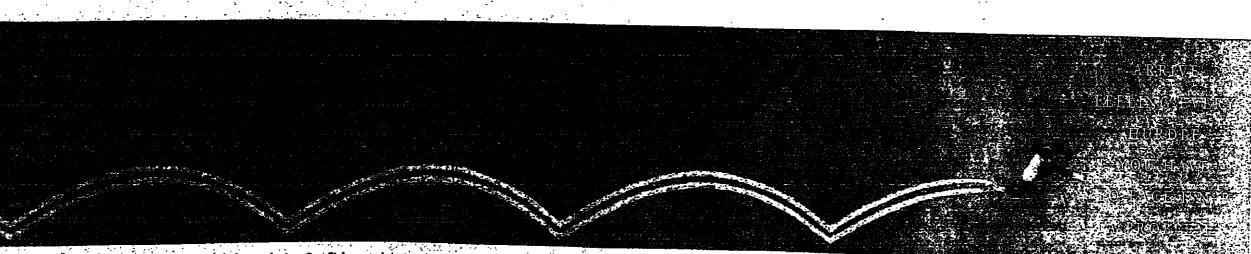

"Amazing, he's played

US demands UN meeting on Cuba

The United States last night called for an emergency meeting of the United Nations Security Council to protest at Cuba's "blatant violation" in shooting down two unarmed US Cessnas. Warren Christopher, the Secretary of State, said Washington was satis-fied the planes were over international waters. Four pilots are missing, presumed killed. President Clinton is considering retaliation, including sanctions Page 11

BUSINESS	38-42, 44
MIND & MATTER
LAW REPORT	36

When you fly Delta nothing should get in the way of you relaxing. Our flight attendants recognise whether to leave you alone, to let you sleep or to make time for a friendly chat. That's why every passenger who gets off any of the ... Delta ALT VIDES 500 flights to our home town of Atlanta, the venue of the 1996 Olympics, arrives feeling like they can take on the world. For flight or ticket information call 0800 414 767. THE OFFICIAL AIRLINE OF THE BRITISH OLYMPIC TEAM.

Fears that IRA will strike without warning undermine hopes of renewed ceasefire

Hit-list of RAF stations found at bomber's home

By Stewart Tendler and Mike Evans

A HIT-LIST of top RAF stations was found in the south London hideout of the Aldwych bus bomber, police sources revealed yesterday, as Scotland Yard said that the IRA could strike at any time

Ed O'Brien's bedsit in Lewisham also included enough Semtex explosive to make up to ten bombs similar to the device which exploded on the bus. The target list, handwrit-ten on a single sheet of paper.

Both MI5 and the included other military installations. Police also found an extensive collection of timers, fuses and detonators hidden in the room or buried in the

The RAF bases may have been chosen because the IRA considers them a weak point where security would be easier to breach. The RAF has had few connections with Northern Ireland, apart from pro-viding guards for Aldergrove airport in Belfast. The extent of the equipment suggests the IRA has made plans for a ruthless and sustained campaign. One officer said: "The Both MI5 and the police fear that the IRA is pro launch bomb attacks without warning, although not necessarily against civilian targets. One security source said: "If the IRA employs logic they might view it as counterproductive to attack civilian areas without warning. Certainly they wouldn't want to risk killing American tourists because of the impact that would have on public opinion in the United States." During the 17-month cease-fire, Sinn Fein mounted an urgent fundraising campaign in the United States and raised £800 million. Although Presifeeling is the IRA is here to do dent Clinton is considering something and to do somebanning fundraising activities, MIS believes the IRA would do nothing to risk. epared to damaging the potential fundraising in the US. Two American civilians were injured in the Docklands bombing two weeks ago although they were not badly hurt. MI5 believes the IRA hardliners who forced the ending of the ceasefire have resolved to hit Establishment targets, including military bases, as a priority, following bombing at South Quay. Over

John Grieve, head of the Anti-Terrorist Branch, said that

As the police warnings were issued, hundreds of extra officers moved into the centre of London to protect vulnerable buildings and streets. Assessments suggest the West End and centres of government and commerce will be the principal targets for a vicious

The security forces are understood to be preparing for a campaign lasting at least a year. The bleakest analysis suggests there will be no political movement until the IRA sees a new political landscape emerging in London, Dublin and Washington after months the IRA has moved fresh active service units into place for a campaign with new rules. The list of possible targets includes the Royal Family, senior politicians, the City, areas such as Docklands and landmarks of London. One police source said these would include "any landmark you can recognise as London from a postcard". strike beyond London but the capital will remain the focus for attack. Terrorist intelligence officers believe the IRA would be happy to attack the Royal Family and the only but coded messages have atrestraint is the fear of loyalist reorisals.

VIPs could face attacks from car bombs like the device which killed Ian Gow, the close doors on Sinn Fein if there was a way of salvaging

Unionists, however, said the meeting showed that the IRA was using bombs as a negotiating tactic. Ken Maginnis the Ulster Unionist defence spokesman, said:

The Government says it want to keep channels of communication open. But in reality they are talking with terrorists. The IRA is saying. 'Do things our way or we will

The MP for Fermanagh and South Tyrone was particularly angered that Mr Mc-

Gainness, who was once convicted of IRA membership, will be joined at the talks regarded as one of the key

Sinn Fein's insistence that republican strategists.

the peace proces

dant of Margaret Thatcher, in 1990. The IRA may also have infiltrated gunmen on to the mainland to carry out assassinations at close quarters, like the shooting of the Governor of Gibraltar at his home in Lichfield, also in 1990. Large bomb attacks without warning would be a new departure for the IRA and there was concern last week Active service units could athat there was no announcement of the bus bomb. In fact the IRA swiftly confirmed it was an accident Assassinaways been given about other devices. They are often inaccurate. Police are still trying to piece together the background of

O'Brien, 21, and are surprised been linked to terrorism. "He seems to have been the complete sleeper in the classic John Le Carré mode," one officer said. Other members of the active service unit either lived near by or kept in contact.

at his home. IRA gangs usually keep their caches away from their homes. Detectives think

O'Brien was either naive or highly confident. He had no criminal record and had never ☐ Sinn Fein's fundraising organisation in the United States is to sue the Financial Times for libel over an editorial. The Friends of Sim Fein claim that the FT conspired with the British Government falsely to acrose the Friends of Sinn Fein of funding the IRA's bombing campaign.

elections in Northern Ireland if Britain agrees to a "specific date" for such talks. Britain says that while it is keen to see all-party talks it must create by Gerry Kelly, a convicted IRA bomber. Mr Kelly, 41, is conditions to give Unionists the confidence to join such a

> Despite the Anglo-Irish differences, there were signs of progress yesterday when John Hume, leader of the SDLP, agreed for the first time to take part in elections for a seat to all-party talks. However, the MP for Foyle said the elections would have to be on a "party list" basis in which voters would register

It is understood that Mr Hume threw his weight behind the "party list" election proposal in talks last week with the Rev lan Paisley. leader of the Democratic Unionists. The election, in which Northern Ireland would be treated constituency, would benefit both parties to the detriment of the Ulster Unionists.

David Trimble, leader of the Ulster Unionists who is adamantly opposed to the party list system, insisted yesterday that elections should be held to a 90-member body.

Photograph, page 22

Renewing your home insurance in March or April?

If you're 50 or over, save with Saga Home Insurance

You will know how expensive home insurance can be -particularly if your insurance company is also having to insure younger, less careful householders. Thankfully, if you're aged 50 or over you can benefit from Saga Home Insurance - a superior household insurance that's only available to mature, responsible people like you.

Because of this, Saga Home Insurance can offer you genuine savings over other policies, while giving you cover that fully protects your home and possessions. So if your home insurance is due for renewal soon, or if you would simply like to find out how much you could save with Saga Home Insurance, call us today - free,

The Saga Price Promise

H 2487

If you find another comparable policy at a lower price within 2 months of taking out Saga Home Insurance, we'll refund you the difference.

Saga Services Ltd would like to send you information about services provided by other Saga companies and may pass details to these companies to enable them to do so.

- Exclusively for people aged 50 or
- Cover is comprehensive and low cost.
- Free Saga Assist service -24 Hour Domestic Helpline. 24 Hour Legal Helpline. 24 Hour Glazing Service. Key Recovery Service.
- Save 30% off WorldWide flights.
- Free pen with your quotation.

Call us today!

For your free no obligation quote and a free Saga pen, simply call us on the number below. We will be pleased to answer any questions you have on Saga Home Insurance.

0800 414 525 ext.2487

for your quote or tick the box for further details

Lines open Monday to Friday 9am - 6pm, Saturdays 9am - 1pm

Mr / Mrs / Miss Initial: Surname:	Please tick the type of cover for which	h you would like a quotation:
Address:	Home Contents Cover	· a
Postcode:	Buildings Cover	ם
Telephone No: Date of birth: /	Answer YES to the following and y on your Contents premium.	ou could save up to 13%
Occupation:	Does your home have an amually maintained burglar alarm?	Yes □ No □
Policy No. of Renewal Date: bedrooms:	ls a 5-lever mortise lock fitted to the	* Yer ☐ № ☐
Type of Property:	Are all other external doors fitted w	rith Yes 🗍 Ko 🗍
Detached House: Semi - detached H Terraced House: Detached Bongalo	- Management	Yes No 🗆
Semi - detached Bungalow: Flat/Maisonette: Other: Please specify:	Are you an active metaber of a Police Approved Neighbourhood Watch Scheme?	Yes 🗇 No 🗇
Approximately when was it built?	For insurance on listed brildin construction, flats and maisonemes, the property to be insured, please tel	Or if you are the landlord of

Sinn Fein seeks 'copper-fastened' guarantee of talks By Nicholas Watt, ireland correspondent SINN FEIN will today use its ters said it would be foolish to first meeting with the Govern-ment since the collapse of the IRA ceasefire to warn ministers that they can save the peace process only by setting a firm date for all-party talks.

Martin McGuinness, who will meet senior officials from the Northern Ireland Office at Stormont, insisted yesterday that Britain must give "copper-fastened" assurances that it would convene round-table

As Unionists condemned the Government for agreeing to meet Sinn Fein, Mr Mc-Guinness said he would use the meeting to examine ways of rebuilding the peace

The leading Sinn Fein member said: "Any new process must contain copperfastened and unambiguous public assurances that allparty talks will be initiated by both governments at the earliest possible date. Negotiations need to proceed with urgency and within an agreed

The Government, which cut off ministerial contact with Sinn Fein after the Docklands bomb, insisted that it would maintain contact with the party at official level. Minis-the Government must set a date for all-party talks has proved a sticking point in negotiations between British and Irish officials, who are trying to agree a communiqué for an Anglo-Irish summit this week. Dublin hopes that the IRA will restore its ceasefire and that Sinn Fein will agree to participate in party rather than for individ-

Thousands join protests for peace

By Nicholas Watt IRELAND CORRESPONDENT

MORE than 100,000 people in Northern Ireland and the Republic, Protestants and Roman Catholics, stood together at peace rallies yesterday to demonstrate their determination to maintain the peace proces A crowd of 20,000 gathered outside

Belfast City Hall to demand an end to IRA violence. Forty thousand people marched in Dublin and 25,000 turned out in Cork. Thousands of others wearing white ribbons for peace mrned out at rallies in towns and villages across the Province and the Republic

Parents with children joined pensioners in Belfast to observe ten minutes' silence at the spot where President Clinton switched on the Christmas lights nearly three months ago. As church bells rang out at 3pm, hundreds of people held up white paper doves. The silence was broken after about five minutes when a section of the crowd began to chant "Ceaselire now, give us back our peace". and the rest of the crowd joined in.

The only sour note came when Sinn Fein supporters, holding banners calling for negotiations, refused to observe the silence. Party supporters smirked at the crowd when they began to sing the John Lennon song Give Peace a Chance.

Rosina Watson, who came to the rally with friends from the nationalist Andersonstown area of Belfast, said she had been moved to tears. "This is the people saying we don't want another 25

Peace, co-organisers of the Belfast rally, said: "It was the most significant rally we have held since the collapse of the crasefire. We did not have speeches begause we wanted a people's raily. And the people certainly took it over." The rallies south of the border were organised by Stop '96, a new group that is calling on the IRA to restore its ceasefire. President Robinson lit a candle for peace before joining a rally in Co Kerry.

John Bruton, the Irish Prime Minister, led the calls for peace in the Republic Speaking at a rally in his constituency of Dunboyne, Co Meath, he said: The army council of the IRA has no right to act on our behalf. The people of Ireland are saying to them: 'stop, stop, stop.'

The parents of Ed O'Brien, who blew himself up in the London bus blast. joined more than 2,000 people at an ecomenical service and 30 minute vigil in the grounds of a church in their home town of Gorey, Co Wexford. In London. MPs from the main parties joined a crowd of about at a peace vigil.

Photograph, page 22

Iric blackou: keep on Ripper Section 1 型 國 医水 10 m ik. 4

10.

e kan

nd Green 2 700

prbl.∵ Marie Age ALC:

the field with the field of the ng rat -

Rock star's death may hold clue to trio's suicide pact

BY RUSSELL JENKINS AND TOM RHODES

THE three young Britons who killed themselves in a suicide pact in America habitually. wore black in an apparent homage to their dead hero, fan Curtis, singer with the pop band Joy Division.

Curtis, a depressive, hanged himself 16 years ago when he was 23, ensuring that a macabre cult grew up around the Manchester post-punk rock group, which later changed its name to New Order. His records were among possessions abandoned last summer by Ruth Fleming, Stephen Bateman, both 22, and Jane Greenhow, 23, in their student digs in Leicester.

THE LOO WAS

Students said the trio appeared to live in a "hate-filled and arrogant" world of their own. They were unapproachable, self-obsessed and prone to casual violence.

Carol Broughton, 23, who moved into their flat, said they walked around like they were on a mission". She discovered they were interested in environmental issues and left behind videos of current affairs

She said they all wore dark clothing, which she believed was connected with music they liked, including Joy Divi-sion. "When I heard they had died I was shocked but I wasn't really surprised. It was the sort of thing I could

Curtis singer hanged himself ló years ago

imagine them saying on the spur of the moment. Let's

Miss Broughton said: They were just strange. I got the impression it was part of an act but they seemed to look down on everyone. You felt you weren't good enough to speak to them. The few times I tried to speak to Jane I just got

They had a lot of hatred in them. That was obvious because they hated everyone and everything. They wouldn't make eye contact and if you walked into a room, they would walk straight out."

Mr Bateman and Miss Fleming shot themselves at a firing range in Mesa, Arizona, and 24 hours later Miss Greenhow's body was found at a campsite in Shasta Corin-

Mesa have refused to disclose its contents. Investigators are looking into possible links with an extreme rightwing group.

All three had lived together in Andover, Hampshire, before travelling to America. They were nicknamed the Addams family" by neigh-bours because of their behaviour. Mr Baternan often dressed in a black militarytype uniform and the women sported multi-coloured hairtyles and bizarre make-up.

Detective Ron Shoch, of the Mesa homicide department, said although there was no concrete proof, he was aware of reports that the trin had some connection with an extreme rightwing organisation.

found in a Salvation Army hotel in central London where the three had stayed. A checklist was discovered along with pages from gun magazines and extreme rightwing literature. The checklist said-"Check the guns, get rid of the car, clean the house, dye hair."

Miss Greenhow's mother, Blanche, 51, said she had arrived home in Harrogate to discover a message from her daughter on her answering machine. When she returned the call staff at the hotel said her daughter had checked out. Hours later she was found

Derek McCulloch with a musical score from the 1790s in Austen's handwriting. Collecting music then was like collecting CDs today, he says

Jane Austen, the original Britpop fan

By David Charter, education correspondent

A TREASURE trove of musical scores by Jane Austen's favourite composers and songwriters, many painstakingly written in her own hand, has been found at the author's family home in Alton, Hampshire. Academics from Surrey University analysing the eight volumes say they throw new light on the tastes and lifestyle of the author whose Sense and Sensi-bility, published in 1811, is drawing vast cinema audiences today.

Dr Derek McCulloch, who is preparing a catalogue of the work with coauthor Ian Gammie, said: "She was definitely a fan of popular music. We found huge amounts of music from theatre shows of the 18th century and songs like I'm Jolly Dick the Lamplighter and The Tippling Philosophers." Austen's favourite songwriters emerge as Charles Dibdin, responsible for Jolly Dick, and James Hook, probably best known for Goosey Goosey Gander.

Other ditties by Dibdin in Austen's Top Ten include When Cupid First His Trade Began. Hook also contributed Ma Chère Amie. Dibdin (1745-1814) came from Southampton and was the most influential songwriter of his generation. Hook (1746-1827), from Norwich, wrote more than 2,000 songs. There are many pieces from France and Italy, some of which were published only in Dublin and are likely to have been sent to Austen by her admirer Thomas Lefroy. He became Lord Chief Justice of Ireland after the break-up of their romance, which may have foundered because of family opposition.

Dr McCulioch added: "The acquisition of music then was like the acquisition of CDs now. Jane Austen wrote the manuscripts with an immaculate hand. She obviously knew her music to copy it out

Austen: music lover

Broadmoor blackout on Ripper attack

By A STAFF REPORTER

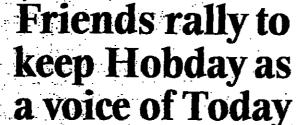

AN attempt to kill Peter Sutcliffe, the Yorkshire Ripper, in his room at Broadmoor. has not been reported to the police by hospital authorities. t emerged lagt-night.

The move is part of an apparent news blackout at the top-security hospital after Friday night's attack, in which : fellow inmate, a convicted thief, allegedly almost garrot-ted Sutcliffs with the flex from a pair of stereo headphones. after knocking on the door of his private room in Henley ward. Sutcliffe, convicted of the murders of 13 women, screamed for help and was saved by two other murderers, Kenneth Erskine the Stockwell Strangler, and Jamie Devilt, who raised the

The alleged attacker had been diagnosed as being mentally ill but told staff he resented being locked up with sex offenders. It has emerged that Broadmoor did not call in the police and all staff have been fold not to talk about the incident. Alan Francy, admoor's general manager, said: "I cannot and will not comment on any incident. which involves one of my alarm and ran to help him.

patients. A spokesman for Thames Valley Police at Bracknell said; We are surprised we were not asked to investigate but Broadmoor appears to be a law unto itself." A member of the hospital staff said: "It is shocking that an attempted munder can happen in a hospital and the police are not

BY MICHAEL HORSNELL

A. CAMPAIGN is being waged by Peter Hobday's friends to prevent him from being squeezed out as a pre-senter on Radio 4's Today. 5 Sources within the BBC say the avuncular style and Home Counties accent of the seteran broadcaster do not please.

who wants a younger audience and more women listeners. Mr Mosey apparently also wants more regional voices on the news and current affairs programme.

Amid reports of friction between the two men - as well as an appeal by Jocelyn Hay, chairman of the Radio 4 pressure group Voice of the Listener, for Mr Hobday's retention - there were official denials that he was being squeezed out. But sources close to the programme insisted that Mr Hobday, a presenter since 1984, is a victim of ageism and of his gentlemanly middle-class image.

Hebday. 59, who is by chance fronting this morning's edition, said last night. "I am not supposed to discuss the internal affairs of the BBC. But as a matter of fact I can't deny that when I am asked the direct question, Have you been offered a new contract, the answer is No. Also when I am asked, Have you been. working fewer days with the programme? the answer is Yes. "My contract expires at the and of March and it is getting late in the day to be offered about some other kind of on Radio 2.

Hobday: confirms he is working less arrangement. But I don't know what that might be or how it would work out."

Mr Mosey denied that Mr Hobday was being squeezed out but said that the successful trio of presenters, John Humphrys, Sue MacGregor and James Naughtie, left few opportunities for others. He told The Times: "Inevitably, with John Humphrys and Sue MacGregor doing a few more slots each, there are going to be fewer available for those who aren't the three main presenters. It's not an ageism thing or a rich Brummie accent thing either. We do want to use Peter Hobday in various roles in the year ahead."

Friends of the broadcaster point out, however, that Mr Hobday has already had the number of programmes he fronts more than halved in the past two years.

D Steve Wright, 41, the former Radio 1 DJ, is to return to the another one. There is talk BBC with two weekend shows

THE PRINCIPLES OF INFORMATION:

Anticipate the unexpected.

The future never turns out quite the way you thought it would.

This explains why Informix is chosen by so many companies whose operations depend on how well they manage (and continue to manage) their information.

From global hotel groups to international oil companies, far-sighted organisations opt for our technology because it means that whenever they choose - they can change course without disrupting their journey. Call Informix today, and ask us about tomorrow.

World leaders in database technology.

FOR THE BEST INFORMATION, RING (018) 818-1081. INFORMIX SOFTWARE LIMITED, 6 NEW SQUARE, BEDFONT LAKES, FELTHAM, MIDDLESEX TW14-8HA.

Discredited Vinland map may be genuine after all

By NIGEL HAWKES SCHENCE EDITOR

THE Vinland map, long dismissed as a clever forgery designed to prove Columbus was not the first European in North America, may be genuine after all

Hailed in 1965 as the most exciting cartographic discovery of the century, the map was discredited ten years later by scientific studies that showed the ink contained a pigment with titanium in it not available before the 20th century. It could not, therefore, date from 1440 as its supporters ciaimai. In the 1980s, physicists in California passed a proton beam through the map, generating X-rays which showed only liny quantities of thurium. Or Thomas Cabill of the University of California at Davis, the the claim that the map must land map that in any way map had later been drawn. physicist responsible, said

Part of the map, from Europe to America

be a forgery should be re-

Earlier this month at a symposium at Yale Dr Cahill added further evidence. Analysis of known volumes of the same period, including a Gutenberg Bible had shown ittanium occurring naturally at greater levels than in the map. Dr Cahill said "There is nothing about the chemistry or morphology of the Vinmakes it stand out from any of the parchments from that period we have analysed." Now Yale University. which owns the map and keeps it locked in a vauit, is to republish an expanded edition of the book which created the 1965 sensation. The Vinland Map and the Tartar Relation. In a new introduction. George Painter, a scholar retired from his post as assistant keeper of printed books at the British Museum, says that rejection of the Vinland map has been a miscarriage of justice.

The key point was that the map contained an island. labelled Vinland Insula. with a coastline similar to that of Newfoundland. Since it antedated Columbus by 50 years, it was strong evidence that Norse explorers had visited the region and provided the information from which the Gentlemanly London haunt of Byron and Greene may soon house only the very rich

Men of letters fear rent rise will spoil Piccadilly haven

By Rachel Kelly, property correspondent

THE historic character of Albany, the exclusive Piccadilly block of flats that has traditionally been a haven for men of letters, is threatened by 40 per cent rent rises that could force some of its illustrious residents to move.

Traditionally at least a third of residents, who include the Tory MP Sir Peter Tapsell. Anthony Smith. President of Magdalen College, and Christopher Gibbs, an antique dealer, have enjoyed low rents on

A one-bedroom pied-a-terre typically costs from about £10,000 a year to rent from Peterhouse. Cambridge, the landlord. Half the flats are November last year, Peterhouse appealed in the High Court against rent levels set by the Government's assessment officers which it thought were too low. Last month it won its case and now some residents are facing rent rises of 15 to 40

Mr Gibbs, a long-time resident, says: "Of course we quite understand the problem of trustees having to get the best rent. But it would better if they could increase rents only after a tenant dies, rather than rises for existing tenants."

rises could ultimately change the historic character of the Albany "sets", as the flats are known, where Sir Isaiah and Lady Berlin, Lord Quinton, Alan Clark, the former Tory minister, and the interior designer David Hicks own their block in London. It has a magnificent Georgian façade and is divided into a total of 69 sets. These were originally let as "chambers for bachelors and widowers" and no woman was admitted unless she was a close relative.

Designed by Sir William Chambers in 1770, Albany is the oldest, if not the grandest,

Albany has always been associated with men of letters. and past tenants include Byron, J.B. Priestley, Malcolm Muggeridge, Graham Greene and, in the realms of fiction, Raffles the jewel thief. In future, it is likely that only investment bankers and rich foreigners may be able to afford the rents of £1,000 a week for a top furnished set let on the open market. Savills the estate agents recently let two flats to a solicitor and a

"It will ultimately change, and almost certainly not for the better." Mr Gibbs said. Another Albanian, who preferred to remain anoymous, said: "It will be a shame if banker yuppies replace the traditional actors and writers who have made Albany so Jean Love, from Knight Frank, agents for Peterhouse, said: "These new rents were set by the Government's rent assessment committee. They are still only about a third of open market rents. Peterhouse is very conscious of the fact that it is a charity and would always consider most carefully any long-standing resident in difficulty.

To safeguard its special sedate and scholarly atmosphere, the trustees rule that occupants are not allowed to whistle, make any noise after llom or to house a cat or dog

The Georgian façade of Albany House, which was once used as a convenient London base by such as Lord Byron and Graham Greene. Residents today include Alan Clark, third from left, and Christopher Gibbs, right against pollution damage ONE of the cities with the Council to join fight

worst air quality in Britain is to undergo an environmental review as efforts are stepped up to save its historic build-

Cambridge has little heavy industry but its narrow, congested streets add to the effects of pollution. A European Union survey 18 months ago. found it had the worst air quality of any British city after Manchester and Glasgow.

This week the city's environmental health officials will meet the Department of the Environment to launch the air quality review, with a report expected in August.

Roger Coey, Cambridge City Council's head of environ-mental health and pollution, said that local air quality had shown a small improvement since the survey in 1994. More power stations throughout Britain had switched to gas 🖣 and more cars were fitted with catalytic converters. "I would expect to see a continuing slow improvement up to about the year 2005, when the sheer volume of traffic will outweigh the benefits of catalysers." he

"At the end of our air quality review we expect to have a plan of action. That could mean banning traffic, or promoting a park and ride scheme, or bus lanes, or any of several other measures. It is essential that the public be-come involved; they must tell us what they want."

Last week Professor Patrick

Bateson, Provost of King's College, disclosed that the college chapel, one of En-gland's foremost tourist attractions, is being eaten away by pollution.

Henry VI's glorious fanvaulted creation attracts almost as many visitors as Windsor Castle, but Profeesor Bateson disclosed that stonework repairs carried out only 20 years ago were already starting to dissolve. Other parts of the college are also suffering.

Launching a £10 million appeal last week, the college authorities said that at least £2 million was urgently needed for stonework repairs. "The sheer acidity of the rain in Cambridge has been shown to be very high indeed," Professor Bateson said. "Some areas are particularly bad, and you can see where the faces are wearing off the angels."

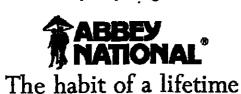

English Heritage said yes terday that all limestone buildings in Cambridge suffered equally, but the decay was most noticeable in the fine detail of King's. The simpler classical lines of other colleges did not show the damage so

Hi-tech boss buys NOTALL THE Flying Scotsman, the purchaser, Dr Tony Marchcelebrated steam locomotive ington, 40, is chief executive of Oxford Molecular Group, a that has been languishing in computer software company hits in a west London shed since last April, is to be sold to a millionaire steam buff that raised £30 million when it was floated on the stock who made his money from exchange in 1994. Dr Marchington, who was computers. The deal, to be completed not available for comment, is this week, will ease fears among railway enthusiasts that the 73-year-old engine a lifelong steam enthusiast who bought his first steamroller at the age of 22 and who may never be seen again in later set up a company restor public. It had been stripped ing traction engines. down in preparation for a two-year £250,000 overhaul

ARE THE SAME Abbey National have been offering sound financial advice for years and last year we were the biggest new provider of Unit Trust PEPs'. What's more, our Growth PEP has already turned £4,000 into £4,808 (+20.2%) since March 1995*. A great combination, we think you'll find, for pepping up your savings.

To increase your returns by giving less to the tax man, talk to us about our Personal Equity Plans. To find out more just pop into your local branch, send us the coupon below or phone us free on 0800 100 888 Monday to Friday 8.00am to 9.00pm or Saturday 8.00am to 4.00pm, quoting reference A391A.

For your vectority and to assist us in improving our service to you, we may record or monitor all calls to Abbey National Direct. "Source: HSW Limited. Period 1.3.95 to 30.1.96. Buying to For your security and to assist us in improving our service to you, we may record or monitor at critic to never various birect. "Source: HSW Limited January 1996. Excludes institutional investment. The value of tax reliefs depend on your personal financial circumstances and may be affected by fature changes in legislation. The value of investments and any income from them may fall as well as vise, is not guaranteed and, therefore, you may not get back the full amount you invest. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. PEP products are managed by Abbey National Unit Trust Managers Limited. Abbey National, the Umbrella Couple symbol and The habit of a lifetime are trademarks of Abbey National plc. Registered office; Abbey House, Baker Street, London NW1 6XL, United Kingdom. Registered Number 2294747. Registered in England. ABBEY NATIONAL PLC, WHICH IS REGULATED BY THE PERSONAL INVESTMENT AUTHORITY, ONLY SELLS ITS OWN LIFE ASSURANCE, PENSION AND UNIT TRUST PRODUCTS.

Abbe	For further information y National Direct, Fre	n on Abbey National PEPs plea repost GW8275, 287 St Vinc	se return this coupon to: ent Street, Glasgow, G2 5BR.
TTLE (Mr,Mrs,Miss,Ms):	INITIALS:	SURNAME:
ADDRESS:		.
			POSTCODE:
DAYTIME TEL NO:		EVENING TE	EL NO:

Flying Scotsman

By Jonathan Prynn, transport correspondent and has cracks in its boiler. Its present owners, Pete Waterman, the pop impresa-rio, and Sir William Mc-Alpine, ran into financial difficulties last year when the steam charter market collapsed. At one stage the Flying Scotsman - credited as the first train officially to exceed the 100mph barrier was used as collatoral to secure a loan from the National Westminster Bank. The

The Flying Scotsman is

Nokia Digital Security. Cellphones Direct Prices!

ESIII MODEL 2010.

- ◆ 99 name/number memory 100 mins talk-time
- 30 hrs standby-time Complete with standard
- battery and rapid travel ♦ Weight approx 320g

FREE ME-CAR ADAPTOR/CHARG FREE SPANE BATTERY 郑以和祖山祖 TOGETHER WORTH OVER $75

Trust Celiphones Direct to make a world of difference to digital phone prices. With FREE connection to the Vodafone PersonalWorld Tariff, so you can use the phone throughout the UK, most of Europe and beyond on the GSM international network: With digital call clarity and absolute confidentiality

Simply phone us with your credit card details to receive your phone plus valuable extras within 4

2) 0 .
OCHNECTION TO YOURSELFORCE
£17.63 (£15+VAT)
42p per min (35p + VAT)
18g per miz (15p+YAT)
Nove, any 7 (10-19,00) Man to Fel. Manchiny Streets and at CL.77, at: VIT for Health, Dan metal Adolest and animo chapte will be deplied to your monated

GUARANTEED PEACE OF MIND Your phone is covered by our 14 days.

T- 0- 2

ORDER NOW FOR FREE DELIVERY IN 4 WORKING DAYS

Office ambject to states and a standard infinite car is at for each phone with Cellphobes Direct Let. 185 Lower R Fell medium details and journs and conditions of this offer are available on request. Or Comm

Women at risk of cancer agonise Over mastectomy developing breast cancer decided to have their healthy breasts removed before there was any sign of the disease.

Wendy Watson, 41, and Vanessa Smith, 44, are members of an extended family that carries the breast cancer gene BrCal. They faced the distressing decision after learning that ten of their female relatives over four generations had died of breast cancer,

A third member of the family, in her early 20s, who decided to put off a masteciomy until later, said she needed to plan having children and "finding a husband, perhaps". About 1,300 breast cancer cases a year, 5 per cent of the total, are inherited. Those carrying the BrCal gene have an 85 per cent chance of developing breast cancer.

Mrs Watson, from Bake-Derbyshire, whose mother and grandmother died of breast cancer, became one of the first women in Britain to opt for a precautionary double

Four members of a family that carries the breast cancer gene BrCal have described their dilemma. Jeremy Laurance reports mastectomy in 1993 after trac-ing her family history and discovering many other relatives had been affected by the disease. "It got so eventually I was constantly worrying about it: It kept nagging and day. Then one night and day. Then one night I thought if I had a mastectomy before I got a problem that would solve it.

"Once I thought that, no one could have shaken me because my overriding worry was of dying of cancer. I went into hospital had the operation, woke up and thought. Thank goodness for that, it's done, that's the gamble off. I felt absolutely line.

Mrs Watson, who has two children, had her mastectomy before a blood test for the gene became available in September 1994. She describes how she made her choice in a Channel 4 film The Decision. to be shown at 9pm tomorrow. Mrs Smith, her cousin, resisted the idea of a mastectomy but changed her mind when she learnt that she carried the gene. She decided on a cosmetic mastectomy leaving enough tissue to allow her breasts to be reconstructed with an implant,

. There isn't a cure and there might never be one. I couldn't live with the waiting ... the thought of being worried for the next 30 years. I'm not particularly well-endowed - I might end up with a better pair," Mrs Smith, from Huddersfield, West Yorkshire,

Helen Cauldwell is the youngest family member to have had the gene test, which confirmed she is also a carrier. Before taking it she said: "Even though I am only 21 now and breast cancer in our family kicks in at about 30, it would be nice to know so I can plan children and getting married. If I do have to have a mastectomy it is going to and finding a husband, per-haps. I would rather be alive carry the gene, she broke down in tears. Later she said with no boobs than in a coffin she felt guilty that she was free of the lethal gene that had A fourth member of the family, Diane Lucking, 36, who is married with two afflicted so many of her About 15 women in the children, was resigned to hav-United Kingdom are thought ing a mastectomy. But when to have had preventive mas-expected to increase. Mrs Watson said: "The main message ! want to get across is that body image doesn't matter. A lot of people were horrified when they heard I was having the operation so I had to make it easier for them. I have turned it into a feature of myself." Mrs Watson, who runs a shop and whose husband is a policeman, said she felt privileged to have had the test. "It could have been so many things you can't do anything about. But there is something you can do about breast cancer. I feel I have escaped."

Mind and Matter, page 14

Red Arrows | Lisa Leeson must miss British air shows

By HARVEY ELLIOTT AIR CORRESPONDENT

THE Red Arrows have been ordered to take part in an Indonesian air show at the height of the coming summer season, forcing them to miss some of Britain's most popular air displays.

Michael Portillo, the Defence Secretary, has ruled that the RAF's aerobatic team should fly out in June on a three-week round trip to Jakarta, preventing them appearing at 17 planned air displays.
The Red Arrows, who lost their home base of Scampton. Lincolnshire, in defence cuts and are being temporarily housed at RAF Cranwell, are now privately sponsored by a number of British companies anxious to sell arms and equipment around the world.-

Dr David Clark, the Shadow Defence Secretary, said: The taxpayer, who funds the RAF in general, should be able to see the skill of the superb pilots of the Red Arrows. It is a matter of deep regret that they are being used in this fashion and is another example of how, when sponsorship is introduced, he who pays the seeks cheap flights in airline job

By OUR AIR

LISA LEESON will this week be interviewed for a job as a Virgin Atlantic air hostess, which she hopes will provide her with cheap flights to visit her husband Nick, who is serving a 62 year jail term in Singapore for his role in the collapse of Barings bank.

Mrs Leeson is one of more than 1.000 hopefuls who will be interviewed on Wednesday for 400 cabin crew jobs in the rapidly expanding Virgin air-line fleet. If successful, she will start on a basic salary of £8,500 plus expenses and overseas allowances."

Of far more interest to Mrs Leesan ZI, is the perk of paying only 10 per cent of the normal fare on Virgin Atlantic's service to Kuala Lumpur An economy return to the Malaysian capital costs £623: if successful in her application, Mrs Leeson would have to pay only E62. After a year with Virgin, staff are entitled to 10 per cent trips with other

Mrs Leeson currently works as an assistant in a tea shop in-Maidstone, Kent

If it were a matter of just one good PC review, just one award, we wouldn't think it's worth a whole ad.

But Celebris and Venturis are different.

MEDICAL BRIEFING How soap star's vision dimmed

LOVERS of Coronation Street were dismayed to hear yesterday that Amanda Barrie has lost most of the sight in her left eye. Miss Barrie plays Alma, the café owner in the series. The radio report of her sudden loss of vision did not equate with the usual diagnostic picture of somebody suffering from a central retinal vein occlusion. Characteristically it pro-duces a gradual loss of sight, whereas it seemed this affliction was sudden.

Miss Barrie's account in a Sunday paper was more detailed and made better medical sense. Miss Barrie ecame aware of trouble last May when she began to notice deterioration in the vision of her left eye. Her right is unaffected.

Initially the loss seemed worrying and tiresome but not incapacitating, and her ophthalmologist made the

Barrie: her vision deteriorated slowly

dition the blood is unable to drain from the retina, the back of the eye becomes swollen and the vein so distended that there are many small retinal haemorrhages. The condition can be progressive or can improve, as it did for months in Miss Barrie's case. There was a relapse at Christmas when her vision deteriorated and it is now severely blurred.

There is every reason to hope that Miss Barrie's good eye will remain unaffected. However, if there is any predisposing condition which caused the occlusion in the left eye it might also influence the venous circulation in the right.

Central retinal venous occlusion usually attacks older people; it is rare in the young. Although in many cases there are no obvious edisposing factors present which can be treated, a high blood pressure has to be excluded. It is essential to make sure the person is not diabetic and any conditions which might lead to increased blood discosity must be treated if present.

There is no treatment for the initial occlusion butsome changes in the back of the eye which follow revasculation may need

> DR THOMAS STUTTAFORD

Just take a moment to read what some of the world's most respected computer publications have to say about the technical excellence and great value for money desktops of a PC company which is less than 3 years old. But then, what would you expect from 2 company that has been at the leading edge of computer technology for as long as computers themselves have been around. No matter what business you are in, can you afford to ignore the hottest PC's on the market today?

"DESIGNED TO RUN WINDOWS WINDOWS NT, THE CELEBRIS GLESTE BOASTS A FEATURE PACKED SPECIFICATION WHICH PLACES IT AMO THE SWIFTEST PCS IN EXISTENCE

To find out more, please call 0345 227 228 or visit us at http://www.pc.digital.com

OFFICIAL SUPPLIER

"VENTURIS DESERVABLE ACC. AND WITH GREAT WINDSHIE SAURES WITH YES GRAPHICS AND HIGH DISK SECO PC Computing

Flock-owning MP becomes surprise black sheep

By ALICE THOMSON, POLITICAL REPORTER

is at risk".

Until now Mr Davies has pandered to the Whips' every whim. He is a member of the Treasury Select Committee as well as an officer of three Tory backbench committees. He is also a family man who attends church every week. He has always toed the party line and has made it clear that he dislikes the former whipless rebels for embarrassing John Major over Europe. But like the former Tory MP Peter Thurnham, who quit the party last week, he has never been rewarded with ministerial office. Instead he has gained the dubious distinction of being Westminster's most widely travelled backbencher and picked up a host of lucrative

Mr Davies, who made his money as a banker at Morgan

Grenfell, has recently been on parliamentary trips to Italy,

Germany. Estonia. Ethiopia.

Turkey, Russia and Copenhagen. He said: "These are not a jaunt or beano. Other countries are confronting the same problems as us, and we would be barmy if we did not share

Unfortunately they are unlikely to have given him any tips about leading his new flock of renegades. The other

Tory MPs who have threatened to vote against the Gov-mostly professional rebels who have less to lose. Only

John Marshall, MP for Hendon South, has not voted against the Government their experience."

consultancies.

before deciding to rebel. He called it "a sickening realisa-tion which meant I could nounced vesterday that he would be rebelling against the Government on the crucial hardly eat my Sunday lunch" and said he was rebelling Scott vote, few people had ever heard of this anodyne backbench Tory MP. only because the integrity of public life and the constitution

Mr Davies makes an unlikely leader of the new Scott rebels. In the nine years since he became MP for Stamford and Spalding his greatest claim to fame was that he had been cruel to sheep. Five years ago he was fined £1,500 for allowing his flock to starve on his Lincolnshire estate and not preventing 36 newborn lambs from dying. Every time he tried to speak in the Commons. Labour MPs based.

Since then Mr Davies, a multimillionaire, has kept a low profile. Colleagues say he is neither clubbable nor a thinker, although he gained a first at Cambridge. They are stunned that he has thrust himself into the limelight. "Let's hope he doesn't do a Thurnham and quit the party," said one.

Mr Davies is considered contrary in his views - he is inclined to the One Nation Tories on the left of the party but believes that criminals should be pelted with notten fruit in the village stocks and flogged on television. Yester-

Davies: unlikely rebel

Former NFU chief to vote Labour

By MICHAEL HORNSBY COUNTRYSIDE CORRESPONDENT

A PAST president of the National Farmers' Union has surprised the farming community by announcing that he will be voting Labour at the next general election.

Sir Simon Gourlay, who led the NFU from 1986 to 1991. says he has been alarmed by the Government's "lurch to the right" and finds himself more in tune with the philosophy of Tony Blair's party, including its pledge to introduce a statutory "right to roam" over uncultivated countryside.

Sir Simon said in an interview with The Times that he believed most of his fellow farmers would open their land to the public only if forced to do so by the law: "I think farmers are extremely conservative when it comes to granting the public access." Sir Simon, 61, who grows 300 acres of cereals and keeps 185 suckler cows and 700 ewes in Powys, opened his farm to the public eight years ago. "I wrote to the local branch of the Ramblers' Association and said anyone was free to farmers in general greatly exaggerate the threat." Sir Simon sympathised with the view that public access to farmland was "a

BY PHILIP WEBSTER

POLITICAL EDITOR

LABOUR'S leadership yesterday sent a fresh signal to Paddy Ashdown that it is ready to consider electoral reform as it tries to build a centre Left consensus.

pool and a close adviser to Tony Blair, made clear that Labour was hoping for Liberal Democrat backing for a long-

For the first time he hinted that if electoral reform took place under Labour, the most likely option could be term programme of government.

Peter Mandelson, MP for Hartle-walk on my land, provided they kept off growing crops.

respected gates and so on. I have had no problems. I think

Sir Simon Gourlay, the former farmers' leader who now backs Labour, at his farm in Knighton, Powys, at the weekend er, had shown they were not interested in pacts. "What we are talking about is principled co-operation to achieve the things that we think are important.

What that means is that if we are elected, Labour would come in with a programme to be implemented over the long term, which I hope the Liberal Democrats will feel willing and able to support."

Mr Mandelson said that the problem with proportional representation was that it would produce a plethora of minority, often extreme, parties. If reasonable quid pro quo" for the vast subsidy that farmers receive from taxpayers. A statutory right to roam is anathema to the current leadership of the NFU and to the Country Landowners Association. Pressure from the two groups ensured that only one Tory was among the 144 MPs who voted for an Opposition backbencher's Bill providing term thinking.

the Alternative Vote system under which people express first, second and third preferences in each constituency.

If no candidate achieves 50 per cent,

the preference votes are redistributed.

comed by senior Liberal Democrats last night. He was being interviewed on BBC1's On the Record about his new book, co-authored with Roger Liddle, which is thought likely to contain clues about Mr Blair's long-

He said that Mr Blair and Mr

Mr Mandelson's words were welfor a right to roam at its first reading last month. It has no chance of becoming law under this Government, but would form the basis for legislation if Labour was elected. Sir David Naish, the NFU president, was surprised that Sir Simon had "chosen to wear his political heart on his sleeve" but said he was entitled to vote for any party he tiked. "It is completely unnecessary to have a statutory right to roam. Farmers are willing to allow the public onto their land but it must be managed access by voluntary agreement," Sir David said.

Sir Simon said his decision to vote Labour had been prompted mainly by what he saw as the growing power of "the Portillo-Howard axis, the right-wing engine that is now driving the Tory party". He was also alarmed by the Scott report into arms-to-traq. "I could no more have voted Labour under Michael Foot than flown over the moon," he said. "But new Labour has clearly taken on board much of what the Tories have done. 1 think they should now be given a chance to govern." Mandelson favours electoral reform > electoral system, he said, the Alternative Vote should be considered.

>
> Mr Mandelson said: "We want a consensus across classes, across-pro-fessions, right across the country. That means building a coalition of support for what we are doing which embraces both the Centre and the Left." He added that, if Labour won the next election, "no one is going to give us a honeymoon period for a split second. We have got to make sure that our programme is up and ready to go."

Peter Riddell, page 16 |

Thatcher defends Major over Scott

BY ALICE THOMSON POLITICAL REPORTER

BARONESS THATCHER will today lead a drive in the House of Lords to defend the Government over the Scott report. She is planning a speech that will challenge one of Sir Richard Scott's main findings.

The former Prime Minister. with John Major, will say that Sir Richard is "plain wrong" to conclude in his report that ministers concealed a change in government guidelines on the export of defence related equipment to Iraq.

In her first Lords speech for over a year, Lady Thatcher will argue that the guidelines never changed but only the way in which they were app-lied. However, she will make it "abundantly clear" that she thinks the inquiry should nev-er have been held, according

Many peers, who are nor-mally the first to dissociate themselves from what they view as the "sleazier" lower House, also do not believe that Mr Major and his ministers have sacrificed the integrity of Lord Howe of Aberavon, who as Foreign Secretary su-pervised the department that authorised the guidelines, is likely to make a staunch defence of his colleague. William Waldegrave. Lord Hailsham of St Marylebone, the former Lord Chancellor, and two Law Lords will also defend the Government.

On the other side Lord Healey and Lord Callaghan of Cardiff will be attacking the way Parliament has degener-ated under the Tories and calling for resignations. It will be one of the most formidable line-ups in the Lords for years. But Labour is unlikely to seek a vote as it knows that with the help of more than 300 hereditary peers who take the Tory whip, Mr Major would have an easy victory.

William Rees Mogg, page 16 Leading article and

'From the very beginning I wanted to meet him. I felt he owed me an explanation'

'Mother confronts man who killed her daughter

CRIME CORRESPONDENT

WOMAN has shaken hands with her daughter's murderer in jail after campaigning for years to be allowed to meet him.

Lesley Moreland was determined to confront the man who killed Ruth in 1990 and to learn the full story of her death. The Home Office finally agreed. Now the 56-year-old charity worker wants other relatives of murder victims to be given the same access.

Mrs Moreland, from Potters Bar, Hertfordshire, hopes that telling her story will encourage other relatives of murder victims to realise meetings are possible. She believes meetings can help relatives to overcome grief and to rehabilitate the killers.

The murderer can confront what he has done, reason why he has done it and fight against it happening again," she said. "Surely that is what the prison system is about. She agreed to describe her experiences only if her daugh-ter's killer was not identified so that he could serve his sentence undisturbed.

Ruth, 22, was killed at the house she shared with friends in Enfield, north London. She was an employment training officer who had helped her attacker in the past. The jobless 23-year-old arrived at her house at 5am asking for

Ruth Moreland was stabbed to death in her house do that? Here was someone we had never heard of, I wanted to find out what kind of man he was. I felt he owed me an

Her husband, an accountant, wanted to forget the murder but he did not stop his wife trying to meet the killer.

After taking advice from penal experts she used intermediaries such as prison chaplains and probation officers to approach the killer. Finally the gates opened for her at a Mid-

Mrs Moreland said: "I was frightened. I was worried in case it stirred up a lot of very lands jail two months ago.

explanation."

help. Ruth let him in but asked him to leave when she realised he was high on LSD. He turned on her and stabbed her more than 100 times.

The man was arrested the next day. At the Old Bailey trial he admitted mansiaugh ter on the ground of diminished responsibility but was convicted of murder and sentenced to life with a recommendation that he should serve 13 years.

Mrs Moreland said: "From the very beginning I wanted to meet the man who killed my daughter. I wanted to understand why he would want to hurt her. Why would anyone painful and difficult things. by how large he was, I just thought Ruth never had a chance. The man looked like he was under some stress and breathing heavily and he said something like 'Can someone help me? I don't know what to say.' I later heard he thought I would attack him." Mrs Moreland asked how he got to know Ruth and the killer started talking. "In various ways he expressed remorse and acknowledged he had caused a lot suffering to people. The meeting was a genuine effort to give information. He did not do it cynically," Mrs Moreland said.

As they parted she shook his hand. "I wanted to acknowledge the fact he had displayed great courage. I think he made a great effort," said Mrs Moreland, who is a Quaker and an opponent of capital punishment. She wrote to him, thanking him again. She also told him she did not want arry further contact.

She believes she succeeded because she did not challenge the prison system but used mediators. A direct approach to a prisoner or his prison governor would only have been refused because the idea was so novel.

Mrs Moreland would like to see a more formal system set up. She said: "It will always be a minority that want to do it but that does not mean they should not be helped."

Lesley Moreland wants relatives of murder victims to be allowed to meet the killers

U2 captain blamed for death crash

An American U2 spyplane pilot was to blame for the crash in which he died at RAF Fairford, Gloucestershire, last summer, an investigation has concluded.

US Air Force investigators said that Captain David Hawkens, 35 - nicknamed Hawk - tried to wiggle the wings of his plane to shake off a small piece of take-off equip-ment which had not detached properly. The jet's height and speed were too low for the manoeuvre and its engines stalled, investigators said.

Royal hitch

An RAF aircraft taking the Duke of Edinburgh to a South African wildlife conference stopped overnight in Kenya with an electrical problem. He continued by Kenya Airways.

Fatal stabbing

A youth of 15 was arrested yesterday after a teenager was stabbed to death in Barnard Castle, Co Durham. Ian Gamble, 16, was found dead in the street late on Saturday. Birth day berth

Amanda Felen was taken by lifeboat from Osea Island in the Blackwater estuary, Essex, yesterday after going into labour. She later gave birth to a healthy 9lb 2oz boy.

DNA hold-ups

Police forces all over the country are having to wait six months for DNA results from the National Database Centre in Birmingham because of a 60,000 backlog of samples.

Exotic arrivals

Sunderland, already home to a Slavonian grebe, has attracted the rarer laughing gull, far from its US east coast haunt. A cedar waxwing, from Canada, has been seen in Nottingham.

Lottery winners

Four ticketholders with the winning combination will each receive £2,237,965 from Saturday's National Lottery jackpot of £8.9 million. Numbers, page 22

Jails watchdog to see Howard over role change cial meeting this week amid reports documents. He is said to be unhapthat the Prisons' Ombudsman is py at the package of measures. threatening to quit. Michael How- which is understood to include and will meet Vice-Admiral Sir Peter preventing him looking at decisions Woodhead on Wednesday to dis-cuss the ombudsman's role after proposals to revise his powers. Sir Peter's job is to investigate individual complaints from the country's jails. He reportedly ob-jects to plans to stop him examining some ministerial decisions and to which is understood to include taken by ministers over the 3,200 life-sentence prisoners and allowing civil servants to decide which official papers he can see during his

The Prison Service insisted yesterday that the review giving rise to the meeting was simply an attempt to Hand-picked Peruvian pima-plucked when it's good and ready clarify Sir Peter's role to bring it for comment but the Prison Service closer to its original remit. A spokesman said: "The original remit of the ombudsman was to investigate complaints by prisoners about the Prison Service as an agency, not the decisions of individual ministers. The ombudsman's remit is kept under review and the revisions that have been proposed are merely to clarify what had been set out from the very beginning." Sir Peter could not be contacted dimissal of Derek Lewis, the Direcspokesman added: "I am sure he will make his position clear when he meets Mr Howard this week."

According to the Independent on Sunday, Sir Peter is reported to have told Prison Service officials that the proposals would make his job "a joke". His resignation, or even open friction between him and Mr Howard, would be another blow to the Prison Service, which is still recovering from Mr Howard's tor-General, last October. A replacement has not yet been found. Harry Fletcher, assistant general secretary of the National Association of Probation Officers, said the ombudsman, who was appointed after Lord Woolf's inquiry into the 1990 Strangeways riot, had got off to a good start. "If this package of measures goes through, it will severely curtail the ombudsman's terms of reference," he said.

In the world of knit shirts, Peru may be the next Shangri-la.

Introducing the new Lands' End' Interlochen.

If you look in an atlas - even a good sized atlas - you may have trouble finding the Piura Valley of Peru.

It's on the left shoulder of South America, 3° below the Equator, and miles from anywhere. It's even miles from anywhere in Peru. You wouldn't expect a place so remote to produce a shirt as civilized as our new Interlochen. But this is where Lands' End - the Direct Merchants from America - had to go for it. In fact, without the cotton grown here and the people who pick, knit and stitch it our new Polo Shirt wouldn't exist.

Some cotton, some pickin'

Cotton has a long history in Peru. In fact, Peruvian farmers were growing it before Peru had a history.

But the cotton in this shirt is a pima cottona variety that began its career in the southwestern United States. Its long staples, or fibres, produce a finer, silkier yarn.

Now, when Peruvian farmers took home a few seeds and planted them, something miraculous happened. Maybe it was the hot, dry climate, maybe the rich soil. But something in the Piura Valley made the pima staples grow even longer and silkier. (Local farmers said it was "soft as an angel's hair.")

It would be sinful to pick such cotton by machine. A machine can't tell which cotton bolls are ripe; it plucks everything, ready or not.

So, our Peruvian friends still pick their pima by hand.

Then they spin it, and knit it into a 40 singles, 6.1 oz. fabric: almost a full ounce richer than our original Interlochen.

They have no word for "hurry."

Time is plentiful in Peru. And our shirt makers use a lot of it making this shirt.

First, they place the fabric on long tables; and if it's striped, they carefully pin it down before cutting. (Some shirt makers skip this: it shows later in ill-matched goods.)

Then, in workrooms surprisingly modern for this neck of the woods, our Peruvian friends patiently stitch.

> They double needle the seams, to lie flatter and look dressier.

They add a tree-top vent at the bottom, where the sides come together. (Don't know why it's called tree-top: but it looks neater, and won't unravel.)

And the neck tape, made of the same soft fabric as the shirt, feels as comfortable as well, as everything else about it.

Including the price: from £16. You could pay twice that -or more-for a shirt nowhere near as nice.

If you want to see it in full, rich colour, look in our latest Lands' End catalogue. Which also contains lots of other classic.

American style clothing, for men and women. It's well worth a little exploration. ©1996 Landd End Direct Merchants, UK 124

FREEPHONE: 0800 220 106 quoting reference ZB. Or fax this coupon by FREEFAX: 0800 222 106 (Mr./Mrs./Ma./Mas)

Address

Or mail to: Lands' End Direct Merchants, UK Limited, FREEPOST, Pillings Road, Oakham, Rutland LE15 6NY

Registered in England #2583731 Our Guarantee does not affect your statutory rights. From time to time we make portions of our making list available to carefully selected organizations whose products may be of interest to you. It

Family-based faith grows thirtyfold in 30 years

Mormons catching up mainstream churches

By RUTTI GLEDHILL RELIGION CORRESPONDENT

THE Mormon Church in Britain is beginning to catch with the mainstream Christian Churches. Worldwide there are more Mormons outside America than in, actoday by the church, which is based at Salt Lake City, Utah.

Although the church was founded in New York state. is in Preston. Lancashire. Numbers of Mormons in Britain have grown thirtyfold in 30 years from 6,500 in the mid-Sixties to more than 170,000.

This puts the Mormons, who are officially called the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, and who allow posthumous bantism. roughly level with Pentecostalists in Britain, and catching up the country's 240,000 Baptists. There are 2 million Roman Catholics in Britain, nearly 1.5 million registered members of the Church of England and 480,000 Methodists. Recently members, the church numbers 9.4 million in 156 countries. Taking the latest baptisms into account only

49.9 per cent live in America.

The church, which came to Britain in 1837 on its first foreign mission, has begun temple at Chorley, near Preston. The first was dedicated at Lingfield, Surrey, in 1958.

work on its second British the Mormons, whose celebrity members include the Osmonds, the pop singing family, made news with their purchases of British farmland. The church owns 10,000 acres in Britain, mostly in East Anglia, putting it in the country's top ten landowners, who also include the Crown and Railtrack

Graham Doxey, the United Kingdom president, said: The church is growing rapidly in Britain as in many other parts of the world because it is founded on the teachings of Jesus Christ. It is familycentred and has very practical answers on how to find joy and contentment."

The church was founded by Joseph Smith, a New England farmer, who claimed to have been guided by an angel to dig up gold plates on which the Book of Mormon was written. Both he and his successor Brigham Young, who led the church to Utah, were polygamous although that practice was banned early this century.

Mormons believe they are the restored original church of Jesus Christ. Their secret temple services and proselytism have made the Mormons an abiding concern of cult-watchers. In Kent last year, a Mormon football team was refused entry to a local Christian football league.

But despite a fracas earlier this year when two Mormon

Graham Doxey, the Mormons' UK president, flanked by fellow leaders John Fowler, left, and Cecil Samuelson missionaries tried to convert a dean-shaven and well-dressed young men who frequently knock on doors throughout Britain represent a culture known for hard work, family loyalty and prosperity. For church's theological provenance, the Mormons are seen as an increasingly attractive option in a world of material uncertainties. Mormons have the world's largest genealogical database because of their practice of posthumous haptism, which is done on the belief that the family can continue beyond death and that the dead can accept or reject what has been done. Church leaders last year removed the names of 380,000 Jewish holocaust victims from their list of the posthumously haptised after protests from

Peace Hamas bo to Peres el

ONLYSSHOWTHE REAL PRICE YOU PAY!

TUPES MEDI

HIGHSCREEN® DX2/80

● 14" Super VGA colour 0.28mm ● Keyboard and mouse included DOS/Windows and FREE software
 12 Months on-site warranty

SOFTWARE INCLUDED MS DOS 6.22 Windows 3.11 HIDDE

IS THE PRICE Y	OU SEE THE P	RICE YOU PAY?
ETEROLETA AND DESCRIPTION	OO OBB IIIL
STATEM	COMPETITOR	VOBIS
Processor	DX2/66	DX2/80
Hard Drive	540 Mb	540 Mb
Memory	4 Mb	4 Mb
: Colour Screen	0.28 Ni	0.28 M
Moose	ge's extra	YES
MS Dos/Win	EE'S EXTRA	YES
VAT included	YES	YES FELL
- Total price	7333

At VOBIS you will find a wide range of advanced, featurepacked PC's at quite possibly the best value prices currently available in Britain. VOBIS are the largest supplier and retailer of PC's in Europe, established over 20 years and with more than 600 outlets across 12 countries. A company with the buying power to keep prices as small as they come. And a company with all the resources necessary to bring you a first class service for second-to-none reliability.

01536 200170 m COVENTRY 01203 223821 ■ Dispay 01773 832725 = 01332 364392 = 01332 204147 = DEWSELJEY 01924 463182 w DONCASTER 01302 360734

VOBIS STORES

BARNSLEY 01226 733137 # BOSTON

01205 356831 ii BRADPORD 01274 620990

■ 01274 739736 M BRANSHOLME 01482

■01283 547291 ■ CASTLEFORD 01977

553108 in CHESTERFIELD 01246 208876

■ CLEETHORPES 01472 200297 ■ CORBY

838020 m BURTON 01283 539900

B GRANTHAM 01476 66964 B GRIMSBY 01472 346630 m HALIFAX 01422 352488 # HINCOLEY 01455 634278 # HUDDERSPIELD 01484 533788 ± 01484 432004 ± HULL 01482 221141 = 01482 225335 = 01482 838434 m H.KESTON 0115 932 2840 ■ KEIGHLEY 01535 669130 ■ KETTERING 01536 510532 m LEAMINGTON SPA 01926 335540 = LEEDS 0113 232 8949 = 0113 246

9022 m 0113 253 4204 m 0113 273 5650 # LEICESTER 01530 812034 # 0116 282 7449

■0116 253 7716 ■ LENCOLN 01522 532475 ■ LOUGHBOROUGH 01509 266253 # MANSPIELD 01623 641513 # MALTON KEYNES 01908 281032 ± 01908 690543 # NEWARK 01636 71776 # NORTHAMPTON 01604 787849 m 01604 38010 m 01604 28970 ■ NOTTINGHAM 01 15 958 0060 ± 01 15 946 3333 ± 0115 986 5185 ± NUMEATON 01203 385996 & PONTEFRACT 01977 602528 # RETFORD 01777 705825 # ROTHERHAM. 01709 821336 = 01709 780100 = MUGEY 01788 565103 = SCUNTHORPE 01724 851283 # 01724 271936 # SHEFFEED 0114 279 5317 =0114 261 0613 =0114 234 8655 ■ 0114 256 9295 = 0114 279 5987 = SHEPLEY 01274 581377 m SKBGNESS 01754 764678 # SPALDING 01775 725642 in STAMFORD 01780 84070 ETAMWORTH 01827 311771 ■ 01827 67800 ■ WAKEFIELD 01924 376432 ■WELLINGBOROUGH 01933 222696

WORKSOP 01909 474548 . . YORIS AT POWERSTORE MANDOVER 01264 334898 m CHELNISFORD 01245 258880 = EASTBOURNE 01323 520252 # SOUTHAMPTON 01489 790605 ■ STROOD 01634 294284

LONDON # SATTERSEA 0171 228 3510 # CHADWELL HEATH 0181 597 9394 a CHARLTON 0181 853 4287 E CRICKLEWOOD 0181 450 8749 # MOLLOWAY ROAD 0171 607 2386 # LEWISHAM 0181 852 0514 m NEW MALDEN 0181 336 0395 # STRAIFORD 0181 534 1759 M PUTNEY EXCHANGE 0181 789 5180 INTOTTEMBAIA COURT ROAD (177) 636 6666

Galaxies observed in act of formation

By Nigel Hawkes

ASTRONOMERS have discovered a group of galaxies in the very act of formation. The galaxies are ancient but the ight from them has taken so long to reach the Earth that we can see them as they were ten billion years ago. They are so distant that until recently no telescope existed that could produce spectra of their light and confirm their remoteness.

The finding will help to clarify the early evolution of the universe. "Galaxies are the fundamental structures which matter is organised, yet we don't have a clear understanding of how they formed or how they have evolved." Dr Chuck Steidel, of the California Institute of Technology, said. His team includes Dr Max Pettini, of the Royal Greenwich Observatory in Cambridge. The method used involves scanning the sky using filters that allow through light of only red, green or ultraviolet wavelengths. The aim was to identify objects that are visi-ble in red and green but vanish in UV. Young galaxies produce a lot of UV but all of t will be absorbed if they are

SAS asked to pledge lifetime secrecy

BY A STAFF REPORTER

FORMER and current members of the SAS are considering plans for a lifetime commitment to silence over the force's special operations. Those who broke the pledge which may be supported by a legally binding contract, could be expelled from the regimental association

n ketara ta is ide a 🕾

he lance.

onlares ...

31.7 (8)

Break Br. 35.

and the first is the last one

Hezbollah prais

The move follows the publication of a number of books by fermer SAS soldiers, including Bravo Two-Zero by Andy McNab, and the screening on ITV last week of a film about a Gulf War patrol that was discovered after being dropped behind Iraqi lines. The story was first told in an account of the Gulf War by Sir Peter de la Billière, a former SAS commander, who led British forces in the war. The Carlton film was based on a book about the patrol by Chris Ryan, the only member who managed to evade the pursuing Iraqis.

Defence chiefs and senior SAS officers fear that other former soldiers could write profitable books about their expioirs.

The Regimental Association Colonel Commandant has written to members, seeking their views about the propos-

FREE phone

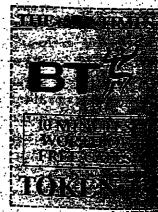

The Times has teamed up with The Sunday Times and BT to: give every reader the chance to benefit from five hours of free phone calls.

Every day in The Times tokens each worth ten minutes of free calls will appear. And next Sunday another token for free BT calls - worth 40 minutes - will appear in The Sunday Times. To qualify for five hours of free calls from BT you will need to collect 18 different tokens from The Times and three of the four tokens printed in The Sunday Times.

Don't worry if you miss a token or two as a total of 28tokens will appear until Saturday, March 9, 1996. By collecting 21 tokens, you will receive 300 minutes (five hours) of free calls. The calls will be . . . credited to your BT bill at the company's local weekend rate. Readers are not permitted to claim less than, or more than. 300 minutes (five hours) of free calls. When you have 21 tokens, post them with an application form (one appeared in The Sunday Times yesterday) to make your daim.

P C'S

HIGHSCREEN DX4/100 Multimedia xxxxxx

HIGHSCREEN PENTIUM P75 Multimedia xmx

HIGHSCREEN PENTIUM®P90 Multimedia «m

HIGHSCREEN PENTIUM P100 Multimedia xmm

HIGHSCREEN PENTIUM®P120 Multimedia «mas

COMPAQ PRESARIO PENTIUM P75 Mollimedia sa

COMPAQ PRESARIO PENTIUM®P75 Multimedia 201

ICL DIDIANA PENTIUM 1775 Multimedia am

HIGHSCREEN LeBook PENTIUM®P75 arm

NOTEBOOK PC'S

HIGHSCREEN LeBook PENTILIN®P90 Milledia arminer

TO ORDER OR FOR DETAILS OF YOUR NEAREST STORE PHONE

2899 inc ma

21099 in tal

€1199 is w

£1499 in w

E1699 isc ret

21449 mm

21449 in ref

£1399 to tal

£999 let ref

e1699 in: red

2349 icm

0181 207 7000

EUROPE'S BIGGEST PC DEALS

Peace process is terrorists' target

Hamas bombers deal blow to Peres election prospects

THE bomb attacks yesterday in Jerusalem and the seaside town of Ashkelon, in which at least 25 died and 77 were injured, could not have come at a worse proment for Israel's ruling Labour coalition, nor for the peace process.

Before the scenes of carnage were screened repeatedly throughout the Jewish state, inforiating and sickening Israchs in equal measure, Shimon Peres, the Prime Minister and four-time election loser, had a comfortable 15point lead in the latest opinion polls for the election he called for May 29.

The polls, published last Friday in the two biggest selling Israeli papers, Maariv and Yediot Aharonoi, gave the 72-year-old Labour leader 49 per cent of the vote in the race for Prime Minister who will be directly elected for the first time in Israel's history compared with only 34 per cent for his much younger right-wing rival, Benjamin Netanyahu, leader of the main Likud opposition party. It was hard to find a Jewish or Arab commentator yesterday not convinced that Mr Peres's lead will be badly hit by the two bomb attacks, for in an Israeli election security is the main issue.

"Security, security and again security; that is what rules the decision of most Jewish voters," one leading Israeli journalist said. "Israeli elections are not like those in other democratic countries."

He was speaking before the disturbing scenes in which Mr. Peres, widely regarded by his right-wing opponents as "soft" on terrorism and lacking the macho image that many Israelis like in their leaders, was derisively booed by hundreds of onlookers. The jeering took place as he visited the scene of the Jerusalem blast, which happened at the start of the morning rush hour.

Mr Peres's sensitivity was later demonstrated at a press conference, when he snapped at a journalist who asked him how the attacks would dam-

An Israeli woman, wounded in the bomb attack at Jerusalem's central bus station, is taken to hospital

Jerusalem to the Palestinians in negotiations due to begin immediately after the election.

Mr Peres and other ministers, in an atmosphere Labour party sources described as panic, spent most of the week before yesterday's attacks denying this and other damag-ing allegations that Labour would offer a host of concessions to the Palestinians.

Speaking at the news conference yesterday, Mr Peres pledged an uncompromising war against Muslim militants, and said he would honour his agreements with Yassir Arafat, chairman of the Palestine

Liberation Organisation, which grant Palestinians limited self-rule in towns and

By killing and wounding scores of Jews, Hamas leaders villages in the West Bank and Gaza Strip.

have asked today," the Prime Minister retorted, although his aides admit that the peace process initiated by his assassinated predecessor, Yitzhak Rabin, and the election he has deliberately brought forward, are mexorably linked. The aides had been hoping to capitalise on the pro-peace mood which swept the country after Mr Rabin's murder.

Mr Rabin was himself similarly booed by furious rightwingers when he visited the site of a previous and less serious Hamas bomb, which blew up a bus in a Tel Aviv suburb last July. Mr Rabin then, like Mr Peres yesterday, vowed that the peace process would go on, but he was not fighting an election campaign in which his record on that issue was being challenged.

Last week Likud launched their own election battle with a vicious personal attack on Mr. Peres and his attitude towards the future of Israeli sovereignty over annexed east Jerusaem, the Arab sector captured

Under the slogan "Peres will divide Jerusalem", Likud politicians — themselves badly wrong footed by Israel's swing to the Left prompted by Mr is the last question you should planning to hand back east have deliberately played into Likud's hands. As one Hamas activist in Gaza explained recently: "If Likud get back to power, the so-called peace process will collapse in a matter of weeks. We are well aware of that." Until yesterday's blasts, which some desparing pro-peace Israelis claimed had reforged the "unholy alliance" between radical Islamic extremists and the Jewish Far found it hard to mobilise party opinion against a peace deal vhich many Likud supporters admitted grudgingly seemed to be working, if imperfectly. Apart from vowing that he would never meet Mr Arafat personally, but leave it to a overnment minister. Mr Netanyahu was forced to acknowledge that he would leave parts of the 1993 deal in place. But he manoeuvred his party into a perfect position to capitalise on the inevitable fears about the Government's peace policy. He did this by linking Likud with the harder line Tosomet and giving its leader. Rafael Eitan - who once dismissed Arabs as "cockroaches" - the No 2 position on the joint list for the Knesset.

By persuading Mr Eitan to abandon his own candidacy for the premiership, Mr Netanyahu ensured that any right-wing sympathies roused Hamas outrages would increase his own chances in what will be a bitter struggle with Mr Peres.

The question being asked last night was how many more times must the Islamic fanatics strike before Mr Peres's 15point lead has been whittled down to zero, or even been reversed. The irony is that much as I hate them, the beasts from Hamas could win us this election." said Motti Cohen, a strong Likud supporter and fierce opponent of the peace process. Every bus bomb between now and May 29 will make it harder for Mr Peres to remain as Prime

In the aftermath of the Jerusalem bomb, shocked onlookers gather to survey the tangled wreckage of the bus

'I condemn them completely'

Arafat: sent condolences to Mr Peres and to the families of the victims

IN JERUSALEM

ISRAEL cancelled a planned visit to the West Bank yesterday by Yassir Arafat, chairman of the Palestine Liberation Organisation, in spite of his condemnation of the attacks.

"I condemn them completely," Mr Arafat said in Gaza City. "This is not a military operation. This is a terrorist operation. It is not only against civilians. It is against the whole peace process and I am sending my condolences to the families of the victims and to the Prime Minister, Shimon Peres." King Husain of Jordan said: "My feeling is ne of bitterness and disgust. It's an effort to blow up the peace process." Egypt's Foreign Ministry said: "The two explosions represent a return to practices that should stop within the framework of the ongoing peace process."

Israeli security forces and Palestinian police were expected to arrest many Hamas members last night. The explosions came two days after Israel ended an 11-day closure of the Palestinian territories.

Hezbollah praises terror group

By Our Foreign Staff

THERE was praise yesterday for the bombers from Arab guerrilia groups in Beirut and Damascus. We welcome any action against the Israeli occupation and we salute the hands which carried out the heroic actions against the Israelis," said a spokesman for the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, a radical grouping within the Pales-tine Liberation Organisation of Yassir Arafat.

The Lebanese militant group Hezhollah, which fights Israeli forces in southgle would go on. There will be no peace and stability for Israel, however high the level of political or military measures it takes, because of the Jihad (holy war) spirit of those fighters," said Naeem Qassem, secretary-general of the movement.

Major sends his sympathy

JOHN MAJOR last night sent a message of support to Shimon Peres, the Israeli Prime Minister.

"I was shocked to hear of the appalling bombings in Jerusalem and Ashkelon," Mr Major told Mr Peres. "London has suffered its own bombings in the last fortnight, including on a bus last weekend, so I know all too well the devastation they will have caused, shattering both lives and hopes that such indiscriminate and senseless violence might at last have given way to dialogue. Please convey my deep condolences to the victims and their families." Mr Major added: "I well know the strain that these outrages will impose on your courageous and unremitting efforts to take forward the discussed in London earlier this month, while the perpetrators must be relentlessly pursued, they cannot be allowed to disrupt the just search of a democratic society for a lasting and peaceful

The Board of Deputies of British Jews also condemned

Clinton deplores killers' dark vision

BY OUR FOREIGN STAFF

THE "dark vision" of the ered in St Peter's Square in bombers who killed 25 people Rome that he felt spiritually in Israel yesterday was de-plored by President Clinton. He promised never to let them derail the American-brokered Middle East peace process.

In a White House statement. Mr Clinton said the bombings "offend the conscience of the world. They must not only be condemned; they must be brought to an end." He blamed enemies of peace for trying to turn back progress towards a Middle East in which Arabs and Israelis live in peace. They have not and will not succeed." he said. "Their dark vision is of the past, not the present; of violence, not hope for a better future.

close to the families of the victims, adding: "May God inspire all men of goodwill ... Once more I turn to all those who believe in dialogue and I invite them not to lose hope."

Alain Juppé, the French Prime Minister, said he knew Israel would not be stopped from seeking peace. "I know that your determination to continue working towards peace will not be weakened by this tragedy," he said in a message to Shirnon Peres, the Israeli Prime Minister.

Susanna Agnelli, Forcign Minister of Italy, which holds the EU presidency, said: "Such vile acts of terrorism can provoke only condemna-

Struck by the Royal Mint

• Legal tender to spend or save

N ow you can own Britain's new legal tender $5 coin, issued to commemorate Her Majesty the Queen's 70th Birthday.

As a service to collectors, we have made special arrangements to distribute this latest Royal Mint coin for just its face value. A $5 coin for $5 - the actual cost to you is nothing. We even pay your postage.

Issued in 1996, the new £5 coin is very unlikely to appear in your change. This may well be your only opportunity to own one, so please reserve yours today to avoid disappointment.

> Please reply by 15th April 1996 30 Day Money Back Guarantee

Westminster: WATFORD: WD2 5JY Royal Mint Distributor

ease Offer
ORDER COLPON YES Please send me my new $5 coins ordered below. If not completely satisfied, I have full right of return. Moston in abject to mapping. Marking $1.5.000 per order Royal Mark $5.000 for $5.5.5.5.00
FREE Order Ref: 384/7070/2 Total £ 5.00 Cheque/P.O. to The Westminster Collection. Please charge Access/Visa. My card no. is: Your Creds Card will say be charged mail your coin is dispundent Expires: Signed: Mr/Mrs/Miss. Address:
Postcode: Westminster FREEPOST, P.O. BOX 100, WATFORD, WD2 5WD Debutto will communic and of black 1996 " that outer will be combined

Rewrite of Maastricht spells little light relief for downcast star players

AFTER several years of fitful slumber, Europe's treaty nerds are waking up again. From burrows in Paris, Bonn and Rome, earnest men and women waving wads of newly drafted clauses as thick as telephone directories are emerging to do battle again over the Maastricht treaty.

Tomorrow the French and German Foreign Ministers meet in a last effort to hammer out a programme with which they can gang up on John Major. One day this week, the British officials labouring to Europe as boring as possible will finish their soporific work. At the end of next month, the EU's great and good fly to Turin for the ist hero left on the stage now launch of an inter-governmenthat the late President Mittertal conference on Maastricht. All the big EU governments are exhausted and depressed by the Maastricht rewrite before it even starts: the talks will not be a barrel of laughs.

Because the conference will probably stretch out for at least a year, many unforeseen mishaps will occur. But one prediction is quite sale: federalists will be grievously disappointed - the conference will fail". They hope for a "crisis" which will have to be solved by Helmut Kohl. The German Chancellor is the only federal-storms off towards a federal Europe with a small band of rand and Jacques Delors, former President of the Euro-

Things rarely pan out like that in the EU; creeping pean Commission, are gone. The treaty conference could change is more common than be obliterated by the row melodrama. The transformawhich would erupt if, as seems tion desired by federalists is likely, the 1999 start for the not simply a more "flexible" or single currency is postponed. But the deadlock which true a la carte EU: those labels mean that all member counbelievers in a united Europe tries allow a smaller group of . desire is different: such a crisis states to co-operate more closewould allow a small hard core ly on a subject of their choosof federalist states to split from ing. A far more radical change the rest. Federalists yearn for would permit some countries Mr Major to dig in his heels so to move ahead of others and to hard that Herr Kohl throws a make treaty changes without gigantic wobbly and then the agreement of each EU state. That would split the Union into at least two classes. The upper tier might not be automatically open to states in the lower class

Monetary union may yet split the EU, but watch out for signals that curning draftsmen are working on a treaty fix that might produce some of the same result by rewording one crucial clause. Watch out for mention of Article N. This short clause sits quietly at the front of the Maastricht treaty and hasn't bothered anybody for years. Its most important sentence lays down how treaty changes must be agreed and says that they "shall enter force after being ratified by all the member states in accordance with their respective constitutional requirements".

This dull-sounding formula is the EU's brake mechanism. Article N was the legal reason why about 45,000 Danes - the anti-treaty majority in their 1992 referendum — stopped the entire Maastricht treaty juggernaut in its tracks.

Herr Kohl and Mitterrand must have dreamt either of ignoring or of punishing the recalcitrant Danes, but Article N stood in their way. The treaty could not come into

So far, no government has publicly suggested changing Article N. But the idea was around in M Delors's later years in Brussels. The German MP, Karl Lamers, who flies policy kites for Herr Kohl, definitely has it in mind. Belgian federalists would have no problem with a bold solution to British recalcitrance. Euro-sceptics may claim that Mr Major could block more than he does, but his power to do so would be weaker if anybody began tampering with the brakes.

Germany will miss monetary union deadline, say MPs

FROM ROGER BOYES IN BONI

scenario," a spokeswoman signs of nervousness in Bonn about the financial and economic figures for next year which may well push monetary union out of reach. One of the Maastricht entry criteria is that public indebtedness must not exceed 3 per cent of gross domestic product. Last year.

Germany overshot the target, with debt reaching 3.6 per cent. According to the project-ed figures available to members of the finance committee, handling of the economy.

On Saturday night he and actress Sharon Stone. Ms

Stone, in Rome to publicise her film Casino, wished

Signor Dini "good luck in your new venture, a high-profile endorsement not lost

Many commentators suspect Signor Dini has stepped in with the tacit encouragement of Signor Scalfaro, who wants to end "revolving-door" governments by seeing through constitutional reforms, including a referendum on installing a French-on the public.

style presidency.

Dini forms party

Rome: Lamberto Dini, the tion. He is respected for his caretaker Prime Minister, administrative ability and his announcing he was forming a his wife, Donatella, attended

There are, however, strong

GERMANY will fail to meet bers with those countries the entry criteria for European wanting, but unable, to enter the system. His officials demonetary union next year, the nied reports yesterday that plans were being forged for crucial selection year for the single currency, according to calculations circulating in the the eventuality that only Luxfinance committee of the Gerembourg would qualify for man parliament. monetary union on the basis Both Helmut Kohl, the of 1997 figures. The German Finance Ministry is not con-

Chancellor, and Theo Waigel, the Finance Minister, were quick yesterday to quash new fretting about Germany's ability to meet the targets. The Chancellor emphasised in a rare television interview last night that he had no intention of choosing between a firm new European currency and the start date of 1999.

Stability has always been the absolute priority for me," he said. "But you cannot interpret that to mean I am for postponing the timetable, absolutely not."

Herr Waigel said his officials were working on a new variant of the European Monetary System to link fully transformed Italy's election campaign at the weekend by and governability to the coun-

Centre Right, which accused

Signor Dini of planning to align himself with the Centre Left. Silvio Berlusconi, the Centre Right candidate for Prime Minister, said Signor Dini, hitherto seen as above party politics, was like a referee who suddenly chose to

by President Scalfaro in January last year, after the collapse of Signor Berlusconi's coali-

Signor Dini was appointed play for one of the teams.

The move stunned the try (Richard Owen writes).

double, to DM150 billion (£66.4 billion) by the end of

The reason for the prediction is reduced tax revenue prompted by the economic slowdown, and tax shortfalls that will result from implementing the ambitious 50point government programme to generate new jobs. ducting any discussions about delaying the timetable and is not working on an alternative

Entrepreneurs are to be given generous tax concessions to encourage them to hire more workers. If these and other promised measures are adopted, and if unemployment remains at its present high level of about four million, public debt is likely to reach as much as 4.02 per cent of gross domestic product.

That would certainly disqualify Germany from membership of the European monetary union and torpedo the whole project unless the start date was delayed. Herr Waigel said that the figures were purely specula-tive and emphasised that next year's budget has not even been approved yet. "Who can say today that we will not fulfil the criteria in 1997?"

Herr Kohl made clear that he would be pressing for more sacrifices from the Germans to stay on track for monetary union. "I think we should stop this discussion over who is ing now, or who can and who cannot Join the single currency]. Everyone has to do his homework. We Germans have much to do in this area."

German public opinion is fiercly divided over the project of a single currency. Opinion polls indicate that two-thirds of the population oppose any plan to abandon the mark; the business world is divided between larger companies (which broadly are in favour of EMU) and smaller enterprises which fear that the euro will unleash a serious bout of destructive inflation.

The coffins of two men, who died during a gun battle in which two sons-in-law of President Saddam Hussein of Iraq were also killed, are carried through the streets of Baghdad. The men, described as "martyrs" after they died on Friday helping to kill returned defectors Lieutenant-General Hussein Kamel Hassan and his brother. Colonel Saddam Kamel, were given a state burial, with Saddam's sons, Uday and Qusay, acting as pallbearers (Michael Theodonlou writes). The Iraqi media said the President's sous-in-law, who defected to Jordan last August, were and their father in a shooter read a telegram, said to be from the Kamel Hassan family, saying they had killed the defectors to Libyan mountain 'holds arms plant'

Iraq honours gunmen

FROM JAMES BONE IN NEW YORK

According to intelligence sources quoted in yesterday's New York Times. Libya is digging a network of tunnels covering six square miles under a mountain at Tarhunah, 40 miles southeast of Tripoli. The CIA has yet to obtain photographs of the plant, but construction plans and building specifications have been obtained by the German secret service from German and Austrian companies which provided workers and equipment for the site. Western intelligence agen-

LIBYA is building a huge cies believe the plant could be testimony to Congress last described by the CIA as a ruse chemical weapons complex completed as early as next week as "the world's largest to enable Libya to convert tonnes of poison gas daily.

Libya, which has been working on chemical and bioogical weapons since the early 1980s, insists that the project is an irrigation system. Ameri-can officials dismiss this explanation and say the complex already contains most of Lib-ya's existing stockpile of about 100 tonnes of chemical

Listing Libya as a rogue nation" alongside Iran, Iraq and North Korea, John Deutch, the CIA Director, described the complex during inside a hollowed-out moun-tain, American officials say. year, and will be able to underground chemical weap-tain, American officials say. Rabia into a legitimate phase-maceutical plant and to build One of 18 nations believed to be pursuing chemical weapons. Libya has refused to sign a 1993 United Nations convention prohibiting the use, development or stockpiling of chemical arms. In the 1980s, the United States accused Libya of building a chemical weapons plant at Rabta, southwest of Tripoli, and producing about 100 tonnes of chemical agents. Libya claims that the Rabta plant was destroyed by a fire started by Western intelli-gence agents in 1990 — a claim plane was shot down by a US. Navy cruiser nearly eight years ago.

State Department officials said the settlement indicated no warming of relations towards Tehran, which the US strongly opposes for its continued sponsorship of Palestina replacement underground.

☐ Cash to families: America has agreed to make payments of up to $300,000 (£190,000) to families of each of the 248

Iranians who were killed when an Iran Air passenger

Bahrain bombing resumes

Manama: A blast at a local newspaper plant was blamed on Iranian-backed Shia Muslim extremists bent on forcing Bahrain's ruling Sunni family, to recall the parliament in disbanded 2I years ago (Christopher Walker writes).

The bombing, which came at the end of the holy month of Ramadan, came 24 hours after officials boasted that bombers who recently attacked two luxury hotels had been

The latest blast, which destroyed the car of the chief editor of the pro-government Al-Ayam and injured one of its employees, was planted in a supposedly secure area close to a military base.

Sinn Fein official attends Eta rally

San Sebastian: Pat Rice, a Sinn Fein councillor in Northern Ireland, accepted an invi-tation by Herri Batasıma, the political wing of Eta, to be the guest speaker at a weekend rally of Basque separatists that honoured both the IRA and Eta (Edward Owen writes). Eta is opposed to next Sunday's elections in Spain, but used the meeting to present their candidates, mainly widows of separatists killed during an alleged dirty

Telephone tap scandal in Paris 🌣

Paris: A new telephone-tap-ping scandal has crupted after reports that the French secret service recorded the telephone conversations of many citi-zens, including lawyers, jour-nalists and political figures, between 1987 and 1993 (Ben Macintyre writes). Government ministers from Left and Right backed the scheme. according to the newspaper Le Journal du Dimanche

Is someone taking the money you're putting aside for your child's future

At the moment, you probably keep your savings in an ordinary Bank or Building Society account. It makes sense. Especially if you need money for everyday expenses like bills or small purchases.

However, if you're saving up money for your kids over a few years they might well be losing out. You see, the chances are that whenever you earn interest the taxman will take 20% or more. This can make a really large hole in your savings.

With our new Savings Plan, though, you don't have to pay him a penny. If you're able to put aside just a few pounds each month you can now save in the same way as some of the wealthiest people in Britain.

For an information pack about ensuring that all your savings go to your child, please give us a call.

Telephone: 0500 600 560 Call weekdays 8am - 8pm and Saturdays 9am - 2pm

As the plan is a PEP, its value, including reinvested income, can fluctuate and is not guaranteed. Eagle Star Direct is an introducer only to Eagle Star Marketing Group, members of which are regulated by the Personal Investment Authority and IMRO, for introducing clients for life assurance, pensions and unit trust business. Tax law it subject to changes which cannot be foreseen.

Vatican nominations for 'church Oscars' set film buffs reeling

FROM RICHARD OWEN IN ROME

THE Vatican, which long ago gave up trying to vet the faithful's reading matter by issuing its Index of forbidden books, started arguments among Roman Catholics and other film buffs alike at the weekend by publishing a list of recommended films. The list was dubbed "The Church Oscars" by the Italian press. Franco Zeffirelli, the film director, accused the Vatican of putting its author-ity behind "blasphemous" films such as Pier Paolo Pasolini's The Gospel According to St Matthew while ignoring his own religious Vatican sources said the Pope had wanted to join the celebrations marking 100 years of cinema and wished to make the point that films were a force for good as well as bad. The choice was made by a team led by Archbishop John Foley, of the United States, head of the Papal Council for Social Communication. They chose 45 films, in three categories: religious films, films that propagate moral values and films that are neither religious nor mor-al but nonetheless have high

Zeffirelli: wanted his

The religious films include not only Pasolini's Gospel According to St Matthew, an idiosyncratic and often disturbing work, but also Roland Joffe's tale of Jesuit mission aries in South America, The Mission, starring Jeremy Irons and Robert De Niro. and Fred Zinnemann's A Man for All Seasons, with Paul Scoffeld as Sir Thomas

"Morally uplifting films. include Lord Attenborough's Gandhi, de Sica's Bicycle Thieves and Stephen Spielberg's Schindler's List. The third, general category is headed by Stanley Kubrick's 2001. A Space Odyssey and Disney's Fantasia.

Signor Zeffirelli said Pasolini had been "not only mediore but also an atheist" and his vision of Christianity had been entirely distorted. He had been a "blasphemer".

Members of the papal coun-cil said Signor Zeffirelli, who said his own films such as Brother Sun, Sister Moon, should have been on the Vatican list, was acting out of pique. Father Luigi Bini. lecturer in ethics at the Catholic University of Milan, said Zeffirelli's films were spectacularly produced and beautiful to look at, but often lacked the kind of originality that shed light on the human condition. Their religious message tended to be mawkish.

OK, our quotes may not be as amusing, but they're certainly memorable. What's more, in a recent survey, four out of five of our customers said they would recommend us. They've put so much trust in Sun Alliance that we are Britain's leading home insurer.

Sun Alliance Connections Home Insurance is our all-in-one policy. It offers valuable savings to customers who want to combine their buildings and contents insurance. So why not find out how much you could save? Phone now for a free quotation on the number below. It won't be as humourous as Mr Marx's, but we're sure you'll like it.

2 0800 300 800

DOM!

result

olant'

CRICKET

S Africa deepen England's World Cup woes

27

Asprilla's actions the focus of ifs and butts

RUGBYJNION

Rowell remains calm in eye of storm

Staples's ambitions remains upwardly mobile

SP()R

MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996

Yeboah adds to his rapidly expanding catalogue of spectacular goals with an overhead strike to put Leeds 2-0 ahead against Birmingham yesterday. Deane added a third later. Photograph: Ian Stewart

Coca-Cola Cup refreshes Wilkinson's multinational force

Leeds quench Wembley thirst

Leeds United Birmingham City0 (Leeds win 5-1 on agg)

3

By Rob Hughes FOOTBALL CORRESPONDENT

4 WEMBLEY Stadium has a magnetic pull that outlasts history and covers an everwidening field. When Leeds United found that holy grail yesterday, strolling past Birmingham City to claim the right to meet Aston Villa in the Coca-Cola Cup final on March 24, it was not only the first time in the life of many of their supporters that Leeds had won a semi-final, it also had echoes through the minds of the manager, Howard Wilkinson, born and raised a South Yorkshireman, and three of his team, who joyously said that a Wembley final was bred into them in their African homelands. Such is the tradition of Wembley, even if the Coca-Cola Cup is not quite the real thing. Such is the spread, give or take a xenophobe or two, of our multiracial, multinational FA Carling Premiership

The victory yesterday, in front of 35,435 speciators, 5,200 of them from Birmingham, was won and lost in a six-minute span shortly Patter half-time. Birmingham had missed a gilt-edged opporminity when Richardson hesitated five yards out and Lukicbrought off a fine reaction save. Within minutes, Masinga and Yeboah had scored for Leeds, goals out of Africa, and then Birmingham squanlered a penalty, Claridge hit-two seasons under Barry Fry, they had failed to hit the target from the penalty spot 14 times in 23 attempts.

For such a gambler, a manager whose team seems to be put together on the whirl of a roulette wheel, he seems awfully down on his luck. In truth, the method, the perse-verance of Wilkinson and of course the wealth of Leeds was always likely to beat the scattergum effect that had taken Birmingham surprisingly

"It's a great sense of relief," Wilkinson, who as a player, coach and manager has worked 34 years to tread Wembley's cup turf, said. "This club does seem to have a pressurised feel about it. Don-Revie came along and transformed Leeds for a while, then it slipped back. It hasn't had the game, and eight managers in 23 years have not had the satisfaction of taking this club to the holy grail." He knows Aston Villa are playing exceptionally well, he knows that Birmingham are a league behind. Yet as three early chances were squan-dered by Masinga, the man-ager could see his team failing in nerve. "We finished the first half like men waiting for the jury to come back." Wilkinson said. "I spent the whole of half-time telling them I had picked a team to go out there and win it, to pass the ball, get hold of it, express themselves. The relief when they did it is something I will savour, but not for long because we have an FA Cup replay at Port Vale on Tuesday. Indeed, they do, and indeed the gulf between Leeds and

Reactive (b) 2 1

WHY THE WEMBLEY WALT IS OVER FOR LEEDS UNITED

Birmingham had been appar-ent in all but spirit and will to compete. Before the game, there had been a scuffle in the car park and three arrests, but during and after it there was no hint of the malevolence of a fortnight ago, no sense of any Birmingham supporter doing anything more than add to the theatre of the Elland Road stadium. Yet they knew the odds were stacked high and wondered how their players survived until half-time. Moments before that whistle McAllister had tested Greimink from 25 yards, and the young Dutch goalkeeper had found some elasticity in his legs, his back and his left hand, which thrillingly parried the ball. Moments later, Roger Dilkes, the referee, went down; he had collided with Claridge, the two of them were stunned and for a mo-

FIFTH ROUND

FOURTH ROUND

Dilkes managed to get his whistle to his mouth and call for first aid.

Then, after the half-time respite, Leeds took total command. Yeboah, who else, prompted the victory. His shot from outside the area ricocheted to McAllister whose own shot at glory was saved again by Greimink but this time Masinga poached the goal from a matter of five yards. It was the 53rd minute, and in the 56th Yeboah excelled. His goal, an overhead volley from 12 yards, ranked maybe fourth or fifth in his season's tally. The Ghanaian has now scored 17 times this season, 30 in his 49 starts for Leeds, and to him "Wembley is a dream come true".

The third goal, four minutes

ter who, receiving the ball from Wallace, controlled it. looked into the goalmouth, and placed the ball on to the head of Deane with the imperious manner with which he guides Leeds on the field. Deane easily headed home. Poor Birmingham. Outclassed, tactically out-thought, with one win in 13 games, they have to throw the dice with a longer mission in mind than anything that maybe won in 1996. Their fans went down singing "Keep right on to the end of the road." It is a road. for now, leading to nowhere. For Leeds, there was a swift drink last night. This morning they assemble, Wilkinson considers a trio of wounded players — Dorigo (hamstring), Kelly (bruised shin) and Wetherall (sore knee) — before they journey to the Potteries for the real Cup. He has, some time, to integrate his £4 million Swede, Tomas Brolin, but having embraced as many foreigners as Leeds now have, no one can doubt how much this country, temporarily at least, revels in imported talent. Leeds are on the way to Wembley, all manner and shade of performers in their ranks.

BIRMINGHAM CITY (4-4-2): 8 Grennink — G Poole, A Edwards, M Johnson, C Whyte (sufc: J Hunt, 60) — R Forsyth (sufc: L Donowa, 46), J Sheedan, I Richardson, J Frain — S Cleridge, K Francis (sufc: J Bowen, 60). Referee: R Dillor

United hit six, page 26 Simon Barnes, page 27 Results and tables, page 28

	 	uid my	f or pay dek	y o ots	ff a
	LO	RS AN	15	N.	\L
	Cash Amount Borrowed £20,000 £15,500	APR	AMO Flexible R Minimum 168, 130.	payment Payment*	Sten 180 mm	120 mm
	 	11.9%	94,8 47,4	10	├	139,89	219.30 109.65
- 20 - Po	Standard regrand- men prepared regr Typical mas Papalyment over- you make 60 in £109 65 - 10tal DESTRUCO II REGISTRUCO II REGISTRUCO II CONTRACTORIS CONTRACTORIS CONTRACTORIS CONTRACTORIS CONTRACTORIS CONTRACTORIS	wal or Bushle when the control of th	monomial and army The last of shoot of	Val Val Special old Horare Final weal No 15	La The Second Property of the Second Property	surance surance series to ed and s ants as with us or pro- iculties	cover or the for evious		•
Na Adi Tel.	No.				• 		31 1BR	2011

Sky waiting to enhance World Cup ratings

FOR certain things - World Cup finals, the Australian Grand Prix and men walking on the moon - I am prepared to get up in the middle of the night. But for foreseeable fiascos ... quarter to seven seemed quite early enough.

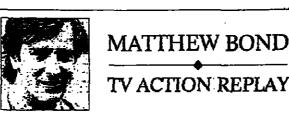

As it happened, quarter to seven was probably the best time to catch BSkyB's live coverage of England versus South Africa yesterday. True, Gough had just been smacked for nine off an over and Fairbrother was about to demolish all three stumps with his head, but South African wickets were still falling. A few overs later, at 202 for eight, a celebratory cup of tea seemed in order.

By the end of the second cup. South Africa were all out and the satellite station's executives must have been rubbing their hands in anticipation of a ratings-enhancing upset. As you may have read on other pages, that air of optimism lasted precisely four balls. As Atherion trudged miserably back to the pavilion, the only consolation was that it was not Tony Greig commentating,

"A very bad start for England," Geoffrey Boycott said, with admirable restraint. But it was also yet another very bad start for those involved in televising the cricket World Cup. the coverage of which is in desperate need of something to rescue it from the wretched tedium imposed by the tournament's organisers. At the end of a week in which BSkyB announced the launch of pay per view, the big question is not whether £9.95 represents good value for Bruno against Tyson, but how much the channel should pay its viewers for sitting through live coverage of England versus Holland? With almost another formight to go before the tournament proper gets underway with the quarter-linals, the BBC must be delighted that it only shelled out for recorded highlights. Contrary to what you might expect, however, its satellite rival also has some grounds for self-congratulation. To understand why, one needs a bit of background. Despite all appearances to the contrary. the cricket World Cup is not a BSkyB production at all. The worldwide television rights for the tournament were acquired WorldTel, a Connecticutbased company run by the American-Indian entrepreneur, Mark Mascarenhas. This explains why play is occasionally interrupted by cutaway shots of happy sup-porters waving "WorldTel you are great" banners.

It also explains why the mercial. American-style feel to it. Cameras linger obligingly on sponsors' logos, while com-mentators deliver perfectly flighted name-checks.

In acquiring the British rights from WorldTel, BSkyB played a game of brinkmanship. Although it has not been disclosed what the satellite channel paid, the question is apparently not how much but how little. The fixture list was not a secret, after all. That said, however, whether the channel paid a small enough sum for a tournament that shows no signs of bursting into life remains to be seen. To provide the actual cover-of the tournament, WorldTel appointed Grand Slam Sports, a British company best known here for its coverage of snooker, boxing news for British viewers. The good news is that Greig apparently counts as an Australian, the bad news for supporters of Richie Benaud on this side of the world is that fast about cricket - seconding a number of technical experts to its 250-strong production team from broadcasters around the world that are taking coverage of the

The 24-man commentary team has been assembled in similar vein. The game yesterday, for instance, was an allparty affair - with Boycott and Tony Lewis, of the BBC, joining up with Bob Willis, of Sky, and Robin Jackman and Mike Procter. The practice of matching commentators with countries is both good and bad

Victorious Westner saves best for last

WAYNE WESTNER, of South Africa, sank a fine ten-foot putt on the 18th green to win the FNB Players' Championship yesterday, but the final round in Durhan brought disappointment for Paul Eales, of England. Westner, with a total 270, held off an inspired challenge by José Coceres, of Argentina, whose inward 3i for a final round 65 whittled the South African's overnight six-shot advantage down to a single stroke at the finish.

Eales, four shots behind Westner in second place at the start of the day, struck his irons well but his birdie putts would not drop. He claimed third place, however, finishing on 274. Ross McFariane, of England, and David Feherty, of Ireland, both posted 67s to share fourth place.

Mike Miller, of Scotland, won his first tournament in 17 years when he triumphed in a three-way play-off for the Kenya Open Golf Championship against two other Britons. Robert Lee and Philip Harrison, in Nairobi yesterday.

Cup first for Ipswich

FOOTBALL: Ipswich Town are through to the semi-finals of the UK Living women's FA Cup for the first time in the club's ten-year history after a 2-1 victory over Whitehawk yesterday (Sarah Fonde writes). Two goals in the first half, the first direct from a free-kick by Ally Seymour and the other by the outstanding Kelly Stannard, were enough to see Jo Vermeer's goal in the 55th minute, flicked in at the near post from a low cross by Lisa Murray, signalled the start of a spirited second-half comeback by Whitehawk, and they went close several times, but the lack of clinical finishing and a sterling performance from Sarah Howard in the lipswich goal denied them an equaliser.

Botha keeps IBF title

BOXING: Frans Botha. right, of South Africa, will be allowed to keep his International Boxing Federation (IBF) heavyweight title despite testing positive for steroids after his contest. with Axel Schulz in December. The IBF accepted that Botha took the drugs unwifingly under prescription from a doctor. He was fined £33,000 and ordered to fight a rematch with the German

Super League appeal

RUGBY LEAGUE: Super League in Australia is still planning to start on Friday, in spite of a court judgment in Sydney last week declaring it unlawful (Christopher Irvine writes). An appeal will be lodged today, while the Australian Rugby League is expected to apply for an injunction to prevent the breakaway league starting during the appeal procedure. Without its sister competition, the European Super League would be deprived of the climax of world club championship play offs, while Great Britain's tour of Australia in the autumn would be put af serious risk.

Walking tall

ATHLETICS: Kerry Sarby-Junna, of Australia, bettered her own world record for the women's five-kilometre walk by almost four seconds in Hobart yesterday. Saxby-Junna, 34, was timed at 20min 13.26sec, nearly four seconds faster than her previous record, set in Sydney over six years ago. She also improved on her 1990 mark a fortnight ago but the record was not sanctioned because the official timing equipment failed and only one accredited judge was at the meeting. She set a record-breaking pace from the start of yesterday's race and said afterwards: "I felt really good.".

England squeeze home

NETBALL: England, winners a year ago over North-ern Ireland by almost 40 points, were pegged back to a ten-point margin in the home international at the Mounthatten Centre, Portsmouth, on Saturday, winning 50-40. Fiona Murtagh, right, captaining England for the first time, saw her side secure a 43-match unbeaten record against their opponents. Turnstile view, page 31

在1000年,1000年,1000年,1000年,1000年,1000年,1000年,1000年,1000年,1000年,1000年,1000年,1000年,1000年,1000年,1000年,1000年,1000年,1

Gooding left trailing

REAL TENNIS: The Hatfield professional, Mike Gooding, trails by three sets to one against the Australian Open champion, Frank Filippelli, after the first day of their besi-of-13-set world championship eliminator in Melbourne (Sally Jones writes). The pair are playing off for the right to meet the former world champion, Wayne Davies, of Australia, in the final eliminator to determine who will challenge for Robert Fahey's world title. Filippelli made good early use of his home court advantage, hitting a string of winners.

Devils steal the points

ICE HOCKEY: On the penultimate weekend of the regular season, the strain at the top of the British league premier division began to show as Cardiff Devils suffered their first defeat in 19 games and Sheffield Steelers dropped a point at home for the first time. Cardiff lost 6-5 at Fife Flyers, whose winner was scored two minutes from time by Kevin St Jacques. At Sheffield, a late goal by Tim Cranston against Newcastle Warriors salvaged a 5-5 draw to put the home side four points ahead of Cardiff with three games to play.

Schofield departs leaving Leeds to ponder the future

By Christopher Irvine

WITH Leeds on course for a third successive final appearance in rugby league's Silk Cut Challenge Cup, news of Garry Schofield's departure to Huddersfield has come at the worst possible time. Leeds have grave worries at half back. Not only is Schofield on his way, after nine years at Headingley, but Tony Kemp broke his arm in yesterday's topsy-turvy, quarter-final victory at Thrum Hall. Schofield is to join the first division side today in an estimated £100,000 three-year deal. The former Great Britain captain, whose £155,000 move from Hull in 1987 was a British record, has championed too many Leeds causes for him to lose sleep about his decision, but his departure off worse in a try-saving tackle on Moana midway through the first half. Holroyd, at scrum half, had first Mann then Cummins outside him before Leeds rediscovered their initial rhythm.

yesterday. With Kemp coming

Six of the seven Leeds tries came down the right side of John Bentley. The England wing had successfully appealed against a suspension to play but, short of waving through the Leeds attackers. he could not have done his former side more of a favour.

The versatile Mann, in his second-row capacity, was the powerful and slick handling accompaniment to Kevin Iro. who belied his two-month absence with as subtle and bewitching a display as the New Zealand centre has conjured at Leeds. He created three tries and claimed the visitors' final one for himself. Iro is one of the few lumi-

Salford fall gallantly

TO SCORE six tries and fail to reach the Challenge Cup semi-finals spoke volumes for Salford's stirring effort on Saturday and the shifting sands on which St Helens continue to base their defence (Christopher Irvine writes).

When appointed coach last month. Shaun McRae snoke of his admiration for St Helens' attacking qualities. There was no quibbling with these at the Willows, in a 46-26 victory, but McRae confirmed his worries about his team's defensive backbone after Salford, with the tie apparently beyond them at 34-6, came through tries by McAvoy (2), naries left at Leeds, although

Rogers and Panapa. Widnes, who dominated the knockout competitions of the 1970s, moved to within 80 minutes of Wembley when they outplayed their firstdivisions rivals, Hull, at The win. Sonny Whakarau, the New Zealand forward, ended his career for Wakefield Trinity with three tries but could not prevent Bradford Bulls from advancing to the semi-finals for the first time in four years by a margin of 30-18.

40-metre try down the right, Shaw, the livewire hooker and Morley, a fine link with Mann and Forshaw in the back row, ensure all is far from gloom.

Hassan, scorer of a blistering

Leeds began at a pace, before Kemp's exit wreaked organisational havoc. Iro shrugged off two tacklers to feed Cummins and got a sweet pass away to release Mann. Halifax, albeit hamstrung by Parker's poor kicking and Chester's nervousness outside him at half back, kept in touch with Schuster's three penalties and a good build-up to put over Dean. The brief excitement of Halifax drawing 12-12 at the break was dispelled in one interception pass by Cummins close to the Leeds line. Thereafter, it was one-way traffic. Gibbons scored the softest of tries, as the Halifax defence held off, before Hassan, Mann and Morley added others in the space of 13 minutes. Those by Amone and Highton were by way of consolation for the Leeds will be hoping to get the second semi-final in tonight's draw, which would give them four weeks to deal with an injury list that now also includes Howard's fractured rib.

RUTCO T1D.

SCORERS: Halliau: Tries: Dean, Amone, Highton Goela: Schuster (6) Leeds: Tries: Mann (2). Curmins, Mann, Gittons. Hassan, Morley, Iro Goels: Holroyd (3) Dropped goal: Holroyd.

HALIFAX: C Dean (sub: Baldwin, 70mm); J Bantiley, J Schuster, M Moaria (sub. M Preston, 29), FTuilag, C Onester, Wi Parker: K Harrison, P Rodwey, P Anderson, A Amone (sub: P Highton, 28), C Gillespie S Baldwin (sub: Amone, G3)

LEEDS: F Curminia, J Fallon, K Iro, C Hall, P Hassan; T Kamp (sub: M Schultz, 25), G Holroyd: N Harmon, M Shaw, H Howard (sub: A Gibbons, 40), G Mann, A Mortey, M Forshaw Referee; S Curmings.

Tomba salutes the crowd after his remarkable victory in the men's slalom vesterday

Tomba on top of the world

By Our Sports Staff

ALBERTO TOMBA, jeered at the start and cheered at the finish, charged to victory in the men's slalom yesterday to add that title to the giant slalom he won on Friday at the Alpine skiing world championships in Sierra Nevada.

The Italian, 29, who had never won a world championship race before, executed a perfect second run down the Neveros piste for a combined time of Imin 42.26sec. It was good enough to earn the fifth gold medal of his career. Mario Reiter, of Austria, won the silver medal, finishing 0.31sec behind Tomba, with Michael von Grünigen, of Switzerland, in third place in Tomba was only sixth after the first leg which was won, surprisingly, by Finn-Christian Jagge, the 1992 Olympic champion from Norway, who has been struggling with his form this season. Tomba. however, had a remarkable second run down the 61-gate Before his arrival last week, Tomba had upset the Spanish skiing enthusiasts by report-edly comparing the Sierra Nevada resort to Morocco and lmin 42.Sisec.

they greeted his departure from the start-hut with whistles. As they saw his intermediate time, however, and realised they were witnessing something special, the whistles were replaced by mount-is beyond my wildest dreams."

This is one of the best races I have ever run," Tomba, whose victories helped Italy to finish at the top of the medals' table, said. "I was just going for a medal. To win two golds fourth place in the combined, I was going for gold but I really can't complain about the silver." he said. Von Grünigen, the bronze medal-winner, said he had merely been looking for a "good, solid [second] run", after finishing lifth in the first

That second victory meant

he shared the title of best skier at the championships with

Pernilla Wiberg, of Sweden,

Reiter, who won the slalom who won two women's titles.

section of the combined event but finished just out of the medal positions in fourth place, was happy to be on the podium at last. "After the sively in my life.

I would normally prefer the gold but I'm happy with leg but had not succeeded. "With the mistake I made on the second run, I was lucky to get the bronze," he admitted. "I have never skied so aggres-

Master Butler excels against the clock

GETHIN BUTLER opened cycling's new time-trials season yesterday in the manner he ended last year's programme: the master specialist against the clock on courses that demand as much technical skill from a rider as strength (Peter Bryan writes). That combination again proved a winning one for Butler when he outpaced his rivals in the North Road CC 25-mile hard riders' event at Essendon, in Hertfordshire, to repeat his 1995 victory.

Butler, who is Britain's reigning best time-trial champion at 50 miles, 100 miles and 12 hours, started last of the 86 ;

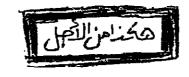

competitors, who had to endure a continuous downbour that flooded parts of the course. to a depth of 12 inches. He finished in 58min 32sec, the third-fastest time for the event, now in its 41st year, and a new coursé record. Butler's likeliest rival. Richard Preeble, suffered a puncture, and finished four minutes behind the winner.

Joe Doran, the Australian, was the closest challenger to Butler, recording 1hr 2min 10sec to hold off Barry Charley by 20 seconds for the runnerup position.

THE SEE TIMES (5pm) Last °C snow good powder 20 110 good poweer fair sun
(All but lowest pistes in good condition)
50 110 good varied good sun
(Wonderful skiling under clear blue skies; not as cold)
45 200 good varied good fine
(Excellent skiling everywhere)
50 100 good varied good sun -1
(Excellent skiling cold temperatures maintaining snow) SUR -4 21/2 115 340 good varied good sun 5 20/2
(Fistes in superb condition; perfect conditions)
110 220 good varied good fine 2 23/2
(Great sking in warm sunshine)
200 240 good powder good sun 0 23/2
(Perfect sking conditions; Portes du Soleif all open)
75 180 good varied good sun 2 23/2
(Great sking but very busy, some lift queues) 5 130 good varied good line 1 21/2 (Good sking on all slopes above 1,200m) 5 160 good heavy good fine 1 23/2 (Good skiing in all areas, lovely weather) Source: Ski Club of Great Britain. L - lower slopes; U - uppen; art. - artificiat.

Emergent

Kenyans

score freely

in test of acceptance

Simon Wilde's

WORLD.

EXTRAS

THERE is no doubt aboût

which team has been the revelation of the World Cup, and if Kenya can beat Zimbabwe in Patna today they may take themselves a large step nearer to their ambition of becoming the next Test-play-

Kenya won praise for their enterprising cricket against India and Australia and they are committed to furthering their cause in their remaining es but we want to go down with a fight," Maurice Odumbe, the Kenya captain, said yesterday. "It is impor-tant for us to be accepted in the Hanumant Singh, the coach, was more specific, however. "We could become a Test team within five years. I expect in five years' time. Kenya will be able to compete

Kenya's hopes lie with the ebullient Africans who are now rivalling the influence in the team of the Indians, who took over the game in the post-colonial era. They have already shown what they can do in the field and with the bat

but their bowling, if enthusias-

The other problem is that, according to Peter Lever, the team's bowling coach, only about 300 native Kenyans play the game seriously. The country's 30 clubs have now started to sponsor school talent but the leading players may need to go overseas if they are to further their Atherton's fall

What has happened to Mich-

international fold."

"We may lose all our match-

THE TIMES MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996

Failures of diplomacy add to recurring disappointments on the pitch

England heading for dishonourable exit

From Alan Lee, cricket correspondent, in rawalpindi

RAWALPINDI (South Africa won loss): South Africa (2pts) beat England by 78 runs see peri for lan

ENGLAND are making such a poor impression on this World Cup that if it contained a healthily competitive format they would soon be heading home in shame. Instead, despite another lame batting display, another depressing defeat, they have a guaranteed quarter-final place and can cling to the nebulous prospect of a sudden transformation.

There were signs yesterday that aspects of England's game are improving and that it would not require a complete transformation for them to make further progress. They bowled admirably to restrict South Africa to 230, and although their fielding offered comical moments, it was tidier than of late.

But then came the batting. So brittle, so inferior to at least four competing countries that optimism seems futile. Dennis Silk, the chairman of the Test and County Cricket Board and a travelling supporter of the team on tour this winter, chose Saturday to belabour the state of the English game. So, presumably, he was confident of the outcome yesterday. That England even came within telescopic range of the South Africa total was thanks only to some irrelevant hitting when, from the depths of 99 for seven, the game had been irretrievably lost.

England were trounced by a team in a different league, and logic dictates that such form cannot be reversed in three weeks. If this is not sufficiently mortifying, England are compounding their position with some graceless off-field conduct. The events of recent years have given Pakistani people a profound suspicion of English cricketers and they are not revising their opinions.

G Kinsten run out (Stevern) — 50 (87min, 60 balls, 4 fours) 15 J Petitamen c Russell b Martin 28 (5 min, 36 balls, 3 fours) "W J Cronje c Russell b Gough — 15 (41min, 31 balls, 1 fours)

JN Rhodes b Martin 37 (37min, 32 bals, 3 lours) B M McMillan b Smith 11 (24min, 17 balls) S M Pollock c Fairbrother b Cock 12

(15min, 13 balls)
P L Symbox a Thorpe b Mertin _____1
(4min, 4 balls)

C R Massamers (19 cm to 19 cm

202 (Polock 5), 9-213 (Mathews 4), 150-1-60-190, 2-0-7-1, 2-0-10-1); DeFreglas 10-0-55-1 (rib 1, w 1; 5 lours; 5-0-32-0, 5-0-20-1; Gough 10-0-68-2; 5-0-32-0, 2-0-13-1); Meetin 10-0-33-3 (w 3, 1) iour, 5-0-18-1, 2-0-9-0, 2-0-62; Smith 8-0-40-1 (2 lours; 5-0-25-0, 3-0-15-1); Thorps 2-0-17-0 (1 lour; one steps)

"M A Atherion c Palinaman b Policck 0 (2mm, 4 balls)

N.M.K. Smith b de Villers ... (46min, 24 balls, 1 four)

C R Matthews not out

Extras (60 1, w 5, nb 1)

Total (50 overs, 203min)

Already one set of officials has accused England of trying to bribe a groundsman and another set, on Saturday, of "barging" onto a wet ground to train and hampering mopping-up operations. England will take issue with the inter-are not being sufficiently aware of local sensitivities. They further weakened their case last night when Raymond Illingworth the manager, failed to appear for the formal post-match media conference, and Michael Atherton, the captain, addressed a Pakistani journalist as "a buf-pretations but perhaps they foon". Atherton does not set out to seek popularity, which is just as well. His own grim form - he was out to his fourth ball yesterday - is affecting him less than the plight of the team, but on a sub-continent that sets high store by dignity, he is losing respect. As for Illingworth, one can only assume he did not trust himself to speak after watching his side decline to an eighth defeat in nine one day internationals against Testclass opposition.

South Africa had to make a late change when Allan Donald reported sick but they bore his absence effortlessly. Fanie de Villiers, after a few stiff sighters, slotted back into a seam attack more miserly than any in the world. Comparing it with the zest and flair of the Pakistan bowlers when the teams meet in Karachi on Thursday will be a highlight of the cricket week.

plenty. Shaun Pollock found his line instantly and Ather-England, for whom Robin Smith's calf strain reprieved ton, his feet static, thrust away from his body and was caught behind. It was correct that he should resume opening but it was alarming to see him fail G A Hick c McMillen b de Villers ...14 again, adding to a sequence that has now brought him (25min, 27 balls, 1 four) G P Thorpe c Pathaman b Symbox 46. (102min, 69 balls, 3 lours) only 59 runs in his last eight international innings. Things aren't going great (14min, 10 bells) /TR C Rusself c Rhodes b Pollock _12 later, "but I feel all I need is one decent score. As a team, we are not batting with any (Sorin, 32 cess, 1 cut) PAJ DeFreitse run out

(De Villers/Palitarien)
(Samin, 24 bells, 1 six, 1 four)
D Gough b Matthews (Samin, 13 bells, 2 fours) flair or confidence. Only two players, Hick and Thorpe, are in any sort of form." One of the form players, Hick, lasted only until the eighth over, whipping de Vil-Edras (6 7, w 1) liers straight to mid-wicket Total (44.3 overs, 185min) ______152 FALL OF WICKETS: 1-0 (Smith 0), 2-22 (Smith 7), 3-33 (Thorpe 7), 4-52 (Thorpe 17), 5-62 (Thorpe 29, 8-97 (Russel 12), 7-97 (Cork 0), 8-139 (Cork 16), 9-141 and with the predictable failure of Smith against this highquality bowling, England were soon 33 for three.

dered Kallis.

Stewart's efforts to retrench ended in farce as he failed to ground his bat while ambling a single and was thrown out by Symcox. Casual cricket, and indefensible. Symcox then took the ball, spun his off breaks out of the left-hander's rough and dismissed Fairbrother and Thorpe. Up on the balcony. Illingworth sat alone and stoney-faced, a more eloquent expression of his mood than anything he might have

Buffoon row, page I

Rhodes, the South Africa batsman, cannot mask his disappointment after being bowled by Martin for 37

Decline and fall has Silk in despair

By SIMON WILDE

ENGLAND'S critics have been vociferous and numerous in recent weeks as the national team lurched from one bewildering defeat to another, but few are so well qualified to do so -- or so sensitively placed — as Dennis Silk, who chose to make his remarks on the eve of the latest heavy defeat at the hands of South Africa. Some may question the timing of the criticisms attributed to the chairman of the Test and County Cricket Board but England's inept performance in Rawalpindi yesterday only seemed to confirm his worst fears. Silk made some frank observations about England's deteriorating position in the world

His criticisms are not new; neither are his proposed solutions - the establishment of a national academy, international players contracted to the board of control rather than the counties, and a more competitive domestic structure - but coming from him they ought to give rise to sober reflection among several county chief executives.

"I would think we might come about seventh in the rankings of international cricket," he said. "It was salutary to see how well Holland played against us [last week] and to think that, with their limited resources, they were not that far away in terms of performance."

Silk said he believes England's cricket is in danger of falling further behind that of other nations. "We have no batsman ranked in the world top five, no bowler in the top ten and we have no worldclass spinner." he said in the Mail on Sunday. "That is a worry when you consider we have the only fully professional structure. "We used to have pairs of fast bowlers like Trueman and Statham, or more recent-

Pakistan appear united

would petrify opposing batsmen. Where are they now? And when was the last time we saw an 18-year-old playing Test cricket for England? There are those who say that it is all cyclical, that it'll be all right on the night. I simply don't believe them."

Silk. whose tenure as chairman will probably end with the formation of a new national cricket board this year. added: "If we are interested in England winning again, it is going to require a tremendous effort of will, where the total commitment of all the counties isn't just towards keeping others. Through the day, he wore a wide smile and, while it can hardly be because he feels his job is secure, the Pakistan captaincy being the high-risk zone of world cricket, it could of 109 for nine from 33 overs

did not begin to extend Pakistan, despite their loss of Aamir Sohail in the first over.

Pakistan won with 15 overs to spare and might have done so even sooner. Today, they play

Holland and it is unlikely that they will need to work noticeably harder, although their captain said yesterday that they would be taking nothing seriously, whether facing weak or strong opponents," Wasim said. The players have been told to maintain the same professional attitude they displayed against the

We are taking each match for granted.

The Emirates' meagre score well indicate his confidence.

ael Atherton's form with the bat? The man who, for two years, found the responsibility of the England captaincy a find it a burden. Since the start of the year, he has accumulated only 187 runs in 12 innings for his country, including one contribution of 85. in both 1994 and 1995 he batted for more than 60 hours and scored more than 1,000 runs in Test matches alone, and to that could be thrown in another 900 runs in one-day games. A sure sign of how good his defence was during that period was that he was bowled only eight times in his 73 innings. This year, his stumps have been hit four

The star turn

After the drubbing of England yesterday, South Africa look ever more likely candi-dates to win the World Cup. They appear past masters of the one-day game, strong in batting, bowling and fielding. as belits a team that has now won eight successive matches in this form of the game. It is odd to remember, therefore, that only just over a year ago. plete one-day duffers after a string of ten defeats in a row. including two to England and the first six matches after Bob Woolmer's appointment as

Hostile witness

Shakoor Rana, Mike Gaëting's former sparring part-ner, has fanned the flames on his once warm relationship with all things English.

Asked why Pakistan crowds were hostile towards the England team at the World Cup. he explained that it was published in the British newspapers, which were filed by British media persons here ... They find a ghost in everything - the air, the food, the hotels and also mock at our culture". With graphic finality, he added: "I will not even wrap a fish in those tabloids."

Spinning tops Mushtaq Ahmed's three wickets in Gujranwala on Saturday enabled him to become only the second leg spinner after his compatriot, Abdul Qadir, to claim 100 wickets in one-day internationals Breathing down their necks are Anil Kumble (93 wickets) and Shane Warne (88 wickets). Mushtaq and Kumble are well behind on strike-rate, with Qadir taking his 132 wickets at one every 38 balls and Warne a formidable one every 33.

Indians anticipate a clash that will light up their lives

7-97 (LODK o), 5-32 (Gough 1); Gough 1); BOWLING: Pollock 8-1-18-2 (2 fours; 6-1-13-1, 2-0-3-1); de Villiens 7-1-27-2 (w 1; 2 fours; 6-1-20-2, 1-0-7-0); Matthews 9,3-0-30-2 (1 four; 6-1-6-2); McMillian 6-0-17-0 (1 four; 6-1-8-2); McMillian 6-0-17-0 (1 four; 6-

1.3-0-6-2); McMillian 6-0-17-0 (1 four, 5-0-10-0, 1-0-7-0); Symcox 10-0-38-2 (1 sot, 2 fours; one spell); Cronje 4-0-17-0 (1 four, one spell).

Umpires: S.G.Randell (Australia) and 1 D. Robinson (Zimbabwe).

South Africa won by 78 runs.

☐ Compiled by Bill Frindell

Man of the match: J N Rhodes.

FROM MICHAEL HENDERSON IN BOMBAY

AUSTRALIA arrived in this teeming city late last night, with the giant floodlights at the Wankhede Stadium Illyminating the skyline. The money it cost to light up the midnight air could probably feed the poor souls who live under the lee of the ground for the rest of their wretched lives

The day-night match be-tween Australia and India tomorrow is the first to be played under floodlights at the ground, and the biggest match so far in the World Cup. With South Africa, these are the teams most favoured to win it. and the fact that this encounter is taking place in Bombay. which likes to think of itself as a glamorous city, lends lustre not here) appears in one as a to the occasion.

There is no real need for any game here to be played under floodlights. As The Times of India pointed out yesterday: The country is blessed with natural light and good weather about nine months a year. For the Indian enthusiast everything else becomes secgo ondary when a cricket match is on in any part of the country

... so floodlights are really not necessary to attract speciators." Nevertheless, it will be a people watched on television shoddy toys, to the drug last week as India beat West Indies in Gwalior. So when one refers to cricket fever, it is not idle talk. Indians respond to cricket in the way Italians celebrate football and the unaffected enthusiasm - so different from the hateful, selfadvertising behaviour of English football supporters, tolerable.

for instance — is a joy. Everywhere, in the newspapers, on television, in the streets, in the very air itself. India is gripped by the World Cup. It is being used to sell everything, from high finance to chewing gum, although the television commercials are not very clever, and are often absurd. Dickie Bird (who is Australia are down to 13 judge: Dominic Cork is in another as a gunslinger;

Sachin Tendulkar, like the poor, appears everywhere. Just why cricket holds this nation in thrall is not difficult to understand. If the Australians left their luxurious hotel, right by the Gateway of India. they could discover the reason for themselves within a minute, so convincing is the evidence in this rambling, mephitic, ungovernable place. To the four-year-old urchins dramatic occasion, one greatly and the families who dine on the pavements, to the regue More than 240 million travel agents and pediars of pushers and street musicians, to the crowds who gather outside hotels lobbies just to gawp at rich. white-skinned ment of fantasy. They hope their players will get the fingering right and make their burdensome lives a little more

Demand for the 35,000 tickets is uncontainable, so there will be another huge television audience to watch Tendulkar bat against Shane Warne. Oddly enough, even in the roadside hovels that serve as homes, televisions flicker. Tomorrow the authorities are erecting big screens throughout Bombay to broadcast the match to a wider audience.

men after the return home of Craig McDermott, who has a calf injury. It was unclear yesterday whether they would request a replacement. Even without McDermott, they had seven bowlers in the team in Vishakhapatnam, and there is back-up in Damien Fleming, the swing bowler who has taken a hat-trick in Test cricket, and Shane Lee, the New South Wales all-rounder.

The most sensible alternative appears to be Tim May, whose off spin is better suited to the slow pitches than the quicker bowiers. FINAL: Mar 17: Lahore.

Rewelpindi.
FIXTURES; Todey: Pakistan v Holland,
Lahora. Tornemove Niew Zeeland v LIAE, Fassalahad Feib 29: Pakistan v South Africa, Karachi Mar 1: Holland v LIAE, Lahora: Mar 3: Pakistan v England,
Karachi Mar 5: Holland v South Africa, Rewelpindi. Mar 6: Pakistan v New Zeeland, Lahora.

Zestand, Lahon:

QUARTERI-FINALS; Mer 9: Winner group
A v 4th group B. Faisalabad. Mer 9: 3rd group A v runner-up group B. Bengelore.
Mer 11: Wriner group B v 4th group A.
Karachi. Mer 11: 3rd group B v runner-up group A. Madras
SEMI-FINALS; Mer 13: Feeslebed winner
v Bangelore winner, Calculta, Mer 14:
Karachi. winner v Madras winner, Chandiowth.

in defence of their title GUJRANWALA (Pakistan won toss): Pakistan (2pts) beat

United Arab Emirates by nine

PAKISTAN have appointed a psychologist to help their delence of the World Cup. They call him their motivational manager and, to judge from their delayed debut in the competition on Saturday, he is doing his job well. Nasir Aziz has been lectur-

His career has been hindered ing the players daily during their month-long training camp, and even allowing for the paucity of the opposition provided by the outclassed Emirates, this was an impressively united performance. Pakistan have two ways of playing, unstoppable and unspeakable. And they showed them both by winning the last World Cup. They remain a highly-strung side, subject to animated divisions, and to observe them in a tournament PAKISTAN such as this is to expect a soap opera full of drama and incident. But if their talent is focused, as at first sight it Total (1 wkt, 18 overs)____ appears to be there is no question they can win again. Much the most striking phase of Saturday's rainshortened game was the newball bowling of Wagar Younis.

no sign of it here. There was high speed allied to late swing, a combination far better batting teams than the Emirates will be hard pressed to resist. Behind him came Mushtaq Ahmed, his googly proving unfathomable. Wasim Akram, the captain, was content to pull the strings and leave the starring roles to

FROM ALAN LEE

SCOREBOARD UNITED ARAB EMPRATES

Civiter ARAB EMPATES
G Mylvagerem b Mushtaq
Salen Raza c Javed b Asagb
Azher Sased run out
Macher Hussam c Wager b Mushtaq
Mchammad Asigm b Mushtaq
Mchammad Ishaq b Washin
Arshed Laceq c lezt b Asagb
J A Sameraselera b Wager
S Zerawari b Wash
S Zerawari b Wash

"S Zerawari b Wash

"S Zerawari b Wash

"S Zerawari b Wash

"S Zerawari b Wash

"Total 99 Wds. 33 ovens

"Total 99 Wds. 33 ovens

"Total 99 Wds. 33 ovens

"S Zerawari b Wash Total 8 wkts, 33 overs; 109
FALL OF WICKETS, 1-27, 2-40, 3-47, 4-53, 5-54, 6-70, 7-80, 8-108, 9-109
BOWLING: Wessern 7-1-25-2, Warger 7-0-35-1; Anaph 6-0-18-2; Mushtan 7-0-16-3; Sohail 8-1-16-0.

htzamarn-u-Hag, Javed Minnded, Salim Maille, 1Rashid Lalif, "Wasim Akram, Mushlag Ahmed, Wagar Youras and Aaqib Javed do not lod, FALL OF WICKET 1-7 BOWLING: Semanasekera 3-0-17-1; Arched 4-0-24-0; Dukermela 3-1-14-0; Selim 3-0-17-0; Zaraman 5-0-23-0; Azhar 2-0-16-0 Man of the match: Mushten Ahmed by a back injury but there was Umpires: D Cooray and S Verkotarachavan.

Steven Lubbers, the Dutch captain, who believes his team are getting better with each game, was full of praise for Hans Jorritsma, who has been helping with training and advice on nutrition. "Hans trained the Pakistan hockey team that won the World Cup in Australia. His experience of local conditions has been very

United cut loose in warning to Newcastle

Manchester United 6

By PETER BALL

MANCHESTER UNITED did not so much beat Bolton Wanderers as totally destroy the bottom dub at Burnden Park yesterday, reducing Newcastle United's lead at the head of the FA Carling Premiership to four points.

Newcastle still have a game in hand, and Liverpool remain heavily involved, but the manner of yesterday's victory will chill hearts on both Tyneside and Merseyside. With the top two teams meeting at St James' Park next Monday. United could hardly have made their run into form at a better time. This was their eighth win in succession, and the outcome was never in

In front of Bolton's biggest crowd of the season, United

THE RUN-IN

NEWCASTLE UNITED sed: Southampton (h) MANCHESTER UNITED

i; Newcastle (a). 8: Leeds (h). 16 Park Rangers (a). 24: Tottenhan Arsenal (h). April: 6: Mancheste killed the game and hushed the frantic crowd in the first 15 minutes, goals from Beckham and Bruce ending the match as a contest almost before it began. The four goals in the final 20 minutes, from Cole, Butt and two from the substitute, Scholes, were just a cruel reminder of the vast gap between the two sides.

This is like a cup final for us," Colin Todd, the Bolton manager, wrote in the programme. In fact, it was more like a third-round tie in which the giants refused to be killed, and instead revealed their vast superiority, neither the home side's commitment, a frenetic pace or a pitch littered with divots being able to bring

United down. Keane covered every inch of midfield. Butt was not far behind him and Beckham, who had come in for Sharpe, who has a back injury, marked his return to the side with a fine display. Cantona was able to stroll for 70 minutes before he was replaced, with telling effect, by

Bolton offered endeavour. and some flickering runs by the clever Curcic. It never threatened to be enough. From the start, it was clear where the advantage lay. United might have scored in the first minute, and although Schmeichel had to make the first serious save a minute or so later to deny Curcic, it took United only five minutes to go in front

Keane sent Giggs clear, and the Welshman lobbed the ball over Phillips before hitting a dipping volley over Branagan. The bar intervened to deny Giggs reward for a delightful piece of skill, but it did not deny United, Beckham arriving to head home the rebound.

Another five minutes and Cole should have made it 2-0. but Branagan made a flying save to deny his header. The goalkeeper was less fortunate as Bruce met Beckham's corner to claim his first goal of the

That effectively was that, and United began to coast. Even so, Bolton showed few signs of being able to take advantage, and when they did get a sight of goal, Coleman, who had got free to meet Thompson's free kick, glanced his header wide.

A goal then, just after the half-hour, might have made a game of it for a time, but it did not come, and when Sellars did get a shot on target, ten minutes after the interval. Schmeichel denied him with a diving save.

That was to be virtually Bolton's last serious attempt as United took advantage of the tiring opposition to ram home their superiority. McClair, who had replaced Giggs just before the hour, set up the third goal, his flick sending in Cole to beat Coleman and crash the ball in off the underside of the bar.

Two minutes later, Scholes appeared and Bolton's problems intensified. He might have scored with his first touch and did with virtually him and he cut inside Coleman to shoot home.

If that was not bad enough, Scholes struck again in another four minutes, although he looked well offside as he deflected McClair's shot past Branagan. But there were no such doubts about the sixth goal. Butt earning reward for a fine display with a splendid finish as Cole sent him in.

IUnish as Coje sent him in.

Bolton Wanderers (4-4-2): K
Branagen — S Green, C Fanclough, S
Coleman — J Philips — D Lee (sub J McGinlay, 74min), S Curcic, A Thompson, S Sellars — F de Freitas, N Blake.

MANCHESTER UNITED (4-4-1-1): P
Schmischel — D Iwvin, S Bucci, G Pallister,
P Neville — D Beckham, R Keane, N Butt, R
Giggs (sub B McClair, 57) — E Cantona (sub P Scholes, 73) — A Cole.
Perferer: D Gallagher

Jess, one of Coventry City's two new signings, attempts to evade the attentions of Fleming at Highfield Road. Photograph: Ian Stewart

Stifled appeal brings Robson relief

f you hang around long enough in professional sport, duty may oblige you to try to take points off a man who was once your playing apprentice; for Ron Atkinson, the Coventry City manager, Saturday at Highfield Road against Bryan Robson, the boy he made into a footballing millionaire, could have been like robbing his own child.

For Robson, on the brink of Middlesbrough's worst losing sequence, was at the mercy of Coventry. who had just won their previous home game, arresting a run of eight winless matches. Alas, while it rained goals elsewhere in the FA Carling Premiership, Coventry was the place of drought. The pitch was lifeless, the game not very much more, and lack of confidence and key players suspendeal infured of absent ove a moribund afternoon.

"I enjoyed it, every minute of it," Liam Daish, Coventry's debutant £1.5 million centre back, enthused. "When the gaffer [Atkinson] changed our formation to three at the back at halftime, it was the first time I'd ever been asked to play like that. But we kept a clean sheet - it's a good start for me."

A good start for him, perhaps. For Daish, purchased by Birmingham City for £50,000 two years ago, was stepping up to a level he had possibly thought had passed him by. "Don't come and be a fancy Dan, you're not good at that," Atkinson had bluntly told him. "Your mandate to the end of the season is to be mean, be aggressive, see off the forwards and help keep us in the Premiership."

Rob Hughes on how the Middlesbrough manager

'Atkinson

fidgeted and fiddled but could not proved his past master's equal in a goalless draw

Inevitably, Daish was booked for illegal use of the elbows; inevitably, he stirred Jan Aage Fjortoft, like a moose being molested, so that Fjortoft, too, earned a yellow card. But Fjortoft, almost alone, tried on a handful of occasions to be the singular exception to this encounter, the one competitor determined to try to put the ball into the net. What makes it all so depressing is that Coventry, on paper, are an attractive proposition. They should be considering that Atkinson has spent on refurbishment, induding Daish and the other new player on Saturday, Eoin Jess, at £1.75 million from Aberdeen.

Early on, Jess, strug-gling to cope with the pace and movement of the English game, attempted an elegant pass; Mustoe read his mind, intercepted and then wheeled away from him with such aplomb that Jess must have wondered whether this, an ordinary English professional, was the norm down south. But, moments later, Jess enticed Whyte out to the left corner flag, twisted left and right and finally deceived his marker, producing an exquisite cross that was ignored in the penalty area. Then, when Jess unveiled his potential with his best pass, the ball hit Noel Whelan on the shin bounced into touch and mirrored the inefficiency of the day.

Meanwhile, Graham Kavanag

22, a Dubliner standing in for Juninho, who is on Olympic qualifying duty with Brazil, had surpassed everything else by producing a rising shot that Ogrizovic athletically palmed over the cross bar. Kavanagh, like others, betrayed his afternoon with a reckless elbow into the head of ing. Atkinson fidgeted find the spark' Strachan, on the touchline as vociterous as Robson, produced a reminder of what used to be. Two high-class players venting their trustration from the dug-out at players not really in the Not even Barmby? He is at the time of the season when his head is down. Possibly he is carrying injury. Possi-bly he felt, without Juninho and with

Fjortoft single-minded to the point of selfishness, that his efforts were a waste of energy. But this is supposed and fiddled, changed his line-up, altered his tactics and still could not find the spark. His assistant. Gordon > afternoon that brought relief to Robson simply because his team, having equalled a 42-year club record of eight consecutive defeats, had been spared a ninth. A murky way to celebrate a clean sheet on a foul day.

to be the inventive player ready to mudge aside Peter Beardsley in the English game, I think not, not yet.

The only time when Coventry showed any instinct to open up

Middlesbrough's five-man rearguard was when Noel Whelan rose above

Phil Whelan, flicked the ball on intelligently with his head and stared in disbelief, no one, not Dublin or any other player in sky blue, had anticipat-ed such a daring thing as an attack, no one had ploughed through the sand and mud to get into the danger area.

But there was enjoyment, Daish told us so. It was muscular, hard, whose new manager was pleased with his debut - and Fjortoft. The Norwegian stirred just before half-time. He

He then surged past Pickering past Shaw, but Ogrizovic denied him.

The moose could charge again, but he could not score. No one could and, at the end, locked in private and Robson left the stage together, equals dogged and it involved Daish -

COVENTRY CITY (4-4-2): S Ogrezonic — A Plotering (sub: N Lampley, 78 min), R Shaw, L Dalsh, D Burrows — P Teller (sub: D Buest, 41), K Richerdson, E Jess, J Salako — N Whelen, D Dublin. MEDDLESSROUGH (5.3-1-1): G Waish — N Cox, D Whyte, S Vickess, P Whister, C Fleming — J Pollock, R Muston, G Kewerngh — N Bermby — J A Fjortoft, Reterrect P Durkin, Gullit and Le Tissier grace stage with fine distinction

Southampton Chelsea.

BY RUSSELL KEMPSON

WITH Matthew Le Tissier and Roud Gullit gracing the same stage, there was much bowing and scraping from the rival sets of supporters at The Deli on Saturday. Indeed, they were not worthy. Le Tissier ambled about in his usual languid style, at times bumbling, at times bewitching: Gullit strolled and patrolled in his usual forceful fashion. always alert, always willing.

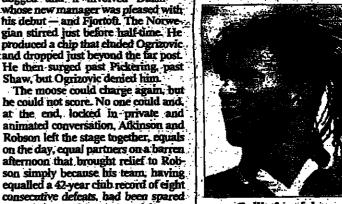

A contrast of sorts. Between a player burdened with ethereal. magical qualities who is destined, apparently, never to unveil them in front of a global audience, and a player that has been there, seen it, done it yet is still prepared to carry on cruising and caressing into his twilight years. It was not Le Tissier v Gullit, a confrontation; more Le Tissier v Gullit, an appreciation. Nobody left disappointed.

Dave Merrington. Southampton manager, has long since tired of extolling the virtues of Le Tissier. He is fed up, too, with offering a defence as Terry Venables, the England coach, continues to ig-nore his maverick. Words have become useless. Thus, Merringion issued a terse "no comment" when asked of Le Tissier's often-illuminating contribution to an FA Carling Premiership encounter of immense enjoyment.

He was more expressive, however, when asked about Gullit, whose direct 70-yard run, exchange of passes with Hughes and clipped finish, in the 54th minute, decided the destination of the three points: It was only his third goal, and his second against Southampton, since leaving Italy during the summer.

"I admire him so much." Merrington said. He is so uncomplicated, he keeps his game so simple, there is so much we can learn from him.

Y#

14 5 m -

I

ξ- .

ميز ز listle . Tur

Gullit: forceful

He's get God-given talent but he uses it so well." Glenn Hoddle, the Chelsea manager, kept his songs of praise low-key but Gullit's offthe pitch skills are as eloquent, elegant and elusive as they are on it. When led into the inevitable yet potentially precarious comparison with Le Tissier, he said: "He is very important for their team. They give him every ball and he is always looking for the right pass. It is not always easy. When questioned on the work ethic, not Le Tissier's most notable trait, he said: Without it, you can't achieve: anything. If you are considered the best, you have to show it. You have to work harder than the rest, set a. good example. It is expected of you. I was raised like this." He then added, with a wry grin: "I hope you don't compare this with Le Tissier. I'm talking about me, not him. I get this straight. OK?"

Gullit's multilingual talents allow no room for scurrilous misinterpretation; not dissimilar in delivery to his superblystroked pass that lured Monkou into fouling Wise in the 22nd minute, which gave Wise his second goal, from a penalty, to add to his earlier, swerving effort from 25 yards. Southampton had gone ahead through Widdrington's deflected drive and equalised, seven minutes before the interval, when Hughes inadvertently backsided the ball over the line after a free kick by Le.

Tissier. Cheisea were a shade fortunate. Had Hitchcock not made seven saves, ranging from competent to crucial, and had Le Tissier not missed fractionally with several audacrous attempts, a share of eight or even ten goals could have been possible. The supporters still got it right; they bowed to those bestowed of brilliance. Le Tissier and Guilit.

SOUTHAMPTON (4-4-2): D Beasant — J Dodd, R Half, K Montou, S Charton — Mela Tasser, J Magilton, T Wildongton, M Waters (suits B Vanison; 78min) — G Waters in Shirporton Watson, N Shipperley.

CHELSEA, G-4-2-1); K Hitchcock — k Duberry (sub; E Johnsen, 72), D Lee, S Clarke — D Petrescu, R Guild, N Speckman (sub; J Spencer, 81), T Phelan — D Wise, G Peacock — M Hughes.
Referee; G Anti-

Flowers wilts as Collymore collaborates with pivotal divot

Flowers: bizarre goal

Liverpool3

By Andrew Longmore

POOR Tim Flowers. If he makes a thousand flying saves over the next ten years, performs miracles of acrobatics on Blackburn's behalf, his name will forever be linked to the afternoon of Saturday. February 24, 1996, and the moment of that bizarre goal. You can tell how bizarre it was. Stan Collymore apologised for scoring. Usually, strikers claim any nudge, bob ble or own goal with a zeal which suggests it was all part of a fiendish master plan. Collymore just shrugged his mighty shoulders. Alongside goal No 12 in the record books there should be an asterisk and the disclaimer "assist:

Flowers might be a little more careful in marking out his goal area in future because the ball deflected off his own stud marks, but even the Liverpool supporters behind his goal could muster only a half-hearted cheer when the Blackburn goalkeeper stopped the next back-pass. Everyone was thankful it was not them.

The irony was that of all the many shots by Collymore, the dribbling left-footer, topped like a golfer's drive, which hopped as if radar-controlled over Flowers's right shoulder. was by far the most pathetic. The next, a perfectly placed right-foot free kick, skimmed. past Flowers's left hand to give Liverpool a 2-0 lead, and two further pot-shots in the second half produced flying saves. 'It was no problem, really," the Blackburn manager, Ray Harford, said with breathtaking nonchalance. "We kept him at long range." Heaven help Blackburn if he had come within shooting distance. Otherwise, as Harford stressed, it was a game of two styles. Blackburn pass too little. Liverpool pass too much.

Given that there was a conser-vative $20 million worth of striking talent on show in Fowler. Collymore and Shearer, and five goals in the match, there was a scarcity of chances, which reflected poorly on the creative capacity of the supporting cast. Shearer's extraordinary sequence of scoring in every home Premiership game this season was ended with some comfort, partly by the defensive qualities of Scales and Wright, partly by the inability of Ripley and Wilcox to get behind the Liverpool wing backs, though the latter did mark his return with a flashing header just before half-time to bring Blackburn back into the game.

When Ripley retired early in the second half with a recurrence of a hamstring injury and Wilcox, playing his first game at Ewood Park for nine months after tearing a cruciate ligament, tired, he was reduced to foraging for himself. One header (over the bar) and a shot (just wide) was the sum of his striking contribution. Collymore won the game within a game quite handsomely. and while evidence that he

Shearer as the leader of the England line for the European championship is incomplete, the prospect of him coming off the bench to flex his right foot is too tantalising to ignore.
Twice in the second half, he drifted out deep on the left wing, picked up the ball and ran diagonally, at full tilt, straight at goal. Just a little jink to the right or left and he has sight of goal. Space would be at a premium on the international stage, but Collymore at high speed would be a terrifying sight for more cultured defenders than Hendry. If he was not subject to the somnolent tendency which affects the whole team from time to time, there would be no limit to his potential.

The lack of professionalism manager, Roy Evans. "A few careless things," he said, but very unLiverpool. Evans's point was that at 2-0 and 3-1 ahead, the third courtesy of a cross-shot by Thomas which ballooned off Howers and past Hendry, his side should not have had to scramble so desperately to safeguard victory after Sherwood had reduced the deficit five minutes from time. "We used to be masters at keeping the ball when we had the advantage." he said. "But the win keeps us in touch.

IN SOUCH.—
BLACKBURN ROVERS (4-4-2): T Flowers.—
H Berg, C Colemen, C Hendry, J Kenna.—
S Ripley (sub: P Westurst, Schrin), T Shereood, W McKinley (sub: N Gudmundson, 74)—A Stream, K Gallacher, LVERPOOL (3-4-1-2): D James.—
LVERPOOL (3-4-1-2): D James.— J Michaer, M Thomas. J Bernas, R Jones.— S McManarman.— S Collymore, R Fowler.
Reference A Wisco.

Bury set sights on former glories

Cambridge United By Ivo Tennant

BEFORE the two great Manchester rivals came to prominence, there was another dub to be reckoned with in the metropolitan area. In four seasons. Bury won the FA Cup twice, an achievement of some magnitude then, as now. Further success should have ensued. Ninety-three years on, although it cannot be said that they languish in the Endsleigh Insurance League third division - not when they win 4-2 after being two goals down away from home - the truth is that, since 1903, theirs has been a feckless

This, though, is a club prepared to spend 62 million on ground improvements and, last month, £100,000 on one forward, Matthews. Contrast this with the difficulties Cambridge United have in convincing academics as well as visitors that football is played in their city at all.

Winning the FA Cup again is, of course, no more than a pipedream. Yet, the infrastructure is in place for some sort of success, as are the players necessary to gain promotion. When they win, they do so in style, often scoring four goals or, as against Lincoln City last week.

In the third division, managers as well as players come and go. Mostly they seem to go. Earlier this season, Bury "parted company" with Mike Walsh. They replaced him with Stan Ternent, who served as assistant to lan Porterfield and Steve Coppell at Cheisea and Crystal Palace respectively in the past. At half-time. Bury were 2-1 down. Cambridge's first goal, scored by Middleton, had come about through an awful backpass by Brimson, the left back, who, having not played since December, was evidently not match fit. At half-time. Ternent brought on Johnson, a forward, in his place.

What Bury lacked in defence, they now gained in attack. Johnson scored the equaliser 11 minutes into the second half. Bury's third was the result of a terrific free kick by Pugh. and Carter sealed the outcome by scoring in the penultimate minute. Eighth in the table, Bury will be delighted to reach Wembley - if only in the play-offs. CAMBRIDGE UNITED (4-4-2): M. Daves: — C. Vouder, L. Pairra; J. Cradecce, D. Grafffer, — M. Kyd (sub: T. Bernarini; 60mml, A. Jesney, M. Joseph, P. Baynor — C. Middleon, D. Pobinson (sub: P. Stock, 78).

BURY (4-4-2): G. Kody — D. West: C. Ludge, M. Jackson, S. Bernani (sub: D. Johnson, 45) — T. Suby (sub: N. Red; 37), N. Dawe, L. Johnson, D. Pugh. — R. Matthews, M. Carer Release; K. Lynch.

Derby County Portsmouth2

THE nerves jangled for 70 minutes at the Baseball Ground on Saturday but, by the final whistle, Derby County, with more than a little help from their supporters, had achieved a deserved victory against Portsmouth. In so doing, they extended both their unbeaten run and their lead at the top of the Endsleigh Insurance League first division - but it was never easy.

BY NICK SZCZEPANIK

With the crowd in danger of communicating their unease to the players after a frustrating midweek draw at home to Luton Town. Derby would probably not have chosen to meet Portsmouth, the previous club of their manager. Jim Smith, and on a good run of their own. Add to that the levelling effect into the far corner. Gabbiadini, the of a mud-heap of a pitch, and the ingredients for an upset were in

Durable Derby live on their nerves

The eighteenth minute set the tone. Sturridge was put clear to roars of anticipation, but by the time he had ploughed through to within sight of goal, the cheers had died away, along with his confidence, and he ran the ball past a post.

On the hour, Portsmouth scored, almost inevitably, with their first attack. Burton stabbed the ball low across goal for Hall, in splendid isolation, to shoot into the roof of the net. Simple, apparently. The Derby crowd, to their credit, however, got noisily behind their team and the players responded. In the 71st minute, Yates's header from Simpson's corner kick looped past Knight and, within five minutes. Sturridge had turned on to Van der Laan's through pass to shoot low substitute, gave Derby breathing space when he headed in another corner by Simpson, but some pointless shirt-pulling offered Portsmouth a late penalty, converted by McLoughlin, and Smith was relieved to hear the final whistle.

"When you've gone 16 games unbeaten you know you're going to lose one," he said. Derby, however, are nothing if not resilient, collectively and individually. That's eight times we've been behind and eight times we've come back to win or draw," Smith recalled.

DERBY COUNTY (3-4-3). R Houte ... D Yates, G Rowett, D Watstell ... S Flynn, R van der Laan (sub; G Hodgas, 89mm), D Powell, C Powell (sub; M Gebbladini, 69) ... R Willems, D Surndge, P Surnosan Sringeon POPTSMOUTH (4-14-1), A Knight — R Petrick, A Thornson, G Butiers, A Awtord — M Alfen (sub. C Griffits, 80) — A McLoughtin, P Hall, J Carter (sub. J Durnin, 74), P Wood — D Burton.

Taylor's return, page 29

Keegan uncomfortable after Colombian seeks elbow room

Asprilla the focus of ifs and butts

Newcastle United3

By ALYSON RUDD

HE CANNOT dain he was not warned. Kevin Keegan, the Newcastle United manager, signed Faustino Asprilla in spite of the doubts, the controversy over his temperament and off-pitch antics. Parma were notably keen to offload the Colombian who has been connected with arms and mysterious midnight injuries.

Keegan was more interested in Asprilla's footballing talent, yet after only three appearances in a Newcastle shirt, the £6.7 million signing has managed to upstage one of the most glorious FA Carling Premiership matches of the season by first elbowing Keith Curle, the Manchester City defender, in the face, and then appearing to built the same player as the match ended. The Football Association confirmed quickly that it would be studying television footage of the game and can be expected to deal firmly with such violent conduct. It is true, Curle paid Asprilla close artention throughout the match : and the City captain's dramatic reaction to the butt, the less violent incident, will also require an assessment from the

It is also true that the attention devoted to the elbow of a celebrated Colombian signing will always be of a greater magnitude than that devoted to a home grown, little-known talent. However, this incident cannot be dismissed as a cheeky character. flaw or an innate problem with the Colombian temp-

"He's from Barcelona," Basil Fawity would say firmly as Manuel flew head first into a wall. "He's Latin, he's from Latin America and that's the way they are, Keegan said immediately after the match.

"I like the way he plays, I'm more interested in talking about the way he plays. There's always going to be-little side events." Now that Keegan has studied footage of created the first of Newcastle's through Rosler. three equalisers, delivering the perfect cross over the head shot had been partied by a host of foreign signings playing as if this match, and

The linesman steps in as Curle, the Manchester City captain, recoils after being butted by Asprilla soon after the final whistle cide who is world footballer of Kinkladze was the outstanding talent on Saturday. He found the space and, no matter where on the pitch it was, he danced through it with back-heels, drag-backs, dainty but pacey zig-zag runs past one, two, three, even four Newcastle shirts, and beautifully-weighted passes. The Georgia international set up City's second goal. Curle spied the incident, he may prefer to the incident he may prefer to the incident he shows it me. Keepan said of the who headed past Strucek, the video. Then I'll see a me. Kinkladze almost helped to open the defence when City work the lead for the third time

Ginola, too, was impressive. He strung together a sequence of Symons for Albert, and of precise strokes and movescored himself after Albert's ments like an impressionist painter. But it was Albert, the Immel. But he was just one of Belgian defender, who ensured Newcastle remained in the match. He made one goal this match alone, would de- and scored twice, his second, eight minutes from the end, a clinical shot that left Immel, partly unsighted, motionless. Keegan described Albert as "majestic" but the Newcastle manager probably would not want him to overdo the regal. The Premiership leaders were occasionally disorganised at the back. They needed Albert in City's half, but they also needed him back in the threeman central defence.

Beresford and Barton gam-bled on a forward run every time, leaving Peacock and Howey exposed whenever Albert, too, ventured upfield. Hiley, making his debut for Alan Ball's side, having been signed on loan from Bir-mingham City, took hold of the left flank as if he had played for City all his life and, in the fifteenth minute, beat Asprilla, then Barton, then Peacock to set up Clough, who gave the home side their opening goal when his shot was deflected in by Quinn. Pity City, for their every sunburst has a smudge on it. An inspired performance earned them only one point in their battle against relegation but handed their rivals, Manchester United, two as they attempt to catch Newcastle and prepare for their vital trip to St James Park next Monday.

In David Batty, signed from

Blackburn Rovers, Keegan may well have found the aggressive holding player he needs to plug the gaps that such an adventurous side leaves. Keegan is like an overzealous cook, adding one spice to counter another in his melting pot of talent. Whether or not Batty's own brand of commitment balances Newcastle's cosmopolitan flair might decide the Premiership. MANCHESTER CITY (4-3-1-2): E Immel — N Summerbee, K Curle, K Symons, S Hiley M Crowth, M Brown — G N Summerbee, K Curle, K Symons, S — S Lornas, N Clough, M Brown Kinkladze — N Quinn, U Röster

NEWCASTLE UNITED (5-2-2-1): P Smicek
—W Barton, D Peacock, S Howey, P Albert,
J Berestord — L Clark, P Beardsley — F
Asprilla, D Ginole — L Ferdinand

PREMIERSHIP AT A GLANCE +27 WWWLD 2 Manchester Utd 3 Liverpool 4 Aston Villa Tottenham WWEDW E Berber +12 - WDWLW Blackburn. 18 Notin Forest 13 Modelesbrough LLWLL 15 Southempton LWDDL -10 16 Wimbledon -16 LWITD 17 Coventry DLDWD 18 Manchester City -20 CTMCO 19 OPR 21 -19 TITTM 20 Bolton 28 16 - - - 30 LLLWL Weekly change 🧀 Up Stayed the same Down

Joachim struck by generosity of Wimbledon

Aston Villa

By DAVID MILLER

IF Julian Joachim, signed from Leicester City, had been less anxious to become a star in his first five minutes on the field for Aston Villa, they might have held on to a winning lead and remained the steadiest of away teams in the FA Carling Premiership. However, his extravagance in injury time at one end helped Wimbledon to snatch a draw at the other.

Long ago, the famed Jimmy Mcilroy, of Northern Ireland and Burnley, secured the League title in the final match at Maine Road - where Burnley had to draw with Manchester City to stay ahead of Wolverhampton Wanderers by spending much of the last five minutes dribbling in figures of eight near one of the corner flags. Stan Cullis, I recall, sat in the front row of the directors' box crunching his hat in anguish. With a 3-2 lead at Selhurst Park, Joachim, brought on as substitute in the 85th minute for Milosevic, was hell-bent on making it 4-2. Single-handed. He succeeded only in wasting possession in vain dribbling Wimbledon counter-attacked. Cunningham, their right back, centred, and the veteran, Harford, lucky still to be on the pitch after a booking and continuous argument with referee and linesman, headed the equalising goal from close range.

Villa, buoyant and confident after reaching the Coca-Cola Cup final, might complain about a goal scored in the third minute of additional time when there had been no injury delays, but they could hardly complain on moral grounds. Their scoring had come courtesy of two own goals and a clumsily conceded penalty.

Wimbledon had tried, and succeeded, to justify their arch nickname of "Crazy Gang". Well might Joe Kinnear, their manager, lament: "We scored five ... and took one point."
It has to be said that everything, not merely Wim-bledon's generosity, favoured Villa. Except, that is, the pitch. The surface cut up horribly pebble beach. This frustratingly impeded Villa's intelligent inter-passing, which originates from Charles and Wright on the flanks of midfield and revolves around the fulcrum of Milosevic, the most constructive target man in the

Wimbledon, as is their wont, thumped everything ball and opponent. The ineffable Jones came on as substitute for Gayle a quarter of an hour from the end, and verbalthumped the referee and linesman, in harmony with Harford. Wimbledon can be inelegant in a variety of ways. They were handicapped by the suspension — whose fault? — of Holdsworth, their leading scorer, and Perry from defence, and by injury to Ekoku. Leonhardsen and Earle tried hard to bring coherence to their midfield.

Yet Villa also had the edge though Wimbledon chose to play three against three up front - Gayle, Goodman and Clarke versus Ehiogu, Southgate and Staunton - Villa's five in midfield mostly had the edge and, therefore, more of the ball.

Villa had forced four successive corners before the twelfth minute. A weak goal. kick by Bosnich, however, flew straight to Clarke 30 yards out. His immediate pass to Leonhardsen produced a' parried shot from which

Full results and league tables

Goodman put the ball in the play was almost wholly in Wimbledon's half of the field, clearly illustrated by the ploughed turf. Yet Villa equalised only when Reeves achieved an own goal of such spectacular precision, volleying home a low cross from Townsend, that it will remain in the archives for years to come. Villa continued to attack without break but without

In the first four minutes of the second half, Wimbledon took the lead again but immediately threw it away. Goodman scored his second from Kimble's corner, but at the other end the luckless Reeves brought down Yorke, who scored from the penalty spot.

Ten minutes later, a nonetoo-dangerous cross from Yorke was prodded inexplicably by Cunningham into his own net and Villa seemed destined to conclude a highly Joachim also decided to join the handouts.

WiMBLEDON (4-3-3) N Sulfivan — K Currangham, D Stackwell, A Reeves, A Kimble — O Leonhardsen, M Hartord, R Earle — M Gayle (sub V Jones, 70min), J Goodman, A Clarke (sub v J Euell, 85) ASTON WILLA (3-5-2) M Bosnich — U Bhopu, G Southgalo, S Staumfon — G Charles, R Science (sub P McGrath, 51) A Townsend, M Draper, A Wingta — S Mitosevic (sub v J Joachem, 85), D Yorke Restoner | Worter

Everton punish listless Forest

Nottingham Forest 0

1101

By MARK HODKINSON

THE purist will have anticipated this encounter with the same verve as a midwinter swim just off the coast at Milford Haven. Everton's industrious pugs snapping at the feet of Nottingham Forest's drilled journeymen was, indeed, set for the doldrums until the home side hit a slick of goals to create a scoreline that flattered all concerned. "It was a strange atmosphere in the first half, almost funereal," Joe Royle, the Everion manager, said. "I suppose it was to be expected coming after our Cup defeat at Port Vale and losing at Manchester United in midweek. It was grey, played on a sticky, dead pitch. It was a sticky, dead game, in fact." Forest, always more concerned to thwart Everton's strength rather than emphasise their own, resolved to squeeze out Kanchelskis. The logic was obvious - starve Ferguson of essential service. Unfortunately for Forest, Ferguson was willing to find the ball himself and he often threaded intelligent passes through to his diminutive accomplice, Stuart. Any menace Forest might have posed to Everion's defence was nullified when Roy limped out of a tackle by Watson after just ten minutes. Thereafter. Roy nonchalantly drifted out of the game, his indifference a fitting symbol of Forest's timorous approach. The first half was played at breathless pace with pre-cious line incident apart from a proverful shor by Parkinson over the Forest crossbar and an overhead lock by Ferguson. The half-time whistle and a cup of tea was sweet salvation.

a welcome break from futile industry, and a chance to read the match programme. It carried a feature on an Everton and Forest old boy, Duncan McKenzie, a player whose trickery and charisma had pierced the gloom of many leaden football games played period was dour and Everton's supporters were still dreaming of a Duncan past when goal-dust was abruptly sprin-kled onto the match before them. Ebbrell swept a marvellous pass to Kanchelskis. He cut inside on to his supposedly weaker left foor and slammed

Forest hardly responded. apparently without the proficiency or will to change their game plan. Hinchcliffe sent over one of his kerosenefuelled corners and Watson.

The Duncan of the present. Ferguson, joined the party by hravely heading in a cross by Kanchelskis. All three goals had come within just eight minutes and there was suddenly no call for nostalgia. Frank Clark, the Forest have stopped doing things that made them good in the first place. There is no magic wand. We have to work hard and turn it around." Everton, for their part, have done just beside the Mersey. The opening to the second the ball past Crossley.

probably for his own wellbeing decided to give it just a faint glance with his forehead into the net.

manager, did not try to excuse his side's dire performance. "We got what we deserved nothing. Once the first goal went in, there was only going to be one winner," he said. "One or two of my players

LDZIL
EMERTON (4-8-3): N'Southell — J O'Connor, D Watson, D Unsworth, A Hinchoffle —
J Ebbrell, A Guert, J Parkinson — A Kenchelside, D Ferguson (sub: D Amokach, 66mm), G Stuart.
NGTTINGSMM FOREST (4-4-2): M
Crossley — S Philips, S Cherille, C Cooper, D Lyttle — C Best-Millerns, I Woon (sub: A) Lesiand, 77), S Germmil, S Stone — K.
Campbell, B*Roy.

Francis triumphs in battle of master tacticians

Sheffield Wednesday.....

BY OLIVER HOLT THE players of the great Tottenham Hotspur teams of the 1960s, Gerry

Francis said, had enough time to have three cups of tea and make a boiled egg before anyone appeared to close them down. The Tottenham manager never drew a direct com-parison with his side's performance against Sheffield Wednesday but the point was clear: if there was a Big Mac sitting in the White Hart Lane centre circle on Saturday, no one could have snatched a bite. Francis laid the blame for the diet of fast-food football squarely at Wednesday's door, citing their first-now, too," he added. "Diamonds, Christmas trees, wing backs, split forwards. You name it, we've got it." At times, his post-match comments seemed like a lament for a golden age of simplicity and tactical naivety, a time when wingers could beat one man and be free. At others, he almost lost himself in a reverie of tactical iousting with one of the acknowledged masters, David Pleat, the Wednesday manager, happy to explain how the opposition's tactics had brought about their own downfall. If you are going to play that far up against somebody of Chris Arm-

half tactics of playing five in defence and pushing up almost to the halfway line at every opportunity, turning midfield into a creative wasteland. There are more systems asking for trouble. I like to try to run 80 per cent of our attacks through our wingers but there is no point playing in front of a back five. You have to get behind them."

Armstrong was, indeed, the difference between the teams, stretching the visitors with his searing runs while Hirst, in the Wednesday attack, lumbered painfully in comparison. In the 32nd minute, Armstrong ran on to the impeccable Wilson's long ball out of defence over the top of the opposing back five, checked back as Nicol came across to cover, then unleashed a shot from the edge of the area that dipped over Woods and into

Tottenham should have had more in a second half when the introduction of Waddle injected a little flair strong's pace," Francis said, "you are into the match. Armstrong had another fine effort well saved by Woods, Sinton, playing with verve against his old club, had a long-range effort tipped over, and Rosenthal, that fine misser of easy chances, headed wide from Wilson's cross with the goal at his mercy.

All that was left was for Pleat to do his turn, pleased to be in the spotlight again at the club that provided him with his biggest stage. He played the part of the nervy manager to an articulate, comic, self-knowing T. When somebody asked him if he was worried about Wednesday's recent slide towards the relegation area, he launched into a passionate defence of his side's performance. "It was a simple game and all we needed was a simple chance," he said, ending, "Don't overworry for me." He said his tactical change at half-the ineffective Degryse and played him behind the front two, was "not clever but not stupid either", and also identified Armstrong as his undoing. "He stretched us," he said. "Fox can diddle you and doodle you but he does not get behind you."

Finally, he was asked if he had any sympathy for the 500 Belgians who had made the trip across the Channel to see Degryse's abridged performance, "If there had been 500 Poles there. I would have done the same usere, I Would have done the same thing," he said.

TOTTENHAM HOTSPUR (4-4-2): I Wather — 5 Cempbell, C Calderwood, G Mabbutt, C Waten — Fox (suth R Rosentha), form), J Octobell, O Howels, A Sinton — E Shemigham, C Amstrong SHEFFIELD WEDNESDAY (5-3-2): C Woods — I Noten, D Walker, S Nicol, P Atherton, L Brisco Isulo M Piante, 71) — M Degryse (sub C Waddle, 46). G Hydie, G Whitingham — D Hirst, D Novecavic (sub J Wans, 69). Referee: M Recd

Hartson rapidly cuts off West Ham's overseas aid

mammal called the banded mongoose that lives in ferocious, tightly-knit little clans. They are crazily territorial, and will unhesitatingly engage in battle every rival band they encounter. How, then, do they avoid the perils of inbreeding, sterility, inevitable weakening? Simple. Round the fringes of battle, males and females of opposing sides form brief but desperately sincere alliances. Exogamy is the term for it the drive to form alliances outside one's own kind. It is a primeval instinct. It is also a theme of English literature throughout the ages: Romeo and Juliet, Lady Chatterley and the gamekeeper.

And now, rather belatedly, it is happening in the isola-tionist world of football. As a result, the FA Carling Premiership is infused with hybrid vigour. Odd that West Ham United should be in the forefront of the movement. This is a club that for years has shown to outsiders the open hearted welcome of a Masonic lodge. But these days there are seven nations represented in the West Ham squad, six of them in the team for the match against Arsenal on Saturday (Bilic, the Croatian, was injured). Today, they should hear whether or not they have been successful in winning a work permit for a player from an eighth nation, this being the Romanian, Dumitrescu. English football is still racked by protectionism. The Professional Footballers Association is desperate to safeguard jobs for the boys. But at the same time, English football is filled with a desperate longing for cash. Lower clubs want absolutely colossal sums of money when they sell their best home-grown talent to the big clubs. It is a matter of inevitability rather than choice that Premiership clubs turn their eyes overseas. The big clubs do it from choice, the smaller ones through financial necessity.

Harry Redknapp, the West Ham manager, boasted after the game on Saturday that his entire squad cost less than £3 million. An ingenious system of loans (the American, the

The Premiership is now a league of nations. Simon Barnes saw its impact at Upton Park Portuguese) and bargains (the Dane, the Czech) forms the basis of a side that has been collecting some decent results. Arsenal are another club more renowned for the homely than the outlandish. But not even they have been immune to the trend towards exogamy. Instincts in the past have led Arsenal to consider the odd Nordic player the most dazzling exoticism. But in the close season, they bought the Dutchman, Bergkamp, for

Merson, left, and Hartson celebrate after combining to give Arsenal the lead. Photograph: Darren Walsh

"If the foreigners' good babits rub off, it must be beneficial," Redknapp said. Mind you, he said that before this game, which was a belter. But West Ham lost it 1-0. The goal came after 75 seconds. thanks to a dreadful error from West Ham's American, Harkes. Merson buzzed in on his poorly-hit back-pass, belted past Potts and fed Hartson, who tapped in as straightforward a goal as a forward can be asked to complete.

The other hero of the match was a man as English as the mud that was so much a feature of the game. Seaman, the Arsenal goalkeeper, saved a penalty from Dicks. Harkes, with the chance to amend at his feet, struck the rebound goalwards, and Seaman caught it neatly.

And the rain fell and the pitch turned into Plasticine, and Redknapp brought on his Portuguese. This is Dani da Cruz Carvalho, who plays under the nom de guerre of Dani. About the gates of West Ham's ground before the match were posters of Dani: a 19-year-old looking smoulderingly at the camera. He Sharks in West Side Story. Alas, his appearance on Saturday was one of those comic vignettes of the foreign footballer in England. He would run into space and call; meanwhile, the ball would be chipped over the top for Cottee to chase, or chipped over the top for Dowie to jump for. All the same, Dani all but saved the day as West Ham besieged Arsenal throughout the second half... His cross, flicked on by Cottee, was headed in by the raw-boned Dowie, but the linesman decided he was offside. Redknapp, you will be shocked to learn, thought this was an incorrect decisison.

But that's football, son, as they no doubt say in Lisbon. Prague, Copenhagen, Split, Los Angeles, Belfast, and the East End of London. What is the Romanian for "lucky

Arsenati
West Ham United (4-4-2) L Middosko —
J Harines (sub: Darn, 67mm) M. Rieper, S.
Potis, J Dicks. — D Williamson, M. Hughes, I.
Bishop, K. Romfand. — 4 Coties (1 Dowe
ARSENAL (3-4-1-2): D. Seamen. — M.
Keown, A Lavolan, S. Morroe — L. Dicon, D.
Hiller (sub.) D. Platt. 451, R. Parlour, N.
Winterburn. — P. Merson. — D. Bargkerep, J.
Hartson.

Booked Survestoes

Howeys, P. Albert, J. Bereslord, Y. Burton, D. Poacock, S.

Howey, P. Albert, J. Bereslord, I. Clark, P. Beardsley, F.

Acprola, O. Gnola, I. Ferdmand,

Booked, Beartsley, Asprila, Albert

Referee: M. Boderham,

Cheisea: K Hichcock, M Daberry (sub E Johnsen, 72), D Lee, S Charles, D Petrason, R Guila, N Spackman (sub 1

Spencer, 811, T Phelan, O Wisa, & Peacock, M Hughes. Booked: Hughes, Wise

Arsenal, O Scaman, M Keown, A Linighan, S Monton Doon, D Hilber (sub: D Plan, 45), R Partour, N Winderburn Merson, O Bengkamp, J Hartson,

PREMIER DIVISION

(0) 0 RANGERS Gascoigne 32 (pen)

FIRST DIVISION

(2) 2 DUNDEE UTD Mr.Swegan 23 Brevater 76

(2) 2 DUMBARTON 2,650

(1) 1 CLYDEBANK Nicholis 33

{11 1 ST JOHNSTN Scor 44 67 0 Boyle 87

SECOND DIVISION

(2) 3 FORFAR

STENHOUSEMUR (0) 2 STRANRAER Sordt 68 300

Sent off G Millat (Strawaer) 68

THIRD DIVISION

(0) O BRECHIN Sorbre 19

Sent alt. P Lamont (East Stirling) 66 iðir 2 COWDNETH Sleven 65 518

CONFERENCE

Gr 2 HALSFAX Sansan 1 $47

Sent all Daniels (Dones 63) (Or 1 TELFORD

(0) O BROWSGROVE English 12 (pen) Wallbay 93

Largitud 31 Hine 49 (eg)

13) 4 SLOUGH Wes 26 Harry 27 37 Bushay 40 40

1) 1 DAG AND RED

(0) O MORECAMBE Cain / Coleman 47

(1) 1 HEOMESFORD 1,626

(II) O SOUTHPORT

4 Wolang 5 Hednesland 6 Southport 7 Fundamonal 8 Branc-pave 9 Galechest C Hartlando 1 Marcasmire

73 Harriston 15 Stough 16 Bath 17 Safybridge 19 Talton 19 Seleng 20 Serie 21 Dag & Red 22 Rancom

HOME SHAY PWDLFAWDLFAPO

11: 1 RUNCORN 1,410

2 ROSS CO Milder 45 Somervide 48 Cornelly 60 Ferre: 90

(0) 0 QUEEN OF SOUTH (1) 6 Dobe 7 69, 75 Mailan 49, 65

ABERDEEN 21,000

DUNDEE McCaon 3 Hamilton 24

HAMELTON McCurloch 21 835

0 Neil 67

EAST FIFE

MONTROSE 545

CALEY THIS 2343

(2) 2

(1) 3

(1) 2

(I) 1

(1) 4

(1)

(1) 2

(3) 3

(1) 2

(0) 0

(ð) 1

SOUTHAMPTO Widdington 6 Clarke 38 (og) 15,226

(2) 2 CHELSEA Wice 20, 26 (pen) Guilli 53

(2) 3

(5) 2 LIVERPOOL Collymore 10, 21 Thomas 70

To o'll Coventry City: S Ogstowic, A Publishing Isab. N Lampley, Ternin. R Shear. L Daich, D Burrows. P Teller fish D Buest, 41). K Richardson, E Jess, J Satako, N Whelan D Dubbn, Booked: Daich, Richardson, Ehidlesbrrough: G Waish N Cov. D Whyle. S Vickers, P Whelan, C Flenting, J Politok, R Mustoe, G Kavanagh, N Barnthy, J-A Fjortok, Mandry, J-A Fjortok, Referee: P Dunkin Tottenham Hotspur: I Wahler S Campbell C Calderwood, 6 Mahbull. C Wilson, R Fox (sub. R Bosenthal, 75man). J Docret. D Howells A Smiton. E Sheringham, C Armotherly. Beotherl: Howells Sheffled Wednesday, C Woods, I Notan, D Wahler, S Nucol P Atherion. L Bosson (sub. At Pfatte, 71), M Degryse (sub. C Waddle 46), G Hyde, S Whitingham, D Hirst, D Konachive 1 and J Walst. 88). Booked: Afterion. Hyde Referer M Reed (D) 3 NOTTM FOR 33 163 Panchelsks 52 Watson 56 Ferguson 60 registant of Eventum II Southall J O'Connor, D Viration, D Unrawo In, A Hancheline, J Ebbeell A Grant, J Parintson, A Kanchelides D Forguson Instyl D Amplach, Bilberni, G Shami Booked: Hinchelifie Parloneon Rodangham Foresta, M Cressley, D Pralligs, S Chellie, C Coorer, D Lyttle, C Bart-Wilderts, I Woom Loub, A I Haaland, 77) S Genmud, S Soon, K Campbell, B Roy, Reference K Cooper (Prohyprofil)

(1) 3 NEWCASTLE (1) 3

FIR	51	D	IVISION
DERBY CO vales 71 Clumdge 76 Cabbadina 84	(0)	3	PORTSMOUTH Hall 62 McLoughlin 86 (pen) 16,120	(O)
HUDDERSRELD Booth 12 Jepson 34 (pen) Wakel 44	(3)	3	C PALACE 13,041	(0)
MILLWALL Bowry 57 Fughs 69	(O)	2	NORWICH Milligan 83 8.218	(0)
OLDHAM Autardson 65 (pen) 6,570	(Ú)	1	CHARLTON Grant 70	(B)
READING Lovell 75 (pen) 9,817	(Q)	7	LEICESTER Leins 72	(0)
SHEFFIELD V Angeli 21	(1)	1	Barnsley 14,584	(0)
SUNDERLAND James 38 (og)	(1)	1	LUTON 16,693 ·	(0)
TRANMERE 8.310	(0)	D	STOKE	(0)
WATFORD While 21 Palmer 44 11,872	(2)	2	IPSWICH Lintenbeek 48 Mathie 66, 82	(O)
WOLVES Young 28 Thompson 50	(1)	2	Southend 24.617	(U)

SECOND DIVISION OXFORD UTD

(0) 2 BOURNEMTH 3,535 HULL Peacock 4, 83 Davison 69 (1) 3 BURNLEY 4,206 (O) (1) 1 ROTHERHAM 5 712 (0) O CHESTERFLD Jules 75 (0) i McLean (Rotherham) 38 (0) 2 BRISTOL R Slevert 12 11,697 Allicon 79 Taylor 80

WALSALL 3,506 (0) O BRENTFORD Abrahams 27 (1) 1 (0) (0) (3) 4 STOCKPORT (Ú) 1 Flynn 49 4,246

(lwyer 76 (pen) Nail 81 THIRD DIVISION CUEEN'S PARK McPhee 70 Graham 90 "Subsection 17 Polyspoon 34 7 341 Johnson 56 Pugh 76 CARDIFF (ule 71 isons 29 (eg) (0) 2 GILLINGHAM 2.934 (0) O Colchester 4000x 38 2663 1 DAPLINGTON Blake 72 10) 1 BATH Withey 13 Mungs 56 FULHAM 3000 6, 70 4,043 (1) 2 EXETÉR Bradhwals 74 (0) 1 DOVER I GII HARTLEPOOL Canton 2 Alico 45 Vadiactor 50 Linch Eà 12) 4 LORIENT 토래 90 1,915 (B) 1 HEREFORD 2551 (D) O SCARBORO (0) 0 IGDOERMANSTR Dames 13 Casey 29, 40, 42 Hugges 55 1,715 (0) O CHESTER LINCOLN 2 533 10) 0 3 DONICASTER Scholield 44 (pen) Cramb 43 77 4,738 NORTHAMPTON Compton 10 Polesty 23 Whale 50 (pan) MACCLESPLD NORTHWICH Builer 31 ALYMOUTH (I) 1 BARNET Gale 72 (01 1 Participe 7 6 405 STALYBRIDGE 985 SCUNTHORPE Jos to 51 3 523 1 PRESTON ME Samile 49 Lancachire 70 STEVENAGE HIGAN (1) 3 TORCHAY 2 697 (II) (I WELLING 500 Postponed: Manafield v Rochdale

GOALSCORERS

Second division: 23 Stewart (Bristol Rovers) 22 Nogan (Burriery): Barrios (York City) 19 Goater (Rotherham). 17 Edwards (Corea Alexandra) Revers (Carlelo) 18 Janes (Bournemount): Marindale (Peterborough) 15 Alicon (Swindon Town): Finney (Swindon Town), White (Notis County)

Third dension: 25 Date (Cardiff Chy) 22 Saiville (Procton North End). 20 White (Pionalcott) 18 Whitehall (Rochdale) 17 McFartane (Sourthorps) 16 Bullet (Gillingham 11 for Cambridge United). 15 Littlejohn (Phymouth Argyle), Adorch (Corhecter United). 13 White (Northampton). West Leyton Cherd): Fortune-West (Callingham). Stant (Bury). 12 Diaz (Wigan).

FA CARLING PREMIERSHIP

(1) 3 A VILLA (Ag)
Raeves 33 (Ag)
Yorke 48 (pen)
Cummoplant 57 (cg) Harlord 90 12.193 Winnblodon: N. Sulfixan, K. Cumhingtam, D. Blackech, A. Reeves, A. Kintble, O. Leustradsen, S. Harterd, R. Earle, M. Gayle (sub. V Jones, 76min), J. Gonodrein, A. Clarke (sub. J. Gunderen), A. Clarke euen, 185) Bookeet Farford Aston Villa: M Bossach, U Elsogu, 6 Soutlegate, 5 Saumten, G Charles, R Sciences (sub P McGrath, 51) A Foencend, M Draper, A Petiph, S Miliosevic (sub: J Josephin, 85), D Yorke, Referee: J Winter

Southampiore D Bearant, J Dodd, R Hall, K Monkou, S Charlton M Le Tissier, J Mapitton, T Widdington, M Walless (sub B Venston, 75mm), G Watson, H Shoppesley Booked: Mapiton Walson, Vetestin 80i. TON (Beckleys 5 Bruce 15 Cale 70 Scholes 76, 79 But 89 (0) 0 MANCHESTER U 12) 6 21,281 Soliton Warderfors & Brategan, S Green, J Phillips, S Coleman, C Farctough, D Lee (sub J McGarlay, 74mm), S Carox, A Thirmpcon, S Setters, N Bible, F Defrettas, Marnehester United: P Schories, Follows, S Bisco, G Palisse, E Carlone (sub P Scholes, 73), R Gogs, (sub B McClar, 58), R Kezne A Cale, N Bott, P Neville, D Beckharo

> COCA COLA CUP LEEDS (ITD Leeds Underly J. Julius, G. Relly D. Welberell P. Beersley, E. Dorigo (subt. L. Radebe, 18min), R. Walface, C. Patmer, E. McAllister, B. Dosha, P. Masinga (subt. T. Bratin, 85), 2 Yebuch, Birmingham, City: B. Greenoni, G. Poole, A. Edwards, S. Jabassan, C. Wityte (subt. J. Hant, 60), R. Forsyllo (subt. J. Donowa, 46), J. Shendan, I. Richardson, J. Fran, S. Clandge, Francis (sub. J. Boren, 80). Booleed, Edwards, Refereer, R. Diffes, R. Diffes, R. Commission, Refereer, R. Diffes, R. Commission, R. Commission,

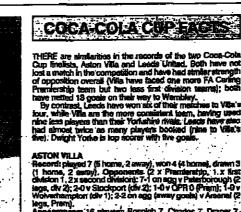

Yeboah: goal against Birmingham GOALSCORERS

Shearer (Blackburn) Fowler (Liverpool) Ferdinand (Newcast Sherrogham (Tottenh Yorke (Aston Villa) Yeboah (Leeds) Dublin (Coventry) Armstrong (Tottenham legs, Prem).

A. Tetra Pik

Apparences: 16 players: Bosoich 7, Charles 7, Draper Elyogu 7, Southgele 7, Townsend 7, Wright 7, Yorke Milosevic 8, McGrath 4 (1), Taylor 4 (1), Johnson 4, Stauret 2 (2), Scimeca 1 (2), Fernion (2), Parrelly (1), Cauthons: 5: Milosevic 2, Ehlogu, Johnson, Scimeca. Goele scored: 13: Yorke 5, Johnson 2, Draper, Southgels Ehlogu, Staureton, Townsend, Own goel. Conceded: 3. LEEDS UNITED

30

Depths (MRI Int)

Record: played 7 (4 home, 3 away), won 6 (3 home, 3 away drawn 1 (1 home). Opporents (1 x Premierating, 3 x fit distinct 1, 1 x aecond division); 3-2 on egg v Notes County legs, div 2; 3-0 v Derby (div 1); 2-1 v Blackburn (Paren); 2-1 Brackling (div 1); 5-1 on egg v Birmingham (2 legs, div 1). Appearances (as substitute); 25 players: Kelly 7, Werther 7, Nackligher 7, Luide 8, Speed 6, Deans 5 (1 Yebosh 8, Beesley 4 (1), Dorigo 4, Wallace 3 (1), Ford: Sroth 2 (1), Worthington 2 (1), Massings 2, Pemberton Couzens 1 (1), Bearray 1, Tirdder 1, White 1, Radebe (2 Wheten 2), Rewmann (1), Gray (1), Harts (1), Radebe (2)

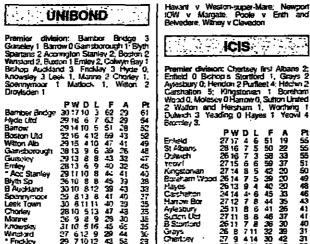

ITALIAN LEAGUE: Ban 0 Vicenza 2: Padova 1 Lazio 3: Cremonese 3 Capitari 1: AS Roma 1 Tozino D: Fiorentine 3 Naples 0; Sampolona 3 Piacenza 0; Irier Milan 1 Atalanta 0; Udinese 0 Parma 0.

SOUTH AMERICAN OLYMPIC ING: Group A: Paraguay 4 Peru 2: Brazil. 4 Botima 1. Positions: 1, Brazil. 9 points: 2. Unugusy, 6. 3, Paragusy, 3: equal 4, Botima and Peru, 0. Group 8: Venezuela 5 Ecusion 2, Chite 3 "Colombia. 3. Positions: 1. Argentina, 9 points; 2, Venezuela, 6: 3, Chite, 4: 5, Colombia, 2: 6, Ecuador, 1. SPANISH LEAGUE: Racing Sentander Deportivo La Contra 1

1: Wycombe Wenderes 1 Swindon Town 1.
SOUTHERN AMATEUR LEAGUE: South Bank Poly 2 Winchmore Hill 0; Old Actonians 1 Norsemen 0; West Wickham 1 Cwil Sexice 1: Natifixed Bank 1 Chouch End Vampres 2. East Bernet OG 1 Old Esthameisms 9; Klow Association 3 Carstation 3; Old Permiserans 2 Lloyds Benk 2; Alexandra Pask 1 Old Perhonars 1; Old Stetomers 2 Bancalays Bank 3; Old Latymenans 2 Old Bromletans 1; Midland Bank 1 Lersbury 2: Polytechnic 2 Old Lymans 1; Old Salessans 1 Alleyn OB 0; Merton O Cuaco 0; Disk 4 Bentham 3; Regate Priory 0 Old Westhinster Cidzens 0; Bromfield 0 Bank ol England-4.
SOUTH-ERN OLLYMPIAN LEAGUE: Finst

NON-LEAGUE AND NATIONAL LEAGUES SOUTH EAST COUNTIES LEAGUE: First division: Chariton Athlete: 3 Gillingham 3; Chalsee 7 Fuham 0; Ipswich Town 0 Southard United 3; Ougers Park Rangers D Milwall 1; Tottanham Hotspur 3 Norwich City 1; Wattord 1 Layton Orient D. Second division: AFC Bournemouth 3 Bristol Rovers 1, Brentlord 0 Luton 2; Bristol City 4 Tottarham Hotspur 1; Oxford United 5 Crystal Palsos 2: Reeding 1; Brighton and Hove Albon 1, Windsledon 0 Southampton 1; Wycombe Wendersrs 1 Swindon Town 1.

BEAZER HOMES Premier division: Afterstone 3 Salistery, 1 Baldock 1: Chettenham 1: Button 1: Gloucester 0: Dochester 3: Puston 0: Nalescown 0: VS Rugory 0: Newport AFC 1: Rushdon and Dumonds 1: Stations 3: Clawley 0: Sudbury, 2: Chelms bridge C4, V Hastings

PW D L F A

Rushdon S D 821 5 2 74 2 22

Glouselot 2514 5 7 50 51

Chitherton 2716 7 4 45 22

Glouselot 2514 5 7 50 51

Chitherton 2714 5 9 51 42

Wordelle 2614 210 47 42

Hastings 3511 7 6 49 40

Bolitods 2910 910 42 32

Chelinsleid 2710 6 3 34 34

Chelinsleid 2710 7 10 32 36

Buston 7 10 7 10 32 36

Saleshary 2516 312 37 42

Graveserd 8 N 24 9 411 40 47

Sudburt 28 510 34 41

Chemister 28 6 11 11 34 44

Deteroste 34 8 412 42 37

Atherstone 26 6 7 73 41 52

Statend 28 7 219 43 69

VS Rujby 26 4 518 31 68

Midtland detision: Bedrugth 1 Student Hudescuston & D Hudescuston
Gloucerstor Chickenstram
Worcacter
Mentityir
Hashings
Bolitical
Ginziley
Chelorofeid
Burton
Newport AFC Salesbury
Cambridge C
Garessend & N
Surport & S
Surport
Cambridge C
Garessend & N
Surport

UNIBOND

Middland division: Bechnoth 1 Studies of 1 Business 1 Business 2 Bury Tourn 1 Torsonth 1 Outley Tourn 1 Cortey 1 Lensylve Unided 2 Bury Tourn 1 Cortey 1 Robrard 2 Handley Tourn 1 Softman 3 Rectains 0 Sutain Coldines 3 Bersham 0 Postponied, Kings Lyan v Berligheth, Bacing Club Warnels v Moos Groen Southern delision: Fisher 93.2 Cincerford 2: Feet 0: Weymouth 1, Shinguature 5 Forms Green 1 Transhridge 5 Bachter 5 Valle 11 Waterboard of Postponedt Achter v Tonbridge Angels: Fureham v Stantiee

্লাক্তিক বিভাগ স্থানিক বিভাগ ক্ষাৰ্থক প্ৰক্ৰিক্তিক বিভাগ ক্ষাৰ্থক বিভাগ কৰিব বিভাগ কৰিব বিভাগ বিভাগ বিভাগ কৰিব সংস্থানিক বিভাগ

PWDLFA
PW

Grays Chertiev Hacha Yeading Purfeet Motesey Matten & H First division: Abrigdon Town 2 Leytor Pernant 2 Alderstor Town 1 Chesham 0 Bark-rg 1 Tooting and Mitcham 1 Basingstole 3 Barton 1 Selencay 3 Boging Reps. 1 Herbridge Serits 4 Wentbley 7 Stantes 1 Frame 1. Ubrings 4 Marion 0 Postponed: Berkhamsted v Madenhast Urbed Russlo Manor v Whyteleste Wompham v Orderd City Second divisions, Chechurt 1 Edgiscre 6, Dorchg 1 Sedford Town 3 Humgerlord 0 Worken 0, Moropotism Police 2 Leafworkead 5 Saffron Walden 1 Hampton 6 Ward 3 Troung 2 Postponed: Bracknot v Craytom 5 Spann v Sanstead. Third division: Currberley 1 Leighton 5, Sait Thursch 3 Hersham 0 Flackwell Peam 3 Harelson 0, Homehuman 0 Capturell C. Ningstarry 1 Windows and Eton 1 Harelson 4 Harton 0, Wealdstone 3 Lewes 2 Windows and Flackley 8 Core 1 Postponed: Epoom and Ewell v Tring, Herstand v Aveley

FA VASE: Sixth round: Brigg Town 2 Callet R 5; Chinered 1 Peacotraven 8, Fixton 3 NORTH WEST COUNTIES LEAGUE: First forsion February 1 Mossey 0
Chacketon 0 Newborth Turn 1; Glossey
Linth End 0 Percent 0 Kodgrove first Petro 2 Marie Road 3 Buckgood Roses
5 Februar 2 Eastwood Harrley 2.
Romendain 1 Doner 4 Salford 1 Nanthach
2. Skervendain 1 Bootle 5, Trafford 2
Holes C1 Bays 0 NORTHERN COUNTIES EAST LEAGUE-Premair dission. Amstrope Trefface 3 haram 0 famod 1 Activid 3, Denaby 1 harth Freiby C. Glassingston Welface 2 nucleus 0 Gode 1 Stockstodge P.5. 2, hierarchy, Official Man 2 Mattin, M. 1 Began Town 2 Stetland 0 Ossett Town 1 Tremte, 2 Polyang 0 PEDERATION BREWERY NORTHERN LEAGUE: First division: Bodington 0 Stockton 2 Billington: Synthonia 2 Coutomouth 2 Billington Pederation 0 Synthonia 1 August Federation 0 Synthonia 1 August Federation CW 1 Total Lear 1 Fernylet 0 Crops 4 Petrolog 2 Consett 1, Searem Red Star 1 Whichiam 6

POOLS CHECK

GREAT MBLIS LEAGUE: Premier division: Barnstaple 3 Bndport 0: Elmore 0 Credition 0, Paution 0 Budelord 0: Postponed: Odd Down v Brislingfort Tomropton v Chippenham: Westbury v Backwell HIGHLAND LEAGUE. For William 0 Cove 1; Keith 5 Brora 1, Naim County 1 Fores Mechanics 5, Peterheed 2 Wick Academy 2 North cup: Second nound: Lossemucin 4 Elgin 1, Rothes 0 Clachinacuddin 2 BANICS BREWERY LEAGUE Premier division: Bnertey Hill 3 Hill Top 1, Lye 2 Etingshall H 0. Meivem 2 Dataston FC 2 Walsalt Wood FC 3 Stourport 1: Wednesfield FC 1 Ludlow 2; Westleids FC 7 Wolverharpton Casaulis 2 Postponed: Cradley v Pelsall Villa: Tiwdale FC v Gornel AVON INSURANCE COMBINATION; First division: Arsenal 2 West Harn 2 Post-poned: Luton v Ipswich COMBINED COUNTIES LEAGUE: Pre-mier division: Ashlord 3 Farnham 2: Crartech 1 Sandharst 2: Cothan 2: Chapsiear 4, Enn Wick 0 Walton Casuals 0; Godanning and Guidford 1 Wang Sports 1: Haffley Wintney 1 Mersham 1; Nethame 4 Bedfort 3, Peppart 5 Westflekt 3: Raynes Park Vale 0 Ash 8 Postponned: DCA Basingstoke v Holsey, Reading v Feltmam. BNOSLEIGH MIDLAND COMBINATION:
Premier division: Ansels 2 Cheimstey 2.
Blowner: 4 West Midland Fire Service 2: Coverity Spiritiv 2. Often Royale 1;
Northfield 2 Alvestruch Villa 2: Shirley 3.
Highgate 2: Studiey B.K.L. 7 Lipton 2:
Wedesbourne 0 Kings Hestin 1 Postponad:
Mer KA v Southern.

ESSEX SENIOR LEAGUE Premier di-vision: Basidon 1 Bentwood 2, Burnham Rambiers 3 Hullbridge Sports 2, Etom Manor 2 Great Wakering 2: Ford United 5 Maldon 5: Southerd Manor 3 Bowers O Postporned: Stantsled v Sawbridgeworth HELLENIC LEAGUE: Premier division: Almondsbury 1 Braddoy 3: Boster 2 Shortwood 3: Cremoester 3 Abondson United 0: Endsteen 0 Busham 2; Fastord 3 Carterion 5: Highworth 3 Barbory 2: Postponed: North Leigh v Didoot Swendon Supermane v Kimbury HEREWARD SPORTS UNITED COUNTES LEAGUE Premier division: Boslon ? Wellengborough 0, Bourne 4 Wooton 1. Long Buckley 1 Stanford 4. Newport Pagnel 0 Holbeach 5; Northampton Spencer 1 Cosborough 3, Pollon 6 Kempston 3. Postponed: Eymosbury v Cogerhon; S and I. Curby v Manues Backstone

INTERBUK EXPRESS MEDIAND ALLI-ANCE Barwell 1 Kympersky 3; Bolehall Switz 0 Persono 2; ChaseCom 0 Hallecouser Marriers 1, Hinduley Affects 3 Oktory 2; Rushall Olympic 2 Roccord 0 Shifted 0 Station 2; Bolchmara 5; Michaels 0; Willerhad 4 West Michaels Police 2 JEWSON EASTERN COUNTIES
LEAGUE Premier division: Caction 2
Newmarker 3. Compre 1 March 0; Felestore I (Jourcht I; Hairband 3 Gross 1/2
ramouth 0; Harwich and Petreston 3 Faherham 2. Tipling 0 Haddersh 3;
Wochen 2 Sonam 1 Postponed: Haverham v Ores; Sudbury v Watern JEWSON WESSEX LEAGUE: First di-vision: Andover 5 Downton 0, Bernerian Health Hall 9 Lymington 3, Gospon 1

220 300

LEASUR OF WALES: Alan Lide 0 Comads Boy 1, Bangor City 2 Llaneantifraid 1, Bany 3 Corrwy 1: Briton Ferry 1 Phys 1 Cagnarion 2 Aboryshyth 1, Comain's Cusy 1 Ebbw Vald 1, Newtown 3 Ton Pentre 6 Porthranadog 1 Inter Cardill 1, Post-portned; Llanelli v Hotywell. PWD L F A 24 19 3 2 80 13 26 15 7 4 71 35 27 15 5 7 53 29 25 15 5 5 41 17 29 15 5 9 54 49 27 11 10 6 54 37 26 10 8 8 36 31 Berry Conwy First Nontown Bangar Connadon Eldon Vate Connal's Quay when Contal inter Casdell Horywell . Ton Pentro Rhyl Darsantfized Aberystwyth Lemaes Bay Britan Ferry Alan Ludo OLD BOYS LEAGUE: Premier division: Danes 2 Clapham 1, Islamonthices 1 Lammer 3 Cladmal Manning 3 Tertoonans 2 First division: Vaughanans 2 Mannans 2 Wastharis 1 Cherboy Sakhiens 3 Sheine Grandmanans 0 Tensomens 3 Sheine Guy Gyn 1 Meadomans 2 Hamptanans 1 Phoenix 2

BASS IRISH CUP: Stath round: Ard: Lame 0. Ballyclare 0 Crysaders Sulymena 4 Armogh 0 Carrick 1 Nowey Glenarion 3 Cliffonnillo 1, Glentoran Octollery 0 Laffeld 1 East Belfast Fortadown 3 Omagh 1 这一种的原因是一个是一种的最高的 FORECAST: Telephone claims for 23 and 24 points, disidend forecast

laudru lovalt bonus li Range

322

: ::

21.

ي اليج

F . . . 230

....

المراجعة المراجعة R# 1519 .

nž e #12 P Bara. . (- ·

Transfer in 麻之..._

· Drawer b--

Course :

ج وستعطية

Date:

700c--

MI STATE

đe in ēr:'.....

iι.

 $\mathfrak{k}_{(q_{i^{\prime\prime}, -1})}$

Efficient Sieve

feeling left c

b y

D30 : -

7 Eventon 9 Blackburn 17 Coventry 27, 4 5 5 17 19 1 5 7 16 30 25 -16 27 5 5 4 13 12 1 2 10 6 27 25 -20 27 3 3 7 13 21 3 0 11 9 20 21 -19 19 QPR

1 Derby Co
2 Chariton
3 Sunderland
4 Huddersiid
5 Stoke
6 Lekoster
7 Barnsley
8 Southend
9 Millwall
10 Ipswich
11 C Palace
12 Rottenth 4 20 21 59

1 Swindon
2 Blackpool
3 Crewe
4 Chestrid
5 Notts Co
6 Weedsem
7 Stockport
8 Oxford Utri
9 Bristol R
10 Wycombe
11 Brackford 11 Bradford 12 Bournernt 13 Bristol C 14 Shrewsbury 15 Burnley 16 Rotherham 17 Peterboro 18 Welsali 19 Brentford 20 Carliele 21 York

1 Gillingham 2 Preston 3 Chester 4 Darlington 5 Plymouth 6 Wigan 7 Doncaster 31 8 5 2 18 11 5 3 8 20 29 47 30 5 5 5 18 17 7 5 3 24 19 46 31 7 5 3 25 17 3 8 5 16 21 43 31 6 7 3 24 17 5 3 7 11 15 43 8 Bury 9 Colchester 10 Northamp 11 Barnet 12 Exeter 9 5 15 18 41 8 6 16 21 38 3 L Orient 31 9 2 4 23 13 29 4 5 4 17 16 30 4 6 4 22 19 28 5 5 4 24 18 30 5 7 4 24 20 30 5 8 2 21 15 32 4 9 3 18 17 31 6 4 6 15 21 15 Rochdale 16 Hereford 17 Cambridge 18 Hartlepool 19 Scarboro 20 Cardiff 6 4 6 15 12 3 4 8 15 27 35 3 8 4 16 21 3 7 5 21 28 33 21 Mansfield 22 Fulham 23 Lincoln

Districted or freeze of Friday to 4'
SOUTHERN OLYMPIAN LEAGUE First division: Alberren 3 Old Grammartens 1; Perhifeid 7 St Marys College 0; Southgate County 2 Notisborough 0 Second division: Cay of London 3 Wandsworth 5; Honour-	No.
able Antilary Company 4 Hadley 4; Old Woodhouseans 4 Ealing Association 1.			HOMI D L	F A V	AWAY D L F	Gos A Pt di
ARTHURIAN LEAGUE: Premier division: Carthustans 5 Aidenhamians 1; Mahemans 2 Lancing 7 Pirst division; Bradfieldans 3 Halleyburans 2; Hab- erdashars 0 Brentwoods 5	1 Rangers 2 Celtic 3 Aberdeen 4 Hearts	27 10 27 8 27 7 27 8	4 12 0 82 1 52	22 10 10 21 13 1 27 20 4	3 6 15 2	9 62 +3 7 40 +4 9 40 +4
UNIJET SUSSEX COUNTY LEAGUE: First classion: Burgess Hill 5 Whitehauk 1: Hallsham 3 Stonetham 3, Horsham YMCA 0 Eastbourne Town 2: Pegham 2 Hassocks 1: Southwick 3 Calendrood 0; Three Bridges 1 Languey Sports 2	5 Hilbernian 6 Raith 7 Kilmamok 8 Motherwell 9 Falkirk 10 Partick	27 5 27 4 27 4	4 4 1 4 4 2 4 5 3 7 1	0 16 3 9 12 1 3 18 2	1 9 10 2 1 2 9 12 2 1 6 7 9 1 2 9 11 2	7 32 -1 7 30 -1 9 25 -1 3 23 -1
FA WOMEN'S PREMIER LEAGUE: National 1889US: Liverpool FC Ladges 4. Womenharmoton 0. UK LIVENG WOMEN'S FA CUP. Stort	1 1 1 1			D. True (Spirit	1 9 9 2	3 23 -2
round: Illustion 1 Arsenal 2 Ipswich 2 Whitehawk 1.	•	P.W	HOMI D L		AWAY	Gos
	1 G Morton 2 Dundes Utd 3 Dunfermine	24 7 26 7	1 3 2 3 3 2	20 10 E		4 48 +1 4 47 +1
LEAGUE OF WALES: Alan Lide 0 Comads Boy 1, Bangor Cdy 2 Llensantifrad 1, Beny 3 Corrwy 1: Briton Ferry 1 First 1 Carmarion 2 Abenyalwyth 1, Connahs	4 St Johnstn 5 Dundee 6 St Mirren	26 8 26 3 27 4	4 2 2 5 5 1 2 7 1	5 11 5 6 18 9 7 22 5	2 5 17 1 2 2 28 1 5 4 18 1	6 45 +1: 5 43 +1 7 34 -4
Quay 1 Ebbw Vale 1: Newtown 3 Ton Pentre C Portivinadog 1 Inter Cardill 1. Post- poned: Llanelli v Holywell. PWDLFAPt	7 Airdrie 8 Clydebank 9 Hamilton 10 Dumbarton	27 5 25 3	5 6 1 4 5 1 3 7 1 1 10 1	4 15 2 6 20 2	4 4 15 1 5 6 16 2 3 7 9 1 1 11 9 3	4 30 -4 8 21 -10
	1

25 9 3 1 27 9 7 4 1 30 12 55 +38 26 5 5 3 21 14 10 2 1 18 6 52 +19 26 6 4 3 19 12 6 1 6 23 19 41 +11 25 7 3 2 24 11 4 3 6 19 21 39 +11 28 5 7 1 14 8 1 7 5 13 22 32 -3 23 5 5 19 28 4 3 6 21 23 29 -11 26 3 5 5 19 28 4 3 6 21 23 29 -11 25 5 2 6 10 24 2 3 7 11 19 26 -22 24 2 4 5 10 14 3 5 5 11 16 24 9 24 2 2 8 12 27 0 2 10 8 31 10 -38 5 Stranger 6 Ctycle 7 Queen Of S 8 Forfar 9 Avr 9 Ayr 10 Montrose PHO DVISION CO.

HOME AWAY Goal & P W D L F A W D L F A Pt dfff 1
1 Livingston 25 5 3 3 5 11 9 9 2 1 22 8 47 + 16
2 Brechin 26 8 3 3 19 7 5 5 5 2 10 6 47 + 16
3 Ross Co 25 5 7 0 25 12 5 5 3 20 15 42 + 18
4 Artroath 28 4 5 4 18 18 7 3 3 17 14 41 + 3
5 Caley This 24 4 4 3 22 15 7 3 3 28 10 40 + 25
6 Cowdenbth 25 6 3 4 19 15 3 1 8 16 27 31 - 7
Cusen's Pk 25 6 5 3 20 13 1 3 7 9 20 29 - 4 8 East Stirling 25 3 1 8 17 28 3 5 5 21 24 24 - 14
9 Alloa 23 4 1 5 16 17 2 0 11 12 40 19 - 29

FOOTBALL

Laudrup's loyalty bonus lifts Rangers

IN AN era when players seek regular and lucrative transfers, acts of loyalty cry out for an explanation. After months of speculation that he yearned to return to a more cosmopolitan environment. Brian Laudrup announced ten days ago that he would actually extend his contract with Rang ers until 1998. His side's significant 1-0 victory over Aberdeen at Pittodrie yester day provided an opportunity to ponder his fidelity.

It may just be that the Dane appreciates being at a club where he is so greatly needed. Laudrup stands at the very heart of all Rangers ambi-tions and this win, which reestablishes a three-point lead over Celtic in the Bell's Scottish League premier division, was the product of his artistry. A dry and pitted surface got the better of almost every other player, but it could not hinder Laudrup.

The forward displayed the control, in the 31st minute, to beat Grant before being brought down by Irvine's coarse challenge. Paul Gascoigne rolled the penalty into the corner of the net, having sent Michael Watt the wrong way. The composure of the England midfield player in a weekend that brought more. reports concerning his person-al life is remarkable, but it could be that the pitch is one of the few havens still available who could claim to be as comfortable at their work yesterday. Even Laudrup was briefly tainted by fallibility, four minutes from the interval. when Brown's pass found him on the left and he was unable to produce the clevation to clear the goalkeeper with his chip.

The scrappiness of the general play did tend to seep into the finishing, notably when Laudrup and Gascoigne in turn attempted to end a move in the second half by strolling

The goalkeeper thwarted had at least attempted to provide a flourish in a contest that was incurably clumsy.

Aberdeen sold Ecin Jess to Coventry City for £2 million last week and the lack of refinement or poise in their build-up yesterday provided a memorial of sorts to the arts with which he had furnished the club. By way of a replacement. Aberdeen today hope to sign Stephen Crawford from Raith Rovers for £600,000.

They also spurned chances. the most significant of them in the 28th minute. Windass

KEVIN

Scottish commentary

slipped a ball into a space on the right side of the Rangers defence that surely ought to have been occupied by Petric. The shot, however, was mishit by Dodds and skipped wide of the post. When Aberdeen's timing did prove sweet-er, early in the second half, Goram clawed away a drive by Windass that was flighted

Aberdeen had greater cause still to feel surly about this defeat when, with four minutes left, Windass again looked likely to score, from Miller's corner, but the Rang-ers veteran, Brown, drafted in because Gough still has not recovered from a back injury, blocked his header.

Disappointment was not the only sour emotion of the afternoon, for the game pro-duced nine bookings, four of them collected by Aberdeen and five by Rangers. Hugh Dallas, the referee could There were not many others mount a logical defence of his actions in every instance, but the absence of any leniency

When these teams last met, in November, the match official, John Rowbotham, ignoted incidents which later led the Procurator Fiscal to consider bringing criminal charges against the men involved. Since then, refereeing in Scotland has become a topic of obsessive discussion and. instead of providing a framework in which a match takes place, it has become an element in the play itself. Dallas them. Even if they did fail, could not take the risk of same his decisions had no bearing on the outcome. Aberdeen have now lost all four of their home matches against the Old Firm this season. On Saturday, Celtic concluded the signing, until the Cadete, the Portugal international, although he did not play in the 40 victory over Partick Thistle. As they continue to demonstrate a financial strength unknown to any other Scottish club. Celtic and Rangers need fear only one

Taylor's return leaves Watford breathless

t has not taken Graham Taylor long to discover the magnitude of the job he has taken on at Watford. Elton John wants him to put the heart and soul back into the club, but he is going to have to start with the legs.

The romanties may have warbled about a return to the yellow brick road while the cynics scoffed about a turnip going back to his roots. The reality was more prossic: Wattord were just not fit enough to celebrate Taylor's return in the style to which he

The early signs were promising enough. There was gen-uine warmin in the welcome as he took the field and raised the arms of Luther Blissett and Kenny Jackett, two of his old boys whom he has asked to run the team while he gets on with his new job as general manager. And the old passions stirred as Watford surged into a two-goal lead by half-time.

Then they simply ran out of steam. A goal within two minutes of the resumption put lpswich back into the game and there was a strange air of inevitability about the proceedings as they went on to score two more and show precisely why Watford are Pat Gibson sees the size of the task facing the former England manager seven points adrift at the bottom of the Endsleigh Insurance League first division. Taylor kept his thoughts to himself afterwards, leaving Blissett to put a brave face on a task which seems beyond them. We had won only two of our last 22 games, so we knew we had a lot to do," he said. "But I am not too worried. There are still 17 games to go so we've got plenty of time and we showed enough in the first half to make us believe we can turn

It was a typical show of optimism from Blissett, who is such an enthusiast for the game that he was still playng, and scoring goals, for Fakenham Town in the Jewson League when he got the call last week. Taylor, however, must know different. The club which he led from the old fourth division to the first, taking in an FA Cup Final along the way, has stagnated to such an extent

IT'S AMAZING OLIVER

FROM OUR 600 OFFICES.

IT USED TO TAKE US 8 DAYS

TO DO THE GLOBAL REPORTING

that he has no option but to start all over again. "ludge me on whether the club, as a whole, has pro-

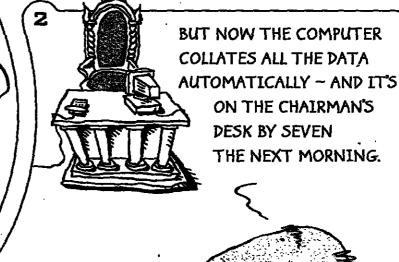

essed after three years," he has said, as if admitting that whatever he does between eason, when he will hang up his tracksuit and hand over to a team manager, will not make a lot of difference.

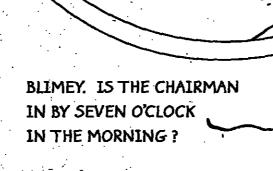

There were shades of the old Watford in the way White put them ahead with his first goal since moving from Notts County and Palmer added a second after Wright had failed to After that, the levels of fitness and the naivety of the defend ing were quite alarming, as Uhlenbeek swept through unchallenged to score Ipswich's first goal and then set up two more for Mathie. "I played my get out of jail card," George Burley, the Ipswich manager, said. How Taylor must wish he had one.

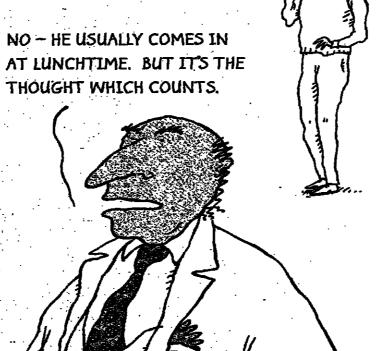

Taylor points the way but his Watford side failed to respond at Vicarage Road

REALLY?

MERCURY CAN SHOW YOU HOW A GLOBAL DIGITAL

HIGHWAY CAN HELP YOU SPEED UP ALL YOUR DATA-TRANSFER.

FreeCall 0500 500 400

Mercury Communications Limited, New Mercury House, 26 Red Lien Square, London WC1R 4HQ.

http://www.mercury.co.uk

When mankind meets machine, Mercury can help.

Efficient Stevenage feeling left out

Stevenage Borough 1 Hednesford Town0

Ву Кепти Ріке

THE silverware is within their grasp, but the real prize remains tantalisingly, almost mockingly, out of reach. Come August, Stevenage Borough will have a ground fit for the Endsleigh Insurance League and a team equally up to scratch, yet their brave new world will probably dawn at Bromsgrove when it could have been at Bury. It is becoming a tiresome, bitter, tale. In the past two seasons. Kidderminster Harriers and Macciesfield Town have won the right to automatic promotion to the fully professional ranks by their e efforts on the pitch, only to be denied elevation by strictures off it. Now Stevenage, who maintained their lead in the Vauxhall Conference with this gritty victory on Saturday, are favourites to complete a hattrick that the "fifth division" would happily do without. Frustration is not the half of it. We are in sport, and sport is about winning and losing and promotion and relega-tion," Victor Green, the Stevenage chairman, said. "What they are doing is denying us the basic ingredient of sport." They are the Football League, which decrees that incoming clubs must have grounds completed six months before they know if they will beed them. Broadhall Way. Stevenage's modest but modern home, was not ready on December 31, when the annual deadline falls. By the summer it will be, at a cost of £850,000, "come what may",

Green said.

United, adrift in the third division, laughing, and Paul Fairclough, the Stevenage manager, and his players to carry on winning and dreaming of what might have been. They are all ambitious, but I cannot fault their attitude," Fairclough said. "I called a meeting on November 24 to tell them that we would not be going up, and they went out and beat Runcorn 8-0 the next day. They have responded brilliantly." An unbeaten run of 21 league matches bears stimony to that. His players have talent and time on their side. At 45, Fairclough has more reason to rue the "double standards" he believes the Football League operates. Eighteen months ago he gave up a safe and lucrative teaching post to go full-time. Now, even Stevenage's fourth championship in six years would not enable him to fulfil an ambition of Victory still tastes sweet, however. On Saturday it was achieved largely through Barry Hayles's nineteenth goal of the season, after 15 minutes, and Efetobor Sodje's authoritative defending on a bog of a pitch after Wilmot the Stevenage goalkeeper, had been sent off on the stroke of half-time for handling outside his area. Both looked good enough to play at a higher irvel. Both will probably have to move to do so.

Gloucester given will to win by Hill and Devereux

Wasps

By BRYAN STILES

A WEST Country giant is stirring from its slumbers - Gloucester are beginning to brush away the cobwebs that have clogged their efforts in recent years, but it has taken some painful prodding from an old foe to set the blood flowing

This stirring Pilkington Cup quarter-final victory can be seen as a landmark in Gloucester's awakening and Dave Sims, the jubi-lant winning captain, sin-gled out Richard Hill, the coach, for special praise for the way he has turned the team's playing fortunes around. Hill, who won international fame and glory while a member of Bath, Gloucester's sworn West Country rivals, arrived at Kingsholm this season and set about arranging stiffer and more meaningful training sessions. He also introduced a sports psychologist to motivate the players but it took a while before it had an effect and Gloucester lost too many Courage Clubs Championship points in the early part of the season. They lie next to bottom of the first division.

They are sure their newfound form and commitment will get them out of trouble. This cup victory was just the tonic they

Gloucester players claimed their spirits were lifted by a phone call to Kingsholm shortly before the kick-off from Simon Devereux, one of their lock forwards, who was jailed for nine months last week

Hill: transformed club

inflicting grievous bodily harm on a Rosslyn Park player, breaking his jaw with a punch. There has been a feeling of outrage at Gloucester at the severity of the sentence and the club has promised to do all it can for him and his family.

Devereux was on prison cleaning duty at Wandsworth on Saturday when he rang Kingsholm, wishing the team "all the best" in the game against Wasps. It worked.

Sims was angry at the message (from the court) was very important." he said. "It was extremely harsh, beyond belief; he is not that sort of person. He takes a few shots and he gives a few shots. If you break someone's leg by tackling them, are you going to be put away for that? Simon was part of the club socially and on the field." In Saturday's Cup tie,

Sims led from the front. scoring a morale-boosting try in the last minute of the first half to give his team an 11-3 lead at the interval and he was always promiment in the lineout and tight exchanges.

Gregory brought Wasps back to within two points with two penalty goals, but a penalty by Fenwick, a second dropped goal from Kimber and a breakaway try by Lioyd sealed victory for Gloucester.

Dallaglio, the Wasps captain, felt Gloucester were hungrier for victory. but were guilty of smothering tactics that killed off quick release of the ball and should have been penalised . more vigorously.

SCORERS: Gloucester: Tries: Simo. Unity: Dropped goals: Yumber (2) Penalty goals: Fermick (2) Wesps: Penalty goals: Gregory (3)

GLOUCESTER: G Fernand: P Holford: D Cacke, M Roberts M Lloyd M Kmber, S Benton, T Windo, P Greening, A Deacon, P Glarville, R Fidler, D Smr., A Stanley, C Raymond Holford replaced by L Osbome (37mm) MASPS: J Ultan P Hopley D Hopley A James, S Roiser G Gregory, A Gornarsali, D Motoy, K Durn, I Duraton, M White C Backle, R Kinsey, C Willers, L Dalloglio

Referee: A J Spreadbury (Somersel)

Exiles take wing to put semi-finals out of West Hartlepool's reach

Corcoran, the London Irish wing, escapes the clutches of Wood, of West Hartlepool, during the Pilkington Cup quarter-final at Sunbury. Photograph: Marc Aspland

Irish maintain spirit of adventure

London Irish... West Hartlepool 10

> By DAVID HANDS RUGBY CORRESPONDENT

THERE is little left for West Hartlepool this season, save a struggle for pride. A place in the semi-finals of the Pilkington Cup for the first time in their history might have offered some solace against what appears inevitaion, but even that was denied them at Sunbury on Saturday by a London Irish side which rode its luck beyond even the accepted capabilities of a genial nation.

Yet the appearance in the draw today of a second division team adds to what has been a distinctly unromantic competition this season. That the Exiles represent London's sole interest after the decline and fall of Harlequins and Wasps is a happy irony in view of the predicted rush of Ireland's better players to-wards the greener fields — or perhaps that should be greenbacks presumed to be on offer at the leading clubs in

But the Irish owe their place to their positive rugby, even on a day when you would not have turned a dog out of doors. Their first half was a triumph over adversity, on the greasiest of pitches with savage showers coming out of the west. Clive Woodward, their coach, arrived back from a skiing holiday a couple of hours before the start and saw ing principles he has been drumming into them for the past two years.

Yet even the adventurous Woodward requires a degree of pragmatism at times and he had his assistant. Mark Dufellen, to thank for the work achieved by the forwards in his absence. On so treacherous a day, it seemed the heavier West Hartlepool forwards might drive a swath through their opponents, yet whenever required the Irish pack held firm, and their increased mobility paid dividends time after time.

Success in the Cup, though, creates problems of its own for a team occupying the second two. Today was a one-off, the players were relaxed," Woodward said. "But it was a springboard into the league games to come. The semi-final is a week before we play Wakefield away. Whoever we and I'm worried about the So will he turn out a 2nd XV in the Cup? "Not if it's Leicester," Woodward said, relishing the possibility of a meeting with his former club. He knows that the Cup will put an extra spring in his side's step, particularly with the increased competition that draw in the cup, we will be up against a big, physical team newcomers such as Liam Mooney and Alastair Meadows, who came through significant examinations on Saturday, will provide.

The bounce, though, has gone from West Hartlepool. They remain optimistic that their better players can be secured, that sponsors will rally round and that the presence on a three-year contract as player-coach of Mark - who almost won the game single-handed when he came on as a replacement offers exciting prospects.
Yet their confidence is sufficiently fragile that Tim Stimpson, their young captain, felt he had to play despite suffering from a muscular spasm in his back. The injury returned minutes into the ment, though it was not until he sustained a trapped nerve in his shoulder that he went off, his place in the England A team against Italy next Saturday in considerable doubt.

West dominated the lineout, though the service to Steve Cook was scarcely five-star. and a chapter of almost laughable defensive errors by the Irish allowed them to dominate territorially in the second half. Yet they owed their try to the generosity of Steve Lander. the referee, who decided that a push by Mooney on Andrew Blyth as he pursued a chip ahead was worth a penalty try; from the stand it seemed a was hardly probable, with defence still in good order, but Woodward offered no quarrel with the decision and Parker's conversion reduced the lead to a mere point.

Lander was less charitable towards Chris Murphy, the lock who was West's main ball-winner. The visitors had been awarded a scrum when Murphy tugged Lander's arm in protest at some presumed a yellow card for his pains. How frequently a side down on its luck finds the 50-50 ball goes against them. Parker was given offside on a first-half interception, Ring's attempted dropped goal late in the game appeared to take a deflection off a défender but a drop-out was awarded to the Irish, and every time West came within five metres of the Irish line. they could not find a killing thrust.

In contrast, the Irish. against the run of play, assumed the lead with a 50metre penalty from Corcoran, Their try, by the Australian scrum half, Ewington, was the result of a back-row move worked out in training by the players involving a dummy to the open side of a five-metre scrum before the switch to the short side. Wit and invention deserve their reward and the Irish representatives will arrive at Twickenham today in rare rugby are still instilled in this club," Gary Halpin, the Irish captain, said, but his players are determined to carve a new future in the first division. For once, success in the Cup really is a DODIUS.

SCORERS: London litet: Try: Ewington.
Pensity goels: Corconer (2). Weet Hertlepool: Pensity by: Gorivestice: Pensity Pensity goel: Stimpson.
LONDON RESH: C O'Shee; M-Corcoren, R
Henderson. P Flood, J Elishor. O Cobbe, T
Ewington: L-Mooney, R-Kelent, G Hatcin, A Dot.gan, D Peters, A Mesolows, C Bird, B Weigh.
WEET.

Weish
WEST HARTLEPOOL: T Strippoor;
Williams, A Blyth, P Hoddler, M Wood, J
Parler, S Cook, P Best, T Herbert, S
Shalley, R Leach, C Murphy, K Wanganth,
Brown, D Millichell, Strippoor replaced by I

Bath raise game on demand to dispose of Bristol

AMID mud, mud, glorious mud, seven players on international duty next weekend knocked lumps out of each other in traditional West Country derby style at the Memorial

We must be absolutely mad to allow it. Brian Ashton, the Bath coaching director, said. "It is ludi-crous that the RFU (Rugby Football Union] cannot organise the season so as to avoid the need to play such important matches before internationals.

"The Scots finish most of their serious rugby by Christmas. So should we. In fact, one Scot on duty at Murrayfield next Satur day, David Hilton, was involved, together with a Welshman, Arwel Thomas, who faces Ireland. But it was the five England players who bore the brunt of the physical demands in this Pilkington Cup quarter final Bath, in the manner of in clinching their 25th win in 26 matches againsf Bristol. After each of Thomas's first three penalty goals, Bath immediately replied with a score of their own.

Having done so, they back for a win by the misleadingly small margin of a goal and four penalty goals to four penalty goals. Ashton says Bath have made the mental breakthrough this season in their playing style and philosophy. They remain firmly on course for their

 iT^{γ}

ber .

Sevensad

of fun on t

Clarke: blind-side try fourth League and Cup double and are demonstrating a capacity to embrace the technically more developed, intricate game plan that Ashton seeks.

Inevitably, on such a day, it was the forwards who held the key. Bath's pack looking by far the more cohesive and better organised. Bristol did their best, offering a snarling confrontational challenge which demanded respect. Adams's early yellow card and the Bath punch which splattered Armstrong's nose all over his face and finished his game, typified an opening even minutes of mayhem.

However, Bristol were never sufficiently convincing as a side to suggest an upset. In fairness, apart from the front row, their pack had been drawn chiefly from their second team, with Shaw, Archer and Corry sorely missed. Bath won most of the mportant - second-phase ball, releasing it quicker, too; they enjoyed a 21-13 penalty-count advantage, and Dawe's throwing contributed to success by 15-10 at the lineout. Regan's erratic early throwing. with Murrayfield in mind, was disturbing. Bath won three secondphase balls to create the game's only try. Robinson and Sleightholme squeezing Clarke into the blindside corner. Thereafter, Butland and the disappointing Thomas exchanged penalties as Bath comfortably kept their rivals at arm's length. For Bath, the pursuit of glory grows; for Bristol, the rebuilding continues. SCOREPS: Bristot: Penetry goess: A Thomas (4). Bath: Try: Clarke Conversion: Butland. Penetry goess: Butland (4).

BRISTOL-PHull; B Breeze, S Medin, K Magga, G Shent A Thomes, K Bracieri, A Shent, M Regen, D Hinkos, E Roket, P. Adems, H. Armstrong, I Decon, C Barrow, Amstrong reviaced by M Fountains (7mm).

BATH: M Catt J Skeightholme, P de Glarwise, J Guscott, A Adebayo: R Butland, A Nicot; D. Hilton, G Dewe, V Ubogu, S Ojomoh, M Haag, N Redman, A Robinson, B Ctarles. Referee: J Pearson (Durham)

Diary, page 16

Leicester pack holds all the trump cards

Harlequins . By JOHN HOPKINS

HARLEQUINS went to Welford Road hoping to defeat Leicester in the quarter-finals of the Pilkington Cup. Having been well beaten, they set out to return home, but not before they had the grace to praise Leicester, albeit through gritted teeth, for a job well done. After watching the Leicester forwards dominate the lineout, take two strikes against the head, score one try and set up another, no one was more generous than Keith Richardson, a Harlequins coach, and a former forward himself.

Richardson is one of the nononsense men charged with removing the image of Harlequins as a team of dilettantes beefed up by bought-in players and substituting it with skilful men who mean business. In this he is succeeding, though on Saturday his men who mean business were convincingly outplayed.

Leicester's forwards took control of this game after half-time. Some speciators may have felt they squeezed the life out of what is meant to be a running and handling game, but Leicester have a clear style of play and they are adhering to it better and more successfully than almost any other team at present. Their driving play was impressive, relentless and very skilful," Richardson said. "They played good. sensible, pragmatic rugby. Russy Tony Russ, the Leicester director of rugbyl thinks I think their style of play is boring. I do, but I enjoy watching them and I have to say I am very impressed with it. You've got to win the ball. We did not do that. They took a lot of ball off us. To play against Leicester, we need forwards with more upper-body strength." Upper-body strength is one of rugby's voguish phrases. It is as much a part of the game at Leicester as are the words Alliance and Leicester, the name of the new stand or the words the faithful shout in support of Dean Richards. Fev players have received the vocal support that Richards gets. When cries of "Dean-O, Dean-O" rise from all quarters of the ground, as they did at a five-yard scrum on the Harlequins line midway through the second half, they inspire Leicester and must intimidate the opposition.

Richards, who speaks surprisingly quietly for such a big man, says he cannot remember when he first became aware of these cries. "I've been here since 1982 and it has been going for a long time." he said, modestly. Nor can he bring himself to acknowledge their significance because to do so might seem to be an affront to his natural, off-the-orich reticence. "It's just that my name has more of a ring to it than, say, John Wells," he said. "But, of course, it helps. It lifts all the players."

Russ believes that Leicester's front row is the best unit in the country and, on this evidence, he may be right. As well as Richard Cockerill's two strikes against the head, Darren Garforth burrowed over for a typical forwards' try. Martin Johnson won the ball at a lineout, his team-mates rolled, turned, rolled and drove to the Harlequins line, hurtling Mick Watson out of the way much as a spark flies from a welder's torch, and the line opened up in front of Leicester's tight-head prop.

Cockerill is surely on the verge of the England team. To me, his throwing in is superb." Russ said. He hits his man with monotonous regularity." - a reference to his hooker's throwing-in, not pugilism. "In my eyes, he is the best hooker in the country at the moment," the country at the moment," SCORERS: Laicester Thes: Kardon, Garloth, Conversion: Livy Penalty goals: Lay 44 Hadequins: Penalty goals: Chalmon?

LBCESTER: J Livy, S Hadrey, P Richroso, P
Dolatey, R Undersoord: J Hams, A Kardons, G
Rosson, M Poote, N Back, C Richards
Johnson, M Poote, N Back, C Richards
HARLEOURNS, J Williams: Q O'Leary, W Carling P Manselh, S Biomiey, R Craffing, R Kricher, J Leonard
S Mitchell, A Multim, G Allison, M Viscon, A Shore, R
Johnson, C Streasty,
Refereer, S Piercy (Yorishire)

Rowell looks to build on Richards

BY DAVID HANDS

DEAN RICHARDS may be in the twilight of his international career but there is no doubting the influence he will have on England's five nations' championship match with Scotland at Murrayfield on Saturday. The Leicester No S. restored to the international side, has been part of the team's inner sanctum during their training over the weekend.

Richards, Will Carling and the England half backs, Matt Dawson and Paul Grayson, sat down with Jack Rowell, the manager, in Richmond on Saturday night to thrash out their approach to the game.

Richards's is a strategic selection which will tighten the forwards up. Rowell said. "It's not an about-face. For this game his skills are appropriate and the players will enjoy his fortitude and ability to cement things on the field. He will have a big say in the tactical approach."

England's preparation has been far from ideal; last Tuesday's session at Marlow was frozen off, and yesterday, according to Rowell, players were still creaking from cup games played on heavy surfaces and very strongly contested".

Even so, it was an opportunity to integrate Garath Archer, the Bristol lock, who is England's one newcom er, at set-piece work. Craig Joiner, the Melrose wing, confirmed his fitness to resume for Scotland after a tendon strain suffered against Wales, though his replacement in the Cardiff game. Kenny Logan, has a strained hamstring. More significantly, Bryan Redpath, the influential scrum half. played little part in training because of a back strain and a cold, but his place in the side is not in doubt. Ireland are optimistic that Simon Geoghegan, the Bath wing, will be fit to face Wales in Dublin. He has until Thursday to recover from a groin strain, with Richard Wallace standing by to replace him.

Cardiff prove they are no pushovers

By GERALD DAVIES

TO CHANNEL the forces of the scrum in the hope of a pushover try is a legitimate, if hazardous, tactic. To manipulate them so as to get a penalty try is risky and cynical. The aim is to force the opposition into committing an infringement or to bluff the referee into believing that they have. Much depends on his judgment. Who is to say who is doing what and to whom in the nether regions of the pack? To award some points in these circumstances may be an iniustice.

On Saturday, Swansea felt that the risk was worth taking, so much so in the first half of this dour and negative match, which contained occasional fits of ill temper from Hemi Taylor and Stuart Davies, that they ignored an easy chance of a goal in front of Cardiff's posts and went for the extra points. While Swansea were able to disrupt and discomfit the visitors' scrum, their push was not entirely authoritative.

There were calls for a penalty try, however. But the referee was not taken in by it all. After a couple of scrums of this kind in the sixteenth minute, it was Cardiff who were eventually awarded a penalty. The home team's moment was lost.

With such a strong wind at Swansea's back, it was a critical moment if they were to start accumulating points to defend in the second half. Instead, a few minutes later it was Cardiff who went into the lead. when Adrian Davies kicked his first penalty.

in the 12 minutes after that, the home team was awarded eight penalties in quick succession. Aled Williams missed four opportunities at goal. There were quick penalties and more scrums, but Swansea failed in their attempts to make up for their earlier misjudgment. They were trying to catch up when they need not have put themselves in such a position in the first

It was the second minute of injury time before Williams's penalty brought them level, but this could hardly have encouraged them at the interval. Cardiff kept plugging away, with plenty of possession coming from Jones and Wakeford, and when they found themselves on their heels one big kick soon got them out of trouble. Adrian Davies's couple of penetrating runs might have resulted in scores but it was his two successful kicks which took them into a 9-3 lead. Williams found the target to reduce the deficit.

The critical score came for Cardiff

Full results and league tables

when Hall changed direction from a scrum to carve his way through on the narrow side. He went as far as possible and, when held, he fed Walker, who reached the Swansea were unlikely to recover from this, even though they showed far more promise during this period than had been evident in their largely limited approach earlier. Williams Boobyer and Taylor had their chances to break Cardiff's defence, but this remained resolute to the

Williams and Adrian Davies exchanged penalties before Jonathan Davies, finding himself in the standoff half position, dropped a goal. Off, Raff position, dropped a goal, scoRERs: Swarrses: Penelty goals: Williams (3) Cardiff. Try: Welfer. Penelty goals: A Davies (4) Dropped goal: J Davies. By Anti-Sear R Bookyer; W Leach, D Weatherly, M Taylor, S Davies, A Welfams, R Jones, C Leader, G Jeniors, K Colicloigh, A Reynolds, S Marcia, P Amold, A Appleyand, S Davies, Leach replaced by C Oneses. (27mm); Appleyand replaced by C Charus (47), CARDIFF: M Rayer, N Walder, M Hall, J Davies, S Hill. A Davies, A Moore; A Lewis, J Hunghreys, L Mustoe, V Davies, J Walseford, D Jones, E Lavis, H Taylor, E Lewis replaced by O Williams (52).

Rowell remains calm in eye of England storm

David Hands finds the national team supremo determined to finish a task that he believes has only just begun to the shouts of England coaches and players feeling their way towards a modus operandi for defeating Scotland on Sahur-day. Twice this season, when the stadium was full, it has echoed to jeers and slow handclaps as the best rugby union players in the land struggled to beat Wales and Western Samoa.

Are they the best in the land? Do they offer the right combination? Has Rowell himself manager. coach, rugby enigma, lost direction? Last season. England ram-paged to a grand slam; this season. in the wake of the World Cup. England have struggled to pick up the threads, and the friction be-tween Rowell and some of his squad. submerged in more successful times, has bubbled to the Rowell might compare himself to Gulliver surrounded by the inhabitants of Lilliput. But the pygmies, he they players who do not understand or resent his management style, journ-alists who object to his sometimes curt dismissals, or supporters who do not perceive where the team is going, are striking back.

game but is now growing The criticism has come thick and fast stronger' in recent weeks: privately from some players, publicly from former players, coaches and journalists who see England's traditional strengths dissipated and no obvious sign of a new pattern emerging. Rowell, who has gathered all the significant reins of power in his hand, is the inescapable target and his vanity has been piqued. More than that, he shows the masteriui man's utter frustration that others do not share his vision : and his appreciation of the weakness of England's rugby structure. Rowell's careers in business and in sport have been notably successful and he is, in his own expression, "staggered" that, within a sixmonth period; his 17 climactic years with Bath and a grand slam with England should be forgonen.

ack Rowell was back at That is what I am faced with and I am astonished people can't see that That is why I have to hold the squad together as long as possible until the integrated system we are working towards, designed to improve our young players, produces results."

Sport, of course, is a less precise business than ... well, business. Rowell did not expect England to win the World Cup in South Africa last year, nor did they. "You ask about style in the second half of the World Cup game with Western Samoa, we cut loose and played this mix of backs running, forwards running, interactive, driv-ing in the forwards.

That was the epitome of my view of what English rugby should be, not playing just with the backs or just with the forwards, and the best of English players are up to that But people tell me I should not be surprised if, when the pressure comes on, players revert to what they are happy with — and that England team last summer was a mature team, in the Dawson had "Since then we have had to introan iffy first duce six or seven new players. It's a very challenging, complex situation for a team which is now expected to be dominant in the northern hemi-

> why I had hoped the media, the supporters, would get behind these young men and give them a "We've got to bite the bullet and sphere, and this is get into the problems. We have to work on players weaknesses in what is a season of major reconstruction. We have already found out things about players which we needed to know if we are to go forward successfully to the 1999 World Cup."

Rowell talks about the vacuum left at stand-off half by the retirement of Rob Andrew, a player whose influence as leader and tactician one suspects even he did career at Bath will recall his not appreciate until Andrew was no longer there. Yet, at the start of this season, Rowell could have such as Ben Clarke and Martin Bayfield.

He argues that, for a variety of easons, his key players have under-performed: Moore was in and out of the Harlequins team and finally retired, Jason Leonard was injured, Bayfield and Tim Rodber were playing second-divi-sion rugby, Clarke has not proved the decision-making pack leader he seeks. Rodber's form in particular has contributed to the uncertainty in the back row, where six players have already been used

Those who followed Rowell's ruthless approach to players at club level. His failure has been that he has not modified his club premium, and the pitiless public glare which accompanies it. Rowell was part of a team at Bath which involved fellow coaches and senior players, and though much of the credit rebounded on him. much went elsewhere.

ith England, the operation is black or white. There is no room for grey. A year ago it was white; now sombre destructive comments follow Rowell wherever he goes and his patience has worn thin. "Does anyone think I enjoy boring rug-by? I hate sterile rugby but people should look more closely at what we have done this season.

"One of my best selectorial days until our investment in the A team well as Will Carling and possibly psychology involved in preparing the Midlands and seeing Phil the new people have been told they begins to pay off, Rowell says. Brian Moore, and younger players a national side, where time is at a Greening and Alex King playing. are not just there for one cap.

These are two gems, subject to polishing, and we have drafted them into the A side. I watched Matt Dawson and Paul Grayson play for the Midlands against the Samoans, I checked with the A team management about Grayson's tour in Australia last year and the reports were favourable. "Now they are in the senior side. Dawson had an iffy first game but he is growing stronger. Grayson, whose perception of the game tallies very closely with the one I am seeking, will get another chance against Scotland after a disappointing game against Wales. Lawrence Dallagio has settled into the job of open-side flanker, Jonathan Sleightholme has come in and looks promising.

"At the same time we have needed the experienced people to be spot on and that has not always been the case. I have talked to people like Rory Underwood, asked him how he's feeling after suffering from criticism this season, and he tells me he wants two needs him but part of the challenge for players like him and Carling and Guscott is that, when they get on the field, they see new faces. We are starting to dig around, find young men like Paul Samp-son, bring along individual coach-es to work with young scrum haives like Andy Gomarsall and Austin Healey, and that's part of good years. I tell him that England the excitement. Our base will widen over the next six or seven on those already there and less on those coming in."

Yet will Rowell be part of that process up to and beyond 1999? When he took over from Geoff Cooke in March 1994 it was a case, he believed, of "now or never". Now that he understands more fully the scope of the problem, his work record suggests he would not walk away after a mere two years. yet he brushes aside questions which extend beyond his contracted period up to next September.

So much hinges upon the result at Murrayfield on Saturday. Vic-tory over Scotland could be the saving of Rowell, by restoring public confidence and putting England on course for, at least, a triple crown, turning around the introduce players in ones and may actually bring out the meatwos, which creates less pressure sure of the man.

Sevens add up to a lot of fun on the river bank

SPRING is almost here. If soon there will be some signs in the hedgerows, an earlier indication still if you are anywhere within hearing distance of school playing fields, particularly of the indepen-dent kind, is the earnest preparations for "sevens". Not all schools are involved since there are those, once the Michaelmas term is over, who choose to turn their minds and bodies towards hockey. But there remains the hard, and for those who braved the elements yesterday in Brecon, extremely hardy core, whose rugby season cannot be entirely fulfilled without a fix of rugby union's shortened

The weather at Christ's College, Brecon, was nowhere near spring-like, which was a pity. Yesterday was the annual invitation rugby sevens. The college stands beneath the Brecon Beacons and on the banks of the Usk. It is a fine and picturesque setting with its four rugby pitches, hockey pitches and so on.

The game might have been an omen for the change in the season but the weather was not. With matches beginning at ten o'clock in the morning and ending in the very late afternoon, a bit of warmth and dryness is essential for a comfortable and successful afternoon. There is a lot of playing in a sevens tourna-around, too. There were four pools of five teams so that each team had a minimum of four matches before entering the knockout stages. Unlike other competitions, the route to the final included eight, not seven, completed matches. All the players had to be congratulated for their endeavours.

If Stonyhurst, Harrow and St Joseph's, Ipswich represent-ed schools who had required an overnight stay on Saturday, others from Hereford, King's, Worcester and Llan-dovery were within easy

The competition is now in its fifth year having started as part of Christ's College's 450th anniversary in 1991. The college had been founded by Royal Charter granted by Henry VIII. While other departments dreamt up schemes to celebrate the event, the games department thought of a "sevens".

"In the euphoria of its

Fitzgerald, of St Joseph's, Ipswich, holds off a challenge success it was decided it should continue," said John charge of games. And so it does. Although, with yester day's pelting rain and sleet, there were those who wondered of other ways Sunday afternoons could be spent. This is the first of the season's schools sevens competition.

The grand climax will be in March when the Rosslyn Park event will close the brief, but often inspiring, season of lastgasp lunges and long, lung-bursting sprints for the line. This tournament is thought to be second only to the one in Roehampton for the high quality of its competition.

"The pity for us," Williams said, "is that it comes too early in the season. We would like to conduct the event later, but with the other schools' tournaments in place - which have formed a long-standing tradition — there is nothing much we can do about it. Perhaps the Rosslyn Park event should be put back where it once was at the latter end of the month."

Yet it was a lot of fun to be at Brecon. There was plenty of subtlety around, but it was a hard-grafting play that generally ensured success. Brecon, on their own patch, looked good for a final placing before St Joseph's, Ipswich, got the better of them. Harrow, under Roger Utiley, looked good, too, in patches and surprised their mentor. But the team of the tournament was unquestionable Stonyhurst. They managed to survive a gruelling quarter-final against King's Bruton. In the semi-final, they scored a remarkable 49-0 victory over the much-fancied Milifield. As if this were not enough, they trounced St Jo-seph's in the final by 47 points without reply. Stonyhurst collected 233 points — a remarkable achievement in the conditions. In Balshaw. Gildes and Seldon, they had players who scored some wonderful tries. Seldon, was awarded the man of the

Irish's feat fails to stop heavy defeat

By Nicholas Harling

THE achievement in becoming only the fourth player in English basketball to accumu-late 6,000 points was ruined for Colin Irish by the contributions of those around him. By the time the Worthing player-coach sank his ninth point to reach the landmark in a Budweiser League fixture on Saturday, en route to a personal tally of 17, Worthing Bears were well on the way to their worst defeat of the Irish stepped up after his team's crushing 118-95 loss against Manchester Giants to receive a memento from his wife. Paula, but he will not choose to remember the occasion for long.

With the exception of the man he succeeded as player-coach, Alan Cunningham, the game's top scorer with 33 points, Worthing were a sorry lot. "They ran us off our feet," Irish said after the Giants had avenged their beating by the Bears in the Wembley play-off final last May. The Giants could well go one better this time. The league title may be just out of reach, but it will not be for want of trying that their coach, Mike Hanks, will concede the race to either London

Towers or Sheffield Sharks. Mark Robinson was, as usual, the most prolific Giant with 28 points, but it was the English players around him that most pleased their coach. Joel Moore, whose 20 points included six three-pointers, has settled in well, Kevin St Kitts is effective, and Dave Gardner still a powerful rebounder, but, in Danny Craven, Mike Defoe and Panjie Grainger, Hanks possesses what he considers "the nucleus of the club's future".

Elsewhere on Saturday, the Leopards and Derby Storm both gained predictable wins, the Leopards by 99-93 at Hemel Hempstead Royals. the Storm with a 104-92 home victory over Newcastle

Mere male unroused by hoops and hollers

The woman sitting be-hind the desk passed over the £4 ticket with unexpected information. The last one available, it had been bought for a child who had plainly been unable to attend. Had it not been handed back, entry to the Mountbatten Centre in Portsmouth would have been denied.

She forgot to mention, though, the criteria necessary for admittance. Apparently, only women, preferably schoolgirls and the younger the better, would be allowed into the indoor arena. The rule had been bent to accommodate perhaps a handful of fathers and brothers.

The revelation was all the more startling as entrance (which, because of the crowded stands, had to be made across the court) was timed cruelly to coincide with the public introduction of the visiting team. Dressed in En-gland's traditional colours, they were seemingly in disguise. I wished that I had been, too.

Attending the netball international on Saturday was a strange, almost surreal, experience, and as uncomfortable as intruding on a school sports day without being a parent.

"Something's happening here," the taxi driver had said. noticing the lord mayor's offi-cial car parked outside the stadium. Indeed, the "right worshipful" councillor Malcoim Chewter was there, but at least he could claim to be on official duty. One other male had no such obvious excuses. Netball is played by, and for, young women, a fact which was supported by aural as well as visible evidence. Although the decibel level was generally low, the pitch remained high. It peaked 90 times, 40 of them when Northern Ireland scored. It did not feel like an international, in spite of the limp presence of a couple of small Union Jacks hanging from the ceiling. The teams were denoted on the scoreboard relatively anonymously as "home" and "guests", a distinction blurred by the col-

Stuart Jones is put among the girls for an afternoon's sport but fails to succumb to netball's charms England were arrayed in unfamiliar red and the Irish in blue and white. The identity of the individuals was no less clear because the announcer's equipment seemed to have been borrowed for the afternoon from British Rail. One player, however, stood out. Joanne McGreevy, from Bangor, finished on the losing side, as she would have feared that she might. The Irish have not won the fixture for more than four decades but, light on her feet and adept at losing markers, she was appreciably the most productive and creative of all on view.

ince the sport has had such limited exposure to the wider public, the finer points were not so dis-cernible but the stature of the two forwards, known as the goal shooter and goal attack, could hardly have been a more conspicuous advantage.

The action, controlled by a couple of whistling dervishes, was continuous until one of the forwards gained posses-sion in the area, little larger than the turning circle of a Robin Reliant. Then animation was suspended while an ball through the hoop. Since defenders are not allowed within a yard, an Amazon would have a field day. Why the Irish, having started the more convincingly to lead 13-10 at the end of the opening quarter, should choose to replace their tall shooter with a shorter version in the second half was therefore bemusing. Once England had gone ahead, a contest between nations replacing several players who retired after the world championships six months ago was too predictable to hold the interest. More than one fellow observer proclaimed that she was "bored now".

The occasion, started by a match between local under-11 sides shortly after noon, had by then been going for more than four hours. At least there were none of the nauseating blights which have become customs in modern sport spitting, histrionics, obsceni-ties and high-fives.

After England had duly completed their 50-40 victory. the crowd wandered informally onto the polished court. The announcer, during one of his less muffled sentences, pleaded for the "players to be left alone". The request, in at least one quarter, was superfluous. Having been wedged in at the top of one of the stands. I could not wait to relieve my embarrassment and departed as rapidly as possible without the chance to visit the small refreshment stand.

Victorious Higgins has sights set on Hendry

By Phil Yates

JOHN HIGGINS became only the sixth player successfully to defend a world-ranking snooker tournament title when he comfortably beat Rod Lawler, of Liverpool, 9-3 in the final of the Sweater Shop International Open at Swindon on Saturday. Higgins joined a select group of players which had previously comprised Ray Reardon, Steve Davis, Stephen Hendry, John Parrott and James Wattana. Higgins compiled a pair of century breaks and four halfcenturies in the final of a competition which was low in overall quality. Nine of the world's top ten players were eliminated in the opening round, itself a first, and Hendry, the world champion, fell to Lawler in a second-round upset of stunning proportions.

"Everyone was saying it was a foregone conclusion l would win the title after that but, in the end, it just put me under even more pressure," said Higgins, who recovered from a 4-1 deficit and 39 points in arrears in the sixth frame to beat Alain Robidoux, the Canadian, 6-4 in the semi-finals.

Higgins collected a £60,000 first prize and an additional £5,000 for compiling the highest break, a tournament-record 144 total clearance, with which he completed victory over Robidoux in style.

That carries his total prizemoney for the season to £212,000, a figure only exceeded by Hendry, who would swell his earnings to almost £450,000 for the 1995-96 campaign were he to capture the European Open title for the third year in succession in Malta this week.

By virtue of his international open triumph, Higgins has significantly improved his chances of replacing Hendry at the head of the provisional world rankings come the end of the season. Thus, the visit to Malta has been magnified in importance for both players.

Ladejo in hot water for playing the crowd

By David Powell, ATHLETICS CORRESPONDENT

THE man from Quiet Storm Associates ran like lightning and spread looks of thunder on the faces of senior British uthletics officials on Saturday. Dark skies hang over Du'aine Ladejo, Britain's brightest prospect for a gold medal at the European indoor championships in Stockholm next Ladejo is to be spoken to by Verona Elder, the Great Britain team manager, about his antics on the last lap of the relay in the McDonald's international between Great Britain and France at Kelvin Hall. Glasgow. A quiet word now should save a storm later for the athlete who set up Quiet Storm as his personal management company after winning the European indoor 400 metres title in 1994.

Having won the individual 400 metres in 46.39sec on Saturday, Ladejo was so comfortably ahead in the relay that he waved the baton at spectators several times during the last lap. The crowd joyed it but such behaviour belittled the opposition, espe-cially on the finish straight

ENGLAND won the TSB Schools indoor international matches against Scotland at Birmingham yesterday. with the boys team particularly dominant. Best of the English winners were Jonathan Keith, in the 1,500 metres, and Barry Woodward, in the 800 metres.

when Ladejo deliberately slowed down to let the Frenchman, Bruno Wavelet, draw tantalisingly close before speeding up again.

For less showing off in a similar position at RAF Cosford some years ago, Brian Whittle was admonished by Frank Dick, then Britain's chief coach, and Andy Norman, head of promotions. Lider said: "It is not the sort of thing we would encourage. I will be speaking to Du aine about it. But he has got back after a dreadful injury last year and he is obviously so Ladejo, European champion outdoors as well as indoors. said: "It was to do ith me and the crowd, me entertaining them. It was nothing to do with me taking the mickey."

Unless Tony Jarrett recovforced him out of the 60 metres hurdles. Ladejo will be the whom victory will be expected. Jarrett did not rule out his participation, though Mike

McFarlane, his coach, had said earlier the decision to end his indoor season had been

Ashia Hansen, in the triple imo, and Jason Gardener, in the 60 metres, are potential winners without being clear favourities. John Regis, in the 200 metres, and Dalton Grant, in the high jump, would fall into that category too, but are making late decisions on whether to go.

Given that none of Britain's Christie, Gunnell, Edwards, Jackson, Holmes — will be contesting the European event. Britain has few medal hopes, so to lose Melanie Neef and Mark Hylton would be a groin injury and is doubtful.

Neef withdrew on Saturday, having not trained for a week. Hylton was fine in warm up but suffered during the race. "It is painful walking on it," he said. But, so deep is the well of British athletics, that spilt buckets are usually replaced.

Francis Agyepong leapt into the European medal reckoning with a 16.92 metres triple jump victory. Jason John could challenge Gardener in the 60 metres after winning in 6.62sec and Anthony Whiteman, after his seventh successive indoor race unbeaten by a Briton, could take a medal at 1,500 or 3,000 metres. Whiteman will probably opt was upset at failing to beat lmin 50sec for 800 metres, finishing second to Jean Christophe Vialettes in Imin 50.62sec. Kate Staples, having taken the British women's pole vault record to 3.85 metres - she has a near miss at 3.90 - would be a medal contender if she can clear four injuries and the death of her father in recent weeks and her victory here was encouragement for her as she prepares for Stockholm. "I am not looking at 3.90, I have to get four metres this season," Staples said. "She is capable of it."

Denise Lewis, the Commonwealth heptathlon champion, is edging closer to Mary Rand, the 1964 Olympic champion. and Fiona May, the world champion, in the indoor long jump standings. Lewis jumped 6.48 metres compared with May's 6.68 and Rand's 6.53, splendid progress by an athlete who has to work on six other events as well. Grant beat Steve Smith to win the high jump, wearing Smith's right shoe. Grant arrived with only a left shoe, so Smith would pull off his right one between jumps to help out his team-mate.

Smith flew to Stockholm on Saturday night for the Ricoh Tour there yesterday where the stakes were high, $25,000. But he will not be back there with the British team next month. Smith is not interested in stepping into Grant's shoes as European champion.

Topolski delighted at Oxford's degree of progress

Oxford's anticipated contest with London University's top crew on the Tideway failed to materialise yesterday (Mike Rosewell writes). London University, with four of their star men — Rupert Obholzer, Tim Foster, Graham Smith and Mat Parish unavailable due to Britain squad commitments, and with other key men sick or injured, declined to take part. A Tyrian club crew, composed of six

London University "old boys" and two students, substituted and raced Oxford from Chiswick to Hammersmith, Oxford winning by two lengths in a fast time which pleased Dan Topolski, their coaching director. Topolski is having a busy year, being involved with the Oxford crew and acting as adviser to the filming of True Blue, his book of the 1987 Oxford mutiny.

Imperial College two weeks previously, although there were some positional alterations, Paul Berger and Ben Mann, the and seven seats. Cambridge, less in the limelight than Oxford so far this spring, also appeared on the Tideway this weekend and undertook some training with London Rowing Club, Cambridge, can, and Nick Burfitt, a British Olympic oarsman in Seoul and Barcelona, both of hom did not appear in Cambridge's pre-Christmas trial eights due to illness, came out faster in both the low-rate work and short bursts of effort.

included Ethan Ayer, their 6ft 8in Ameri-

Both camps have a week to finalise their decisions before the official challenge and

FROM JOHN HENNESSY IN PARIS

Saturday evening was the figure skating in the history of the sport. The format of the inaugural Champions' Series was such that paraded before 12.000 spectators in the final was the best, with a few possible exceptions, that competitive skating has to offer.

The so-called professional Peter Sutcliffe, her coach, said. championships, mostly in the United States, trumpet the number of Olympic and world gold-medal winners they can muster, but discerning eyes can easily distinguish between the meritorious and the meretricious.

> What does, say, an Olympic title in 1980 mean 16 years later? Few of those who compete for a professional title today could live with those we saw on Saturday, any more than Jack Nicklaus could still hold a hope of adding to his 18 major golf titles.

The big winner on Saturday was Michelle Kwan, a 15-yearold American of astonishing maturity, on the ice and off it. Skating last, she was able to judge that victory in the free skating would launch her to the top, since the leader, Lu Chen, China's holder of the world title, had been so unhinged by a fall in her opening

THE Bercy Stadium here on triple lutz that she succeeded with only two triples. safely executed the lutz and was further fortified immediately by two triple toe loops in combination. Three more triples followed and, if her spins are less impressive, she achieves an elegance of line surpassed only perhaps by Chen - when the Chinese girl

Kwan's prize money, $60,000 (about £40,000). raised her total for the series to $150,000, to which an untold treasury from exhibitions has to be added. "Amateur" skating has come a long way in the last 12 months.

The other results went according to expectations in the light of Friday's short programmes. In the men's event. Alexei Urmanov, the Russian Olympic champion, held off the challenge of Elvis Stojko, the world champion from Their competition was otherwise notable for Stoiko's success with a quadruple toe loop, combined with a double, and for Eric Millot's combination of two triple loops, a unique achievement, as far as anyone here can tell.

Results, page 35

Kwan outstanding | Cannock surrender | Mistral sails on is no safe haven, as was Reading, where Cannock lost their advantage and shared four goals with the home side in the National League. In a torrent of strong running, Cannock looked more dangerous, and Mason, the Reading goalkeeper, was kept busy. Cannock went ahead in the tenth minute with a goal by Mayer, and Pidcock added the second from Mayer's pass five minutes before the interval. Reading survived five short corners in the second half before Osborn brought them back into the match by con-

54th minute. Eleven minutes later, Ashdown levelled the score from a short corner while Mayer was under suspension.

verting a penalty stroke in the Southgate regained the leadership of the first division with an emphatic 5-2 home win over Surbiton, who were leading 2-1 and might have been better off if Elmitt had not missed a penalty stroke. Both goals for Surbiton were scored by Sexton, the second from a short corner. Southgate replied with goals by Sean Kerry, from a short corner, two by Waugh, also from short corners, with

A TWO-GOAL lead in hockey Woods and Simons adding to manage only a 4-4 draw with Stourport, who were leading 3-2 before Morrison levelled three minutes before the end. Stourport scored through Lashford, Bertram, from a short corner, and Harradine. Nick Thompson, from a short corner, and Gladman replied for Old Loughtonians before Morrison spared their blushes. Stourport remain anchored to the bottom of the table.

Barford Tigers caused a mild surprise by defeating Teddington I-0 with a goal by Jagdeep Soor in the fortieth minute, while Trojans held Havant to a goalless draw. Hounslow recorded a 4-1 away win over Bournville, Williamson scoring twice for Hounslow, from a short corner and a penalty stroke.

Guildford went briefly to the top of the table on Saturday by defeating East Grinstead 2-1. Jennings, from a short corner, and Williams scored for Guildford, and Bentley for East Grinstead.

Richmond achieved a valuable 4-0 win over Bromley in the second division but are still in danger of relegation.

among skating elite two-goal advantage unfavourable tide

Edward Gorman finds economic ill-winds blowing a grand circumnavigation off course

Dierre Fehlmann thought he had come up with the ultimate solution to round-the-world yacht racing when he launched his one-design Grand Mistral race a year ago. Circumnavigating from Marseilles, it was to be more competitive than the Whitbread, more fun for the sailors and - crucially - much cheaper to enter. The key was that unlike the Whitbread, which requires boats to be built and designed by each team at huge expense, Fehlmann would make the yachts himself and then hire them to skippers who would persuade sponsors to rent them for the period of the race. The Mistral was thus to be more affordable and a better test of pure oceanracing skill.

But with six months to the September start, this brave new competitor is struggling for credibility and, possibly. survival. Early predictions by Fehlmann's team that syndicates would sign rental agreemonohulls early and in numbers now look optimistic. The Mistral has attracted only three confirmed syndicates - Ludde Ingvall (Nicorette), Grant Dalton (Merit Cup) and Marc Pajot (Marseille-Provence). After that there is a long list of skippers who may be getting the money together.

The race newsletter faithfully records many of those allegedly "showing interest in taking part", but a fair proportion have either given up looking for money or are concentrating on a Whitbread campaign_

At race headquarters in Morges, Switzerland, the atmosphere is tense. While supporters of the Mistral accuse British yachtsmen and media of jumping on the bandwagon to condemn the race as a failure before it has started. officials barely conceal their growing unease. Hans Bernhard, the race communications manager. speaks of walking a tightrope. We have got organised to build eight boats which is an enormous financial strain. Our commitment to the race sponsors and to the signed entrants is for eight boats — so we are just working on that which is pretty tough right now," he said. Bernhard blames the poor economic climate for the failure to attract more syndicates. There is a lot of talk and negotiation going on. We are making good progress but the pace has slowed since the beginning of the year."

Bernhard claims a number of groups are close to signing deals, including a Russian syndicate which last week announced support from Aeroflot and Vnokovo Airlines, a South African venture and one from Luxembourg.

≍..

16

However, if eight syndicates cannot be found, the organisers claim the existing entrants will be prepared to go round the world in a fleet of six or possibly five, so long as they are crewed and skippered to a high level. They cite as precedent the last Whitbread, which ended up with only three competitive maxis.

There may be a last-minute rush to claim the new boats but the omens are not good. Despite the innovation of renting yachts, the bill for a credible crack at the Mistral is still over £3 million. And many observers believe Fehlmann should not have tried to squeeze his event into the year before the next Whitbread but placed it midway through the four-year rest tive, the race has strug-Trom a British perspecgled for credibility against the Whitbread which, now on a one-design footing itself, is the one to win. The BT Global Challenge will also eat up media coverage and the limited appetite among the general public for round-theworld racing. The Mistral's cause here is not helped by having no British port of call. Nor is there a significant television deal for coverage of the race here.

In Marseilles this weekend Ingvall, the first to take pos session of a Mistral boat, which are being turned out of the mould at a rate of one every three weeks at a completed cost of SwFr3.5 million each, was preparing for his first test sail even though he does not know who the opposition will be But he sounded characteristically bullish. "The boat construction is the most critical area. If they stop building them, then I would be wor ried," he said. Ingvall believes five or six yachts on the start line will be enough and is impressed with the Farr-designed Mistral boat, which he calls "an unbelievable racing machine which is faster and meaner than anything else".

Ciniglio celebrates qualifying success

FROM RICHARD EATON IN PRAGUE

ENGLAND'S triumph on Saturday in getting both men's and women's squads to the badminton world team sson, a European silver medplace play-off matches has created glimmers of hope that years in the doldrums may come to an end.

The men's 3-2 victory over Holland and the women's unexpected 3-2 success over Sweden were achieved with six players making their debuts in either the Thomas or Uber Cup.

These successes have given me as much pleasure as any." Ciro Ciniglio, the team manager, said. "We did not expect to get both teams through. At last we can see some light at the end of the tunnel, and it is a bit of a fairytale to be able to finish this way." Ciniglio retires two months after the finals, which take place in

Hong Kong in May. The most surprising victories were those of Joanne Muggeridge, who won twice, having only gained the chance to do so because Joanne

Wright had gone home with flu. Muggeridge's 11-7. 11-6 victory over Catrine Bengtal-winner, was one of the best wins of her career. Two hours later, she and Julie Bradbury, who had never previously played together, beat Maria Bengtsson and Margit Borg

"When it came to it, our players had more character than theirs," Karen Chapman, the England coach, said. England's other win came from the hardworking Alison Humby, although the outstanding player, as she has been for some time, was Bradbury. Another notable success was achieved by Darren Hall. who played his best badminton for three years in overcoming Jeron van Dijk, the world No 21, 15-12, 15-6. The men's team joined Denmark and Sweden in the finals, while the women will accompany Denmark and Russia.

Results, page 35 on the last end.

Gourlay's inheritance realises title Kelvin Kerkow and Ian Schuback, of Australia, won

BY GORDON ALLAN

DAVID GOURLAY Jr. a member of a renowned bowling family north of the border. won the Churchill Insurance world indoor singles championship yesterday when he beat Hugh Duff, of Cumbernauld, 2-7, 7-5, 7-6, 3-7. 7-1 at the Preston Guild Hall.

In doing so, Gourlay, 29, from Prestwick, became the second unseeded player to win the title. Duff was the first, at Alexandra Palace in 1988. Gourlay's share of the prizemoney was £27,000, Duff's £14,000

Duff, 32, won the first set without undue delay. He started the second in the same vein, but Gourlay dug in and eventually claimed it. Beginning to show the form that enabled him to knock out Mervyn King in the semifinals after coming from two sets down, Gourlay edged the third after trailing 6-2.

Duff tied the match in the fourth with the help of 2 ditched jack for three shots. The fifth, like the first, was soon over, Duff missing with a drive when Gourlay held two television and wish I was there on the rink," Gourlay said. "It was the most sporting final I've ever played in. Hugh played some fantastic bowls in the fourth set to put me under pressure.'

played in the whole tournament," Duff said, "and yet I lost. I don't think I did anything wrong. David took his chances and all credit to him. He's always looked a potential world champion."

Gourlay leads off against Duff during his victory in the world indoor singles event. Photograph: Peter Lomas day, beating Gary Smith and Andy Thomson 7-5, 2-7, 7-6, 4-7, 7-4. It was Schuback's third success in this event. All have been with different partners and all at the expense of Smith and Thomson. "I tried my hardest for the £14,000 first prize in the pairs championship on Satur-

Spike's [Kerkow's] sake, Schuback said. "I wanted him to know what it's like to win a world title." "It was a pretty good match." Thomson said. "It's been a draining fortnight for me, but I'd have settled for getting to the singles semifinals and the pairs final." With the match in the balance at 6-6 in the third set, Schuback, facing a set lie, managed to score an important single. Smith and Thomson won the fourth with a treble at 4-1. Kerkow had two good lead bowls on the decisive end of the fifth set. Schuback put another in the vicinity and Thomson was unable to save the situation.

Ronald Gribble braves the bleak midwinter to join a Lake District course for mountain walking leaders

True grit and the making of a rock star t was just like the dawn of D-Day. Teams dressed in weatherproofs and walking boots kneit on the floor of the HQ, poring over maps with flashlamps and compresses. The time and compasses. The time 2200hrs on a moonlit winter's night in the Lake District.

Within minutes of being given orders they would be combing the surrounding woods and hills by torchlight, like a string of fairy lights. The mission: to pinpoint their targets. The reward: the first step to becoming a qualified mountain walking leader.

I was with a group of 32 men and four women on a four-day assessment course at Derventwater, near Keswick in Cumbria. Our first test was to show our skills in night navigation and to find ten white and red markers, the size of small box kites, planted over an area of about a square mile. I was there as a reporter, but the tension was real enough.

This was a game, but in real life the ability to find your way in the dark in the mountains can make the difference between life and death. Get lost and you could die of hypothermia. Take a wrong turning and you might fall over a cliff. The candidates ranged from an 18-year-old student to a retired headmaster. They included middle-managers, teachers, a policeman, a ski instructor and a former manager of a North Sea oilrig.

We were divided into groups I shadowed Bernard Townsend, a senior fireman from Bridgend, Mid Glamorgan, and Bill Deacon, a forner warrant officer who, after a 24-year career with the British Army in Germany, had opened a small hotel in Llandudno, Gwynedd. Both men, in their late forties, were joined by Geoff Royal, 22, from Rossendale, Lancashire, who had worked for the PGL youth activities organisation and helped with the Duke of Edinburgh Awards scheme.

A Trail valle

an ourable

ader is to bring your party back safely, whatever the wa ther," said assessor Mike Morley, an experienced mountain walking guide from the Isle of Wight, who took early retirement from a career in education. In the winter the light can fade very quickly in the mountains, so a leader must be able to navigate in the stumbling about in the blackness for two hours and the new batteries in my torch were beginning to run down. My first mistake: always carry a spare power pack

The markers were hidden in undergrowth in the hills, he of our team fell. "I'm OK," cried a voice in the dark on, time is running out." We shone a light on our map, took a bearing and checked our wanthes. Only two more targets to go. Then, mission accomplished, it was back to avoid losing points. Breathless and panting, I down by the jetty on the lake. over wire fences, in the middle of fields. It was heavy going in places with knee-high bracken. Branches snapped and terns crunched under foot. Pheasants scattered. Tree roots waited to trip us up. Branches dangled low, ready to poke out an eye.

base at breakneck speed to

By midnight we had been walking operations manager, still ringing in my ears. "If tomorrow some of you feel that this is not for you, and you want to go home, that's fine. Just say so. Your room-mate will be pleased anyway, because you probably snore. And we won't have to feed you for the rest of the course."

The next morning the first candi-"Don't stop., Carry date quit By the third day five would have left. They went quietly after breakfast. One man had tears in his eyes," said an assessor.

We nodded knowingly and moved on to the next exercise. There was no room for sentihurried to keep up with my Smoking was banned and companions, the welcoming brief of Andy Berlyn, the the bar was not open until the last night. From Friday teatime until Monday lunchtime, the candidates were put under pressure to test their ability to think clearly under stress. Their per-'By the formances were monitored from third day breakfast to bedtime and each indifive had vidual's strengths and weaknesses quit. One later analysed by the 14-strong team man was of assessors over cups of coffee until after midnight to in tears' gauge their poten-tial as a leader.

Their self-confidence, judg-ment and practical skills were tested to the limit. When they returned in the late afternoon, wet and muddy from outdoor exercises, they were assembled for a debriefing before dinner.

Black resigns on account of 22 ... Rxg7 23 Bxh6 Ne3 24 f6

4 NCL Chess and Bridge

International, February 1996

King's Indian Defence

White: D Gormally Black: P Num

There were no free periods apart from meal breaks, and often just time to snatch a shower before the next exercise, briefing or order to kit up and head for the hills.

"I sometimes think that we underestimate the stress we put them under," said one assessor, a former prison officer. "They probably don't sleep much." He was right. Many stayed up late to prepare for exams and interviews or rose early to bone up before breakfast

The early starts, actionpacked days and working evenings were designed to reflect the true lot of a professional guide, should they be lucky — or unlucky — enough to pass the criteria and quality to lead parties of walkers in

We spent the best part of Saturday on map-reading exercises in Wainwright country" in the Grasmoor Fells, plodding up sodden hillsides dotted with scruffy sheep, scrambling over razor-sharp rocks and finding pinpricks on the maps with compasses.

That evening, national park ranger, Roy Harding, an expoliceman and a former member of the Keswick mountain rescue team, gave us a crash course in first aid, demonstrated mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and showed us how to deal with accidents and how to survive in the mountains.

Next day we found our-selves climbing the 2,000fthigh Sail on a party management exercise and about to put the first-aid training to the test. Each candidate had to take a turn at leading, watched by the assessors, who laid on a series of "incidents" - with members of the party suffering mock heart attacks, broken limbs, vertigo or mysteriously going missing — to see how the "leaders" coped.

The obtimate test was: would The ultimate test was: would they be calm and considerate under pressure or become aggressive and bullying when faced with a crisis? After four hours of being courses are run by HF Holidays, a non-profitseeking company and a world leader in walking and special interest holidays. It is constantly seeking leaders of the highest calibre to join its 600 guides already lead-ing more than 10,000 walks a year at home and abroad. The company won a National Training Award for its leadership courses, which are in-tended for people who are fully competent in the use of an Ordnance Survey 1:25,000 map and compass. Courses are held in March, April, December and February in the Lake District. They have been designed for people with expertise in mountain or lowland walking who have the right attitude and motiation. Details: Andy Berlyn, walking opera-tions manager, HF Holi-days Ltd. Redhills, Penrith, Cumbria CAII ODT (01768 890091).

FACTBOX

The trio check the maps before a night navigation test lashed by driving rain and steaming in the sweat and condensation caused by my cheap plastic waterproofs, my suede walking boots began to let in water and my socks started to squeich. My second mistake: never go mountain walking without good gear. Then it was soldier Bill's turn to lead the party. He kept his head when fireman Bernard feigned a broken leg after falling into a ditch, wincing convincingly if anyone dared to touch it. Bill pulled a survival tent from his ruck-sack and asked three people to get inside the tent with the casualty" to keep him warm, while he sent a small party back to base to summon the mountain rescue team.

Six hours later we were back at the hotel for a debriefing on where we had gone wrong. "I made a complete mess of it. admitted one candidate, recalling how he had tried to put a suspected heart attack victim into a thermal bag instead of erecting the survival tent.

The bag had split, the casualty had got soaked lying in the rain and, in his panic, the acting leader had forgotten to give a map grid reference of our location to the party sent to fetch help.

"If you can learn from your mistakes, you have the makings of a leader," said Bob McFall, a tough American assessor who leads walks in the mountains of Scotland, "If all you can do is make excuses. we don't want you. It's that simple."
As we scrambled aboard a minibus with our rucksacks for the journey home, Andy Berlyn waved goodbye. "The pass rate is about 40 per cent." he said. "I'll let you know.

"I hope you all enjoyed yourselves," he added with a broad grin. Believe it or not, we had.

By Robert Sheehan, bridge correspondent

There are some types of defensive play in which it appears the declarer wants you do to one thing; just to be cussed, without necessarily having worked out the full consequences, it is often right to do the other thing. Here is an example, Game all IMP's

1 H Pass All Pas	21	ouble NT	Pass Pass		1 NT 3 NT
W	N N		E		S
		#A842 ·
		+K83	\sim	· .	7.
•		♥J 10 73
	•	464°.		٠	·
	± Q	T 2	- ♣J 10	0765
	♦AJS5		+92
	VAQ6542		¥8		·
	±82	7	. 43 1	975	•
		+K93			 - · ·
		+01074
		¥K9		- :	-
		±AKQ3		٠.

Contract: 3NT by South Lead: the five of hearts

This was a hand from the fifth round of last year's Gold Cup, between Cohen's and Nicola Smith's teams. West led a heart against 3NT, won in dummy by the nine. Now, short of entries to his hand, declarer (Dick Shek) tried the good shot of leading the queen of diamonds at trick two, on which East played the nine. It should have been clear to in the event West took the queen of diamonds with the ace and cashed the ace of hearts; on which East discarded the jack of spades. Now if West clears hearts declarer will have to guess the club position to make his ninth trick there. However West switched to a spade, so declarer had time to set up a second diamond trick and still had two entries to hand to set up a second heart trick.

West, after this unnaturallooking diamond play, what was going on. If South had plenty of entries, he would play small to the king, and finesse the ten on the second round. Hence West should have ducked the queen of diamonds, which would have scuppered the contract.

☐ For details of The Times Midland Private Banking National Bridge challenge, contact the event organisers on 0181-942 9506 or write to: Britannic Building, Beverley Way. New Malden, Surrey, KT3 4PH or fax to: 0181-942

☐ Robert Sheehan writes on bridge Monday to Friday in Sport and in the Weekend section on Saturday.

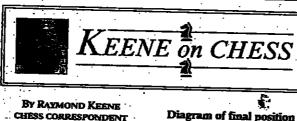

By Philip Howard FRAUENDIENST ... ABASIA a. Lechery a. inability to walk b. A hen party Arabic numeration

CHOUSE a. A bust-hodice

b. An underground grotto c. To disturb cattle

c. Impervious to kissing

c. Gallantry BANDAR a. Monkeys b. A hair band

CHESS CORRESPONDENT

Team chess The indefatigable organiser,

Chris Dunworth, the mastermind behind the Four Nations Chess League, has created yet another chess competition, the 4 NCL Chess and Bridge International in London. The object of the exercise is to give British players the chance to play for international master norms in formal contests.

After four rounds, the Lewis team leads, with 20.5, over the Sarratt team, who have 13.5. Sarratt and Lewis were both leading British players of the early 19th century. Two games follow from this event, which is still in progress.

White: J Richardson Black: D Okike 4 NCL Chess and Bridge International, February 1996

- N:16 . : e6 4 BgS 6 d5 7 .bxc3 . Nbd7 22 Rxg7

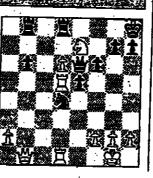

Bg7 d6 dve5 Ng4 f6 Exd6 Nxd6 Bxs2 - Re8 Nb6 19 CH4 Re5 Nd5 Black resigns

☐ Raymond Keene writes on chess Monday to Friday in Sport and in the Weekend section on Saturday.

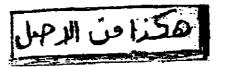

By Raymond Keene

White to play. This position is from the game Abrosimov -Ambailis, Latvia 1975. The black king does not appear to be in any immediate danger but, with a clever line-clearing sacrifice, White proved that this was not the case. How did

Solution on page 39

Jockey appeals against surgery ruling for chance to ride Alderbrook

Williamson awaits knife-edge verdict

THE quest of Norman Williamson to partner Alderbrook comes to a head on Thursday. when a medical specialist in Reading will determine the fate of his appeal against mandatory surgery to his injured shoulder. A recently introduced Jockey Club instruction dictates that Williamson must undergo an operation on his right shoulder, which he dislocated for the second time in a fall at Newbury 16 days ago. However, he has appealed against the ruling, as permitted in the regulation drafted by the Club's medical officer. Dr Michael Turner.

Williamson's orthopaedic surgeon, Michael Foy, found in his favour last week but the jockey must successfully obtain a second opinion if he is to ride Alderbrook on March 14. "Under the new rule, I should have headed straight for the operating table." Williamson said yesterday.

"My specialist has cleared me, so it all depends on what happens on Thursday. Obviously I'm hoping for the best. I am in no pain and the shoulder feels strong enough. I rode out twice last week and plan to do the same every day this week, perhaps with some schooling thrown in."

Williamson admitted to a sense of longing after he watched Richard Dunwoody guide Alderbrook to a majestic victory at Kempton on Satur-day, Running for the first time over hurdles in 11 months. during which he underwent minor surgery on both front legs. Alderbrook barely broke veat in dismissing Mack The Knife and Land Afar in the Levy Board Hurdle.

"It is always a bit worrying to see horses returning after injury but I thought he was very impressive," Williamson said. Alderbrook looked in a different league to his six opponents, among them Right

Win, who made mistakes at the last two flights before finishing fourth. Richard Hannon, who trains Right Win, said the rain-softened ground was against his horse, who will almost certainly be diverted to the Supreme Novices' Hurdle at the Festival. It was a day to forget for Hannon, whose months after sustaining ten-RICHARD EVANS be off the track for many debutant, Alriffa, will

Nap: NORTHANTS (4.10 Newcastle) Next best: Zamhareer (4,40 Newcastle)

don damage in the Dovecote Novices Hurdle. On an afternoon littered with Cheltenham trials, Vi-king Flagship and Zabadi, both trained by David Nicholson, endorsed their reputations with fluent victories. Viking Flagship's season has developed along contrasting lines to that of Sound Man, his principal opponent in the Champion Chase. Whereas Viking Flagship has risen from the doldrums at the right time, Sound Man re-

I am happy enough with him now," his trainer, Edward O'Grady, said "and I turned lame to Ireland after his Ascot victory two weeks plan to work the horse over the weekend." Assuming his presence at Cheltenham, Sound Man's encounter with Viking Flagship and Strong Platinum — the latter surprisingly beaten at Naas on Saturday - has the makings of a classic.

Zabadi confirmed his transformation from expensive misfit to leading four-year-old hurdler with his defeat of Mistinguett in the Adonis Juvenile Novices' Hurdle. Zabadi faces the runner-up on 4lb worse terms at Cheltenham but Nicholson maintained his horse would improve on better ground. Zabadi is a 6-1 chance for the Triumph Hurdle with Hills.

Other Nicholson raiders at Cheltenham include Percy Smollett, whose final-fence blunder in the Racing Post Chase may have cost him the prize. Given soft ground, Percy Smollett is to contest the Ritz Club Handicap Chase.

Barton Bank remains on course for the Cheltenham Gold Cup after running prominently to the home straight but Jodami, pulled up in the Greenalls Gold Cup at Haydock on Saturday, is almost certainly an absentee.

"Jodami gurgled for quite a way, which he has never done before in a race," his trainer, Peter Beaumont, said. "He was not right, although he scoped clean and gave good blood pictures last week."

The race went to Lo Stregone, who outgalloped Tartan Tyrant in testing ground to earn Grand National favouritism at 10-1 with Hills. The same firm quote Rough Quest, winner of the Racing Post Chase, at 14-1 (from 25-I) for the Cheltenham

Alderbrook and Dunwoody power to a convincing victory at Kempton on Saturday

4.10 Northants GOING: GOOD TO SOFT (CRASE COURSE); SOFT (HURDLES) 2.10 ROTHBURY MAIDEN HUADLE ($2,789; 2m) (24 numbers)

SETTING: 2-1 Celestial Rey. 10-1 The Bold Lord, Dowlines Ring, 12-1 Exiteration Landiniz. Hobidit., 16-1 others. 1995: FEARLESS WONDER 4-10-9 P River (5-1) Mrs M Reveloy 21 Apr FORM FOCUS

2.40 JOHN J STRAKER CHALLENGE TROPHY (Handicap chase: £3,680; 2m 4f) (8 runners)

Long handkap: Storay Coral 9-13, Heavenly Citizen 9-7. 1985; GREY POWER 8-11-8 P Niven (5-4 fee) Mrs 44 Revokey 10.com FORM FOCUS

DARK DAK best Cross Cannon 11 in 6-namer landicap classe at Sedgefield (2m 57, good to firm) on peralterate sort, Intelligence of the soft with CME FOR THE POT (1b better off) 34541 10th and SLIPER SANDY (1b better off) 34541 10th and SLIPER

3.10 BELLINGHAM SELLING HANDICAP HURDLE (£2,026: 2m) (19 rumers)

SETTING: 9-2 Pare De Vaise, 5-1 What Rose Of York, Jamons, 6-1 Transaction, 10-1 Pallegio, 12-1 Supr Decision, 14-1 others. 1995; OURET MESTRESS 5-10-8 A S Smith (10-1) W Bethell 16 (20)

FORM FOCUS

REVE DE VALSE-basi Nodioan-Viondar resk in 7resiner coerfiforeds setting handcap bonds at Sodpatieté (2m 11 tibyd, good) with JONOVE (6th better off) 31 and, WED RESSE OF YORK 32 and of 17 in Orchideres in setting fraedisap burdle at Sodpatieté (2m 11 tibyd, good in limit and practice at Sodpatieté (2m 11 tibyd, good in limit and practice at Sodpatieté (2m 11 tibyd, good in limit and practice at Sodpatieté (2m 11 tibyd, good) situation in conditional lockers bandcap hand (2m 51 tibyd, good) SUPERHOO 211 4th of Sod basis of 2 7th CAVIDO LAD 31 8th; SUPERHOO to 10 to Asspon key to claiming burdle at Notso (2m off) 6t 9th and JONOVE (2th better off) 8th 31th Selection: REVE DE VALSE (nap)

3.40 BELFORD HOVICES CHASE (23,100; 2m 4f) (11 runners)

BETTRIC: 8-4 Alfacter, 9-2 Ingletonian, 7-1 Coxi Weather, 8-1 Surla Bay, Callentoy, 10-1 Marra's Roscoe, 16-1 1995: HORUHANTS 9-12-0 N Dougley (8-11 tan) W Slovey 4 rao

FORM FOCUS

ALIADEER 61/4] 3rd of 9 to Thorston Gate in hundragy hardle at Haydock (2m, suit) on penulishable start. Security POLINTAIN 591 10th of 13 to Parsons Boy in novice chase at Kelson (3m 11, soft), COOL WARTERS 201 10ft, good to soft SUALA BAY best Lisables with 12 in 3-numer novice hurde at Martin 12 in 12 in 12 in 13 in 10 in 10

4.10 HAZLERIGG HANDICAP CHASE (E4,585: 3m) (8 runners)

BETTING: 7-4 Maked, 5-2 Seven Towers, 7-2 Northands, 5-1 Albertraryloy Chiel, 10-1 Sparrow Hall, Pans Gunner, 12-1 Twin States, 14-1 orders. 1998: TARTAN TRADEMINOS 8-11-4 A Dobbin (7-1) 8 Richards 9 san FORM FOCUS

PORTHANTS 71 2nd of 9 to Gameral Wolfe in Inzalicap classe at Catterias (3m, good to said) on partitionate start. ABERCHOMEN CHIEF thest coalish Boy 1751 in 9-more transical classe at Medica (3m 11, soil) with PRAS CHIMICA (4b hater old) 67 and SEVEN TOWNESS (4b hater old) 68 and 68

4.40 ULGHAM HANDICAP HURBLE (£3,534: 3m) (8 runners) 1 2-63141 CUTTHROAT KID 28 (V.F.G) (P. Sentil) Mrs. M. Baveley 6-11-12 G. Cahli. (5) 89 236-272 JAMMAREER 44 (C.G) (P. Sentil) Mrs. M. Baveley 6-11-12 G. Cahli. (5) 89 236-272 JAMMAREER 44 (C.G) (P. Senty) W. Stoley 5-11-8 P. Catherry 98 25-272 JAMMAREER 44 (C.G) (P. Senty) W. Stoley 5-11-8 P. Catherry 98 27-11 (P. Senty) W. Stoley 5-11-8 P. Catherry 98 27-11 (P. Senty) W. Stoley 5-11-8 P. Catherry 98 27-11 (P. Senty) W. Stoley 5-11-8 P. Catherry 198 27-12 (P. Senty) J. Catherry 198 27-12 (P. Senty) J. Catherry 198 27-12 (P. Senty) J. Stoley 198 27-12 BETTING: 7-4 Zeroteurez, 2-1 Collegent Viol. 8-1 Modele, Sareyol, 10-1 Modelen Squire, 12-1 Ezzeljan, 14-1 others.

1995: MALAWI 5-10-9 A Magain: (3-1) W Bethell 10 ran FORM FOCUS

CUTTHROAT KID best Bang in Trouble 71 in 3native landicap hardic at Ayr (2m 61, good).

ZAMSHAREST 51 2nd of 14 to The Last Fing in handicap laudic over course and distance (good).

VAYRIA 531 12th of 16 to Tuespole in handicap hardle here (2m 41, 50th PRENCE YAZA 251 5th of 7 to Peruvain Sale in handicap classe at Catterick.

Hammond lands six-timer MICKY HAMMOND, the Middleham trainer, completed a six-timer from 13 runners on Saturday at combined odds of 64.260-1. Marchant Ming and Outset began the sequence at Haydock Park, while at Musselburgh, Wise Advice was followed into the winner's enclosure by Master Ofthe House. Elpidos and Royal Crimson. Hammond's conditional jockey. Robert Burns, was due to ride three of the Musselburgh winners but broke his collar bone earlier on the card.

Citroën pulls plug on National Festival

POINT-TO-POINT BY CARL EVANS

THE National Point-to-point Festival. which was scheduled to be run at Garthorpe in Leicestershire on April 21. has been abandoned after the sponsor, Citroen, withdrew its backing.

The need to divert funds for the launch of a new car has been given as the official reason. The Festival organisers had no written contract with the French car manufacturers and its change of plan last week did not allow enough time to find another sponsor.

Any future festival now rests on event, which is due for presentation in May, but the organisers reported yesterday that they are keen to resurrect the

Andrew Parker's treble at the Berwickshire meeting on Saturday enabled him to reach double figures for the season and also to establish a clear lead in the national men's championship.

Riding in the Borders, a part of the country where multi-horse livery yards have yet to become established, Parker's first two wins were for the small stables of Barbara Eggo, who saddled Killeshandra Lass to win a division of the restricted, and Liz Johnstone, who bred and trains Royal Stream, the winner of the men's

This success qualified Royal Stream for the Cheltenham Foxhunters' Chase and evidence of a working party report of the areas the chance to witness Parker's the efforts of Di Stefano and Guiting talents.

The key to his chances of lifting the national title is the stable of Kate Anderson, who provided the final leg of the treble. Nova Nita in the maiden.

normally ride the 12 horses trained by his wife but is sidelined with a broken leg. The two men, who are close friends, nullify each other's chances of ever posing a threat to southern-based riders, who have numerically more chances of riding Anderson's absence gives Parker, 26, an outside chance of maintaining his lead until the end of the season. Polly Curling, the reigning women's champion, was out of luck at the Mendip Farmers' meeting, but Alison Dare, a former champion, rode two more winners affords followers of the sport in other at the North Herefordshire, thanks to Gray.

The late decision of Tim Jones to attend the Welsh border fixture enabled Robert Thornton to ride Sandy Beau in the men's open at the South Midlands, but they

THUNDERER

PLUMPTON

2.00 Regal Pursuit. 2.30 Equity Player. 3.00 PREENKA GIRL (nap), 3.30 Minster's Madam. 4.00 Lets Rumble. 4.30 Meant To Be. 5.00 Bon Voyage.

The Times Private Handicapper's top rating: 2.00 REGAL PURSUIT.

Our Newmarket Correspondent: 2.30 Andres Prince. 3,00 Flamewood.

GOING: SOFT (HEAVY IN PLACES)

($2,910 2m 4f) (13 runners)

2.00 GLYNDE HOVICES HURDLE

Curangs, 7-1).
MENDEP FARMERS (Casile Of Comont) Hunt: 1, Sayyue (A Harris, 4-7 Ian). Open Midn; It. Bayn's Story (Ma) G Wheeler, 33-11. Open Midn II: 1, Marrimy's Choice (M Miller, 7-4 Ian). Open Midn II: 1, Ower Farm. (D Denris, 5-1). Open Midn IV: 1, Missy (M Fetton, 16-1). Lacker: 1, My Mellow Man Milles S Volciery, 5-1). Open: 1, The Bird O'Donnell (T Barry, 3-1). Inter I: 1, Space Cappa (Miss S V Stephens, 8-1). Inter II: 1, Apatizar Hati (P Herriey, 5-2). Confined: 1, Better Future (B Potts, 7-1).

SINNINGTON (Duncombe Parkt: Hurt: 1. Miami Bear (M Haigh, 3-1). Confined: 1. Simply A Star (S Swiers, 5-4 lay). Rest 1: 1. Polynth (H Brown, 2-1). Rest II. 1. Era's Imp (Mass S Basicarville, Evens fav). Open, 1. Politica Pot (S Wittasker, 6-4 Jt. Total Levillee, 1. Armore The Leve Miss.

NORTH HEREFORUSSIERE (Mexicard):
Hunt: 1, Characteristic (Mass E James, 6-4 fay). Confined: 1, Di Stefano (Miss A Dare, 7-4 fay). Open 1, Garryhucas (G-Hanner, 10-1). Ladles: 1, Berkhead (Miss C Spearing, 9-4). Rest I: 1, Guiting Gray (Miss A Dare, 4-6 fay). Midn I: 1. Scarlet Berry (Julian Pritchard, 10-1). Rest II. 1, Lighten The Load (A Windle, 10-1). Midn III. 1, Right Rosy (R Jenkins, 20-1). Midn III: 1, Anythingyoulike (T Stepherson, 4-5 fay).

SOUTH MIDLAND AREA HUNT CLUB SOUTH MIDIAND AREA-HUNT CLUB (Heythrop): Hunt 1 - Causeway Cruiser (R Lawfrer, 6-1) Rest t. 1, My Best Man (A Hill, 4-1). Open 1. Bright Burns (R Sweeting, Evens fay). Midn. 1: 7, John Roger (A Charles-Jones). Ladies: 1: Phetoff (Miss S Dawson) Rest II: 1, Golden Nac (Capt R Farshawe, 16-1). Mdn II: 1, Tommy O'Dwyer (A Hill, 5-1).

7-2 Massar's Madam 4-1 Do Be Ware, 6-1 Desert President, 7-1 Fabrica, 8-1 Chamber Dances, Noble Insight, 10-1 opens.

4.00 STREAT NOVICES CHASE

SOUTHWELL

THUNDERER 1.20 Sporting Risk. 1.50 Bold Aristocrat. 2.20 Green's Bid. 2.50 Efipetite. 3.20 Square Deal. 3.50 Meltimison. 4.20 Dissentor. 4.50 Dancing Cavalier. Our Newmarket Correspondent:

GOING STANDARD DRAW: LOW NUMBERS BEST SIS

1.20 CAUCASUS AMATEUR RIDERS HANDICAP (Div i $2.048 7f) (11 runners)

| Color | Colo Mrs D Arbuthrot 7 Mrs. H Nooman (4) 8 111 409 BLYTON STAR 14 Mrs. J Craze 8-9-3 ... W Weayon (7) 4

7-2 Presm Carren, 4-1 Narricka, 9-2 Sporting Rick, 5-1 Hightheed, Dozen Innate 7-1 Fluntiert, 16-1 Brocked, 461, 12-1 others.

1.50 APENNINES SELLING HANDICAP

26: 06-3 BRDOKHEAD LADY 47 (D.F.C.5) P Evans 5-9-10 S Senders 7
102 1653 BOLD ARISTOCRAT 3 (CD.G.) R Hollensberd 5-9-7
F Lynch (7) 11 | Sec. | an inconstruct 9

10 PM McCabe (3) 10

10 PM McCabe (4) 10

10 PM McCabe

2.20 CAUCASUS AMATEUR RIDERS HANDICAP (Dly II: £2,048: 71) (10)

101 6-32 MY GALLERY 9 (0,G.S) A Ealery 5-11-7
Mass Biddger Gambousze (4) 5
2042 AMESOME VERTURE 7 (0,S) M Chapman 5-11-5
M Macidley (4) 4
203 0-300 MODORY 7 (6,S) Macc C Adlesson 4-11-4 Macc S Kellendry (4) 9
204 3850 KOMMANATE 17 (B,C,G) S Resemby 4-11-4 Macc S Kellendry (4) 9
205 3850 KOMMANATE 17 (B,C,G) S Resemby 4-11-4 Macc S Kellendry (4) 9
205 0920 MAREAMETROSE ARMAN 16 E Alaton 4-10-12 Macs Bland Junes 7
205 5044 GREENS SID 16 (0,E) D Chapman 5-10-3 Macs R Clark 1
206 400 JON'S GRICKE 20 (0,G) B Preces B-10-2 Mass I Bossed (7) 3
207 0-00 LADY WOODSTOK 21 (B) Macc A Employee 4-9-6 C MacCole (7) 3
209 0-00 LADY WOODSTOK 21 (B) Macc A Employee 4-9-6 C MacCole (7) 5
210 00-0 LADGER CEADER 25 I Clement 4-3-6 — V Lutarinit (4) 5
2-4 My Callery, 9-4 Americane Vertical 5-1 Jon's Chance 8-1 Kommaniae 10-1
Margaretrose Ama. 14-1 Modoly. 25-1 Green 3 Ed. 16 6-52 MY GALLERY 9 (0,6.5) A 22/MY 5-11-7

2.50 ROCKY CLAIMING STAKES (3-Y-0. $2,398: 1m) (13)

3.20 ALPS HANDICAP ($2,982: 1m) (9) $11 - 212 SOLLARE DEAL 14 (C.B.F.G) S Bearing 5-16-0 C Teogue (5) S
502 - 3-22 CALDER MENG 21 (V.D.F.S) J Erre 5-9-12... R Lapper 2
502 - 3-22 CALDER MENG 21 (V.D.F.S) J Erre 5-9-12... R Lapper 2
503 - 304 - 301 SEA SPOUSE 17 (C.D.S in Blanchard 5-9-2 R Adems 4
505 0-05 TWAN CREEKS 24 (F.G.) M Harmond 5-8-10 R Cochrane 7
506 0-60 PRECERTION POULA 7 (B) C Britain 4-8-3 D R Michael Cil 2
507 503 TELY DWIL 66 (G) 14 Horris 5-8-1 J O'Reifry 6
509 503 TELY DWIL 66 (G) 14 Horris 5-8-1 J O'Reifry 6
509 204 DOMENO FLYER 169 W: A Senthant 3-7-10 G Bardwell 5
7-2 Square Deal 4-1 Cafeto Kim, 5-1 O Factor 6-1 Set Sootee 7-1 obert.

3.50 SIERRA MADRE MEDIAN AUCTION MAIDEN

STAKES (£2,900-1m 4l) (8) 601 MEADOW FOODS 341 M W Exterty 4-3-10 M Britch 4
602 SO-2 MAUTICAL LEVER 17 M Unite 4-9-10 R Cocharae 5
603 SCELESTION 19 P Folgate 4-9-10 Thesis 3
604 BOWLAND PARK 271 6-84501 5-3-4 SO WARDING 2
605 30-5 FAP ON TODTISE 14 7 Wah 4-9-5 N Adams 1
606 2 MELTENSON 16 C Entum 3-8-3 OR Michael (3) 6
607 00-2 OVERSMAN 24 7 Hoperal 3-8-3 T Michael (3) 6
608 433 LOS ALAMOS 91 C Thoman 3-7-12 L Charmock 7
3-4 Meltenroon, 3-1 Operation 7-2 Los Alamas, 5-1 Neutral Jenes 7-1 obers.

4.20 APENNINES SELLING HANDICAP

	1	0522	AT THE SAVOY 3 (CD.G) T Parion 5-10-0 Kimber	ley Hart (7)
	2	U-00	FIRST OPTION 19 (D.F.G.S) 7 Sections 6-9-5 H B	estimen (5) :
	3	1506	DISSENTOR 14 (V CD.G) J Glover 4-9-5	G Carter I
	4	0-60	MESTER 19 1. 14-An Fra 4-9-2	J Fortune 11
	5	0.00	RUPERT'S PRINCESS 35 (8.5) M H-20-4-9-2 . S	Dromer 31
	ē		RERY FOOTSTEPS 23 5 Campon 4-8-11
	7		YOUNG BEN 94 J Warrangti 4-8-6
	à			Date Gloson :
	š			F Lydet (7)
				A Daty (5) 1
	ñ	OLOK.	MESS OFFSET 16 (BLD.G.S.) 18 Johnston 3-7-13
ч	l At	No 52	you, 9-4 Fiery Foctsteen, 3-1 Le Bat, 6-1 others
	_		- · · · · ·

4.50 PYRENEES HANDICAP

			T III TO I PRINCE
Ľ	γ.	Ο: Σ2	2.859: 1m 3f) (9)
	-
	1	42.	BALIOS 24 (CD,G) El Johnston 9-7 T Williams 9
	•	2112	DANCING CAVALLER 3 (CD, BF, G) R Nobesteed 9-3 F Lynch (7) 2
	:	-	BELLE'S BOY 48 (S) B Pallog 9-1
	3	A-11	BUTTED DATA OF DESCRIPTION STATES TO A COMMENT OF
	4	4-55	DERAE 35 T Barron 8-17 J Forsone 7
	5	491	MODRICUSSER TO (8) J Fragerald 8-6
	٤.	~~~	BAR LIGHECE PEDLER 96 C British 6 2 D R McCabe (3) 3
	2		BALTICISE LEGICAL SO & DARM D.C D Is also see (a) a
	7	-652	SUPAROY 10 T Mile; 8-2 J Culan 4
	à	n.a.	ONEFOURSEVEN 10 (8) S Bourns; 7-10
	•	A.A.	comment counce as a Shorter 7 to Chamer's 2
	9	ш.	CONTRACT BRIDGE 94 C Thomaton ?-10 L Charmock 8
			er, 3-1 Babes, 7-2 Cancerig Complex 5-1 Gapmay, 10-1 offers
•	160	3000	St. 3-1 County and Control of Control of the Control of the Control of Contro

3.30 BARCOMBE SELLING HANDICAP HURDLE

SOUTHWELL Trainers: K. McAuble, 5 winners from 20 numers, 53.0%, M. Johnston, 33 from 182, 18.1%, D. Arbuttmot, 6 from 37, 16.2%, Jockeys: Kemborker Hart, 8 warners from 27 rides, 29.8%; M. Birch, 7 from 40, 17.5%, J. Fortune, 22 from 140, 15.7%, PLUMPTON: Trainers; Mrs D. Haine, 3 winners from 5 nurvers, 60 0%; Lady Hernes, 6 from 12, 50 0%; Mass H Knight, 4 from 9,

RACELINE GREYHOUNDS 122 222 02

1996 NATIONAL HUNT 12TH • 13TH • 14TH MARCH SAVE 55 545 CLUB DAY BADGE SALES CLOSE MARCH 2ND - (01242) 225226 -CHELTENHAM

JUMP LEADERS TRAINERS JOCKEYS

(52,910 2m 4) (13 REPORTS)

1 0-35 CAPTANI COE 48 R Cotts 6-11-4 D Walsh (5) 86
2 0-34 DOUBLE JECPARDY CTF (8F) J Walsh 5-11-4 A Magaine 84
5 DF SES DEA 9 T Dea 9 7-11-4 R Johnson (3) P P20 JUTTLE GROWN (32 (6) D Cassel 6-11-4 J R Kommangh 98
5 8-63 LONZA VALLEY 52 (9) D Emotion 7-11-4 D Leany 60
6 PESSLAY HAZE 44F S (9) D Emotion 7-11-4 D Morris 79
5 A RECITE MAD 10 M P00 5-10-12 J Lower 87
5 ARCTED MAD 10 M P00 5-10-13 J Lower 87
1 C 40-5 MARTHS 9 (6) Miss (C Came 7-10-13 R Pichards 10 40-5 MARTHS 9 (6) Miss (C Came 7-10-13 R Pichards 11 4 RESUL PURSUIT 12 N Henderson 5-10-13 M A Fartyparid (8)
5 ELLE AND ROYAL 126F MES J Doyle 4-10-7 S Cames (5) 12 DESSO NESSCHO DOND 40 DER 9 S Mester 4-10-7 S Cames (5) 12 DESSO NESSCHO DOND 40 DER 9 S Mester 4-10-7 S Cames (5) 12 DESSO NESSCHO DOND 40 DER 9 S Mester 4-10-7 M Mann 83 11-4 Lats Revolut. 7-2 Some! Hds. 9-2 Opnings, 7-1 Calific Laint. 8-1 Admiral Willetenes, Mr Primetime, 10-1 others. 4.30 SCAYNES HILL MAIDEN HURDLE 2.30 UCKFIELD HANDICAP CHASE (Div | £2,134: 2m 1f) (16) (£3,480: 3m 1f 110yd) (13) (Div | $2,134: 2m 10) (16)

1 2005 GONE FOR LUNCH 10 Miss H Knight 5-11-7 . 5 F Ryan (3) 69

2 34 HARRY THE HORSE (1040 J Dix 8-11-7 . 6 Upton . 6 Upton . 7

3 PP SI-BAR 10 (3) Mrs L level 5-11-7 . 0 Limity . 0 Limity . 10 ROYAL HARD 12 M MEROPECH 6-11-1 . Mr J Collody (7) . 0 ROYAL HARD 12 M MEROPECH 6-11-1 . Mr J Collody (7) . 0 LORETTAS TREASURE 42 R O'Solivan 6-11-2 . B Point 6-10 REMIT TO BE 44 Lacky Herman 6-11-2 . B Point 6-10 REMIT TO BE 44 Lacky Herman 6-11-2 . B Limity (8) . 7 PID PRUSSIAN STORM 9 M Bradscok 7-11-2 . P Hothey . 9 PID REMITS NAME 149-11 . C Liberty 7-7 . 10 SURI SINGER 149F P Mether 4-10-11 . J Point (7) . 11 STEP MANA-MOUL 69F M LINES 4-10-11 . J Point (7) . 12 SAOS LE SURGER 14 G Brangt 4-10-11 . J R Karassoph 83 6 MATAMORES 12 G Harwood 4-10-11 . J R Karassoph 83 14 LE2 TRAGE HERD 22F (8) Mrs. 4-10-11 . J Lower 97 . 6 CUANSION 208F G L MOOR 4-10-5 . UR Absorber (7) . 16 SLLY POINT P Detre 4-10-6 . UR Absorber (7) . 1-1 Torgic Hero. 4-1 Meant 15 Be. 5-1 Metamoros 7-1 Espasson, 6-1 3-1 Scales Physic, 3-1 Scales 9-2 Regio Electry 6-1 The William 7-1 Moore 8-1 Accordance Sci., 12-5 offers. 3-1 Trayic Hero. 4-1 Meant To Be, 5-1 Malamoros 7-1 Equasion, 8-1 Ballesubelideo, Harry The Horse, 10-1 Malala, 12-1 albers. 3.00 CLAYTON MARES ONLY HANDICAP HURDLE 5.00 SCAYNES HILL MAIDEN HURDLE (DW # 52,116: 2m 1f) (16 numers) (12.17) CR 40] (1.5)

2 1-15 PREBINA GRIL 51 (BF,F.0.5) M-Pge 7-12-0 ... J Lower 94

2 1-15 PRAKE-RODO 98 (M.), BF,G.5) Mr. D Hame 7-17-17-17 Fibry 95

3 P15 COLHITAT STORE 466 (S) A Jones 7-17-10. J F Tibry 96

3 P15 COLHITAT STORE 466 (S) A Jones 7-17-10. J F Tibry 96

5 CS12 MSS BRECKELL 14 Mr. J Phone 7-11-2 ... W Marston 97

5 406 MERICES MILLER 12 (D.D.S, R Powe B-10-12 ... W Marston 97

5 406 ALCES MERICE 14 (B.C.S, M. Behar 7-10-8 ... R Genera 96

5 407 MERICES MERICE 14 (B.C.S, M. Behar 7-10-8 ... R Genera 96

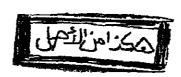

5 407 MRTS ROSE 24 (B.C.S.M. B-10-0 ... B CRAW 48

12 324 MBLIO MARY 30L 14 (B) 5 MRV 7-10-0 Mr. J Liberton 97

12 PDF SAYERLINA 11 R Bester 5-10-5 ... B Powel 69

12 SCOO PENTERCORD SELLA 10 (C.S, Mrs. Liveth 13-10-0 J Rollina 7-2 Mics. Disciple., 9-2 Frantis Em. 6-1 Country State, Hullo Many Coll, 8-1 Fernancial Francis Inc., 15-1 Striag-A-Pose, 14-1 Utiers. 3-1 Amazo, 5-1 Balazara, 6-1 Ashby MRI, 7-1 Court Johan, 8-1 Mell Valley, Bon Joyage, 10-7 Persbudge Place, 12-1 others.

BLINKERED FRST TIME: Plumpton: 2,00 Lidie, Chink, Nessur Dore 2 30 Tale Of Endurance 3,00 Young Tests Falmewood, 4,00 Testrada: 4,30 Ichma Southwell: 2,20 Moody 3,20 Pinkerton Polita COURSE SPECIALISTS

ATHLETICS

KELVIN HALL, Glesgow: Great Britain v France (GB unless stated): Men: 60m; 1. J Fohn 6 R2sac; 2. M Rosswess 8:70: 3. S Call (Fr) 8:72: 4. D Paros Fr) 6:84. 800m; 1. J Reops 20:88; 2. D Tumer 21,19: 3. C Chees (Fr) 8:74: 4. M Foucan (Fr) 21.72. 4. M Foucan (Fr) 21.72. 4. M Foucan (Fr) 21.73. 4. M Foucan (Fr) 21.73. 4. M Foucan (Fr) 21.74. 4. M Hydror 48:52. 800m; 1. J Viselenses (Fr) 17:42. 4. M Hydror 48:52. 800m; 1. J Viselenses (Fr) 17:51. 20: 15:00m; 1. K Chelcheman (Fr) 3:48:35; 2. T West 3:46;82. 3. A Duke 3:48:44. 4. P Blanc (Fr) 15:847; 2. A Neal (Fr) 7:58:84; 3. M Seehon 7:59:14; 4. I Galescie 8:02:86. 60m hundles: 1. D Philliper (Fr) 7:73: 4. A Tulloch 7:30. 4 x 400m; 1. Genet Brahan 3min 7:72:sac; 2. France 3:07:86. High jump; 1. D Grant 2:25m; 2. S Smith 2:26; 3. J Vingent (Fr) 2:28; 4. D Deichenbuse (Fr) 2:23. Long jump; 1. R Ductos (Fr) 7:88m; 2. Engue (Fr) 7:57: 3. S Phillips 7:47; 4. C Devidson 7:32. Tricle jump; 1. F Ductos (Fr) 7:89m; 2. Engue (Fr) 7:57; 3. S Phillips 7:47; 4. C Devidson 7:32. Tricle jump; 1. R Ductos (Fr) 7:89m; 2. Short 1: D Grant 7:32. Tricle jump; 1. R Ductos (Fr) 7:89m; 2. Short 1: D Grant 7:32. Tricle jump; 1. R Ductos (Fr) 7:89m; 2. Short 1: D Grant 7:32. Tricle jump; 1. R Ductos (Fr) 7:89m; 2. Short 1: D Grant 7:32. Tricle jump; 1. R Ductos (Fr) 7:89m; 2. Short 1: D Grant 7:32. Tricle jump; 1. R Ductos (Fr) 7:89m; 2. Short 1: D Grant 7:32. Tricle jump; 1. R Devid (Fr) 7:50; 3. D Fraser; 2. M Product (Fr) 8:10; 3. J J Seen (Fr) 8:37; 4. V Shomen 20:57; 4. D Fraser; 2. A Double (Fr) 7:50; 3. D Fraser; 2. A S Grant 4:21:72; 4. V Pongenard (Fr) 8:10; 3. C Amon (Fr) 1: 38; 3. J Devis (Fr) 8:19; 1. S Grant 8:28; 2. M Double (Fr) 1: 38; 3. D Fraser; 2. M Foucan (Fr) 1: 38; 3. D Fraser; 2. M Foucan (Fr) 1: 38; 3. D Fraser; 2. S Grant 4: 21: 72; 4. V Pongenard (Fr) 8: 9: 3. J Seen 9: 42: 7: 50m; 1: 10 J Levis 6: 48m; 2. L Frage Fr) 1: 38; 4. S Grant 8: 30; 4. M Brouse (Fr) 1: 38; 4. S Grant 8: 30; 4. M Brouse (Fr) 1: 38; 4. S Fraser; 4: 10; 4: 10; 4: 10; 4: 10; 4: 10; 4: 10; 4:

STOCKHOLM (Selected results): Merc. 200m: 1, J Williams (U.S) 20,00sec; 2, 1 Garcia (Cuba) 20,90; 3, G Moon (Nor) 20,94 1,000m; 1, Wilchelter (Den) 2min 17,08sec; 2, M Halid (Mor) 217,17; 3, V Matalowen (Ken) 220,48, 1,500m; 1, H E

12 Rent

London Irish 11 Wast Hartlepool 10 London Irish: Try: Ewington, Pens: Cor-coran 2 West Hartlepool Try: pensity try. Con: Parker Pen: Stripson.

sy: Try: penalty try Cor: Karr. Pens: Noninempton: Tries: Allen, Bayfald, Danison 2, Grayson, Thomeycrott. Grayson 3.

s. 110, 22pg, 5 dropped gods); A Kerr (Moseley, 5t, 5c, 24pg, 2dg) 110; M Jackson (Wakefield, 13c, 28pg), Triest, 15; M Alfan (Northempoon), 12: G Saety (Northemptorn), G Townsend (Northemp-ton), 9: C O Shea (London Inst) -8; 1 Corcoran

Pytide 15 Reading Fytide; Trias: Anderson, Gough, Con: Gough Pen: Gough, Reading: Tries: Hart, Hutson, Philipp 2 Con: Belshare 2 Dropped goal: Hill.

24 Harrogale 7

Richmond: Tries: Gregory, Greenwood. Con: Gregory Perus: Gregory 4. Harrogatis: Try: Zong. Con: Zoing.

Hossiyn Park 8 Morley Rossiyn Paric Pens; Holder, Maddo Morley: Try: pensity try Con; Gasyshon.

Rotherhem 13 Coventry 44, Rotherhem 13 Coventry 44, Rotherhem Tries: McFayre, Scott. Pent. Plant. Coventry, Tries: Crofts, Hornobn, Lydster, Reyer, Shepherd. Const. Angel 3, Pents. Angel 3.

22 Offey

Rugby, Tries: Burdeti 2, Mea. Coms: Ougranit 2. Peri: Quantinit Otley: Try: Lutiman, Pens: Rutledge 2.

Oties* 13 5 1 7 194 300 11
Harrogate 13 4 2 7 224 302 10
Feading 13 4 1 8 291 315 9
Rosslyn Park 12 3 2 7 199 231 8
Ryde 13 1 11 169 333 3 LEADING SCORERS. 168: R Zalng (Haropale; 3 tne5, 11 convestions, 41 parally pass, 2 dropped goal), 162 J Gregory Richmond: 31 24c, 33pg) 147: J Grayehon Morley, 31, 18c, 33pg) 147: J Grayehon Morley, 21, 13c, 34pg, 3dg) Tries: 8: E
Seunders (Rugby), 7: A Boyd (Rachmond), C Putics (Resident)

P W D L F A Pla 13 10 1 2 382 183 21 12 10 0 2 291 188 20 13 9 1 3 293 182 19 13 7 0 8 256 286 13 13 5 1 6 222 241 13 13 5 1 7 194 300 11 13 4 2 7 234 302 10 13 4 7 8 291 315 9 12 3 2 7 199 231 8 13 1 1 1 11 189 333 9

0 28 Liverpool St.H 36 23 Havant 20 23 Walsall 20 8 London Welsh 14 5 Exerc 14

F Example 144

P W D L F A Pts
12 11 0 1 293 132 22
112 9 1 2 337 188 19
13 6 1 6 201 247 13
13 6 1 7 245 281 11
12 5 0 7 260 240 10
12 5 0 7 171 189 10
12 4 1 7 182 254 9
12 3 0 9 205 294 6
12 3 0 9 205 294 6
12 2 0 10 147 366

Third division

Richmond Coventry Rugby Romerham

Fourth division

d. Pane: Charge 22 Waspe Tries: Dave Syris, Lloyd, Pane: Calls: Kimber 2.

Gregory a. 24 Harlequine 9 as: Gartoth, Kardorni, Conc. Harlequine: Pens:

Pilkington Cup

Courage Clubs

Championship

FOR THE RECORD Guerroui (Max) 3:34.97; 2, C Impere (Bel) 3:38.55; 3, 3 Zorko (Cro) 3:45.23, 60m hurdlest 1 C Heaviers (LS) 7.549et; 2, A Johnson (US) 7.07; 3, E Bello (Cuba) 7.73, Women: 400m; 1, T Chabylora (Ruse) 51.93eet; 2, 1 Trise (Roma) 52.55; 3, N Voronova (Ruse) 54.54

Wyelin (GB) 32. HOBART: Women: Skim wallo K Saday-Junna (Aus) 20min 13.25sec (world record).

PRAGUE: World team qualitying chainplonships: Thomas Curx: Third place play-oft England 3 Holland 2, (D Hail Engl.) bt J van Dak (Hol) 15-12 15-6; P Knowkes (Engl.) bt P Pelupessy, Hol.) 15-6; 15-3; P Bush [Engl.) lost in C Bruil (Hol) 2-15-4-15: C Hunt and N Ponting (Engl.) bt P Monteiro and G Bruystene (Hol) 15-10 15-0; S Arches, and J Robertson (Engl.) bet in P Michaels and Q van Joam (Hol) 10-15 16-18; Pinatt Denmerk 4 Sweden 1. Uber Cup: Third place play-oft England 3 Sweden 2 J Muggenidge (Engl.) bt C Bengtsson (Swe) 4-11; A Humby (Engl.) bt M Borg (Swe) 11-4 11-3; Muggenidge and J Brachury (Engl.) bt M Bengtsson and Gorg 15-4 15-10 (Swe); N Bend and J Davies (Engl.) bet Meanusson and C Bangtsson (Swe) 10-15 7-15) Finat Denmark 5 Fusica (D.) BASKETBALL

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION (NBA): Indiana 104 Charlotha 90; Clevelland 103 New Jersey 74; Houston 86 LA Laisea 94; Demar 99 Utuh 90; Seattle 104 Sacramento 81; Golden State 86 LA Clippers 80.

| Fifth clivision north | Broughton Park | 17 | Nameston | 17 | Presson G | 18 | Stemples | 13 | Sandal | 25 | Kendel | 21 | Stourbridge | 13 | Worzester | 21 | Whartedale | 25 | Sheffeld | 18 | Whartedale | 25 | Sheffeld | 18 | Whartedale | 25 | Sheffeld | 18 | Whartedale | 10 | 10 | 0 | 219 | 109 | 20 | Worzester | 12 | 9 | 0 | 3 | 379 | 187 | 18 | Whartedale | 10 | 10 | 0 | 219 | 109 | 20 | Worzester | 12 | 9 | 0 | 3 | 379 | 187 | 18 | Whartedale | 10 | 10 | 0 | 219 | 109 | 20 | Worzester | 12 | 9 | 0 | 3 | 379 | 187 | 18 | 18 | Whartedale | 11 | 5 | 0 | 5 | 177 | 17 | 12 | Presson | 11 | 5 | 1 | 5 | 177 | 17 | 12 | Presson | 17 | 5 | 5 | 5 | 184 | 181 | 11 | Sandal | 11 | 5 | 0 | 6 | 208 | 194 | 10 | Stourbridge | 11 | 5 | 0 | 6 | 208 | 188 | 10 | Nameston | 10 | 4 | 1 | 5 | 189 | 247 | 9 | Kendal | 11 | 4 | 0 | 7 | 195 | 209 | 8 | Uctrield | 11 | 3 | 0 | 8 | 131 | 216 | 6 | Stotle | 10 | 2 | 0 | 8 | 152 | 178 | 4 | Broughton | Pk | 10 | 0 | 1 | 9 | 110 | 196 | 1

Windows 19, Souther 21 Cremon Park Sc.
SUCINT WEST: Maldenheid 18 Bridgester
10; Melson 31. Bridgest 10; Stretows 9
Goucester OB 12; Silves 22 Sellisbury 13;
Toquey 22 Condeford 21;
MIDLANDS: Broedstreet 12 Learnington 12;
Herstord 17: Berlers Butts 23; Leighton
Buzzard 8 Windowshith it is Mansfeld 5 Button
17; Syston 22 Stafford 7; Workerheimpton 32;
Camp HS 24.

Camp his 24.

NORTH: Bectlord and Bingley 3 Hull lonians
32. Bridtington 18 Wigton 0; Huddersfield 21
Menchaster 21; Mecclesfield 36 Middles-brough 35; Widnes 25 Spokkon 17; York 3 W Pk Bramhope 18.

brough 35; wereal 25 stockeon 17; nor; 3 vr. Pk. Barnhope 18.
Pk. Kinkigton Shile Dr. Quarter-finals; Norift Newton-le-Willows 7 Medicals 24; Wellingborough Old Grammadans 3 North Shields D. South: Heiston 27 Old Anhanciean 23; Old Centralians 15 Enfield Ignetians β.

North Miclands. 22 Portugal XV 15 North Miclands: Trias: Bedcock, Paci-bourne, Wylde, Comr. Pennington 2. Pen. Pennington: Portugal XV: Trias: Calveo, Hoffman, Con; Viar Gomes, Pen: Viar Commerce.

(at Stourbridge)

Landovery 5 Newport 25
Landovery: Try: J Griffiths, Newport Try: R
Ress Con: G Ress. Pent: G Ress 5.
Dropped goal: G Ress.

Lienell 19 Bridgesd 15 Lienell Tries: G Evans, P Jones Cont Thomas, Pans: Thomas 2 Bridgesd: Tries: G Thomas, Howley, Con. Gristins, Pers Gritishs.

Neeth 17 Nee

Newbridge 13 Parmety 10 Newbridge: Try: Dentck. Con: Strange. Pens; Strange 2 Runney; Try: Abdul. Con: Mascri. Pen: Mason

Porthypficid 41 Managing 13 Porthypficid: Tries: S Lawis 2, Jankins 3, M Williams, Owen. Const. Jenters 3, Minester, Try: Gregory, Corr. Pearce, Pers. Peters 2

Ny: caregory: con: Prenos Petras Petros 2: Swarnese: Peras: A Williams 3: Carditi: Try: Walfer: Peras: A Devies 3: Dropped goals: A Devies., J Devies. POSTPONED: Caesphily v South Weles Police: Cardiff Inst v Dunwari.

21

Tour match

Under-21 match

Swalec Cup

Sboth round

North Midlands 9 Portugal XV (at Stoubridge)

Fifth division north

Fifth division south

Cone: Grayson 3.

P W D L F A Pts
Northerrotton 12 12 0 0 607 145 24
London fish 13 10 0 3 422 296 20
London Scot 13 8 2 3 288 296 18
Welthool 14 6 2 8 298 343 14
Welthool 14 6 1 8 291 338 11
Bectherath 14 5 1 8 291 338 11
Bectherath 14 5 1 8 291 338 11
Bectherath 14 5 1 8 291 358 11
Bectherath 13 2 1 10 200 295 12
Blacchheath 14 7 290 351 9
Northockell 13 2 1 10 200 320 5
Northockell 13 3 2 1 10 200 320 5
Northockell 13 3 2 1 10 200 320 5
Northockell 13 3 1 7 186 255 7
Northockell 13 2 1 10 200 320 5
Northockell 13 3 1 7 186 255 7
Northockell 14 7 290 351 9
Northockell 15 3 1 8 100 344 10
May 12 4 1 7 180 204 327 5
LEADBARG SCOREPS: 220: M Coronan (London last: 8 trees, 27 conversibles, 45 persety goels) 143: P Grayson (Northampton, 3, 50c, 8pg) 128: M Envirset, (Malantoo)
1, 11c, 33pg) 113: S Howard (Blackforsen), 2, 11c, 22pg, 5 dropped goels), A Kerr Lincoln (Malantool 14 10 200 32)
London Rest 12 20 1 10 20 20 5
Magnetic 14 1 2 1 8 121 194 5
London Rest 15 Old Malantool 14 10 200 32 5
Magnetic 15 Old Malantool 14 10 200 32 5
Magnetic 15 Old Malantool 14 10 200 32 5
Magnetic 15 Old Malantool 14 10 200 32 5
Magnetic 15 Old Malantool 14 10 200 32 5
Magnetic 15 Old Malantool 14 10 200 32 5
Magnetic 15 Old Malantool 14 10 200 32 5
Magnetic 15 Old Malantool 14 10 200 32 5
Magnetic 15 Old Malantool 14 10 200 32 5
Magnetic 15 Old Malantool 15 00 200 5
Magnetic 15 00 200 17
Magnetic 15 00 200 200 5
Magnetic 16 00 200 17
Magnetic 17 0 200 200 5

BOBSLEIGH

CALGARY: World championship: Four-ment: 1. Germany I (C Langen, M Zentherman, S Ruth, D Hempel, 3min 39.39ec; 2. Switzerland I 3/39 (6); 3. Germany I, 3/39 32; 5. Great Britain Al Tout, D Ward, C Rumboldt, L Paul) 3/39 69 BOWLS

PRESTON: Churchill Insurance World Indoor championships: First: D Grusty Jr (Scot) bt H Duff (Scot) 2-7, 7-5, 7-8, 3-7, 7-1 BOXING .

RICHMOND. Wrighte: World Boding Council and International Boding Federation Junior-middleweight championahip (Unix) Tany Norts (U.S. Incider) bi Vincert Pertusy (U.S. Inc Bit Undercard Hassyweight (10rds): Other McCall bt Clog Maskew roc 1st, Orin Norts (U.S.) bt Tony Tucker (U.S.) pts. CHACHOSNOSNO, Theisend: World Boding Council Unit-Syweight (Hampionahip (12rds): Serven Sor Jeaurong (Thai, holder) bt Artistno Perez (Met) 4th ko. CRESTA RUN

ST MORITZ: Georges Prade Cop.: 1, F Bernhard (Switz) 151 Bzeec; 2, D won Ribberstop (Ger) 159.16, 3, Count C E won Bismerk (Ger) 153.47. Gunter Sectes Challenge Cup: 1, C Bentichinger (Switz) 101 Disec; 2, L L Marent (LS) 102.83, 3 M T Pisich (Switz) 102.91 CRICKET

RED STREPE CUP (second day of tour): Kingston: Jernaica 222 (7 Powell 125 not out) and 85-1; Windward Islands 182 (J Sylvester 52 Brian Murphy 5-35). Charlestown, Newts: Leeward Islands 56 (L Hengan 67, 5 Williams 61; R Diracras) 9-97; Trinided and Tobago 290-8 (P Simmons 97, A Baltram 52; K Bentamin 4-00). Georgeown: Bartsados 216-8. (P Wellace 81, A Griffin 56) v Guyana. CURLING

PERTH: McAllan Skins Challenge Trophy: Menc Sern-Breite K Burtsyk (Carl) bi G Multhead (Scot): W Smith (Scot) bi H McMillan (Scot). Final: Burtsyk bi Smith Woman: Final: A Schopp (Ger) bi K Hay (Scot). GOLF

Heineken League

Second division

DURBAN: FNB Players' championship:

THIRD DIVISION: Postponed: Pyler v Blans.

Aberdeen GSFP 11 Dundee HSFP 32 Aberdeen GSFP: Try: Borraveld, Pens; Simmonds 2. Dundee HSFP: Tries: Gray 2, Hayler, Longstaff, Sandford, Cone: Tosh 2, Pen; Tosh Pen; Toah.

Biggar: 14 Ayr 8
Biggar: Try: Steel. Pens: Bruce, Levery 2.

Ayr: Pens: Yley 2.

Cambusiang: 19 Giannothes 28

Cambusiang: Try: Petenson. Con: Thompson: Pens: Thompson 3, Dropped goet.

Thompson. Gierrothes; Tries: Cameron, Fenguson, Grieve 2, Con: Moir. Pens: Moir.

2.

Chaimers 8.

Duns: Tries: Airacough, Buddey 2. Const.
Barton 3. Penet: Berton 3. Peneties: Thy:
Gray. Corr. Nisbet. Pens: Nisbet 3. Dropped goel: Renwick.
Glasgow H K. Sé Arusan.
Glasgow H K. Tries: Adarras. Caldwell 2. G.
Brackentidge, Hewides 2. Hirst, Hutten,
Wallace. Corns. G. Breckerwidge 7. Annant.
Tries: Graham, Pender, Renwick.
Glasgow Acadis. 44. Cartha C. P. 10.

Glasgow Acadis: 44 Cartin Q P 10 Glasgow Acadis: Triest Boundy 2, Casserly, Humphreys, Meson, 5 Begley, Sandforth. Cope: Strimers 3, Pert. Simmers, Cartin Q P. Try: Caltriey, Con; Milne, Pen; Milne.

P. Try: Cairney. Con; Milne. Pert. Milne.
Hewick 48 East Kilbride 6
Hawaick Tries: Gensi, Rerwick, Sharp,
Suddon 2, Weish 2. Corns; Weish 4. Pert.
Weish. East Kilbride; Pens; Davis 2.
Hillhesd-J. 20 Gordonians
Hillhesd-J. 20 Gordonians
Hillhesd-Jordanhill: Tries: Hastie, Philips.
Cons: Stewart 2. Pens; Stewart 2. Gordonians: Tries: Craig, Plenning, Gibb. Cons: Barrie 2. Pens; Barne 2. Unior extra time)
Kithesaidu. 84 Erfeithum Worten 6.

Kirkeskly: Triest Brocklebank, Cartitions, Forguson, J Mitchell 3, Renton 2, Const. J Mitchell 4, Pents. J Mitchell 4, Pents. J Mitchell 2

Portobello FP 32 Haddington 10 Portobello FP, Tries: Molotrokov 2, Smith 2. Pens: Freeman 4. Haddington: Try: Cringan. Con: P Hodgson, Pen: P Hodgson.

Cringan Con: Priorigson: Pein: Philodyson.
Sellicht. 10 Gale: Crises.
Sellicht Tries: Hurter, Nichol. Gale: Tries: Morcried 2. Con: D Changing. Pens: D Changing.
Sissuerty 18 Livingations 10 Sissuerty 18 Livingations 10 Sissuerty 18 Livingations. Try: Delay Pens: Teller. Pens: Teller. Pens: Teller. Pens: Teller. Pens: Teller. Services.
Trinity Acade. 57 Perthability 2. Conson. Pens: Pent: Thomson, Newton 2. Pent: Thomson, Vision. Conso Gerdon: McCusley 5. Perthability: Tries: Bown. Pens: Binney.
Willysiders/D Sown. Pens: Binney.
Willysiders/Drumpolity: Try: Dempsy.
Willysiders/Drumpolity: Try: Dempsy.
Pens: Hestings: Inglis. Corr. Deughty. Pens:
Carmichies! Doughty 2.
TENNERITS CHAMPIONSHIP RESIONAL

Carmichael, Douglisy 2.
TENNENTS CHAMPIONSHIP REGIONAL LEAGUE: East One: Currie 44 Museaburgh 18. East Two: Constriptine 15 Heriols FP 29. West: Wigtownshire 8 Stirling County 28. Kitmangook 30 West of Scotland 32.
CLUB MATCHES: Bonymeen 12 Ebbs Vale S6: Boroughmur 8 Newcastle 44; Lichfield 18 Weefieldh 7; Notangham 15 Sele 54; Oxford University 40 Trinly Cottege 22; Welterleid 20 Sarscent 13; Edniburgh Acads 51 Glasgow Southern 3; Kelso 67 Gargemouth 5; Langholm 10 Jed-Forest 38; Pleston Lodge 77 Royal High 7; Bectand 6 Heriteguns XV 22; Portypool 28 Abenflery 12; Tabach 5 Aberseon 69. Cancelled: Cryment y Yishadgynlais, Treorchy v Tondu.

em semi-linei: Middlesex v Surrey (at Steines, 730). CLUB MATCHES: Cardit v Bridgend

Maesteg v Claneilli Newbridge v Pontvigooi: Pontypridd v Cross Keys: Tondu v Nesth.

OTHER SPORT

RACENG: Catarrick Bridge (1.50); Leiceste (2.20); Lingfield Park (AW, 2.0). TENNIS: LTA Men's Setellite Master (Croydon); Texaco women's Challenge (Southempton).

WEDNESDAY

FOOTBALL

Tennents 1556 Cup

Third round

P.U. Johansson (Swe) 69, 75, 70, 71.

PACIFIC PALISADES, California: Nissan Open: Third-round acores (US unless stated) 206: N Lancaster 73, 68, 65 208: D Pooley 70, 71, 67, M Wiebe 70, 70, 68; 7 Lancaster 73, 68, 65 208: D Pooley 70, 71, 67, M Wiebe 70, 70, 68; 7 Lancaster 70, 76, 62, 104 Wiebe 70, 70, 209: P. Jacobson 71, 72, 66; 210: J D Bister 70, 71, 69; F Cauples 69, 70, 71, K Gésson 70, 69: 71; S Elsington (Aus) 67, 70, 73: C Stadler 67, 70, 73: 271: S Murphy 71, 70, 78; S Lewey 72: E8, 71, 212: O Utes 71, 72; 69; G Day 71, 70, 71; R Febr 70, 74; 68; F Mayler 73, 77; 72; 69; Winnn 67, 69, 76; Selectad scores: 214; N Mizumais (Japan) 71, 73; J Czela (Japan) 71, 74, 72; SYDNEY: Canon Challenge: Final scores

72. 1/2 70. 217: H Tarosia (Japan) 71. 73, 73. J Czolei (Japan) 71, 74, 72. SYDNEY: Camon Challenga: Final scores (Justimala unless stated): 278: P Serior 70, 72. 67, 69 290: S King 69, 70, 67, 74; R Allenby 72, 69, 70, 69; R Willis 74, 69, 71, 68, 281; P Lonant 69, 72, 71, 69; P D'Malley 70, 69, 72, 70; P L'Malley 72, 70, 70; 71; P L'Malley 72, 70; P L'Malley 72, 70; P L'Malley 72, 70; P L'Malley 72, 70; P L'Malley 73, 73; P L'Malley 73, 73; P L'Malley 74, 70; P L'Malley 75, 70; P L'

(Swer 64, 70, 74, 70, N Vanhootegen (Set) 73, 68, 67, 70; A Clapp (Eng. 68, 68, 73, 69

Take 1 Nation 10, 65° G Archie 70, 22; 3 Pa_J Cam 69, 93, M Hall 67, 71 OAHU: LPGA Hawesian Open: Final scores (US unless stated), 212; 14 Major 74, 70, 68, 213; K Webb (Mau 17, 60, 69, 214; J Geddes 71, 71, 72, 216; T Kerchyk 72, 74, 72, 217; M Edge 76, 72, 69; C H Koch (Swel 69, 73, 75; S Smyers) (Jusi) 63; 73, 75 216; M Morris 71, 74, 73, 220; K Hgo Lepton 74, 72, 74, 222; I Smotan (Japan) 74, 76, 72; K Davies (GB) 74, 72, 75; C Petros (GB) 73, 74, 75, 223; Woo Soon Ko (Kot) 71, 78, 74, L Bermenus (E), 74, 73, 76, 224; K Marshall 76, 74, 74, D Coe-Jones (Cam) 75, 75, 74; H Affredsson (See) 73, 77, 74, 226; Petral Sim (Kot) 74, 77, 75; K Lum (Jus) 73, 77, 76, 227; E Kruth, 50), 77, 76, 76, 74; A Fukushime (Jepan) 75, 76, 76, 226; M Lum (Jus) 78, 77, 76, 227; E Kruth, 50), 77, 77, 78, 77, 78, 237; H Kobsystsh (Japan) 76, 77, 78, 233; A Marti (Jus) 60, 72, 21,

ICE HOCKEY NATIONAL LEAGUE INF41: Friday: 8.4hab 7 Philodelphia 2: New Jersey 6 Mortreal 5: Tarma Bay 3 NY Islanders 2: (07)Pubbungto 5 Harbond 4: Wirmayer 3: Chcago 0 (07): Colorado 6 Los Angeles 2:
Caugary 3 Analesm 2: Becton 7: Economico
4: Vancouver 3 San Jose 1: Satunday: Detod 2 Tampa Bay 0: NY Hangers 4 Frontis
0: Monteel 7 Pubbungh 3: Daless 2: Torotto
2: New Jersey 2: Westington 1: Los Angeles
2: St Lous 2 (07), Boston 2: Calgary 1:
BRITISH LEAGUE: Premier division: File 6
Cardid 5: Nellon Keynes 7 Basspotole 5:
Shelfield 5: Neucastle 5: Stough 2: Durbam
3 First division: Chefmichoff 6: Eachdun 9:
Durdines 8: Murrapheld 5: Manchester 9:
Medietry 3: Passicy 6: Brackner 5: Peterbarough 16: Bilangham 2: Sethidon 9: Solinut
3, Teston 3: Golding 7:

ICE SKATING PARES: International burnament: Final standings: Merc 1. A Urmanov (Russ) 1.5pts: 2.E Slojko (Carl) 3.0* 3.E Millor 51: 4.5 Women: 1. M. Kwan (US. 3.0* 2. I Sussianya (Russ) 3.5* 3. J Chourset (Carl) 4.0. kee deneet: 1.0 Grischule and E. Patte (Russ) 2.2. A Krytom and O Desyambur (Russ) 4.0; 3. M. Arissina and G. Patterat (F.) 6.4 Patter 1. Y. Shishido Patterat (F.) 6.4 Patter 1. Y. Shishido Patterat (Naumov (Russ) 1.5. 2. M. Yellsons and A. Bushlow (Russ) 4.0: 3. M. Woetzel and I. Sleuer (Gar) 4.0. LACROSSE

SHEPHENDS FRIENDLY SOCIETY: Pre-mier divesion: Cheage 8 Mellar 8, Board-mart and Eccles 10 Heaton Memory 12; Cheacle Hatme 11 Poymen 5, Old Wasonians 13 Hulmeans 10 NORDIC SKIING

TRONDHEM, Norway: World Cup: Man (30km): 1. V Stramov (Kaz) the Bran 36-4set. 2. B Daehlie (Nor) 1.09-58-3: 3 A Protectory Flucal 1.10 16.9 World Cup standings: 1. Daehlie 950ps. 2. Smmov 831: 3 Frocusorov 449 Relay (4 x 10km): 1. Norway Rivang, Jevine, Daehlie, Alsgaerd): 140:05-3. 2. Italy 1:40:05-9: 3. Swedon 1:40:15: Women (Stein): 1. M Di Centa (fil): 13:28: 1. 2. M Mid-satoplass (Nor): 13:36: 7. 3. L estures (Russ): 13:40.7 World Cup standings: 1. Y Valbe (Paucs): 785: 2. D. Certa: 57:5. 3. L Yegotove (Russ): 580. Combined: 1. K T Apeland (Nor): 250m. 35mn: 11 7set: 2. H Mannien (Fin): 251:0. 392:7: 3. K Ogwarz (Jepan): 255:5. 58:52.3 Woold Cup standings: 1. Apeland (1): 20. 127: 2. Ogwarz (1): 20. 3. J Manielia (Fin): 921.

REAL TENNIS

SCHOOLS SPORT

MELBOURNE: World Championship.
First eliminator manch (best of 13 sets): F. F. Cheelt (Australia) leads. M Gooding (GB) 3-1 (6-3, 2-6, 6-4, 6-1)

ATHLETICS: Birmingham: TSB Schools indoor international: Boys: 80m; 1, A 54/s (Wales) and D Gordon (Erg.) 273. 400m; I Loutitan (Erg.) 50 78. 800m; B Levis (Erg.) 273. 400m; I Loutitan (Erg.) 50 78. 800m; B Woodkard (Erg.) 279. 400m; I Loutitan (Erg.) 50 78. 800m; B Woodkard (Erg.) 279. 400m; I Loutitan (Erg.) 400m; B Woodkard (Erg.) 279. 400m; I Loutitan (Erg.) 413 12 (meeting record). 60m hundles: L McRee (Erg.) 8 60sec. 4 x 200m; relay: Ergland Irvin 31 98xec High jump: G Dyoel (Erg.) 1 85m; Gregale High jump: G Dyoel (Erg.) 1 85m; Fing. 4 30m; Erg. 4 30m; Erg. 4 30m; Erg. 50m; L Ader (Erg.) 1278m Shot: G Allan (Escht). 15 10m; Freeting record). Malath result: 1, Ergland 45 524s. 2, betand and Scotland 27, 4, Wales: 1825. Gilvis: 60m; L Ader (Erg.) 7.70sec. 200m; K Canning (Scot). 25 42. 300m; E O'Sneo (Erg.) 41 48 800m; A Byrne (Erg.) 890sec. 4 x 200m; Elward (Erg.) 4 44 12. 80m; hundles: N Hodge-Dellawny (Erg.) 890sec. 4 x 200m; Elward (Erg.) 1 ESm; Long jump: F Hughes (Erg.) 5 50m; Shot: D Marghy (Irel) 10 46m; March result: 1. Ergland 35. 2, heland 28; 3, Scotland 24. 4, Wales: 13 FOOTBALL: FA Premier Leegue under-19 Trophy, Metseycide 4 Durtan 1, Northum-bertand 3 Greater Manchester 2. FA Premier Leegue Trophy: Northern Area

Semi-Pinait Merseyside & Durham: 1, Northumberland 3 Greater Memphesser 2, Inter Tomm challenger Bolgen 1 Dufham 1, Sheffeld 2 Mersheld 4: Bradford 1 Leeds 0, Hull 5 Chesterficid 4: Wirrsf 0 Wagan 1, Northern Merit League: Liverpool 2 South Chester 1 London Cup under-19: Suffeld 0 Inner London 7 Miller Trophy: Vale of White Horse 5 Gospon 2 Meeson Trophy East Berks 6 Mid Chon 0 London Crap Sheld Barking 2 Hackney 1 By League. Med Oxon 7 Enstel 3, Hereward Trophy under-14: South Notics 1 Noticingham 4 Meescry Trophy under-13; South Notics 2 Nottingham 2 Davis Trophy, Hull 3 Chesterfield 2 Alcook Cup: Vierham 1 Tameside 3 Alder Cup: Stockport 3 Chester 1 Northern Marks Bradford 1 Leeds 0: Liverpool 2 South Chechter 1 Merseyside Cup under-16: Knuby Knowsky 5 St Helens 1 Snowdon Cup under-16: Knuby Knowsky 5 St Helens 1 Snowdon Cup under-16: South Notics 2 Notingham 1 Kniby Knowsky 1 Vernon League: 3 Helens 1 Snowdon Cup under-16: South Notics 2 Notingham 1: Hull 5 Chesterfield 4. Under-14: Hull 2 Chesterfield 3. RIJGSY UNION: International metch. Wiles Schools 16 France Schools 7 Other

neid s; Satiot S; Liverpoor s; PIJGEY UNGON: Infernational metich. Wales Schools 16 France Schools 7. Other metich: Society of Si 6 Caldy 7 HOCKEY: Dean Close 2 Dauntsey's 0; Merchant Taylor's Northwood 3 Shiptake 0; Kings Bullan 2 Milheld 1

SKIING

SIERRA NEVADA, Spain: World championships: Men: Stelom: 1, A Tornia (6) (52.02:ac, 50.24) 1rm 42.26:ac; 2, M Retate (Austria) (51.35, 51.22) 14.257, 3, M vort Grubringer (Switz) (51.83, 50.96) 1.42.81; 4, A Zirsá (Switz) (51.83, 50.96) 1.42.81; 4, A Zirsá (Switz) (53.31, 50.17) 1.34.8, 5, A Midion: Sloventa) 152.32, 51.441 1.43.76, 6, S Arnez (Fr) (51.65, 52.13) 1.43.79 DNF: J Ormond (68) Wormen: Stelom: 1, P Wiberg (Swet) (44.6) 46.97) 1.31.46; 2, P Chaptel (Fr) (45.42, 46.90) 1.32.22, 3, U Hrougt (Slovenia) (44.44, 47.93) 1.32.33; 4, C Regiar (NZ) (45.35, 47.07) 1.32.42, 5, I Sakhermoser (Austria) (45.68, 46.86) 1.32.54; 6, K Andersson (59) (51.38, 52.57) 1.43.95 DNF second (ag; S Robertson (GB) DNF first log: E Carrick-Anderson (GB)

SNOOKER SWINDON: Sweeter Shop International Open: Final: J Higgins (Scot) of R Lawler (Eng.) 9-3.

SPEED SKATING

ROSEVILLE, Minnesote: World Cup: Men: Friday; 500m: 1, M Horri (Japan) 37 08cec; 2, J Inoue (Japan) 37 09; 3, S Nevchenye (Russ) 37 10 1,000m: 1, Sung-Yul Jasgal, (S Korl Timo 15 31sec; 2, Inoue 115 26; 3, A Sondral (Nor) 1 15 64 Seturday; 500m:

1. Surg 39 Dásec, 2. T. Kuronsc (Johan) 38 18, 3. H. Shimazu (Japán) 39, 18, 1,000m; 1, Y. Mayatae (Japán) 1mm 14.70cac, 2, Induce 7,14 73, 3. Sondral 1;1506, Warld Cup standings; 500m; 1, Hom 315pt; 2, Myebe 281, 8. Induce 241, 4. 1,000m; 1, Sondral 237, 2, G. van Velde (Hels) 194; 3. Induce 163, Worpert Friday; 500m; 1, T. Okazaku (Japán) 40 65sec; 2, S. Zhurove (Parsi) 40-58, 3, E. T. Hosseth, 190y, 40, 91, 1,000m; 1, Sondral 237, 2, C. Willy (US) 122, 44, 3, F. Scheni: (Ger) 123, 68, Saturday; 500m; 1, Okazaku (Can) 41.78, 1,000m; 1, Soneni: (Imm 22, 21) sec; 2, Hosseth 1,22, 31, 2, K. Shand (Lapan) 1,22, 58, Warld Cup standings; 500m; 1, Zhurova 355; 2, C. Laklay (Can) 270, 3, Horseth 244, 1,000m; 1, Soneni: Imm 22, 21) sec; 2, Noseth 1,52, 21, Lapan) 1,7mn 52,57uc; 2, N. Munshall (Can) 1,52,99, 3, K.C. Bouster (15), 152,99, Word Cup standings; 1,500m; 1, Noseth 1,38, 2, Munshall (2an) 1,52,99, 3, K.C. Bouster (15), 152,99, Word Cup standings; 1,500m; 1, Noseth 1,38, 2, Munshall (2an) 1,52,99, 3, K.C. Bouster (15), 152,99, Word Cup standings; 1,500m; 1, Noseth 1,38, 2, Munshall (2an) 1,30, 2,41,38

SWIMMING

LEEDS: British Grand Prix (warmers): Ment Freestyle: 200m; P van de Hoogenband PSV Einchoven) 1.51 95 Breaststroke: 200m; M Grand PSV Einchoven) 1.51 95 Breaststroke: 200m; M Whouda (PSV Einchoven) 2min 4 95sc Butterfly: 50m; J Hockman Standport Metro) 2 54 200m; J Hockman (Stackport Metro) 2 02 49 Women: Freestyle: 50m; S Rotjoh (Newcastle: 26 70 200m; S Herdcastle (Bracheril) 8:41 25, Breaststroke: 200m; M Baans; CV de Kempw, Hol) 1:13 61 Bachstroke: 200m; CV de Kempw, Hol) 1:13 61 Bachstroke: 200m; C Sche: (Esisting) 2 17 95 Butterfly: 50m; C Foot (York) 28 82 Medley: 400m; S Hardcastle (Brachet) 456 08

TENNIS

MEMPHIS, Termessee: Men's tour-nament: Serm-linels: T Hatrin (US) of M Philippouse (Aus) 6-3, 7-5, P Sampras (US) bt M Chang (US) 6-3, 6-2. RAWAI PINDI, Pakistan: Davis Cup: Asia-Oceante Zone: Group two: Pakistan 5 Saudi Arabia 0. Sausi Arabia 0.

ANTWERP: European Community Champlonship: Final: M Stich (Ger) to G venesavo (Col 6-3, 6-2, 7-6.

EASTBOURNE: Men's LTA indoor satellite tournament: Finals: Singles: O Seroyichev (Bul) to V Lukko (Fin) 6-4, 6-4

OKLAHOMA CITY: Women's lournament: Serni-finals: B Schutz-McCerthy (Hol) bit Europus-sers (Russ) 7-6-5, 3-A Coetzer (SA) bit C Rubin (US) 6-4, 6-4

ESSEM: Women's tournament: Final: I

ESSEN: Women's tournament: Final; Majok (Cro) bt J Novotna (Czi 7-5, 1-6, 7-6

RUGBY LEAGUE

Silk Cut Challenge Cup Quarter-finals Saturday

Salignor 20 St Helens 45
Salignor Triest Burgess, Edwards, McAwoy
2. Panapa, Rogers Goal: Blakeley, St.
Helens: Triest Gabbs, Hayes, Matausa 2.
Newtone 2. Northey, Perein: Goals:
Goulding 7

Bradiord 30 Wakefield Bradford: Tries: Bradley, Donohue, Knos, Loughtin, Medley, Scales: Goals: Cook 3. Wakafield: Tries: Devis, Whakarau 3 Goal: Davis, Alt; 6,519

miler division: Lock Lane 11 Heworth 12 Saddleyorth 13 Dudley Hill 6, West Hull 36 Leigh Miners Wellare 0. Leigh Miners Weltars O.

BNFL NATIONAL CUP: Third sound: Activorin 34 Brassmoutders 6. Bisons 18 Blackpool Stanley O; Devisbury North 10 Berrow Island 48, Eastmoor 34 Westgate Redoubl O: Egremont 40 Reckats 2. Haydock 22 Frizington 6, Nilngworth 12 Fryston 32 Middledon 12 Hulf Dockers 4, Millord 20 Weavenham 6: Millom 32 Rechiti 14: Seaton 6 Thornhall 30; Skutlaugh 33 Hensingham O: Upton and Frickley 66 Lowca 6; Wahrul Wamors 26 East Leeds 10, West Bowling 18 Langworthy 0; Woolston 38 Croshelds 2. Postponed: Widnes SI Mary's v Underbank.

Walvefield: Tries: Devs, Whelkersu 3 Goet Devs, At: 6,519

Halitar 24 Leeds 35

Halitar 24 Leeds 35

Halitar 24 Leeds 35

Halitar 24 Leeds 35

Halitar 17 Has: Arrone, Dean, Highton, Goells: Schuster 8 Leeds: Tries: A Roborts, Currumns, Hassan, Iro, Mann 2, Mortey, Goels: Holtroyd 3. Dropped goet: Holtroyd, At: 7,451

Hulf 0 Widnes 20

Widnes: Tries: Spruce, Whigh: 2 Goels: Tyrer 4. At: 7,618

NATIONAL CONFERENCE LEAGUE: Pre
NATIONAL CONFERENCE LEAGUE: Pre-

HOCKEY

NATIONAL LEAGUE PRST DMSION: Saturday: Guildford 2 East Grinstead 1. Yesterday: Barlord Tigers 1 Technigon 0, Bournille 1 Hourstow 4, Indian Gymithana 3 Hult 2: Reading 2 Carnooli 2. Southgate 5 Surbiton 2: St Albars 0 Centertury 3; Stourport 3 Old Loughtonians 3, Trojans 0 Havant 0. PWDLFAPE 13 10 1 2 49 16 31

Southgale 13
Cambok 12
Guildiord 13
Reading 12
O Loughtons 13
Reading 13
Contentury 13
Contentury 13
Surbtion 13
Barlord Tigers 12
Feddington 12
Feddington 19
Irogans 13
Bournville 13
St Albans 13
Hull 12 Slourport

SECOND DM/s(Oh: Saturday, Richmond A Branley 0 Yesterday, Blusheer's 2 Crostyx 3; Brooklands 2 Frebrands 2 Cry O'r 7 Protramouth 2 Isca 0, Ediplession 1 Glouds-ter Cty 0; Hamposlead & Westminster 1 Seeston 3, Oxford University 3 Doncaster 1; Shelfield 3 Otton 8 West Warks 2; Slough 0 Harleston Maggies 0. NASTRO AZZURRO LEAGUE: Premier

NASTRO AZZURRO LEAGUE: Premier League: Anchorisms 2 Chuckesjer 0; Beckerham 1 Ashford 1; Fareham 2 Long 0; Gore Courl 2 Wintbledon 2: Meidenhead 3 Bournemouth 1; Newbury 1 Wohngham 2; Old Kingstonene 8 High Wycombe 1; Oxford Heake 8 Old Walcounterns 0; Spence 3 Woking 2; Winchester 0 Lewes 1 Hampeshine/Sumey; Anchore 1 Puriey 4; Besangsiohe 0 Epeom 1, Beanched 5 Barries 3, Cheam 2 Solem H.C. 1; London University 2 Dullwich 1; Old Carrielephans 5 Old Edwardians 0; Old Mild Whitightians 3 Ceshott 1. Oxford 0 Cul Whitightians 3, Peersfield 3 Camberley 1; Southampton 7 Walton and Weybridge 1, Mildot/Bertex Buoks and Oxord Hayes 7 HCC 1; Marton 3 ETESSA 2; Mill Hill 1 Hendom 1; Malon

Keynes 3 Harnow 2: NPI, 0 Eastcoto 11, CMT 1 Brachnell 2: PHC Chewolch I City Ci Colord 13: Ramgorhia 12: Headington 1: Richnigs Park 6 Americham 2: Sumbury 0: Stames 2: Kern/Sussex: Berkedane 2: Bouley Invica 3: Herne Bay 6 Crawley 0; Horsham 3 Worthung 1: Marden Russela 1 Brighton 1: Michlenon 1: Blackheash 2: Mid Sussex 4: Old Becusharmans 3: Old Bordansms 4: Bedeyheash 1: City Holcombeers 1 Tunbridge Wells 3: Old Williamsonians 2: Tutse Hall 1: Severusaks 3: Boonor 1 Hill 1: Severoals 3 Bognor 1
NORTH: First division: Formby 4, Hamogate
1: Halitar, I. Meston 5, Norton 3, Timperley 0; Sheffield Bankers 1, Soutinport 1, Warrengton
2, Ben Rhydding 1.
DTZ LEAGUIE: Premier division: Bindgnorth
0 Belper 1, Hampton-in-Arden 0 North Norts
3: Hastome 5, John Payer 2, Khelas 5
Bloswich 2, Loughborough Student 1
Notingham 0
SUN LIFE WEST (LEAGUE: First division:
Bath Buccs 1 Weston-super-Mare 4, Bristol
1 Chellenham 1: Exister Univ. 2 Whichurch 0; Plymouth 3 Teuriton Valle 1, Robinsons 0
Svenser 2
ADNAMS EAST LEAGUE: Premier division. Hall 1; Sevendaks 3 Bognor 1

ADNAMS EAST LEAGUE: Premier division ADNAMS EAST LEAGUE: Premier division
A Bishop's Storted 1 Bedfoot Town 0: Bury St Edmunds 0 Colchester 5, Cambridge City
1 powich 1: Cerntandge Unw 6 Peter brough Town 4: Rebridge and Illord 1
Chelmstard 3 Premier division B: Clauton 3
Dereham 2: Ipowich and East Sutfall 2
Norwich City 6, Luton Town 1 Romford 2, Sudbury 5 Old Southendian 3; Westchit 3
Stevensed:

WOMEN'S UNDER-21 INTERNATIONAL: England 5 Russia ((Bisham). crigienti 5 Russia 0 (Bisham).
REGIONAL LEAGURS: East Cambe C 0
Loughtonsons 5, byswich 1 Berleytheuth 4:
Sevencals 0 Harleston 1; WGC 1 Seracers
0 West Bournemouth 2 Leomerster 3:
Rediand 3, Yate 1; St Austell 1 Colwal 1.
Wimborne 2 E Glos 0.
CLUB MATCHES: Challester 1 Col. Windome 2 E Glos 0.
CLUB MATCHES: Chelmstorid 1 St Albans
1, Poyrton 2 Crimson R 1, Reading 0
Tropins 2: West Bromwich 1 Pevent 1, Wolong 4 Exmouth 0
COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP: Zone one (Sheffield) Sheffled Lige 0 Manchester Lige
3 Humberside 2 LCL 2 Lanca 2 Cheshire 2,
LCL 7 Sheffled 0; Cheshire 1 Humberside 2;
Man Lige 1 Lanca 2

CYCLING

FREJUS, France: Tour du Heut-Var (1991m.) Draguiyan to Frejuch 1 B Bossandin (t) 4h Stron 28sec; 21 van Bon (Hoft), 3, T Hoffman (Hoft), 4, C Capete (Fr): 5, J Museeuw (Bet) all same time ROAD RACES (winners): Fareham Wheelers (Meonalche, Hempahre, 98 miles): M Rogers (Team Energy) 226-53. Caryon Velo Spring Classic (Bernoldswich, Larcachter, 44 miles): P Curran (Dottmun Perlamance RT) 1:50:30 Met-Devon CC (Bevey Traces): 37 miles): C Gilman (Michael Course): T Severs (Easter Wheelers): 49:26. Ceardificas' (Escendon CC): 128:40

TRAE-TRIALS (winners): Morth Road CC (Energial Course): 15 severs (Feur Wheelers): 15 miles): C Ash (Middinge CRT): 41:50 Andower Wheelers: 16 miles): D Astrot (Team Moor, North Yorkstrae, 15 miles): C Ash (Middinge CRT): 41:50 Andower Wheelers: 18:22sec. Team GS Metro 3:14:06 Las (Middinge CRT): 41:50 Andower Wheelers: 18:22sec. Team GS Metro 3:14:06 Las (Middinge CRT): 41:50 Andower Wheelers: 10 miles): D Arey (Feutherstone RC): 10 miles): D Arey (Feutherstone RC): 22:30 Northern Instant CF (Badycare-Templepantic, 10 miles): J Boone (South Denry Wheelers): 21:12 TIME-TRIALS (winners): Morth Road CC hardridens' (Escendon, Herlfordshire, 26 miles): G Busier (Morendod Paragon) 56/225eo, Team GS Metro 3:14-06, Lea Valley RC two-up (Ugley, Essex, 25 miles): A McCaffrey and S Howes (Fear Energy) 55/18, Ipsteich BC hilly (Otley, Suffolk, 25

FOOTBALL. (ack off 7.30) unless stated demotes all-tacker Endsleich Insurance League

loncaster v Fulham IEAZER HOMES LEAGUE Southern thision: Brantice v Enth and Behodere; hvodon v Weymouth: Tortordge Angals v keppor 1 O W; Weston-super-Meré v visionicoville Witney v Float T. JIS LEAGUE: Theid decision: Tring vigilow VON INSURANCE COMBINATION: First itesion: Birstor Rovers v Crystal Paleos; Tetsoo v Wattord (all Kingstonson FC, 7.0), Illihadi v Queens Patk Rangers (7.0); wendon v Porsmouth (all Williney Town, ONTING CENTRAL LEAGUE First d sion: Notingham Forest v Newcastle

On: Strained United v Marchastar United

Of. Socond disaster. Country v Aston da (7 0); Marstines v York (7 0). All (1 Of) Managers of the 1 of the Common Common Common Common Common Managers of the Common Common

OTHER SPORT ACING: Numerable (2.10); Pumpton (2.0); outback (AW, 1.20)

TOMORROW FOOTBALL .

FOOTBALL

FA CUP: Fifth round replay: "Port Vala v
Leeds (7 45).

ENDSLEIGH INSURANCE LEAGUE: Firstdivision: Barrasey v Milleral (7 45); Cystal.
Palace v Bhraingham (7.45); Girnsby v
Wolkerhampton (7.45); Luton v Reading
(7.45); Southeard v Sundelead (7.45); West Bromatch v Oldham (7.45); Seconddivision: Bournamouth v Notis Coomy
(7.45); Bradlard v Wrestham (7.45); Seconddivision: Bournamouth v Notis Coomy
(7.45); Bradlard v Wrestham (7.45); Bertford v Rotherham (7 45); Brighton v Bristol
City (7.45); Strawsbury v Crows:
Stockport v Blackpoot; Swarrasa v Walsall.
Tried division: Bannsi v Cambridge United (7.45); Bury v Wigar; Chester v Colchester;
(7.45); Leyton Orient v Bjanchouth (7.45); Leyton Orient v Bjanchouth (7.45);
Preston v Hereford: Rechdale v Lincoln; Scarborough v Mansfeld; Torqusy v
Cardiff (7.45)

SEMI-PROFESSIONAL INTERNATIONAL: England v Ireland (et Kuddermansier H FC)

BELL'S SCOTTSM LEAGUE First dis-minister H FC)

BELL'S SCOTTISM LEAGUE: First division: Dundee United v Greenock Monton.
Second division: Ayr v Clyde, Sterhousemuir v String.
TENNENTS SCOTTISM CUP: Fourth round replay: Forter v Airdina. FLUGBY LINION Kick-off 7.0 unless stated CIS COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP: South

FA CUP: Fifth round: Uverpool v Charton Athletic (7.45); Notingham Forest v Totlen-ham Hotspur (7.45); Fifth round replays: Southempton v Swindon Wimbledon Huddersheld Town (7.45); Cheisea v Girmiby (7.45). FA CARLING PREMIERSHIP: Aston Vitta v. PACADEMO TO TESTICATION (7.45).

PNDSLEIGH WSURANCE LEAGUE: First division: "Lebester v Derby (7.45); Norwich v Sheffein United (7.45); Stoker v Wastord (7.45). Waterd (7.46):
UNDER-18 INTERNATIONAL: France v England at Parts, 7.45).
BELL'S SCOTTISH LEAGUE First division: Durismiline v St Johnstone. Third: division: Altion v Caledonism. Disser.
Cowdenbeath v Livingston.

RUGBY UNION Kick-off 7.0 unless stated CLUB MATCHES: Cambridge University t Anti-Assessins (3.0); Outord University t

Oxfordshire (7 15); Royal Navy v Surrey (at Burnaby Rd, Portsmouth, 7:30) OTHER SPORT RACING: Taurton (2.0); Wetherby (1.50); Nottingham (2.15); Wolverhampton (AW. 2.10). 2.10). TENNIS: LTA Men's Safette Masters (Croydon); Texaco women's Challenger Croydon); Teraco Scuttampton)

Kempton Park

Going: soft
1.25. (2m hotie) 1. Alderbrook (R Dunwood), 10-11 isvi; 2. Mack The Krale (161); 3. Land Alar (7-1), 7 san, 3%1, 101. K Balley, Tote: 21 60; 21 40, 22.50. DF: 25.50.
CSF, E13.74.
1.55. (2m hotie) 1. Klimanicky (M A Pizgerald, 7-1); 2. Master Beweled (7-1), 3.
Genolo (12-1), Master Thes 5-2 tax 8 san, 4, 1%1. N. Henderson Tota: 03, 105, 22-40,
21-70, 22-80. DF: E17-40. CSF: 249, 73,
2.25 (2m ch) 1, Viking Flegship (A Meguire,
1-2 isv); 2. Danorag Paddy (13-2); 3. Soree
Cross (14-1). 5 san, NR Young Shugft, 7, 4. D. Nicholson, Tote: 21.50; £1.10, £2.30.
DF: £2.70 CSF: 54.03
3.00 (2m 4/ 110yd ch) 1, Dreborgie (C
Mauda, 8-11 isv/; 2, Inchealloch (8-1) 4 en, NR: Calisoe Boy, Sonor (8-6) 5 3.36 (2m hotie) 1, Zabadi (A Maguire, 7-4)

CSF: E4.65.
236 (2m hote) 1, Zebedi (A Maguire, 7-4 fev; Private Hendicappe, a top rating); 2.
Mestinguen (6-1); 3, Cur Nis (6-1) 9 can NF Min-Lou-And, Rising Dough, Scaret
Spring, 116, 101 D Nicholson, Tote: 52.70;
51.50, 61.70, 52.00. DF: 211.50, Troc
614.10 CSF: 815.72.

11.10 CSF 115.72.
4.10 (3m ch) 1. Rough Cuest (R. 4.10 (3m ch) 1. Rough Cuest (R. 5.1 (1.10)). 3. Egypt Mill Pinnes (20-1). 9 ran. Mill Loderni, Lusy Light, 1 Mil. 294. T Cassy. Tota: $3.80; £1.50, £1.60, £2.90. DF £5.90 (1.50; £2.90. DF £5.90 (1.50; £7.80, CSF: £11.44. Treast £131.05. 4.40 (3m 10yd hdg) 1, See Enough (A. 70y, 100-1); Z, Mole Board (7-2); 3, Seekin Cash (5-6 tay). 6 ran. 41, 51, R Buckler. Tota: £98.00; £8.80, £2.30. DF: £122.30. CSF: £373.91.

5.10 (2m Plat) 1, John Doumm (Mr P Scott. 14-1), 2, Marching Marquis (5-1); 3, Warner For Players (8-1) Peetsle 4-1 lav. 19 ran.

THURSDAY. RACING: Luciow (2.0); Notinghem (1.50); Ungfield Park (AW, 2.10). TENNIS: LTA Men's Safelifie Masters (Croydon); Texaco women's Challenger (Southampton).

FRIDAY RÚGBY ÚNION Kick-oif 7.0 unless stated A INTERNATIONAL: Ireland v Wales (et Donnybrook, 3.0) Donnytrook, 3.0)
UNDER-21 anTERNATIONAL: Ireland v Wales (et Wicklow, 3.0).
CLUB MATCHES: Askeans v Thurrock
(7.30): Bath v Newbridge (7.30); Bletha v
Cross Keys: Boroughmur v Waterloo;
Bostol v Newport (7.30); Cheltenfram v
Walcalt Cition v Berny Hill: Easter v Britings
(7.30); Gale v Northampton: Gloucester v Swanses: Nelso v Bertlord (7.30); Lisicaster
v Nottingham (7.15). Monriston v
Llandovery; Waspe v Coventry (7.30). OTHER SPORT

RACING: Newbury (2.0); Kelso (2.20); Southwell (AW, 2.10). TENNES: LTA Men's Satelline Masters (Croydon); Texaco women's Challenger (Southampton). SATURDAY

Michael Stich, of Germany, holding the gold and diamond-encrusted trophy he won after the final of the European Community championship at Antwerp

NP: Charter, Governor Daniel, Sounds Like Fun. 51, 31. P Webber Tota: £11 80: £3 00, £2.90. £4.20. DF: £251 10. Tno. £396.20 CSP: £170.16.

1.00 f, Marchant Ming (7-1); 2, Daily Boy (7-1); 3, Solatium (8-4 lev) 9 ran. 1.90 1, Morcell (1-4 lay; 2, Mugors Beach (3-1); 2 ran. NR: General Command, Sound Reveille

2.00 1, Outset (9-1); 2, Mariner's Ar (16-1) 3, Trickle Lad (11-1). Mouse Bird 2-1 lav. 13

3.05 1, Macgeorge (7-2); 2, Palosanto (13-2); 3, David's Way (15-2), Mandicat 5-2 lav 19 ran. NR: Jet Boys.

18 ran. Net Jel Boys. 3.40 1, Spanish Light (11-10): 2, Pitysevenchamels (10-11 lav), 3, Cheela (14-1), 4 ran. 4.15 1, Baffad Minstrei (3-1 lav), 2, Kaladnoss (3-1), 3, Noble Orange (12-1), 19 ran. Ni² Gale Force.

2.10 1, Liscos (5-1); 2, Sharmoor (50-1), 3, River Wye (11-9 law) 20 ran.

River Wye (11-5 test) 20 ran.
2-00 1, Mr President (12-1); 2. Rushrill (14-1); 3. God Spead You (10-1) Go Ballestic 4-9 tan 8 ran.
2.15 1, Reeganiseque (7-1); 2. Keen To The Last (9-2). 2. Barlord Sovetreign (13-2) Clareswan 1)-8 last 13 ran.
3.45 1, Veryvel (5-1); 2. Where's Willie (8-1). 3. Tough Deat (8-1). Lockwagrain 7-4 last 7 ran.

4.20 1, Cheryl's Lad (3-1 tav); 2. New Irin (20-1); 3, Star Rage (5-1) 14 ran

PACING

Placepot: £35.80.

(10-1); 3, Welston tev (ps/). 11 cm.

Doncaster

Haydock Park

FOOTBALL Kick-off 3 0 unless stated
FA CARLING PREMIERSHIP: Coverby v West Ham: Leeds v Botton: Manchester Cay
v Blackburn: Middlesbrough v Everbor;
Queens Park Rangers v Arsanal; Sheffeld
Wadnesstay v Mobingram Fones; Totten-ham v Southermotor; Wintbledon v Chalees.

ham v Southampton; Wirmbladon v Crestea.

ENDSLEIGH INSURANCE LEAGUE: First division: Birmangham v Sheliseld United. Deby v Huddensfield; Lumn v Crystal Pelsoe; Milwall v Wolverhampton; Portsmouth v Charton. Reading v Westerd: Southend v Norwich: Stoke v Barneley; West Bromwich v Port Vale. Second division: Bournemouth v Oded United. Bistillord v York: Brighton v Brentlord; Bristol Rovers v Shreischury, Burnley v Bischpoot; Cartele v Stockport: Notes. County v Hull. Perintomough v Cressieriald: Swerosin v Bristol Cay; Westall v Rotherham; Witchham v Cresse, Wycombe v Sumdon. Third division: Bury v Scunhorpe: Chester v Candit; Doncaster v Darlington; Fulham v Lincoln; Horstond v Northampton: Leyban Overti v Colchester, Mansfield v Bernet; Plymputh v Gillingham; Preston v Rochdale; Scarborough v Participol. Torquay v Exiter, Wigen v Cambridge VALDOHALL CONFERENCE: Alanincham v

VALICHALL CONFERENCE: Abrinchem

Southport; Dover v Heidesc Fernborough v Sough; Monecambe v Hedresford; Tellord v Siskytoroge, Wolang v Yfeling.
BELL'S SCOTTISH LEAGUE: Premier division: Aberdeen v Klimernoch, Celac v Hearts; Motherwell v Fathirk, Partick v Right. Flast division: Asie v Dundee u Interf. Cydebank v St. Johnstonn, Dundee v Dundenton; Si Marren v Hamston, Second division: Apr v Berwick, Father v Sternhousemum: Ousen O'l South v Cydre v Sternhousemum: Startmen v Hamstone. Third division: Albon v Arborath: Covelence in V Albon; East Sternhousemum v Brechin: Livingston v Caley This:

4.50 1, Puritian (2-1 lavl); 2, Strong Sound (5-1); 3, Rave En Rosa (6-2) 8 ran 5.20 1, Good Studi (12-1); 2, Anabranch (5-1); 3, Aumo Alice (14-1), Lotschberg Express 7-4 lav 18 ran

1.15 1, Prizeligiter (3-1 (-law); 2, Legal Lord (18-1), 3, Tremendisto (8-1) House of Dreams 3-1 (-law 10 ran (-la5 1, Ally Daley (11-8 ran), 2, Send King (14-1); 3, Judicial Field (2-1) 5 ran

2.15 1, Old Habits (9-4), 2, Monymen (9-4), 3. Copperhurst (33-1), Duke OI Perth 2-1 tay

7 ran 2.45 1, Wise Advice (7-2); 2. He Way (10-11 tay); 3, Barth View (14-11 5 ran. 3.20 1, Master Othin House (18-1); 2, Izza (11-1); 3, Glenuge (14-1) Torn Brode 7-4 tay, 8 ran.

(141), 3. Genuge (141) (int stoce 14, 150.8 ara. 3,50), Epidos (2-1 lav); 2. Siver Seeve (14-1); 3. Teejey nakch (7-1). 7 ran. 4,20 1, Royel Crimson (5-2); 2. Jubran (9-4 p-lav); 3. 7roy's Dietam (40-1) Personimus 9-4 p-

1.50 1, Cell Tophone (8-1); 2, Nivasha (14-1); 3, North Est (6-1) Charm Dancer 3-1 lav 9 can.

9 (an. 2.20 1, Princely Sound (11-8 lev); 2, Sunset Harbour (13-2); 3, Mystone Mistake (13-2) 7

2.50 1, Lifee Ram (7-1), 2, Ladybower (3-1 lav). 3, Little Scarlett (8-1) 7 ran NR-Rubedub

Rubedub 3.25 1, Emant (2-1 (t-tav); 2, French Ginger (2-1 (t-tav); 3, Dontean (16-1), 11 ran. 3.55 1, Cirewat (6-4 tav); 2, Loveyoumilions (6-1); 3, Berge (5-1) 7 ran. 4.20 1, Jareab (7-4 tav), 2, Cotendge (11-1); 3, Yougo (9-2), Voren. 5,00 1, Super Berz (95-40), 2, Mask Flower (7-4 tav), 3, Apolio Red (16-1), 7 ran.

Musselburgh

Lingfield Park

rling v Brechin, Livingston v Caley This; iss County v Queen's Park. RUGBY UNION FIVE NATIONS CHAMPIONSHIP: frebrid v Wales (at Landowne Road, 3.0); Scotland v England (at Munayfield, 3.0). A INTERNATIONAL: tally v England (at Laquita, 2.0) COURAGE CLUBS CHAMPIONSHIP:
Third division: Rosslyn Park v Coverby

OTHER SPORT

BASKETBALL: Budwelser League. Derby v
Tharnes Valley (8.0): Lecester v
Bammigham (7.30); Manchester v Doncoster (7.30); Worthing v Newcaste (8.0).

BOWLS: English women's indeer championships (Southampion)
BOWSNS: World Storag Council supermiddleweight chempionship: Nigel Benn (litind, holder) v Thulana "Sugar Boy" Malings (SAI: World Boding Association super-middleweight chempionship: France
Litins (U.S. notien) v Tim Littles (U.S.) (Newcaste Arena).

RACING: Newbury (1 01; Doncester (1.56); Lingfield Park (AW, 2 10), Wolverhampton (AW, 7.0). TENNIS: Teraco women's Challenge SUNDAY FOOTBALL

FA CARLING PREMIERSHIP: LAWFOOD Aston Vilia (4.0) ENDSLEIGH INSURANCE LEAGUÉ: First division: Grmsby v Sunderland; Ipswich : Laicester: Oldham v Tranmere BELL'S SCOTTISH LEAGUE: Pre division: Hibernian v Rangers.

RUGBY UNION HUGEY UNION

CIC LINDER-21 DIVISIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP: London and South East v North (at Imber Court, 2:30); South West v Midlands dt Bridgwater).

WOMEN'S HOME NATIONS CHAMPIONSHIP: treand v Wates (Blackrock College); Scotland v England (Boroughmun) OTHER SPORT

OTHER SPORT

ATHLETICS: British world championship cross country trails (Ashington)
BASKETBALL: Classer Cole National Cup Final: London v Sheffled (at Sheffled Arena, 430) Budweser League Doncaster v Worthing (5.30); Leopards v
Chester (5.0)
BOWLS; English women's Indeer championships (Southernoton)
TEMMS: Urean unempty Challenger TEXNOS; Texaco women's (Southernpton)

THE WESTIMES SPORTS SERVICE RACING Commentary Call 0891 500 123

Results Call 0891 100 123

> CRICKET Reports and scores from the World Cup

Call 0891 881 461 FOOTBALL

Reports and scores from the Endsleigh Insurance League Call 0839 555 512

Calls cost 39p per min cheap rate, 49p per min at all other times

. .

Human Rights Law Report

Breach in detention during pleasure provisions

Hussain v United Kingdom (Case No $5/1994/502/584) Singh v United Kingdom (Case No 56/1994/503/585)

Belore R. Ryssdal, President and Judges F. Golcukhi, R Macdonald, A. Spielman, N. Valticos, E. Palm, F. Bigi, Sir John Freeland and P.

Registrar H. Petzoki

[Judgment February 21] The European Court of Human Rights held, unanimously, that there had been a violation of article 5.4 of the European Convention on Human Rights in that the applicants, who had both been senenced to be detained during her Majesty's pleasure, were unable to have the lawulness of their continued detention reviewed by a court. Article 5.4 of the Convention provides: "Everyone who is deprived of his liberty by arrest or detention shall be entitled to take proceedings by which the lawfulness of his detention shall be decided speedily by a court and his release ordered if the detention is not lawful." Section 53(1) of the Children and Young Persons Act 1933, as amended, provides:

"A person convicted of an offence who appears to the court to have been under the age of eighteen years at the time the offence was committed shall not, if he is convicted of murder, be set to imprisonment for life, nor shall sentence of death be pronounced on or recorded against any such person; but in lieu thereof the court shall sentence him to be detained during her Majesty's pleasure and, if so sentenced he shall be liable to be detained in such a place and under such conditions as the secretary of state

European Commission of Human Rights, as follows:

Hussain v United Kingdom in 1978 Mr Abed Hussain, then aged 16, was convicted of the nurder of his younger brother and sentenced to be detained during her Majesty's pleasure, pursuant to section 53(I) of the 1933 Act. The Parole Board considered whether or not to recommend the applicant's release on four At the first review in December 1986 the applicant had no opportunity to see the reports considered by the board or to appear before it.

At the second review in 1990 the Home Secretary rejected the board's recommendation to transfer the applicant to open con-ditions. Again the applicant did not see the reports befor the board and was not heard by the board. He was not given any reasons for the decisions taken. In December 1992 the board's recommendation that the applicant be transferred to open conditions was again rejected by the secretary of state. The ap-plicant was informed of the decision in March 1993.

The applicant then applied for judicial review on the ground that he had a right to disclosure of reports. The application was with-drawn in October 1993 following the board's undertaking to re-consider the case and to allow the applicant to see his file.

In January 1994 the secretary of state accepted the board's recommendation that the annifcant be conditions.

Singh v United Kingdom In 1973 Mr Prem Singh, then aged 15, was convicted of the rder of a woman aged 72 and her Majesty's pleasure pursuant to he had not accepted the section 53(I). He was released on licence in 1990.

On March 21, 1991 the applicant's licence was revoked by the secretary of state on the ommendation of the Parole Board. The board considered that he had lied to his supervising officers and that the circumstances which had given rise to his arrest for several offences of fraud and threatening behaviour showed that it was not feasible for him to be supervised in the community. The Parole Board accepted representations from the applicant but did not permit him to see various police and probation office reports. On December 19, 1991 the board decided not to reccomend

After the new criminal changes had been dropped on technical grounds, the board reconsidered the case but on July 30, 1992 reached the same conclusion.

Again the applicant was not shown

On April 7, 1993 the Oueen's Bench Divisional Court quasher the Parole Board's decision of December 19, 1991 because of the failure to disclose all the documents to the applicant (The Times April 27, 1993).

The board reconsidered the case. The board reconsidered the case, allowing the applicant to see the reports and to make detailed submissions rebutting the allegations against him but without holding an oral hearing. On June 18, 1993 the board, while accepting that the applicant had satisfactorily explained some matters of concern decided into the property. concern, decided nto to recom-

In 1994 the board recommended that the applicant be released but on July 21, 1994 the secretary of Both cases

Mr Hussein and Mr Singh applied to the Commission on March 31, 1993 and January 25, 1994 respectively. Relying on arti-cle 5.4 of the Convention, they complained, among other things, that they had not been able to bring the matter of their continued detention before a court satisfying the requirements of that provision The applications were declared admissible on June 30, 1994.

Having attempted unsuccess fully to secure a friendly settle-ment, the Commission drew up reports on October II, 1994 in which it established the facts and expressed the unanimous opinion that there had been a violation of the Convention in both cases.

In two separate judgments, the European Court of Human Rights heid as follows:

I Scope of the case In their memorials to the Court and at the hearings the applicants complained of the secretive and unfair manner in which their tariff period had been established. The Court noted that that partifcular complaint was not dealt with by the Commission in its report or admissibility decision and that, as pointed out by the delegate of the Commission, it was uncertain whether it could be regarded as falling within the compass of the case before the Court as delimited by the Commission's decision on admissibility: see, inter alia, Powell and Rayner's United Kingom (The Times February 22, 1990; 1990 Series A No 172 pl3 paragraph 29). In any event, given the fact that the applicants' punitive periods consider it necessary to examine. that complaint.

The score of the case before the Court was therefore confined to the issues under article 5.4 raised in connection with the applicants current situation, that is post-tariff

II Alleged breach of article 54 A Whether the requisite judicial coutrol was incorporated in the original conviction.

The central issue before the Court was whether a sentence of detention during her Majesty's pleasure, given its nature and purpose should be assimilated to a mandatory life sentence or to a discretionary life sentence. In dealing with that issue the Court had therefore to decide whether the substance of a sentence of detention under section 53 more closely related to that at the more cassely related to that at the heart of the cases of Weeks v United Kingdom (The Times-March 5, 1987; 1987 Series A No 114) and Thynne, Wilson and Gunnell v United Kingdom (The Times December 10, 1990; 1990 Series A No 190) or to that of Wynne v United Kingdom (The Times October 11, 1994; 1994 Series

A No 294). The applicants had been sen-tenced to be detained during her Majesty's pleasure because of their young age. Their sentences contained a fixed punitive period and an indeterminate term of ntion, which could only be justified by considerations based on the need to protect the public.
Those considerations, centred on an assessment of the applicar character and mental state, had of necessity to take into account any nts in their personality and attitude as they grew older.

The facts were established by the sentenced to be detained during state informed the applicant that had now expired, the Court did not be treated as having foriented their liberty for the rest of their lives: a situation which might give rise to questions under article 3 of the Convention on inhuman punishment

The applicants' sentences, after the expiry of their tariffs, therefore were more comparable to discretionary life sentences than to mandatory life sentences in that new issues of lawfulness might arise in the course of detention, or re-detention after revocation of his life licence in the case of Singh, and the applicants were entitled under article 5.4 to take proceedings to court at reasonable intervals.

The Court recalled that article 5.4 did not guarantee a right to judicial control of such scope as to of the case, including questions of expediency, to substitute its own discretion for that of the decision-

The review should, nevertheless

B Whether available remedies tisfied requirements of article be wide enough to bear on those conditions which, according to the Convention, were essential for the eavin description of a person sub-ject to the special type of depriva-tion of liberty ordered against the applicant: see, inter alia. Weeks (p29, paragraph 59); E v Norway (No 1) (1990 Series A No 181 p2). paragraph 50) and Thynne, Wilson and Gunnell (p30 paragraph 79). As in Thynne, Wilson and Cunnell (p 20 paragraph 80) and despite the new policy allowing persons detained under section 53 the opportunity to see the material before the Parole Board, the Court saw no reason to depart from its findings in the case of Weeks

(pp29-33 paragraphs 50-69) that the Parole Board did not satisfy the requirements of article 5.4. Indeed to the extent to which the Parole Board could not order the release of a prisoner that was not contested by the government. However, the lack of adversarial proceedings before the Parole Board also prevented it from being regarded as a court or court-like body for the purposes of article 5.4. The Court recalled in that context that, in matters of such critical raportance as the deprivation of liberty and where questions arose which involved, for example, an assessment of an applicant's character or mental state, it had held that it might be essential to the fairness of the proceedings that the applicant be present at an oral bearing: see, mutatis mutandis, Kramzow v Austria 4993 Series A

No 268-B p45 paragraph 67). The Court was of the view that, situations such as those of the applicants, where a substantia term of imprisonment could be at stake and where characteristics pertaining to their personality and level of maturity were of im-portance in deciding on their ngerousness, article 5.4 required an oral hearing in the context of an adversarial procedure involving legal representation and the possibility of calling and question-

It was not an answer to that requirement that the applicants might have been able to obtain oral hearings by instituting proceedings for judicial review. In the first place, article 5.4 presupposed the existence of a procesup requirements without the necessity of instituting separate legal proceedings in order to bring it delegate of the Commis Court was not convinced that the applicants' possibility of obtaining an oral hearing by way of proceedings for judicial review was sufficiently certain to be regarded assatisfying the requirements of arti-cle 5.4 of the Convention. Recapitulation

In conclusion, the Court foundunanimously, in both-cases, that-there had been a violation of article 5.4 to the Convention in that the applicants, after the expiry of their tariff, were unable to bring the case of their continued detention during her Majesty's pleasure before a court with the powers and procedural guarantees satisfying

III Article 14 (only applicable to The applicant's complaint under article 14 was declared admissible by Commission but was their abandoned before the Court. Since no separate issues arose under that provision, the Court saw no reason to examine it of its IV Application of article 50

The court awarded Mr Hussain and Mr Singh £19,000 and £13,000 respectively. Those sums, which were inclusive of value added tax. were in compensation for legal costs and expenses incurred. The amounts granted by the Council of Europe by way of legal aid were to be deducted, simple interest on the resulting amount being payable at an annual rate of 8 per cent from the expiry of a period of three months after delivery of the judg

The judgments constituted sufficient just satisfaction for the non-pecuniary damage claimed. All

Court of Appeal

Law Report February 26 1996

Court of Appeal

Higham v Stena Sealink 11d Before Lord Justice Hirst and Lord

Judgment February 16] The two-year limitation period for personal injury claims under arti-cle lo of the Athens Convention Relating to the Carriage of Passengers and their Luggage by Sea 1974, as enacted by the Merchant Shipping Act 1979, could not be altered by operation of section 33 of

The Court of Appeal so held in a reserved judgment dismissing an appeal by the plaintiff, Joanne Elizabeth Higham, against the decision of Judge Bernstein at Liverpool County Court on June 17. 1994 to strike out her action for mages for injuries sustained when travelling on a ferry op-erated by the defendants, Stena Sealink Ltd. on the ground that it

Article to of the 1974 Convention, set out in Schedule 3 to the 1979 Act, provides:

"(l) Any action for damages arising out of the death of or personal injury to a passenger ... shall be time-barred after a period

(3) The law of the court seised of the case shall govern the grounds of suspension and interruption of limitation periods, but in no case shall an action under this Convention be brought after the expiration of a period of three years. . .

Section 39 of the Limitation Act 1980 provides: This Act shall not apply to any action or arbitration for which a period of limitation is prescribed by or under any naciment...

Mr Paul St John Letman for the plaintiff; Mrs Elizabeth Blackburn for the defendants.

LORD JUSTICE HIRST said that the appeal had raised an important point in international maritime law in relation to the time limits for actions for damages arising out of the death of or personal injuries to a passenger, or for the loss of or damage to

The defendants had applied to the court for an order striking out the plaintiff's claim on the basis that the proceedings were issued outside the time limit laid down in article 16 of the Athens Conven-

The deputy district judge had dismissed the application on the footing that on the proper construction of article 16, section 33 of the 1980 Act | Discretionary exclusion of time limit for actions in respect of personal injuries or death", and she had then pro-ceeded in the exercise of her discretion to disapply the time-bar The judge had allowed the appeal and struck out the action. basis of the judge's decision, in a nutshell, was that the words "suspension and interruption" in article 16(3) of the Convention were inapplicable to section 33 of the 1980 Act, so that the two year time-bar in article 16 was effective. The questions at issue were: 1 Did section 39 of the 1980 Act dude altogether the applica of that Act to the Athens

2 If not: (a) Did section 33 of the 1980 Act fall within the scope of article 16(3) as being a stipulation which governed the grounds of suspension and interruption of limitation periods and (b) If so, did section 33 on its proper construction apply to the Convention? To succeed on the appeal the rebut the defendants' argument on section 39, but also obtain affirmative answers to both questions 2(a) and (b).

> The defendants' submission was a simple one, namely that, since the Convention prescribed a period of limitation, the 1980 Act as a whole, and in particular Part II in > its entirety, did not apply.

>
> The defendants drew attention to the footnote to section 39 in Halsbury's Statutes (volume 24 (1989) p695) which listed a number of enactments prescribing special periods of limitation in cases hich might otherwise fall under the 1980 Act. That list did not defendants suggested that that was an unfortunate omission. His Lordship did not doubt that the statutes listed in Halsbury were excluded from the scope of the 1980 Act by virtue of section 39. Here, however, the court had to give full force to the opening words of article 16(3), which expressly incorporated the lex fori limitation rules in so far as they governed the grounds of suspension and

It was as if article 16(3) read:
The Limitation Act 1980 shall govern the grounds of suspension and interruption of limitation in his Lordship's judgment, section 39, on its proper construc-tion, could not be interpreted as excluding from the ambit of the 1980 Act that stipulation in the 1979 Act which by its very terms incorporated the 1980 Act to the atent provided in article 16(3). It followed that the whole of Part If of the 1980 Act was potentially applicable to the 1979 Act, but the court was presently concerned only with section 33, and there was no need to determine whether any of the other sections in Part II would qualify under article 16(3). Section 33 The plaintiff had stressed the need for giving a broad interpreta-tion to the Convention in ac-

makers. His Lordship fully accepted that as a general principle, but it did not follow that the intention of the makers was necessarily to relax the rules; it might just as likely have been to lay down, save in special cases, a strict and clear regime.

The plaintiff had drawn atter tion to the dictionary definitions of suspension" and "interruption" in the Shorter Oxford English Dio-tionary. The plaintiff had then sought to compare sections 32 and 33, and submitted that the pro-vision in the latter for exclusion of the time limit was precisely comparable to the provision for postponement under section 32 in the case of fraud, concealment or mistake; and in support of that contention had cited passages of the House of Lords decision in Sheldon v R. H. M. Outhwaite (Underwriting Agencies) Ltd (The Times May 5, 1995; [1995] 2 WLR 570) which, it was suggested, equated exclusion with extension. His Lordship was unable to accept those submissions and lered that the dictionary definitions relied on told strongly against the plaintiff's argumen since they all contemplated a break in a period or course of events which were presently in train.

Section 33 made no such provision, but on the contrary em-powered the court to exclude together a period which had already run its course and so could not possibly be treated as a ground of suspension or interruption eligible under article 16(3).

this Act" as embracing the court could substitute the Convention for the sections specified. His Lordship did not consider that those very plain words were susceptible of so drastic a revision. Lord Justice Pill agreed.

Convention limitation prevails Relevant law of counter-guarantee

Wahda Bank v Arab Bank pic Before Lord Justice Staughton

Lord Justice Henry and Lord Justice Pill [Judgment November 7] ... In the absence of express contractual agreement to the contrary, the applicable law of a counter-guarsee was that which governed the the Court of Appeal so held, dismissing the preliminary point in an appeal by the plaintiffs, Wahda Bank, against the decision of Mr. Justice Clarke on December 1, 1982 in the Courte Read to the control of Mr. Justice Clarke on December 1, 1982 in the Counter Read to the counter Read t 21, 1993 in the Queen's Bench Commercial Court that Libyan law applied to their claim against the defendants. Arab Bank plc, for the payment of counter-guarantees.

The dispute arose as a result of three contracts for the sale of air 3:

defence equipment. The plaintiffs commercial translation the letter issued performance guarantees in of credit was not or arrany rate not first demand form to the buyers necessarily, infected with the guarantees in first demand form to the plantiffs after an undertaking that they would be reimborsed by

However, even if it were so eligible, his Lordship would be unable to construe section 33(1), which expressly referred to "the provisions of section 11 or 11A or 12

The plaintiff recognised that difficulty, but submitted that the Solicitors: Charles Caplin & Co. for Gregory Abrams. Liverpool: Eversheds Holt Phillips & Buck, were governed by Libyan law. The obligations between the defendants and the sellers were subject to English law.

Mr Alastair R. MacGregor, QC and Mr Philip S. Marshall for Wahda Bank; Mr John Jarvis, QC. Mr William Blair, QC and Mr David Pope for Arab Bank. LORD JUSTICE STAUGHTON said that once again the court had been asked to determine the applicable law for a suit before the English courts. in Attock Cement Co Ltd v Romanian Bank for Foreign Trade (1999) I WLR 1147, the Court of Appeal, of which his Lordship was a member, decided . व्यवस्था समुद्धाः संस्कृतः necessarily, infected contract. A letter of credit was an autono-mous contract. It did not depend in At any rate, by English law they A letter of credit was an autonoperformance of the underlying commercial contract. And the par-ties to the commercial contract, the sellers, might well wish to have security for the payment that would become doe to them, from a bank in a place and governed by a system of law which would assure them of payment, eyes if they were not able to obtain that system of law to govern their commercial

Therefore it was decided in Attock that the letter of credit was not necessarily governed by the same law as the commercial. was that as was ordinarily the case. with banking transactions, it was governed by the law prevailing at the place where payment ought to be made under it.

be made under it.

His Lordship did not for case moment resile even if he could, from what was decided in Attack. The counter-guarantees were in its own without regard to anything else that was going on in the outside world; proof of a demand was sufficient. But they were intimately connected with the A banker who issued a perfor-

would want to ensure that he took no greater risk than the solvency of the bank putting up his counter-guarantee: He would want to ensure that his right of reimburse-iment was back to back the same as his liability; and a banker who instructed another bank to issue a nerformance bond coght to, and, readily agree to that.

Hence it was that in the absence of any express choice his Lordship had no doubt that the parties intended the counter-guara be governed by the same law as

Justice Fill agreed. Solicitors: Gardner Weller, Clif-

Efficiency replacement discriminatory

Rees v Applio Watch Repairs

Before Judge Clark, Mrs M. E. Sunderland and Mr N. D. Willis [Judgment February 15] A woman who was dismissed while on maternity leave because the employers found her replace-ment to be more efficient, was discriminated against on the ground of her sex since, but for her pregnancy, the replacement would not have been engaged, the comparison between the tive performances would not have been made and the applicant would not have been dism The Employment Appeal Tri-bunal so held when allowing an appeal by the applicant, Mrs Heather Rees, from the dismissal-by a Cardiff industrial tribunal in October 1992 of her claim of sex discrimination. against her employers, Appollo Warch Repairs plc. She had appealed on the ground that the tribunal had erred in law in concluding that she had all the stablish has correlated.

failed to establish her complaint.

Mr Pushpinder Saini for the JUDGE CLARK, delivering the judgment of the court, said that the applicant was a private secretary to the joint managing director. She left on maternity leave on September 28, 1990. During her absence a replace ment was engaged. The industrial tribunal accepted that the replacement was considered to be more efficient. On December 7 the employers wrote dismissing the The industrial tribunal had found that the applicant was not dismissed because she was pregnant but because the employer believed she had no contractes right to return and they had found a replacement whom they considered to be more efficient.

In the House of Lords decision in Webb v Emo Air Cargo (UK) Ltd. (No.2) (The Times October 20, 1995; [1995] I WLR 1454; [1995] ICR (021) it was held that the applicant's unavailability for work at a time when she was pregnant was a that could not be present in a man and her complaint of sex discrimination was unheld.

In the present case the tribunal found that the applicant was not dismissed simply because she was not available for work through pregnancy. It was distinguishable from Webb's case on its facts.

However, Mr Sain's submitted that the applicant's dismissal con-stituted direct discrimination. since but for her pregnancy the replacement would not have been engaged, the comparison between their respective their respective performences would not have been made and the applicant would not have been The industrial tribonal had reached its concinsion before the House of Lords decision in Webb's case and had applied the wrong test, namely whether the employer would have treated a man differently were he in the same position as the applicant. No such comparison could properly be leave and that was discrimination on the ground of her sex.

The immediate cause of her dismissal was that the employers found the applicant's replacement more efficient. That was a gender neutral reason in much the same way as the need to find a replacement for an employee herself absent on maternity leave as in the case of Webb, Flowever, the underlying reason was the applicant's absence on maternity leave

ON MITERALS

The protection afforded to women on maternity leave would be drastically curtailed if an employer were able to defeat a complaint of direct discrimination by a woman who, during such absence, discovered that the em-ployer preferred her replacement: a state of affairs which had arisen solely as a result of her pregnancy

Solicitors: Duncan Forbes, Crickhowell: Grossman Hermer ligman, Cardiff.

Scots Law Report February 26 1996 House of Lords

District licensing boards have a wide statutory discretion

censing Board

|Speeches February 22|

Determination of the appropriate locality was within the experience and expertise of licensng boards with their local knowledge. A board could adopt 200 metre radius to determine the allowing an appeal by the City of Glasgow Licensing Board from interlocutors dated December 2. 1994 of the Second Division of the Court of Session (the Lord Justice Clerk (Lord Ross). Lord Alfanbridge and Lord Morison) by which the court allowed an appeal by the applicants. Caledonian Nightclubs Ltd. and recalled the interlocutor dated January 24, 1994 of the Sheriff of the Sheriffdom of Glasgow and Strathkelvin at Glasgow and remitted the case.

Caledonian Nightclubs' applica-tion for the grant of a provisional paragraph 6 of Schedule 8 to the Law Reform (Miscellaneous Provisions) (Scotland) Act 1990, pro-vides: "(I) A licensing board shall refuse an application . . . if it finds that one or more of the following grounds for refusal, being com-petent grounds, applies to it . . . (d) that, having regard to — (i) the number of licensed premises in the locality at the time the application s considered; and (ii) the numbe of premises in respect of which the provisional grant of a new licence is in force, the board is satisfied that the grant of the application and otherwise shall grant the application. Sir Crispin Agnew of Lochnaw, QC and Mrs Sarah Wolffe for the board: Mr Iain Bonomy, QC and Mr Robert Skinner for the LORD JAUNCEY said that the application to the board complied with all the formal statutory objections before the board who were enformed that what was proposed was a night club on three levels providing high class enter-dance hall on the second level and a dance floor, more bars, sitting accommodation and a restaurant on the third level.

A superintendent of police informed the board that within 200 metres of the premises there were 14 other licensed premises: six having public house licences, one having a provisional grant of a public house iscence, three having restaurant beences, one having an entertainment licence, another a refreshment licence, and two hav-ment licence had been granted in 1989 but which licence had been allowed to lapse owing to the general economic situation. The board's decision letter dated: June 29, 1993 containing the re-locality in this case should be regarded as being within a radius 200 metres of the proposed ensed premises and (2) that the number of licensed premises wihin that locality, in particular the existing entertainment licence combined with the six public house licences and the provisional public house licence, was sufficient and that the grant of this application, particularly in view of the scale of the proposed venture and the resultant occupant capacity of the premises, would result in the overthe stated locality within the mean ing of the . . . Act . . . Over-provision

Sir Crispin submitted that the Second Division were in error in faulting the board for deciding as to over-provision without knowing what facilities were authorised under the other entertainment The board were he contended.

entitled on the information available to conclude that licensing the huge development proposed by the applicants would result in over-authorised under the other enter-Mr Bonomy countered that sub-such a conclusion. In considering over-provision the board had regard to the number of licensed premises in the locality, in particular the enterthe six public house licences and they were also concerned at the scale of the proposed venture. There was no doubt that in adverting to the scale they had in Section 17(I)(d) conferred on a licensing hoard a wide discretion in its determination as to over-provision. The relevance of the number of licensed premises was not necessarily confined to economic considerations such as whether demand existed for further premises but could well extend to such matters as the impact on the amenity of an area of additional licensed premises. In Latif v Motherwell District Licensing Board [1994 SLT 414.]

415) the Lord President (Lord Hopel had said. ". a licensing board has had the advantage of hearing many such applications. knows its own area and may be ed to have developed some expertise in assessing problems such as the over-provision of

Those observations must apply with particular force to a board sitting regularly and frequently in a large city. The board were fully entitled to reach the conclusion on the ma-terial before them that granting the applicants' application would result in over-provision. Given the number of existing licensed premises within the relatively small area and the scale of the proposed development, the know more about the one existing The board had a discretion to look at facilities authorised by an Licensing Board (1993 SC 166, 172). examine in a case where it was Unnecessary so to do.

Mr Bonomy argued that a radius from the relevant premises could not be a locality for the by streets or a square.

as proposed by the applicants' agent. The board concluded that to take so large an area would be impractical and unrealistic priate locality for the purpose of section 17(1)(d) must be a matter peculiarly within the experience and expertise of licensing boards with their local knowleds Accordingly, the board could not be criticised for adopting the 200 metre radius. Nicholis and Lord Hoffmann greed

Solicitors: Lewis Silkin for Simp Park Nelson Thompson & Quarrell for Allan McDougall & Co, SSC, Edinburgh.

THE TIMES Atlases of the World

Now! No handling charges and FREE postage to all our UK customers Offer applies United Kingdom only Also available from good Bookshops ***

7th Concise Edition (15"x11"x1.5") £45 3rd Family Edition (12.5 x9.2 x1.1) £17.99 Reference Edition (12.5 x 9.2 x 0.8) £12.99 Compact Edition (9" x 6.5" x 0.65") £8.99

9th Comprehensive (De Luxe) Edn £85

The Times Atlas of the World

Mini (Pocket) Edn (6.2 x 4.2 x 0.65) £5.99 The Times Atlas of World History £40 Concise Edition (Paperback) £9.99

The Times Atlas of Archaeology £35 The Times Atlas of the Second World War 50th Anniversary Edition The Times Atlas European History £25 The Times London History Atlas £22.99

The Times Illust. History of Europe £25 Also available 0000000

The Times Illust. World History £25

Compact Edition

The Times 1000 1996 - Top Business Guide - £35 The Times Guide to the European Parliament £25 to the Peoples of Europe £15.99 to the Single European Market £8.99

to the New British State NOW ONLY £9.99 to the Middle East £8.99 to World Organisations NEW £16.99 The Times Good University Guide 1995/6 £8.99 The Times Night Sky 1996 (Guide Booklet) £3.50 Please send cheques or postal orders (no credit cards) payable to Akom Ltd, 51 Manor Lane, London SE13 5QW

Enquiries: 0181 852 4575 (24 hours)

Delivery up to 8 days (UK)

Caledonian Nightclubs Ltd v City of Glasgow District Li-Before Lord Golf of Chieveley. Lord Jauncey of Tullichettle. Lord Slynn of Hadley, Lord Nieholls of Birkenhead and Lord Hoffmann

A licensing board had a wide discretion granted to it by statute to . determine the question of over-provision of entertainment licences in a particular locality and the relevance of the number of existing licensed premises was not confined to the consideration whether or not demand existed but it could extend to the impact on the amenity of an area of additional licensed premises.

extent of a locality.

The House of Lords so held entertainment licence in respect of premises on levels 3, 4 and 5 of the uchiehali Street Centre, Glasgow was refused by the board. The applicants appealed to the sheriff. Section 17 of the Licensing (Scotland) Act 1976, as amended by would result in the over-provision of licensed premises in the locality.

ing off-sales licences. The proposed use of premises was similar to that in respect of which a provisional fusal stated, inter alia, that the board "took the view (i) that the tainment licence. mission by arguing that in terms of section 17(1) the board were bound to grant the application unless over-provision was made out and that there was no material which would have entitled them to reach mind, inter alia, the number of bars to be provided.

ant case was not one in which there was any necessity for them to entertainment licence: see dictum of the Lord President (Lord Hope) in Chung v Wigtown District purpose of over-provision and that it must be some identifiable area such as a street, an area bounded Before the board the two alternatives were radius of 200 metres provided by the police superintendent and the city centre

In the Court of Session, the Lord. Justice Clerk had held, rightly, that they were justified in so concluding. Determination of the appro-

Lord Goff, Lord Slynn, Lord

son & Marwick, WS, Edinburgh:

BUSINESS NEWS

Supermarket giants face a challenge at the checkout

Battle to be first in the queue are getting harder to and convenience are playing increasingly critical roles.

Customers are not prepared to travel as far to a store as they did five years ago, are doing more frequent, smaller shops. and often leave their chosen supermarket dissatisfied. This is the world of food shopping. according to Harris International Marketing, a firm of consultants, licalculates that every year Britain's supermarket giants do battle for a share of about 71 million grocery shopping trips.

Five years ago, Sainsbury was the undisputed king. It boasted the highest number of customers and enticed them to part with the most cash - a vinning combination that ensured its position as Britain's most profitable and largest

But a lot can change in five years. According to HIM, Tesco has been in ascendance for about two years and as a result. pled Sainsbury off the "most popular" pedestal, a position it had held for 15 years.

Tesco's dominance is not expected to be short-lived. Next month. AGB, the market research company, is expected to reveal that Tesco is entering its second year in the number one slot with a market share of more than 21 per cent.

Jeff Harris, founder of HIM. calculates that more than 5 million customer households now shop at Tesco compared with less than 5 million at Sainsbury. This marks a sharp swing in fortunes from two years ago when only 3.5 million shoppers passed through Tesco's doors while more than 5 million visited Sainsbury.

Asda is another winner in the battle for customers with 50 per cent more shoppers visiting its stores than the 2 million of two years ago. compared to Safeway with its static customer base of three fought on many fronts. Tradi-

Sir Ian MacLaurin, executive chairman of Tesco, has to juggle with customers' demands to keep his company on top tionally, price was perceived as the key but attitudes have begun to shift Increasingly supermarket groups have been struggling to differenti-ate themselves from their rivals through the services they offer. With this in mind they have been employing a mass of different sales initiatives and promotions to lure customers to their stores.

Sainsbury kicked off the new year with its "January Savers" promotion. Its success prompted it to follow this up up with a "February Bonus" promotion. Saleway responded with a similar promotion but the City swiftly said the manoeuvrings were mere marketing ploys and labelled it a "phoney war". The battle for custom also prompted the arrival of the loyalty card. The cards are now a comminon feature although a year ago, Sainsbury ridiculed the concept when Tesco launched its successful being wooed by a string of other service intitiatives such as shorter queue pledges, creches and dry cleaning.

Tesco has also benefited from a planned move down market. Tesco has built its traffic up partly because it has returned to its roots. Its profile has moved consistently and markedly down claims Mr Harris.

Surprisingly Asda has the most upmarket profile of the lot - quashing many preconceptions that the chain is predominantly ordinary working class. Of Asda's customers, 47 per cent are ABCls. a sharp rise from the 39 per cent level in autumn 1992. Reflecting the move downmarket by Tesco and Sainsbury, the percentage of Tesco's ABCI shoppers has scheme In contrast, price fallen from 42 per cent to 38 per cent while Sainsbury's has slipped from 52 per cent to 44 per cent, according to HIM.

Harris believes that a customer's decision to shop at a particular store is dictated more by convenience than price. In its survey, HIM found that 79 per cent of shoppers cite convenience as a major reason for chosing a particular chain while only 25 per cent are driven by price. The importance of price varies between the different supermarket groups. Only 14 per cent of Safeway's shoppers mentioned price as a draw to shop in its stores, raising doubts over the success of the group's Safeway played a key role in the where to shop decision for 27 per cent Asda shoppers, 17 per cent of Sainsbury shoppers and 19 per cent of Tesco's.

Mr Harris argues that "shoppers are getting more demand-ing and less tolerant. For example the average shopper is. not prepared to travel nearly as far as he or she would have done

HIM calculates that supermarket catchment areas have shrunk sharply in the past two travelled to a supermarket store has fallen from 2.6 miles to 2.2 miles. An alternative interpretation is that two years ago the chains were attracting customers from 39 per cent further afield.

This means that the pressure is on the supermarket groups to attract a bigger proportion of stores in order to just stand still. But winning customers' shopping trips is only a small part of the battle. Convincing people to part with their money once they are there is a totally different issue. In theory this should not be too tricky a task as only 16 per cent of customers arrive at a store with a shopping list. The fact that the majority of the population do not go to a shop with a shopping list means they are there to be swayed by the food retailers. Lists tends to act as a restraint on purchasing activity," says Mr Harris.

Tesco has the most opportunities to entice people to part with their money with an estimated 10 million visits This is a significant jump from the 7 million weekly shopping trips Tesco had a year earlier, says Mr Harris. In contrast Sainsbury has ust under 10 million we visits to its stores, while Asda is showing signs it may be beginning to faiter as the number of visits has slipped back to about 5 million having risen to over 6 million a year ago. The profitability of each visit varies between the groups. One measure is a store's traffic densities, that is the number of trips made per square foot of space. Waitrose turns in the best performance while Sainsbury's shows what it is possible for Tesco to achieve. For some food retailers, the ratio of customers to floor space has begun to slip as aggressive expansion plans have led to a sharp rise in square footage without a corresponding surge in customers. The pressure on retailers to build their customer bases and simultaneously increase the amount each customer spends is relentless. But there is no denying that Tesco and Asda are currently the winners. - ... Keeping their crowns will not be easy, however, as Sainsbury and Safeway are working hard at regaining lost. momentum. The one certainty is that giving the customer what they want is a critical factor in all the group's future

Peking ready to honour pledge on Hong Kong

SHANGHAI and Hong Kong are set to emerge as complementary financial centres driving the "new" China after the handover of the colony in June 1997, sources close to-be eclipsed by fast-growing Shanghai are unfounded, according to Nellie Fong, a senior accountant close to the Peking negotiators. The Chinese Government is committed to Hong Kong and intends to honour its "one country, two systems pledge, she said.

Mrs Fong, deputy country managing partner. China, at Arthur Andersen, is advising the Chinese Government on the transition of power. She insisted on a visit to London where she briefed UK executives on prospects for invest-ment in China, that Peking will make good its word.

Mrs Fong said: "China has out a lot of resources into Hong Kong, and has no. reason to want to ruin it. Since 1978, when China first

12.57 -1.02 5.1900 2528.00

Cyprus Cyp£ .
Denmark Kr ...
Finland Mick ...

opened its borders to foreign investors, more than 60 per cent of the $60 billion inwards investment has come through Hong Kong. Some 45 per cent of all trade with China is channelled via the colony, Fears that Hong Kong will which provides work for more than 3 million southern China

> Shanghai's potential as a financial centre will be restricted by China's socialist doctrines, Mrs Fong said. Hong Kong, where capitalism will be enshrined for 50 years, will remain the main entry point for foreign investors, and continue to lead southern China Shanghai, two hours away by air, will drive China's eastern and northern regions.

> Mrs Fong said Chinese companies will be expected to compete on the same basis as Western rivals. However, the sheer scale of the country poses problems for outsiders. who need to define their strategy and select a Chinese partner with common goals

CHANGE ON WEEK

US dollar 1,5403 (-0.0078) German mark 2,2347 (-0.0275) Exchange index

FT 30 share 2760.6 (+11.7) FT-SE 100 3740.3 (-30.6) New York Dow Jones 5630,49 (+127.17)

Tokyo Nikkei Avge

20300.38 (-502.39)

FROM BACH TO BIRTWISTLE: YOU CAN SAVE UP TO £30 OFF THE PRICE OF A CONCERT TICKET

Take a friend to a concert for 30p

The Times offers you the chance to take a friend to some of the most exciting concerts being performed today for only 30p — the price of your favourite quality daily newspaper.

There are over 160 concerts to choose from at 52 venues in England, Scotland and Wales, You can enjoy Yehudi Menuhin conducting the Warsaw Sinfonia in Sheffield, Tadaaki Otaka, performing the Mahler Symphony No 4 in Plymouth, Poole and Southampton and operatic highlights in Swansea.

You can also hear soloists of the calibre of Peter Donohoe, playing Rachmaninov in Leeds and Nottingham, Julian Lloyd Webber playing Britten in Leicester or Maria Ewing singing in

To take advantage of our exclusive offer, all you have to do is collect four of the six concert tokens appearing in The Times, and attach them to an application form which will be published later this week. Today we print the second half of our listing of participating concerts Halls. The first half of our listing, detailing concerts in London and a regional listing in alphabetical order from A-H, appeared on Sarurday. HOW TO BOOK

Choose a concert from the listing and telephone the venue to reserve your tickets quoting The Times offer. When you buy one ticket at the full price you will receive a second for just 30p. Your tickets cannot be issued until tokens have been received. Please do not call the concert halls before Thursday, February 29. The offer is limited to one 30p performance per household though you may get a 30p ticket for more concerts at venues marked * if you book them at the same time.

The tokens are valid only for the performances stated in the offer and cannot be exchanged for cash or used in conjunction with any other offer. All tickets are subject to availability. Check with the booking office for the time your chosen concert starts.

YOUR CHOICE OF VENUE

Mariss Jansons conducts

the LPO in London

Lazarev, soloist John Lift Beethoven Plano

Concerto No 5, Shostakovich Symphony

No 4. All tickets are £8-£19.50.

St Marys Church 01582 21628

English Siziesia Apr 13 Conductor

Jacek Kaspszyk, soloist Julian Lloyd

Webber: Beethoven Symphony No 8,

Britten Cello Symphony, Mozart

Symphony No 39, £7-£11.

Free Trade Hall 9161-834 1712*

Besthoven Plano Concerto No 5

PART: Phillippenosic Max 9 Conductor Yes

Pascal Torteller, soloist Howard Shelley:

Emperor, Chausson Symphony in B

fizit Mar 23 Conductor Yan Pascal

Leeds Civic Hall 0113-247 6962

Lends Town Hall 0113-247 6962

Pelerson String Coartet Mar 12 Beethoven Cuartet No 4, Bertok Cuartet

No 1, Franck Quartet in D Malor, £6-£7.

Royal Philhermonic Orchestra Apr 13

onductor Jun-Ichi Hirokami, soloist

Boris Bellán: Berlioz Overture Le cor-

saire Brahms Violin Concerto, Berlioz

Apr 20 Conductor Bernhard Klee, soloist

Concerto No 3, Brahms Symptomy No 1,

Symptonie lantastique, £5-£15, Rhineland Philharmonic Orchestra

Peter Donohoe: Rachmaninov Piano

De Mosffort Hell 0116-233 3111*

English Statenia Apr 12 Conductor Jacek Kaspszyk, soloist Julian Lloyd Webber: Britien Cello Symphony,

Mendelssoho Symphony No 4 maian, £10-£14. Rhineland Philharmonic

Peter Donohoe: Rachmaninov Plano

Philbarotonic Hall 0151-709 3789*

Orchestra Mar 23 Conductor Jerzy

Maksymiuk, soloist Joanna MacGregor

Stravinsky Four Norwegian Moods,

Tchaikovsky Symphony No 5. Mar 27

Conductor Christopher Seaman, soloisi

Concerto, Brahms Symphony No 1, £8-

Christian Lindberg: Nyman Trombone

Ravel Plano Concerto for Left Hand,

Concert No 3, Schoenberg

Lichtspielszene, £4-£12.

Royal Liverpool Philibarneo

Apr 24 Conductor Bernhard Klee, soloist

£6.50-£15.50.

Nagano, soloist Birgit Remmert: Haydn Symphony No 1, Berkoz Symphonie tentastique. Mar 14 Conductor Kent Nagano, soloist Christian Lindberg: Sandstrom Motorbike Concerto, Sibelius Symphony No. 1. Mar 24 Conductor Kent Nagano, Choir, soloists Christine Brewer, Cyrshia Clarey, Ratael Rojas, Miliaty Kalmandi: Verdi Requiem, Mar 28 onductor Kent Nagano, soloists Vadim Regio, Boris Pero Symphony No 1, Brahms Double Melisende. Mar 31, Apr 3 and 4 Conductor Jerzy Maksimick, soloist Dmitri Ferschtman; Elgar Enioma Variations, Dvorak Cello Concerto, Apr 11 Conductor Tadaaki Otzka, soloist βπιπο Leonardo Geiber: Stravinsky Fireworks, Rachmaninuv Plano Concerto No.3, Walton Symphony No. 1. Apr 17, 18 and 21 Conductor Frans Bruggen, solotst Thomas Zeheimair. Mozart Violin Concerto No 5, Symphony No 41 Jupiter. Apr 25 and 28 Conductor Frans Bruggen, Choir, soloisis Lynne Dawson, Katerina Kameus, Zeger ersteene, Peter Savidge: Bach arr Bruggen Ricecare from The Musical Offering, Beethoven Symphony No 9. All ficiosis £8-£21. Manchester Camerata 0161-225 8357* Mar Z Conductor Nicholas Kraemer:

Concerto in G. Tickets for both concerts

Hallié Orchestra Mar 10 Conductor Kent are £5.50-£12.50.

Handel Concerto Grosso No 4, Vivaldi Gloria. Apr 6 Conductor Sactio Futoka. soloist Hannah Roberts: Bartok Divertimento for Strings, Beethouses Symphony No 7, May 11 Conductor Sachto Fujioka, soloist Martin Roscoe: Mozart Piano Concerto No 23, Haydn Symphony No 45 Ferewell, All tickets

MIDDLESSROUGH Town Hall 0500-591996 Harthers Statusia Mar 10 Conductor Marcello Viole: Hayda Sinfonia Concerta Schubert Symphony No 3, £9-£12.50. NEWCASTLE UPON TYNE City Hall #508-591996* Nexthern Sinfonia Mar 8 Conductor Marcello Victis. Haydn Sinforia Concertante, Schubert Symphony No 3. Mar 21 Director Bradley wick, soloist Tasmin Little: Bach Violin Concerto in E. Beethoven Symptony No 5 Pastoral. Apr 24 Conductor Nicholas Krammer, Chonus: Purcell The Fairle Queen. Tickets £8-£15

Albert Halt 8115-941 9419 East of England Orchestra Mar 20 Conductor Peter Donohoe, soloist Deirdre Symmetric: Rodgey-Bernett Partits for Orchestra, Saint-Saeus Cello Concerto No 1, Beetroven Symphony No 4, E8-E12. Royal Concert Hall 0115-948 2826° Polish National Hadie Symphony Orchestra Mar 12 Conductor Antoni Wit soloist Anna Gorecki: Prokofiev Symphony No. 2, £9-£16.50. Royal Shormenic Orchestra May 2 Torteller, soloists Maria Ewing, Kathryn Stoff Bizet Symphony in C, Ravel Plano Conductor Enrique Baliz Coptand El selon Mexico, de Falia The Three

Symphony No 5, 29-216.50.
Philharmonia Particularia rmoteia Orchestra May 11 Conductor Myung-Whun Chung, soloist Jean Phillipe Collard, Ravel Planc Concerto for the left hand, Mother Goose hallet state, Debussy La Mer.

Yelzudi Menuhin conducts the Warsaw Sinfonia in Sheffield

Parilicas 81752 229922* Bournemento Symphony Occhestra Mar 26 Conductor Tatalalo Otaka, apioist Ciristine Brewer: Faure Pelleas of Mellisande, Carteloube Songs of the Auvergne, Matter Symptony No 4. Apr 26 Conductor Yakov Kreizberg. soloist Jon Kinzura Parker: Schumann Plano Concetto, Bedioz Symphonie fantastique. Both £17.50, Arts Ceptre 81202 685222* Returnementh Symphony Grebestra Mar 13 Conductor Nicolae Moldoreaux Rachmeninov Symphony No 2. Mar. 20 Conductor Yakov Kretzberg, soloist Lars Vogt: Stostatovich Symphony No 9, ethoven Piamo Concerto No 3. Mar 27 Conductor Tadaaki Otalia, soloist Christian Brewer, Faura Polloes et Medisande, Cartelothe Songs of the Ausergne, Mailer Symphony No. 4. Apr 24 Conductor Yakov Kreizberg, soloist Jon Kinsura Parker: Schomann Plano Concerto, Berãoz Symphonie fantastique. May 1 Conductor Micholas McGegan, Chorus: Haydn Symphony No 83 La Poule, Mendelssohn A Midsummer Night's Dream. Rosernersouth Stationic otto Mar & ' Conductor Barry Teckwell and Nicolae Moldoreamu, solvists Barry Tuckeell, Simon Lewis, Andrew Court Haydo

Symptony No 73, Telemann Horn

Concerto, Schubert Symphony No 3. April 17 Conductor Joseph Swenson, soloist Martin Roscoe: Rodney-Bennett Concerto for Orchestra, Mende Piano Concerto No 1, Beethoven Symphony No 7. All £19.95. PORTSMOUTH Maldraff 01705 824355* Bo

Symphony Orchestra Mar 22 Conductor Yakov Kreizberg, sololst Lars Vogt: Shostakovich Symph No 9, Beethoven Plano Concerto No 3. Bearmemouth Sintendette April 19 Conductor Joseph Swenson, soloist Martin Roscoe:

Rodney-Bennett Concerto for Orchestra,

Beethoven Symphosy No. 7. £15.90. RICKMANSWORTH Watersmeet Theatre 01923 771542 English Sintenia Mar 17 Conductor Philip Ellis, soloist Young-Choon Park Barber Adagio for Strings, Mozart Plano Concerto K414, Handel Arrivel of the Queen of Shebe, Haydin Symphony

No 64, £12.50. City Hall 91722 327676 Bournemouth Sinfonistin Apr 18 Conductor Joseph

Rodney-Bennett Concerto for Orchestra, Mendelssohn Plano Concerto No 1, Beetheren Symphony No 7, 29,50. SHEFFIELD City Half 9114-273 5295 Halle Orchestra and Sheffield Philiparmenic Charges Mar 23 Conductor

Kent Nagano, soloists Ctristine Brower, Cynthia Clarey, Rafael Rojas, Mitaly Kalmandi: Verdi Piequiern, Poliste Mulicaul Hadio Symphony Grahestra Mar 2 Conductor Ameri Wit, soloist Anna Gorecka: Prototies Plano Concerto No 1, Sthetius Symphony No 2. Warsaw onta Apr 12 Conductor Yehred Memobio: Beethoven Egmont Overture, Inhie Concerto, Symphony No 3, 210-221. Halife Orchestra and Shedileid Philitermonic Chorus Agr 27 Conductor Frans Bruggen: Hayda Symphony No 104 London, Beethoven Symphony No-9. Ressian State Philips

Orchestra May 3 Conductor Valery

Poliansky, soloist Karine Georgian:

Proteofiev Suite Lieutemant Klije,

Shostakovich Cello Concerto No 2, Rachmannov Symphonic Dences Tickets, except Apr 12, £7.50-£15.50. SOLITHAMPTON Gelideali 91783 632661° Bourgemonte Symphony Orchestra Mar 29 Conductor Tadzaid Otaica, soloist Christine Brewer.

Pauxe Pailleas et Mellisande, Cartalouse Songs of the Auvergne, Matter Symptomy No. 4, May 3 Conductor Micholas McGegan, Chorus: Haydn Symphony No 83 La Poule, Mandelssoha A Midsummer Night's Mar & Conductors Barry Tuckwell and Micotae Moldoveanu, soloists Barry Tuckyrell, Simon Lewis, Andrew Court: Haydn Symphony No 73, Telemann Horn Concerto, Schabert Symphony No 3. All

Parish Cherch (500 591996 Hortham)

Kraemer, Chorus: Purcell The Fairle Queen, £9-£12.50. WEYMOUTH .T Parition 01305 783225* Bourgeo

Statemiette Mar 13 Conductor George Hurst, soloist Anva Alexeev: Schumann Symphony No 5. Apr 11 Conductor Tamas Yasary, solotst Nicelal Madoyan: Mozari Plano Concerto No 20 and Violes Concerto No 5, Schubert Symphony No 8 Unfinished, £11.95.

Hey Hall 01962 877977* Berroemod iella Mar 15 Conductor George Hurst; soloist Anya Alexeev: Schumann Plano Concerto in A minor, Besthoven Symphony No 5. Apr 13 Conductor Tamas Vasary, soloist Nicolal Madoyan: Mozart Plano Concerto No 20 and Violin Concerto No 5, Schubert Symphony No 8

New Victoria Theatre 01483 781144 English Sinfenia Apr 14 Conduct Jacek Kaspzyk, sołoist Julian Lloyd ethoreo Symphe Britten Cello Symphony, Schicke Symphony No 6, £18, £20. Britten Cella Symon

WALES

SI Davids Hall 81222 878444" City of Birminghum Symphony Orchestra Mar 15 Conductor Sir Sympo Raigh solvist Jonathun Kelly, Stravinsky Ago Shostakovich Symphony No 10.

Hear tenor Rafael Rojas with the Halle Orchestra

BBC Hiztional Orchestra of Wales Mar 22 Conductor David Atherton. soloist Della Jones: Rimsky-Korsakov Capricolo espagnol, de Falla El Amor Brujo, Xavier-Monsalvatge Canciones negras, Mussorgsky/Ravel Pictures from an Edubition, Mar 29, Conductor Mark Wigglesworth, solgist Steven Issaelis: Shostatowich Cello Concerto No Rechmaninov Symphony No 2.

Apr 14 Conductor Nicholas McGegen, Choir, soloists Sussonah Waters; Catherine Robbin, Mark Tucker, Cavid Thomas: Bach Mass in B minor, Apr 27 Conductor Tadaaki Otaka, soloisis Christian Lindberg, Dong-Suk Kang:

Takemibu Fentasine/Centos II, Bigcir Volin Concerto No. 1, Dvorak Symphony No 8. Royal Liverpool Philisermente Orchestra May 3 Conductor Libor Pesek, soloist Howard Shelley, Haydin Symptiony, Ne 49, Mozart Piana Concerto No 17, Dvorak Symptiony No 9, Bussian Stola Philliammonic 9. Russian Stole Philliamsonic Orchestra May 17 Conductor Valery Pollansky, soloist Ville Krasko; Tohelkovsky Symphony No 4, Prokoffey Violin Concerto No 2, Tickets S6-£19.

Theatre Chaye $1352 755114* Cool String Quartet Her 16 Alexander Ballie (callo): Hayde Quartet No 3 Strot Rated Quartet in F. Schubert Quirtet in C. 29 European Community Chamber Orches May 12 Director Lavard Skou Larsen, soloist Nicholas Daniel: Mozart Oboe Concerto, Tchalloresky Elegy for Strings, Haydn Symphony No 59 Fire, £10. SWANSEA

SWARSEA Braugwyn Hall 81792 475715 Orchestra of Welsk Hallowel Opera with young singers from the National Opera Studio Mar 11 Conductor Julian Smith, Operatic bighlights: Mozart, Donizetti, Verdi, Bizet and Johann Strauss, £3-£7.

SCOTLAND The Music Hall 01224 641122 BBC Scottlet Symptomy Orchestra Apr 25 Conductor Osmo Vanska, soloisi No 6, Elgar Violin Concerlo, £12.50-£15.

Usher Hall 9131-228 1155* Royal Scottish Kational Orchestra Mar 1 Conductor En Sinao, Chorus, soloist Janis Valcaulis, Mozart Symphony No. 17, Plane Concerto No 20, Yanjuen Hus The Shedow of Moonlight, Bartok-The Miraculous Manderin, Mar 15 Conductor Philippe Augula, soloist Felicity Lott: Mozart Overture The Marriege of Figuro, Symphony No 39, Poulenc La Volx Humaine. Tickets S6-£19.50. Scottish Chamber Orchestra and Chorus Apr 11 Conductor Nicholas Kraemer, soloisis Gillian Websier, Alison Browner, Ian Boshidge, Christopher Purves, Handel Messiah, £4.50-£15.50 (Cookings through Queens Hall), Decemb Hall 0131-667 7776" Mar 11 Gring Plano Trie Bestroven Tris in E flat, Halvoir Haug Plano Trio (1995);

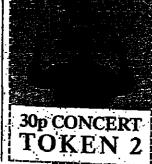

Mendetssohn Trio in O minor, £5-£12 Mar 12 Settire Charlet Mozari Quartet K589, Dempster Under The Hammer. Barber Adagio, Mendelssohn Quartet in A minor, £6. Mar 16 The Kings Consert with Lorna Anderson and Katharina Sprachelsen: Vivakli, Handel, Albinoni, Semenani, 27 and 29. Mar 17 Endellion String Quartet: Haydo String Quartet No 3, Woll fizitien Serenade (1892), Showen String Quartet No 8, 25-212 Mer 25 Jaan-Yes Thitmadet, plane: Debissy, Ravel, Sate, 25-212, Sentisch Chamber Orchestra Mar 23 Conductor Tadaaki Otaka, soloist Richard Stoltzman: Richard Rodney-Bennett New Work, Brahms (orch. Barjo) Clarinet Sonata, Bartok Rumanian

Sir Simon Rattle conducts the BSO in Cardiff "

Dances, Bizet Symphony in C, £4.50-£16.50. Mar 28 Conductor and viola Yuri Bashmet, Catherine Marwood (viola): findentifi Tracermustir Schilbe Hindentili Trabermusik, Schubert Symphony No 4 Tragic, £4.50-£16.50. Apr 23 Histoolus Hertineste, Lorus Auderson, Catherine Wys-Rogers, Christopher Hallmant works by Schubert wat Schubern, 25-£12. The Einse Concent Man & Conductor, Robert Kings Consort May 9-Conductor Robert King, soleists Crispian Spele-Pertons, Katharina Spreckelsen: Telamann, Vejuanousk GLASGOW sky 27 and 29 City Half 9141-227 5814 Sentition

Charaber Orchestra Mar 29 Conductor and viola Yuri Basimet, Catherine Mararood (Mola): Bach Brandenburg Concerto No 6, Schubert Symphony No 4 Tragic, £4.50-£14.50 Royal Codent Hall 9141–227 5511* Boyal Scottish National Orchestra Mar 2 Conductor En Stao, Chorus, soloist Janis Valsarelis: Mozart Symphony No 17, Plano Concerto No. 20, Yanjuen Hua The Shedow of Moonlight, Bartok The Miraculous Mandarin, Mar 3 Conductor Jobi McNeely: Symphonic Hollywood — Schindler's List. Mar 16 Conductor. Philippe Augum, soloist Felicity Lott Mozat Overture The Merriege of Figaro, Symphony No 39, Poulanc La Volx Humaine, Tickets 26.50-£19.50.

IK politic sill threate the marke

$dlej.∞ - e. . PPE 1 IDYE TO THE क्षित्रहरू 👾 🔻 ACID HELD LAND

3 h -----

157

455.

A.

30 To

TH CAN

FP.

6

PETER ELLWOOD, deputy chief executive of Lloyds TSB, will this week assign top management positions to executives of the merged

Mr Ellwood and six retail financial services directors have spent the past two weeks interviewing 80 senior managers for 40 posts. After Lloyds Bank's reverse takeover of TSB in December, Mr Eliwood was put in charge of integrating retail financial services. At the end of January, he appointed three Lloyds directors and three TSB directors to the top positions.

A Lloyds spokeswoman said the posts would be filled on merit. She said: "We will not be recruiting on the basis of politics."

Mr Eliwood said that, after the appointments, task forces will be set up to look at such issues as where the new sector headquarters should be, whether new information technology is needed and how to maximise distribu-

Ellwood to decide on bank jobs bank jobs By Patricia Tehan By Patricia Correspondent Tour operators act to avoid lack quality, lack quality, IoD claims

TOUR operators could be forced to cut an extra 600,000 packages from this year's holiday programmes to head off a wave of late summer discounts. So far, three million Britons have booked their annual twoweeks overseas. 21 per cent fewer than for the same period in 1995. As a result, operators are downgrading their total sales' expectations by about 500,000, to below eight million packages this summer.

This is in spite of an expensive and concentrated cam-paign to warn consumers that if they fail to book early they could well find it impossible to travel during the peak months of June, July and August.

The big six operators — Thomson, Airtours, First Choice, Cosmos, Sunworld and Inspirations — which control 70 per cent of the market, have already cut the number of holidays on offer by 15 per cent. They said this week that further capacity cuts of between 6 and 8 per cent may still be necessary to protect margins and stimulate demand. First Choice, the UK's third

Failure to book early could mean the loss of a sun, sea and sand package holiday year as three million holidays shift unsold stock. One analyst vere reduced in August 10 largest operator, said that bookings were 21 per cent down, although the company tried to emphasise that demand for winter bookings were up 22 per cent on last

. The City is reserving judgment on the success of the tour said: "Operators are chasing operators' attempt to match margins not volume this time supply with demand until after the peak travelling and do seem prepared to reduce capacity. However, they are still secretly obsessed with market share and mainmonths, having watched last taining their position. Tim Byrne, the Airtours review sales at the end of this month, and said that any further cuts are likely to be carried out before the end of next month. "Whether we take out any more aircraft depends on the pattern of bookings over the next few weeks," he Going Places, the travel agent owned by Airtours, blamed the poor bookings on consumers' belief that late bargains were still available. although it said sales were beginning now to pick up. Holders of Airtours and First Choice shares have had a rollercoaster ride over the past 12 months. The news that Carnival Cruise Corporation, of the United States, is to take just under 30 per cent of Airtours sent Airtours' stock climbing. Shares closed at 460p on Friday, a rise of 30p since Carnival's announcement on Thursday.

Shares in First Choice have climbed slowly this month after plunging last September, when the group issued a warning that profits would be £15 million lower than in 1994.

IoD claims

By RODNEY HOBSON

MANY Business Links, the one-stop advice centres for small and medium-sized businesses, are failing to provide a quality service, the Institute of Directors says in evidence to the Commons Select Commit-

The right people are not being recruited for the frontline role of personal business advis-er, the IoD says. IoD members emphasise the importance of advisers having solid business experience, but many do not have the right background.

tee inquiry into the scheme.

Although small businesses support the concept of Business Links, they find the quality of service very mixed. The IoD says it hopes that the current problems are teething troubles.

Business Links provide firms with a single access point to a comprehensive range of local support services. The service is at the heart of the Government's drive to improve the competitiveness of British businesses and to help them to compete overseas. The first two were established in Leicester and Birmingham in 1993 and by the end of next month there will be 240. Each Business Link is a partnership between organisations such as training and enterprise councils, chambers of commerce, local authorities and enterprise agencies. Some have as many as 12 partners, bringing in universities, development bodies and private sector organisations. The IoD says it has found problems with the partnerships, particularly where partners promoted their own services in competition with the Business Link. Ruth Lea. head of the loD policy unit. says: "This is causing confu-sion and undermining the rationale for Business Link."

Business Links are expected to generate income by charging firms for their services. The IoD suggests it is not realistic or right for the Gov-ernment to charge small companies for the use of the services, and the Business Links could well be pressured into trying to sell services that were not necessarily needed.

UK politics still threaten the market

ike many markets, gilts have recently been in the grip of the sell-off in international bonds, with domestic factors largely over-shadowed. Although the direction of international bonds will clearly be important in the months ahead, it is extremely unlikely that domestic considerations will continue to take a back seal.

On the international front, the key issue is whether the rise in yields will go on. Many explanations have been put forward for why there has been a sharp setback, includmay be being loosened too Minckly. Each of these has its merits, but it is probably more a case of too much supply; the sell-off comes after heavy issu-Vance in Germany and the US. There has been speculation as to whether we are seeing a re-run of the US-led self-off in 1994. We think not. The economic background now is entirely different. Previously, the US faced above-trend growth; now, it is below trend. In 1994, inflation expectations were rising, now, they are falling. Most impor-tantly, US real short-term interest rates were raised in 1994; now, they are being cut.

Most probably, therefore, this bear phase will be short. US yields look especially out of line with the inflation background, which has not been this low for so long since the late 1960s, when long-dated yields were between 4 and 5 per cent. Most probably, these implied high yields will be seen as attractive and, with in-flation likely to stay benign, both Treasury and bund yields will fall in the year ahead.

Although this will be supportive for gilts, the ultimate yel of UK yields will be determined by the domestic backdrop. At face value, the long gilt yields of more than 8 per cent look impressive, against long-term inflation expectations of 212 to 3 per cent, and might suggest real yields of 5 per cent or more. However, index-linked yields show that real yields are lower, at about 3.7 per cent. The difference represents a risk premium.

This premium reflects the Answers from page 33

FRAUENDIENST

BANDAR

WORD-WATCHING

But I find your abasia afterwards rather endearing."

chouse, or unnecessarily disturb them."

passion nor sentimental frauendienst."

(a) Inability to walk caused by lack of co-ordination of the muscles. From the Greek a-privative + basis step. You are perfectly at liberty to take your regulation lunch interval. Chris.

(c) To disturb or harry (cattle). American slang, origin unknown.
The round-up boss would let one ride through the herd and

(c) Exaggerated chivalry towards women. From the German fragen women + dienst service. We find neither outright sexual

(a) The Rhesus Monkey. Macaca mulatta. Also Kipling's nation of monkeys in Bandar-log, from the Hindi log people, hance agguratively any body of irresponsible chatterers. Children, quiet please, QUIET. Never in my entire career have I met such

SOLUTION TO WINNING CHESS MOVE

† Rixd4' exd4 Z Qxh7+! Kxh7 3 Rh5 checkmate.

possibility of a Labour government and the likelihood that the UK will not take part in EMU. Saying how much risk premium is due to each factor is hard, but a benchmark to compare gilts against is the Danish bond market. Denmark is not too dissimilar to the UK in expected economic performance and is also not expected to participate in EMU. The Danish spread against bunds is about 125bp, compared with about 165bp for the UK; the difference of just 40bp may therefore largely represent the risk premium associated with expectations ing the reversal of previous associated with expectations yen-based funding of US Treaof a Labour government suries, hedged fund selling. The question for gits, therepolitical fears in the US and fore, is whether this political fore, is whether this political has a Labour government been fully discounted? We think not. Witness the reaction of gilts to the threat of an early general election that came with John Major's temporary resignation as Tory leader last summer —

ten-vear spreads against bunds rose by 40bp. only to drop back when the imminen threat receded. This suggests that there is a time premium, associated with the election, which will grow as it nears.

If a Labour government has not been fully discounted, therefore, where should the spread against bunds be when an election is called? In the 1992 election, the spread moved to more than 200bp. It might be argued that the spread should be less next time because Labour's stated policies are less of an inflation threat. However, in the last election, opinion polls were less clear about who might win and the spread probably reflected this. Now, the polls show a clear lead for Labour, which (if maintained) would argue for a wider differential.

A spread to bunds of about 200bp is, therefore, probably a realistic level to look for ahead of the election. This is especially so given that, at £34 billion. gross gilt funding in the next financial year will be up on 1995/96 - not easy in an election year. So, although gilts may gain from a future recovery in global bonds, they are likely to underperform later in the year.

JOHN SHEPPERD AND NIGEL RICHARDSON Yamaichi International

TODAY There's more to British Aerospace than metal fly like a bird. Freedom on the ground is just as important.

Notes, British Aerospace

even greater heights. from site to site and ideas move quicken. From the way up to the

Sharing knowledge, minute

BRITISH AEROSPACE PLC FARNBOROUGH, HANTS making an 65,000 lb piece of Now, with the help of Lotus the man on the ground, all director on the board. Now collaboration improves as teams become more effective. by minute, day by day. Helping to keep British The power of Notes is the power of shared knowledge.

O1996 Lotus Development Corporation. Lotus Notes and Working Together are registered trademarks, All company names are registered trademarks of their respective companies.

Working Together*

ing

TODAY

RESULTS AND STATISTICS

Interims: Cash Converters, Community Hospitals, Gertmore Scotland, Honey-suckle Group. Finals: Abbey National, Acom Computer, Brewin Dolphin, Card Clear, ISA International, Leeds & Holbeck Building Society, Lilleshall, HSBC Holding, Midland Bank, Savoy Hotel,

TOMORROW

Interims: Edinburgh Income Trust (Q3), Pfico Holdings, River & Mercantile Smaller Companies_Trust, William Sinclair, TR European Growth. Finals: Barclays, Capita Group, Dixon Motors, English & Overseas Prop-erties, General Accident, HTV Group, Domnick Hunter, Irish Permanent, London Fi-nance & Investment Group, Scottish Eastern Investment Trust, Sleepy Kids, Tele-graph, Union, George Wimpey.

WEDNESDAY

Interims: Henderson Eurotrust, Johnson Fry Euro Utilities, Pacific Horizon Investment Trust. Finals: Asea, Alliance Resources, Associated British Ports, BICC, Capital Shopping Centres, The Corporate Services Group, Inveresk, Leslie Wise, Regina, Sema Group, Stan-dard Chartered.

Economic statistics: Gilt auction (£3 billion 8 per cent 2021), major British banking groups fartgage lending (January).

THURSDAY

Interims: BMG Charles Sidney, Bellwinch, Isotron, Jos Holdings, Murray Ventures, Scottish Investment Trust (Q), SEET. Finals: British Aerospace, Burford Holdings, Cantab Pharmaceuti-cals, Cowie Group, Green Property, Lasmo, Life Sciences, Quarto Group, Serco Group, Sherwood Computer Services, Transatiantic Hold-

Economic statistics: Global trade balance (December), non-EU trade balance (January), new vehicle registra-tions (January), final M4 money supply (January).

FRIDAY

Interims: Ecu Trust, Go-Ahead Group. Finals: TF & JH Braime, Second Market Investment Co, Spargo Economic statistics: Purchasing managers' survey (February).

BAe profits cleared for take off

BRITISH AEROSPACE: Dick Evans, chief executive of British Aerospace, is expected to unveil a take-off in profits on Thursday as the benefits of a strong defence order book and reduced civil aircraft losses flow through. Pete Deighton, at Merrill Lynch, has pencilled in a surge in clean final pre-tax profits to £325 million (E172 million), with a dividend of 12.5p (10p) forecast. BAe's defence business profitability will continue to recover as deliveries of the Tornado jet to the Saudis start to flow through from the Al Yamamah arms-for-oil deal. Prospects also appear to be brighter for the four-nation Eurofighter project. BAe should also see benefits after three years of heavy rationalisation, with the group starting to cut losses at its commercial aircraft business. which have been draining strong defence profits. Orders have also been healthy at the Airbus consortium, in which BAe has a 20 per cent stake. The combined civil and military order book is thought to be worth £9 billion.

Mr Deighton said: "The market has been preoccupied with the order book at Airbus, but should be looking at deliveries in 1995." Mr Deighton expects deliveries in 1995 to have risen to $9.61 billion ($8 billion).

Further news is also awaited this week on the flotation of the Orange mobile phones network. where BAe has a 31.6 per cent stake thought to be worth about £050 million. The Orange float, expected to be worth £2.7 billion, is due by the end of March.

ABBEY NATIONAL: Attention at today's full-year results from Abbey National, which is Britain's second largest mortgage lender, will be diverted by any comments that the bank makes on renewed concerns about the emergence of a mortgage price war. The Nationwide Building Society last week moved to cut mortgage rates and lift returns John Aitken at UBS expects final pre-tax profits to rise to £990 million (£932 million), with a dividend of 22p (17.8p) expected. Market forecasts range from £948 million to £1.05 billion. Apart from current trading and prospects, news is awaited on First National Finance Corpora- the stronger dollar and limited tion, the consumer credit firm

Dick Evans at BAe rejoices as the Al Yamamah deal and savings begin to pay off acquired last year, and the planned acquisition of National & Provincial Building Society.

HSBC: Strong income growth, fuelled by a recovery in dealing profits and in America, should help HSBC, the banking group that owns Midland Bank, to overcome higher bad debts in Hong Kong UBS expects final pre-tax profits to advance to £3.6 billion (£3.17 billion), with a dividend of 31p (27p) predicted. Market forecasts range from £3.44 billion to £3.7 billion. Analysts will focus on news of conditions in the Hong Kong and other Asia-Pacific markets. The bank should benefit from exposure to the UK mortgage market. A provision for Eurotunnel is possible.

BARCIAYS: Falling provision charges are expected to see tomorrow's full-year profits from Barclays top £2 billion as the bank continues the process of restructuring its UK and overseas businesses. John Leonard at Salomon Brothers has pencilled in final pre-tax profits of £2.09 billion (£1.86 billion), with a dividend of 25.5p (21p) expected. Market forecasts range from £1.84 billion to £2.17 billion. Attention will focus on the growth of costs, which are seen as evitable in the short term as the bank continues to streamline its operations and invest for the future. Barclays is expected to show a fairly flat performance on the operating line, with net interest income likely to see a small rise after an improvement in personal lending.

GENERAL ACCIDENT: Tomorrow's full-year profits from General Accident should be towards the top end of expectations after good results from other insurers last week, although uncertainty remains over the extent of weather losses. Last year-end's freeze may have hit GA harder than its competitors, as the coldest temperatures were in the Scottish insurer's home territory, Lyonnais Laing is looking for £20 million. A maintained divi-final pre-tax profits of £410 mil-dend of lp is expected.

casts range from £410 million to £450 million, with a dividend of 31p (29p) forecast.

SEMA GROUP: The fast-growing Anglo-French systems integration and facilities management group should please the market by reporting an advance in final pre-tax profits, due on Wednesday, to E37.5 million (£29.5 million), according to BZW, with an improved dividend of 5.1p (4.1p) predicted.

BICC: Little good news is likely from the cables and construction group when it unveils final results on Wednesday. BICC said in November that it would have a soft second half, having already posted lower profits at the halfway stage, and said much of the profit would be wiped out by provisions for cables busine restructuring and the sale of UK housebuilding. Analysts expect full-year pre-tax profits before exceptionals to fall to between £95 million and £113 million (£131 million), with a reduced dividend of 12.5p (14.6p) forecast.

GEORGE WIMPEY: The builder will be the focus of attention tomorrow for those wishing to hear whether there is any evi-dence of significant recovery in the UK housing market. The group turned itself into Britain's biggest pure housebuilder; through a deal with Tarmac in the autumn, which involved swarping its building materials business for Tarmac's housebuilding side. UBS expensional pre-tax profits to have slumped to £16 million £43. million), with a dividend of 2.9p (8.73p) predicted.

LASMO: Cost-cutting and new production from British cillieds are expected to help the oil exploration group to return to the black when it reveals annual results on Thursday.

The fundamentals will look rosier, thanks to tight debt con-trols and the arrival of new production fields from the North Sea taxed at lower rates than in the past. NatWest Securities expects last year's net loss of E20 million to be turned into net where it has a bigger than income of £7 million. Market average market share. Credit is forecasts range from £4 million to

Buyers guide to industry_

This week will bring the first indica-tion of how British industry fared in February, when the monthly pur-chasing managers' index is published on-Friday. The January survey, carried out by the Chartered Institute of Purchasing and Supply, showed the index at 50.2 per cent Anything below 50 — where it has been lurking for several months — suggests a contraction of manufacturing so the index must be closely watched.

Official government data reflecting January comes out on Thursday, when the non-EU trade balance and net consumer credit figures are issued. Global trade figures for December will also be released. Con credit is expected to come in at about £700 million, according to economists surveyed by MMS International. The non-EU trade balance is expected at £550 million and global trade at £850 million.

Much attention is likely to focus on America this week as economists look for figures that may support interest rate cuts. The producer price index for January is expected to show a fall in its underlying rate, maintaining a background of benign inflation, according to Nigel Richardson of Yamaichi, and he says that the overalltone of the figures will be consistent with a cut in US rates later in March. According to MMS. US producer prices are expected to be up 0.4 per cent compared with 0.5 per cent the previous month, while consumer prices are expected to have risen 0.3 per cent in January against 0.2 per cent in the previous month. In Japan, the release of the February Tankan will be closely watched. The key quarterly survey by the Bank of Japan will come out against a background of speculation that the recovery is strengthening. The initial focus will be on the Tankan's manufacturing diffusion index, which is expected to have moved from -14 per cent to about -8 per cent, which would take it back to the firmest level seen since the first quarter of 1992. The survey will also be studied for what it says about demand in the goods and labour market. The previous survey showed only a modest improvement in these areas.

Bo

SARAH CUNNINGHAM

The Sunday Times Buy Domnick Hunter, Rank Organisation: The Suriday Tele-graph: Boy Sedgwick, British Aerospace, Morgan Sindall, Hold Seel Burrill Jones. The Mail on Sunday: Buy Acorn Group, Wessex Water International Business Communications. Sell Yorkshire Water. The Observer Buy My Kinda Town Commercial Union: Sell Unilever. Independent on Sunday; Buy Biotrace, Isotron. Psion. Sell Intermediate Capital Group.

LEGAL & PUBLIC NOTICES

0171-782 7344

PUBLIC NOTICES	LEGAL NOTICES
·
TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN	No. 00770 of 1996	No. 00769 of 1996
i. JOHN McGOWAN now resid- ng at 2 Acorn Close, Stannoore,	IN THE HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE	IN THE HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE CHANCERY DIVISION		ND SUBMARINE
Middlesex, baving during the past in months carried on the trade or calling of Publican, and being a	COMPANIES COURT	COMPANIES COURT IN THE MATTER OF		S ACT 1975
person interested in the premises described below do hereby give	REDAC SYSTEMS LIMITED	ZUKEN REDAC UK LIMITED		or a Submarine Pipeline
notice that it is my intention to apply at the Transfer Sessions for he said Division to be held at The	THE COMPANIES ACT 1985	IN THE MATTER OF THE COMPANIES ACT 1985 NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN		creby gives notice on behalf of rovisions of Part I of Schedule 4
Course Church End AAR		Lhal a Petition was on 9th Febru- ary 1996 presented to Her Males-	to the Petroleum and Schmari	ne Pinelines Act 1975 that it has
High Road. Willesden. London N.W.10. on the 12th day of Warch 1996, for the provisional grant to me of a justices' Electic	ty's High Court of Justice for the confirmation of the reduction of the share named	ty's High Court of Justice for the confirmation of the reduction of the capital of the above named	industry for the grant of an at	exetury to State for Trade and athorisation for the construction is between Windermere Platform
authorising use to sell by retail intoxicating liquor of all descrip- tions for consumption On the	Company from £50,000,000 to	£4.254.000.	! \  	of the proposed pipelines and
Jons for consumption On the premises about to be effered or refereded for the purpose of being	credit of the Share Premium	AND NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the said Petition is directed to be heard before the	providing certain further information of the charge at the clares listed in a	manor may be inspected free of the Schedule to this notice from a weekday from the date that this
ined as a house for the sale of mioracation Boson situated at 88		Registrar of the Companies Court,		weekday from the date that this
Walm Lane, London N.W 2 and to be known by the sign of McCOWANS, of which premises National Westminster Bath, pk is	directed to be heard before the Registrar of the Companies Court.	WC2A 2LL on Wednesday the	paragraph of this police.
the owner	Courts of Justice, Strand, London	the taid Company desiring to	with respect to the application	ecretary of State, representations in may be made in writing and one for Inde and Industry at the se, 65-85 Guild Street, Aberdeen, orns Menzies, Offshore Pipeline
DATED this 16th day of February 1996 Hodders of 11 Station Road.	WC2A 2LL.on Wednesday the 13th day of March 1996 ANY Creditor or Shareholder of	for the confirmation of the said	Oil and Get Office, Atholi Flore AB9 IDR (marked FAO Miss I	se, 86-88 Guild Street, Aberdeen, Jorna Menzies, Offshore Pipeline
Harlesden, London NW10 4CD. Solicitors and Agents or the Applicant.	the said Company destring to oppose the making of an Order for the confirmation of the said	reduction of the capital of the Company should appear at the line of bearing in person or by	the reference 68/606/Winderm	ere and state the arounds upon or the Applicate.	reduction of the capital of the	Counsel for that purpose. A copy of the said Petition will be furnished to any such person	which the representations are Dated: February 26, 1996. Wintenhall (U.K.) Limited	- I
TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN I. JOHN McGOWAN now resid-	Its Share Premium Account should appear at the time of hear- ing in person or by Counsel for	furnished to any such person requiring the same by the undermentioned Solicitors on payment of the regulated charge	I The OM Town Hell
ing at 2 Acorn Close, Stanmore. Middlesox, baving during the past	hat purpose A copy of the said Petition will	DATED this 20th day of Febru-	Windstedon Broadway, London SW19 SYA. R. Schulze, Managing Director
six months carried on the trade or calling of Publican, and being a person interested in the premises	requiring the same by the	Laylons of Carmelite 50 Victoria	SCHEDULE TO THE NO	TICE FOR PUBLICATION
ir-cribed below do hereby give police that it is my friention to	paymont of the regulated charge for the same	EC4Y OLS Tel: 0171 842 8000 Ref: MJR	PLACES WHERE MAP Wintershall (UK) Limited	S MAY BE INSPECTED Department of Trade &
apply at the Transfer Sessions for the said Division to be beld at The Court House, Church End, 448	Lordon of Conneille SO Victoria	Socialists for the above-named Company	The Old Town Hall	Oil and Gas Office
Court Motes. Church Ed. 200 High Road. Willenden, London NW 10. on the 12th day of March 1996, for the provisional	Embankment Blackfriars London EC4Y OLS Tel: 0171-842 8000 Ref. MJR	Notice of appointment of Administrative Receiver	Wimbledon Broadway London SW19 SYA	4th Floor, Atholi House 86-88 Guild Street Aberdson AB9 1DR
March 1996, for the provisional grapt to me of a justices' likence authorising me to sell by relati	Sources	Centra Golden Development Limited	Fisheries Office	Fisheries Office inlockating liquor of all descrip- lons for consumption On the	THE PARTY OF STREET	Registered number: 02415726 Trading names. Nature of business Property development. Trade classification. 35. Date of	Crown Buildings Pensak Caernorfon	Old Harbour The Quay Profe promises about to be altered or extended for the purpose of being used as a house for the sale of	WE, STEPHEN SILVESTER COLE now residing at 24 Nettleden Avenue. Wembley. Middlesex, having during the past	substitution of administrative	Gwynedd LLS SIP	Dorset BN15 1HP monicating Egypor vituated at 275 Leasden Lane, London N.W 10.	six monits carried on the trade or calling of Music Teacher, and LYNDA ROSE COOPER now	receivers: 19 February 1996. Name of person appointing the administrative receivers. Midland	Fisheries Office Fish Market The Berbican	Fisheries Office 141 Clerthorpes Road Grimsby and to be known by the sign of McGOWANS, of which premises I am the owner.	LYNDA ROSE COOPER now residing at 101 Cakington Manor Drive, Wembley, Middlesex, hav-	Bank Pir Names of administra- tive receivers: Alam John Barrett and James Nicholas Wilding.	Plymouth, Deven	South Hamburside
04 TED bijs 16th day 4 Entertain 1996	ing during the part six months carried on the trade or calling of	0972. Addresses. No. I London	Fisheries Office 46 Fore Store	Pishecies Office 26 London Street
Hodders of 1: Station Road. Hartenden, Landon NW10 4LTD Hollictors and Agents	Legal Secretary, and being per- sons interested in the premises described below do hereby gite	Bridge, London SE1 9QL	Newlyn Penzance TR18 STR	Pietwood Lancasture FY7 6/G
or the Applicant	notice that it is our intention to apply at the Transfer Sessions for	No. 00767 of 1996 IN THE HIGH COURT	Fisheries Office Fish Martes.	Fisheries Office Sea View
•	the said Division to be field at The Court House, Church End. 448 High Road. Willesdam, London N.W.10 on the 12th day of	OF A STICE CHANCERY DIVISION COMPANIES COURT	Rothe-Nort Road Hastings East Scorex TN34 1DW	Buttery Green Road Lowestedt Serfielt
Anyone impowing the where- thous of GEORGE EDWARD	N.W.10 on the 12th day of March 1996, for the provisional	IN THE MATTER OF ZUKEN-REDAC	National Federation	Fisheries Office
v ALDING piese contact Bridges 6 Bridges, Hetr Finders, Sacra-	grant to us of a fustices' licence authorising us to sell by relaif	GROUP LIMITED ENTHE MATTER OF	Fishermens' Organisations Mandon Road	5 Hamilton Terrace Milford Haven
nesto, Catifornia, (Phone (916) 51 0571, Fax. (916) 451 0892.) Jorg in Northamptonshire, 1912.	there for consumption On the premises about to be afford or	THE COMPANIES ACT 1985 NOTICE IS HEREBY CIVEN	Fish Docks, Grinsby South Humberside DN71 350
te verved as a sergeant in the	extended for the purpose of bring used as a bosse for the sale of	that a Petition was on 9th Febru- ary 1996 presented to Her Mairs	Fisheries Office, 15 Union Qu North Shields, Type and West	NE30 IHN
nast in London in 1950's.	informating liquor stituted at Units 5H & 5J Alias Business Con- tre, Ougote Lans, Staples Corper,	ty's High Court of Justice for the condinuation of the reduction of the reduction of the stone period	TERWAINE GROUP LINETED
LEGAL NOTICES	London N.W 2 and to be known by the slap of CLUB STLINO, of	Campany from £50,000,000 to £23,409,998 and of the cancella-	NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN pursuant to Section 98 of the Insolvency Act 1986, that a most-	THE INSOLVENCY ACT 1986 NOTICE IS HEREBY CIVEN PUTBLES TO SECTION 98 of the
	which premises lines Properties Limited is the owner.	tion of the appoint standing to the credit of the Share Premium Account of the above-named	ing of the creditors of the above- named company will be held at	implyency Act 1986, that a Meg- ing of the Creditors of the above
WM LOW & COMPANY PLC (IN MEMBERS VOLUNTARY LIQUIDATION)	DATED this 16th day of February 1996. Hodders of 11 Station Road.	Company. AND NOTICE IS FURTHER	the offices of Lectured Curte & Co. skinsted at 30 Energotarus Terraca, (2nd Floor) London W2	pamed Company will be held at Old Library Chambers, 21 Chip.
Company number: SC0009944	Harlesden, London NW10 4UD. Solicions and Aponts	GIVEN that the said Petition is directed to be beard before the	61.F. on 29th February 1996 at	per Lane. Sethbury. Withhire. SPI 1BG on 1 Merch 1996 at 10.30 and, for the purposes men-of WM LOW & COMPANY PLC On 21 February 1996 the above	for the Applicants.	Registrar of the Companies Court. sitting in Open Court, at the Royal Courts of Justice, Strand, London	2.30pm for the purposes provided for to Sections 94 et seq. A list of zames and addresses of	tioned in Sections 99 to 101 of the ompany was placed in members' olumbary impudation and authory Victor Louis of Price	HEROBELL LIMITED T/A ALMA	WC2A 211 on Wednesday the	the above company's creditors can be inspected at the offices of Leanure Curto & Co. PO Box	A fiel of the names and adarenses of the Company's credi-
Valerhouse. No 1 London Bridge. unden SE1 9QL was appointed	(in Creditors Voluntary Liquidation)	ANY Creditor or Shareholder of the said Company desiring to	907 30 FEMBRES Miles Cons	tors will be available for insper- tion free of charge at Old Library Chambert, 21 Chipper Lane
quidator by the shareholders. The liquidator gives notice oder the provisions of Rule	The Insolvency Act 1986 in accordance with Ruse 4.106	oppose the making of an Order for the confirmation of the said reduction of the capital of the	Floor). London W2 GLF, between the bours of 10.00 gm and 4.00 per on the two bookings days pre-	Chambert. 21 Chipper Lane. Salisbury. Wilabire. 591 18C between 10.00 am and 4.00 pm
ndes the provisions of Rule 182A of the insolvency Rules 986 that the creditors of the	of the Insulvency Rules 1986, notice is hereby given that L. K.P. Barry, FCA a Licewed Insol-	Company and the cancellation of	ceding the Meeting of Creditors. Debut 20th February 1996.	on 28 February 1996 and 29 Feb. rusry 1996. Creditors wishing to vote at the engety right sond details in	Vency Practitioner of Messrs.	ing in person or by Counsel for	Stephen George Scult, Director.	Meeting mast lodge a full since.
empany to the liquidator, at	553. 30 Eastbourne Terrace. Landon W2 6LF, was appointed Limitator of the above Company	that purpose. A copy of the said Polition will be furnished to any such person		ment of account and funders attending in persons a proof in the form attached at Old Library
nige. London SE1 90L by 31 arch 1996 which is the last dist orch 1996 which is the last dist opporting claims. The liquidator	by the parimbers and creditors on 2nd Sabruary 1996 All debts and	requiring the some by the protermennous Solicitors on	Chairmy Lubricates Limited	Chembers. 21 Chipper Lane. Sambury, Withhre SP1 18G no lacer than 12 room on 29 Febra-
to gives notice that he will then also gives notice that he will then ake a final distribution to credi-	cialms should be sent to me at the	payment of the regulated chitigs : for the same.	NOTICE IS HEREBY CITYEN	must under they surrender their
rs and that a creditor who does of make a claim by the date	All creditors who have not already done so are invited to prove their claims in writing to	DATED this 20th day of February 1996 Laytons of Carmente 50 Victoria	met L.I. K Denney, of Delotte & Touche, I Woodburough Road, Notingham NGI 3FG was	security, give particularly of their security and its assessed value if entioned will not be included in e distribution. The company is able to pay all	ment of invitation to prove debts	Embankment Blackfrian London ECAY OLS	appointed Liquidator of the above named Company by the Creditors and Members on 15th February	they wish to vote at the Meeting. BY ORDER OF THE BOARD Signed, Alan H Lockyer.
the company is much to bey in .	will be given.	Tel: 0171-842 8000 Ref: MJR	ANG MERIORY ON 19(D) FOR 1257	Director

Healthy debut forecast for Freepages

SHARES in Freepages, a tele-est in Freepages and we expect phone directory company, are a very healthy debut." Heavy expected to race to a healthy premium when they start trading on the Alternative Investment Market for smaller and growing companies tomorrow. David Abrahams.

a dealer at Winterflood Securities said: "We have seen a tremendous amount of inter-demand has prompted talk that the shares may open at about 16p, compared with a placing price of 12p.

There is also huge demand for Easynet, the Internet access provider due to float next month at 100p, after MAID, the on-line information supplithe company. First Information Group, an making a market in AIM independent multimedia production company specialising: in CD-Roms for the consumer making a market in AIM, market, is expected to be capitalised at up to £40 million when it floats on AIM next month through a £7 million er, invested £1.49 million in placing to fund future growth, acquiring a 15 per cent stake in On AiM's future. Mr Abrathe company. hams said: "With more people rumoured to be considering

. Direct

Mr.

10 DY ...

. Sec. 1.

32-11

E =

S. Name

PHILIP PANGALOS

15.50 AMCO Corp 215 AMCO Corp 215 Abrais Recruit 19.20 A de Gruchy 11.30 African Gold 4.83 Albernstale & Bd 10.50 Abra Orniston 36.40 Ann St Brevery 5.30 Ann St Cv Pf 66.10 Antroov 2.13 Arion Props 11.70 Ask Central 1.05 African Frost 6.28 Ballynatray 4.88 Baris Hidgs 3.85 Belcanto 1.03 Bowness Leis Bown Leis Cv Pf 5.32 Brancole Hidgs 36.00 Brackbank	Price (peace)	Vindy Y74 +/- 74	P/E Sect of controls	co Company	Price (place)	Widy +/-	YN E
15.50 AMCO Corp	109	- 2 52	2 120 291	m) London Town Manacy Corp. Melancy Corp. Menacy Corp. Nash (Who) Nest (Who) Ne	3
19.20 A de Gruchy	130	5.4	10.8 121	O Lorien Grp	225	_ 3.	2.1
4.83 Albemarale & Bd	. 13	- 4	14.	O Megalomedia:	111	- j	1./
10 50 Alpha Omiliron 36.40 Ann St Brewery	20 380	- 1 58	11.4 5.5	Megaloonedia Wis 7 Mediak	99 - 88	+ 2	•••
5.30 Ann St Cv Pf 66.10 Antonov	895 93	8.9	238.0	O Memory Corp 3 Metrodome Films	402 22	8
2.13 Arion Props - 11.70 Ask Central	9 73		14.0	O Moerepay 8 Mountashel	185	.÷.1	3.0
1.05 Athetney Trust 6.28 Rallynatray	58		9.0 19.9 25.1	O MultiMedia O NWE Gro	69 335
4.88 Baris Hidgs	19	+ 1	8.7	Nash (Wm)	210		39
1.03 Bowness Leis	150	+ 5 39	5.6	3 Neilson Cobbold	205	.	2.2 2.3
5.32 Brancole Holgs	. 70 53	+ 3 0	30.5 7.1	Nortenas Nortenas	73 73	+ 3 + 2	3.
0.94 CCI Hogs	. 305 118	26	00.5 7.7 0.1	9 Mma Petim Wits.	55 8
0.13 CCI Founder Shs 3.20 Cafe inns	110 112	22	92 17.9	Milmib Res Prps O Nursing Home	66 116		18
7.39 Catedonian Tst 14.60 Card Clear	- 65 65	- 5 + 4	7.9 11.4 5.2	0 Old English Pub 4 Omnicare	96 85	+ 4	3
3.28 Cassidy Bros 1.87 Cavendish W F	60 43	6.2	8-6 10.7 21.8 16.2	O Omnernedia O Dotical Care	- 60 70	્≕ીકે
5.28 Celebrated Group 17.50 Celfic	18. 6750		18.7	0 Pacific Madia Pacific Med Pl	1 ³ 4
Celtic Pi Sits	6750 119	25	15.3 15.1	O Pan Andean Res	39.	T a
7.57 Chartwell kntt	71	- 7	95.9	Pel City	395	"不够"。
13.10 CleipPartners	31		29.8	2 Presion Nib E	 149 400	- 10
3.85 Belcarko 1.03 Bowness Leis Bown Leis Cr Pf 5.32 Brancole Helgs 36.00 Brockbank 0.94 CCI Helgs 0.13 CCI Founder Shs 3.20 Cale lands 7.30 Cale lands 7.30 Cale donian Tst 14.60 Card Clear 3.28 Cassidy Bros 1.87 Cavendish W F 5.28 Celebrated Group 17.50 Celfic Celfic Celfic Pf Shs 16.00 CI Commist W 7.57 Chartwell Infl 0.99 Clas Homes 13.10 Clear Pri Shs 13.10 Creas Infl 14.80 Country Gdns 2.68 Chry Gdns 2.68 Chry Gdns 2.68 Chry Gdns 3.58 Candd Glass 5.00 Dawson Helgs 3.79 Orean Corp 13.10 Duralek 90.50 Beckrophoretics Infl 5.62 Euror Sales Fn Farlate	37	27	158 10.6 15.1 3.6 0.1	3 Neveration Piccadilly D Riceman Insce	105 16
13.50 Country Gdns 2.68 Catry Gdns Pl	73 73:	- 2 21 9.1	15.1 3.6	O Rushmere Wynne 4 Rush Wyn Wrts	4 119	+ 1
33.00 Creas Intl 14.89 Crown Products	92 56	- 2 + 1 :::	7.7	2 SCS Satetilite 5 September Inde	. 75 28	- 5	 4 E
10.60 DBS Management	157	4.8	64	Scott Pride	43		1.3
3.58 David Glass	.66	5.5	9.4 2.9	Self Sealing	300 51	+ 20 5	i.4
379 Dean Corp	123 13	- 23 3.1 - 1	76.0 61.6	Skyefterna Skyefterna	3 91.
13.10 Doralek 90.50 Bectrophoretics Inti	. 70 140		132.3	O SkyePhona 8 Wis. O Southern News	814 581
5 62 Euro Sales En Farlake	125 - 335		726	Southarn Vectis	53	+ 3	15
		+ 30	72.6 16.9 61.8 41.5	Surrey Fr Incs	397 168	- 35 2	.5
551 Flormerics	165 142 215 288		19.5 5.1	Tale Cred But Tale Cred Wits	785 	- 15	7 .
TO IO IONIDAGON .	288 191	- 5 0.4 + 15 1.3 - 1 32	24.6 17.7	Tale Cred Wits Toad	38 105	+ 2
4:75 Furlang Homes 28.20 Gander Holgs	α.	- 1 32	51	Trinity Care Trinity Care Pf	175	+ Z.	1.1
6 00 Greenhills 32,90 Gustoo	20	34	123 215.4	Trocadero	1/0: 51		.:
3 67 Hansom	36		81	Lital Auctions	40 458		1-4-
56.80 Hiscox Ded Ins 10.70 Indpt Radio	147 36 125 107 65	0.3	35.7	VOIC Versailles Gro	750 131		. · ·
14 20 News Workings 21 50 Intl. Greetings	85. 513	- 1	5,70	Viewing . Voss	190	+ 5
14 20 Imas Workings 21 50 Intl. Greetings 3 67 Jesmin 18 80 Jennings Bros 42 80 IS Biomedix 24 70 Lancashire Enterprise 14 80 Jancashire Enterprise	90 290	2.7	35.77 13.5 20.8 5.60	Innity Care P(Innity	240 10	- 20	• .
42.80 XS Biomedix	113	- 2 - 3 37	5.6	Western Selection	4 16
24 70 Lancashire Enterprise 14.80 Lancace 53.70 Lancie Group 43 10 Le Riches Strs Litehome As Ten	243		140 2.6 140	. Westester M Met	28	- 2

Era comes to an end at Fiat as Agnelli quits the driving seat

Grace Man

GIANNI AGNELLI is set to step down as chairman of Fiat this week, marking the end of an era for Italy's largest private company. At a board meeting on Wednesday, Cesare Romiti, the current chief executive, is due to be named new chairman. Signor Agnelli has held the the job for 30 years. Signor Romiti will in turn be replaced as CEO by Paolo Cantarella, the head of Piat Auto, the car division and he car division and heart of the group, which will now be run by Roberto Testore.

This carefully planned transfer of power was thrown into confusion last week by the undignified departure of the company number three, Giorgio Garruzzo. He told a newspaper that Signor Romiti had had him fired. Fiat rode out the storm by maintaining that it had simply decided to do away with his position of chief operating officer.

Signor Romiti will face another storm in his first week as head of Fiat. A Turin court is due to decide on March 5 whether to send him and other Fiat managers for trial on charges of diverting funds to Swiss accounts. The funds Sarah Cunningham on the changes under way at the top of Italy's leading private company were then allegedly used to make payments to politicians and Fiat managers working abroad. These factors and a general market nervousness ahead of a general election in Italy on April 21 have put pressure on Fiat shares just as the company was enjoying the fruits of a remarkable turnaround.

Signor Romiti joined Fiat as finance director. He was appointed CEO at a low point for the company in 1976 and is credited with facing down the unions, diversifying into profitable lines, ensuring Fiat's takeover of the prestigious Alpha Romeo marque in 1986 and improving product quality.

But Signor Romiti cannot be other than a short-term appointment as chairman. He is 72 years old, only two years younger than Signor Agnelli, and the company's rules stipulate that board members must retire at 75. The obvious successor to Signor Romiti is Signor Agnelli's nephew, Giovanni Alberto Agnelli, better known as Giovannino. He was named as successor-in-waiting in July but Signor Cantarella, 52, is now considered another possible candidate.

The younger Agnelli, 31, is head of the Piaggio motor scooter business which belongs to his mother's family. Although considered too young to run the huge Fiat business, which has combined sales of 70 trillion lire (£28 billion), he has earned a reputation in Italy as a good manager. Outside Italy he is an almost unknown quantity. Fiat is expected to gradually bring Giovannino into closer contact with the Analysis have started to warm to Fiat, which is involved in insurance, newspaper publishing and retailing but still principally vehicle production, since the successfu launch of the small Punto, a replacement for the top-selling Uno. The firm launched its new model, the three-door Bravo and five-door Brava, in Britain last month. Fiat plans a big sales push in the UK this year, a market in which it lost ground in the eighties.

"The Punto was doing well but they needed a second string to their bow and they seem to have produced it with Bravo and Brava," says Stephen Reitman, auto analyst with UBS in London. Philip Ayton, analyst with Barclays de Zoete Wedd, was more cautious: "It is too early to say how successful they are, although the early indications are good."

The Punto was launched two years ago and helped to put Fiat back into profit. The group reported a net loss of 1,700 billion lire in 1993 but last year had recovered to a 1,000 billion lire profit. It predicts a consolidated net profit of 2,000 billion lire for 1995.

Prospectus due from Orange

Orange, the mobile telephone company, which plans to float in late March, s to publish a pathfinder prospectus on Wednesday. Flotation is expected to value Orange at about £2.7 billion and raise about £700 million for Hutchison Whampoa, of Hong Kong. and British Aerospace, its two shareholders. The funds will be used to pay off debt and expand Orange's all-digital network. The shares' price range will be stated on Wednesday. A price will be set the day before trading starts. Pay floor 3%

Rises of 3 per cent are emerging as the "floor" for private sector pay deals in 1996, says Incomes Data Services. It says almost two thirds are for rises of 3.1 to 4 per cent, with the number of deals under 3 per cent very small". A third of deals last month gave rises of 3.9 per cent or more.

Gas criticism Sir Denis Rooke, former chairman of British Gas. has accused ministers of taking a back seat over its £40 billion of high-cost North Sea producers. He told BBCZ's The Money Programme. I believe the Government has the mafor responsibility for causing the difficulty."

Divorce call

The Fairshares campaign yesterday urged ministers to end uncertainty over pension rights for divorced women and to let courts split pensions at divorce.

Amber move

An electronic version of the Amber Index, which aims to identify takeover targets and potential crashes, will be available on ICV's TOPIC3 equity information service from March.

VOTING PAPER

Company of the Year

Abous Polar

GWR Group

Count transpark 🔲

☐ Meconic

Stores

☐ ZoteFooms

Hozelock Group

Garnes Workshop Group

speasored by Albert E Sharp

Best Annual Report

Best Performing Share

PLC Achievement

sponsored by Burrops Link St Ives pile

Spensored by Winterflood Securities Limited

Spensored by Peel, Hunt and Company Limited

Best Performing Smaller Company Fund

Precent Interessional

New Company of the Year

OTHER AWARDS

sponsored by College Hill Associates

Bombardier decision on bid for ailing Fokker imminent

BOMBARDIER, the Canadian aircraft-maker that owns Short Brothers of Northern Ireland, is expected to reveal as early as tomorrow whether it will bid for Fokker, the ailing Dutch aerospace concern.

Roy McNulty, Shorts president, is scheduled to speak about Bombardier's latest business activities, including its interest in Fokker and its role in making components for Global Express. Bombardier's new long-range business jet, at a press conference in Belfast that day.

Fokker said last week that Bombardier and Samsung of Japan, which is also considering a bid for Fokker, would make their intentions known within a few days.

Fokker has been looking for a buyer since Daimler Benz of Germany, the majority owner, withdrew its financial support last month. Fokker, with debts of $1.8

billion, is now under court protection from its creditors, and the Dutch Government gave it a £125 million lifeline to keep its operations going at the factory based at Amster-dam's Schiphol airport.

in keeping Fokker alive launch because Shorts makes the Fokker.

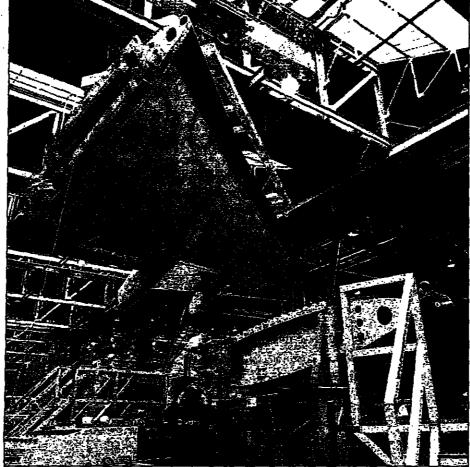

wings for the Fokker 100 passenger jet, and will do the same for the proposed Fokker 70, a smaller version of the Shorts said that Fokker accounts for more than 20 per cent of its business. If Fokker goes bankrupt formally and production ceases, up to 1,500 jobs in Belfast would be at Bombardier also wants to extend its range of regional aircraft. Its portfolio includes the De Havilland Dash 8 turboprop and the RJSO jet. It intends to introduce a stretched version of the latter, called the RJ70, by 2000. If Bombardier buys Fokker, it appears unlikely that both the Fokker 70 and the R170 would go ahead. But production of the Fokker 100, or its successor, would seem secure under Bombardier ownership. Bombardier does not over-pay for acquisitions. Its strategy is to go after lame ducks, as it did with De Havilland and Shorts, and squeeze govern-ments for handouts in exchange for keeping jobs. . Bombardier would like assistance from the Dutch Government, perhaps in the form Bombardier has an interest of debt forgiveness, if it is to keeping Fokker alive launch a formal bid for

Wing and a prayer: work on the Fokker 100 in progress at Shorts in Belfast

UK employees reap benefits of works councils

By PHILIP BASSETT, INDUSTRIAL EDITOR

BRITISH employees in companies which have ignored the Government's social chapter opt-out and set-up Europeanstyle works councils are already better informed. according to the first survey today of the operation of such bodies in British business. The Government maintains that there is no need for most UK companies to set up European works councils (EWCs) following the opt-out from the social chapter of the Maastricht treaty negotiated by John Major.

Increasingly, however, com-panies in the UK are setting up EWCs. usually to keep their British subsidiaries in line with operations in the rest of Europe. UK employers' bodies are adopting a more pragmatic approach to EWCs. advising companies on how to introduce them, rather than attempting to oppose them.

But in the first survey of how EWCs are working — by the TUC and the Labour Research Department — a study of trade union representarives on a range of EWCs suggests that employees in the companies involved are already better informed. The how out of touch the Govern-TUC, which today starts a ment is with business needs says the councils are "successfully fulfilling their role in informing and consulting workers on a wide range of economic and employment

The survey reveals that companies' strategies and markets were the key areas covered by EWCs, with 79 per cent of those surveyed reporting that such issues are discussed. Company products were high on the agenda (76 per cent), with financial re-sults and investment accounting for 72 per cent. Pay is discussed by only 14 per cent. Financial results took up the most time. Half of those surveyed believe that EWCs should go further and embrace issues such as redundancies and staffing concerns.

Significantly, a growing number of EWCs, even in unionised companies, are representing non-union as well as union workers. John Monks. TUC General Secretary, says the study shows "modern trade unions effectively representing workers, and interested in the success of their companies". He added: "This is fresh evidence revealing just two-day conference on EWCs and workers' interests."

CD-Rom specialist takes aim

BY PHILIP PANGALOS

FIRST Information Group (FIG), an independent multimedia production company specialising in CD-Roms for the consumer market, is planning to float on the Alternative Investment Market (AIM) and is expected to be capitalised at between £35 million and £40 million when it starts trading next month.

The enterprise was founded in 1980 by a team of television. broadcasters headed by Mich-

Entrepreneur of the Year

sponsored by Credit Lymneis Loing

20 Gammell (Com Energy)

Chris Sween (Finelist Group)

Ray (Apreherlain (Forward Group)

Best New Entrant to AiM

ASK Central

☐ Trecodero

Memory Corporation

Surrey Free lans

sponsored by Rusherford Asset Management

Bryan Bedson (Wyndeham Press Group)

A decade of achievement

ael Rodd, a former presenter of Tomorrows World. Chrysalis Group acquired the business in 1988 and developed it into a multimedia producer, before the operation was sold to the current management team in 1993. After the acquisition, the new management team expanded the company's multimedia activities into the production and distribution of its own titles under the > Awards 1995

Sponsored by Coopers & Lybrand

Voting rules

Only original voting

The judges shall be entitled in their sole discretion to exclude or discount any vote

which they believe has been cast or submitted

as a sesult of or as part campaign or concerted of any co-ordinated

Coopers

&Lybrand

Coopers & Lybrand

Nigel Hopes

Harman House

1 George Street

Voting papers to arrive no later than

Tuesday 5 March 1994

Uxbridge

napers may be used

Only one voting paper

per person is permitted

in association with The Times

FlagTower brand. The first four titles, including World War I, World War II, War in the Pacific and The Space Race, were launched last October. FIG plans to raise £7 million through a placing. The proceeds will be used to reduce debt and fund the development and production of further titles. After the float, FIG will retain some £5 million of cash. AIM report page 40

CMG ready to unveil deal with Esso UK

By PHYLIP PANGALOS

CMG, the information technology services and consultancy group that recently floated on the London and Amsterdam stock markets, is today expected to announce that it has signed an outsourcing agreement with Esso UK, expected to be worth at least £15 million

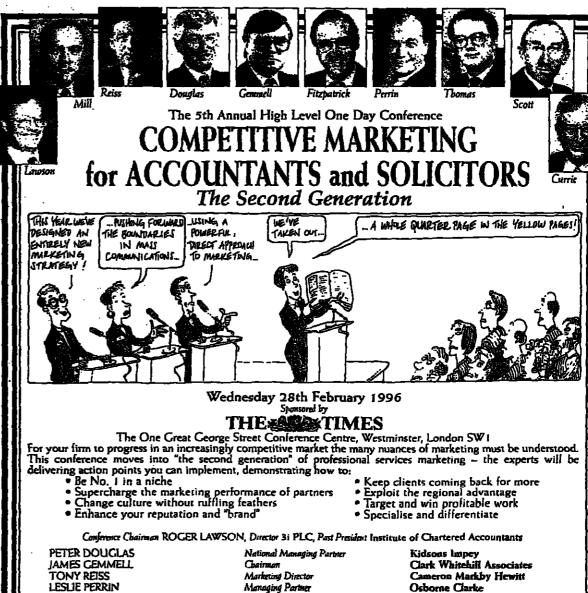

Under the agreement, CMG, which is chaired by Cor Stutterheim, will carry out the overall project management of Esso's information technology programme in the UK over the next five over five years.

CMG will assume the responsibility for selecting other suppliers to provide complimentary or additional skills as necessary, and for ensuring that projects are delivered on time and within budgets.

The agreement is a further development of CMG's declared strategy in the UK of developing long-term con-tracts with leading companies and organisations in its key business sectors. CMG employs a workforce of 2,600 in the UK, The Netherlands and Germany. The group's blue chip clients include Shell, British Gas, BP, Unilever, KLM, Abbey National, Legal & General, Schroders, Hambros and the Department of Trade and

LESLIE PERRIN ROY THOMAS PETER SCOTT MAURICE FITZPATRICK BRIAN CURRIE DOUGLAS MILL Senior Partner

Managing Partner Legal Director/Secretary Managing Partner Londo Director of Public Relations former Managing Partner

Chantrey Vellacott Arthur Andersen MacFarlane Young (Scotland) An Optional Workshop on the 29th will be an in-depth and interactive day exploring: How to do client surveys

Welsh Development Agency

 Developing an effective marketing strategy Cross selling and techniques to grow client relationships Database marketing This will be invaluable to both Partners and Managers in all sizes of accountancy and law firms. Fee for the conference is normally £360 plus VAT, but TIMES Readers have a special price of £324 plus VAT.

The conference and workshop is reduced to £614 plus VAT.

COMPETITIVE MA	RKETING for AC	CCOUNTANTS and SOLICITORS
Name		Position
Firm / Organisation	·
Address	···
	PostCode	Tel
I enclose a cheque payable to CENTUE	Y COMMUNICAT	TIONS, , or charge my Visa/Access/ AmEx £
☐ Conference £324 + VAT = £380,70		Conference & Workshop £614 + VAT = £721,45
My credit card number is:		Expire date

Mail or fax to : Chris Kohut, CENTURY COMMUNICATIONS,

11 Queen's Gate Place, London SW7 SNX Tel 0171-838 0008 Fax 0171-838 0009

NUL

ne American commentator said last week that he would call Pat Buchanan a national socialist if history had not made that so insulting. You can see what he meant. The Republican challenger appeals to those traditionally at different ends of the political spectrum. God's own country, he claims, is being undermined by intellectual liberals, by cheaplabour imports, by foreigners' unfair practices, by Wall Street traders and fat-cat financiers betraying industry. Add the weasel term "international capital" and you are straight into anti-semitism as well as anti-oriental prejudice which is more respectable in America.

Sounds familiar, doesn't it. Mr Buchanan is no Nazi but his themes, with local variations, are a common currency of populist movements. They appeal to the fed-up, rather than the dispossessed. What makes his ideas interesting, rather than merely worrying, is that they have such growing appeal in America, the rampant top nation, not just in countries that have seen better days.

The American economy that developed in the 1980s and 1990s is the preferred model for Britain, for developing and former Communist countries and, increasingly, even for continental Europe and Japan. Free flexible markets for goods, for capital and for labour revived enterprise and created millions of jobs. They have accommodated relatively steady, pacey economic growth with low inflation and low

Message for Europe in the Buchanan factor money interest rates. Deregulation, free trade and monetary control are prescribed indiscriminately by the economic establishments of the IMF, World Bank and OECD along with the budgetary discipline America keeps putting off. Only this way will EU countries free themselves from low growth and long job queues. Only this way can developing countries build healthy economies and rising living standards. Back home in middle America, however, an unfortunate side-effect has developed. The level of real income has scarcely risen for 20 years. Many families have therefore seen no gain to compensate for the disruption and insecurity brought by changing trade and job patterns. Workers and middle managers in manufacturing and process industries expect more of the same. The North American Free Trade Agreement threatens to shift jobs South as US corporations and inward investors opt for lower Mexican wage costs to beat competition from the latest Asian tigers. The drive to cut labour costs puts pressure on company pensions and medical care. That sounds familiar too. In Britain, the "feel-bad" factor is novel. Only during this recovery has real take-home been left standing while the economy chugs ahead. But there are constant warnings that life is going to get tougher. Flexible markets mean jobs are insecure, so unemployment will stay high, so we cannot afford so much welfare protection. Such is the consensus among political realists.

GRAHAM SEARJEANT

Rising international competition will force us to cut back on any costs that Asian tiger manufacturers do not bear. They do not have social security, so we cannot afford it any more. Last week, a Joseph Rowntree study concluded that mass unemployment would continue indefinitely unless those in work accept lower wages, higher taxes or higher prices. In Germany, the Bundesbank called for cuts in social security payments and wage restraint to stem unemployment, which has reached a postwar high after three years of economic recovery.

How come, potential Buchanan-ites might ask, that the liberal establishment failed to tell us about this when they sang the praises of the "vital" Uruguay trade round? If free trade makes you worse off. rotection looks appealing. At least, it looks appealing until you count up the even worse disruption and job losses in export and import businesses that a trade war would bring. Growth would be lower if trade was curbed. But need the cost of competition be so high?
The Bundesbank complained of social protection that makes it financially pointless for a married worker with two children to take a job at less than £270 a week, about 60 per cent more than in Britain. Once job queues grow, spiralling social security taxes on jobs create a ratchet effect. Without destroying protection, taxes and allowances can be structured to make labour less

The second prong of Mr Buchanan's attack is just as crucial. The tigers ape pre-reform Japan, which had high investment and savings, low dividends, secure employment, govemment direction and far from open capital markets - as well as low taxes. For industrial countries to maintain higher living standards, they must compete better in other ways, such as bigger and better investment, whether in physical assets, medicines or software.

expensive and to improve incentives.

The director-general of the National Association of Pension Funds insisted last week that the only stakeholder in companies is the shareholder. The share of profit in national income has grown to levels only dreamt of 20 years ago, when trade union power was at its height. But shareholders in the open Anglo-Saxon economies are failing to encourage even the higher investment normally expected in a wellestablished economic upswing.

Instead, cash is being extracted in dividends that are growing much faster than wages, in one-off special dividends, share buybacks and cash takeovers. That allows funds to shift faster from old to new industries, but too much is leaking away. In the market for capital, the most competitive of all, fund managers, like fat cat" bosses, are using their new power to resist the shift to investment returns approriate to a lowinflation economy.

Reforms here will cost far less than the upheaval of Buchananism.

ents' cash on deposit at the Barings banking operation

Jonathan Taylor, a director of BAM, said the fund management arm suffered the defection of clients after the collapse and again at the end of the year after a poor performance in UK equities. However, he said, improvements in international performance, particularly Japan and the Asia Pacific region, contribut-ed to a gross inflow of funds of £1.8 billion, limiting the fall in funds under management from £26.3 billion at the time of the collapse to £25.6 billion. Technical difficulties prevented ING restarting futures and options operations in Singapore until two months ago. ING had been offered the option of buying Barings Futures Singapore, but aware of potential liabilities associated with it, turned down the option. ING Futures Singapore opened for trade on December 12. But the securities business, whose strength is in the Far East, did not contribute to profits last year.

spite of the delay in restarting

the operations, has now won back its market share in the Far East and extended its might expand through acquisition. He said: "The past is behind us." The focus now is:

on seeking bigger volumes and exploiting the synergy between the bank and the

He hopes to prune costs by a minimum of £25 million, or 8 investment bank".

reach into new countries.

Lindenbergh

said that the brokerage side of the husiness in had been frozen.

Better tunes : on the piano

Cinema 100: The Piano. Radio 4, 2.00pm.

The first question you will want answered is whether Micheline Wandor's radio version of Jane Campion's Oscar-winning film uses Wandor's radio version of Jane Campion's Oscar-winning film uses Michael Nyman's original music. Happily, no. Anthea Gomez's sad Michael Nyman's original music. Happily, no. Anthea Gomez's sad musical threads are simpler and therefore more poignant. Otherwise, the three-part serial is faithful to the film except that episode one explains why its central character (Stella Gonet) chooses never to speak. On radio, her mind's voice speaks even more dramatically about her role in the quadrangular relationship involving her illegitimate daughter (Susan Sheridan), her arranged husband (David Banneaman) and her Jover (Ian Hogg). Believe it or not, the inhospitable New Zealand setting is depicted on radio almost as wirdly as in Campion's film. as vividly as in Campion's film.

Ren Russell's Movie Classics, Classic FM, 7.00pm.

Russell is entitled to his opinion, and so am I. His compilation of music from films that are based on novels has some eccentric judgments. He dismisses Erich Wolfgang Korngold's exquisite Of Human Bondage score as schmalzy. Yet he droots over Franz Waxman's paiently syrupy music for A Place in the Sun. He seriously undervalues The Magnificent Andersons, but makes amends by playing some of Bernard Herrmann's score. I salute him for playing Richard Addinsell's music for Goodbye Mr Chips over which the gentle ghost of Robert Donat forever hovers. Peter Davalle.

FMI Stareo. 4.00em Clive Warren 6.30 Chrie Evans 9.00 Strom Meyo 12.00 Lisa l'Arson, including 12.30-12.45pm Newsbest, and at 1.15. The Net 2.00 Nacly Campbell 4.00 Mark Goodier, including at 5.30-5.45 Newsbest 6.15. The Net 6.30 The Mix 7.00 Evening Session 9.00 in Concert Susde 10.00 Mark Radolite Middlight Wendy Lloyd, incl at 12.15em The Net

FM Stereo. 6.00 Serah Kennedy 6.15
Pause for Thought 7:30 Welse Lip
Wogan 9:15 Pause for Thought 9:30
Ken Bruce 11:30 Ed Doolan 2:00pm
Debble Thrower 3:30 Ed Stevent 6:05
Pauf Heiney 7:00 Hubert Gregg 7:30
Metoolim Laycock with at 8:00 Big Band
Era 8:30 Big Band Special 9:00
Humphrey Lyttefton 10:00 Frame III With Valerie Singleton 10:30 The Jernesions
12:05am Digby Fairweather 1:00 Sleve
Meddan 3:00-8:00 Alex Lester

RADIO 5 LIVE

5.00am Morning Reports, Incl. 5.45 Water-Up to Money 6.00 The Breatdast Programme 6.55, 7.55 racing preview 8.35 The Magazine 11.30 News; Going Garanes 12.00 Middley with Mair 2.05 Ruscee on Five, incl. et 3.05 Actuality 3.45 Entertainment News 4.00 John Inventale Nationwide 7.00 News Eara 7.35 Across the White Line (2/8) 8.05 Football Forum 18.05 News Talk 11.00 Night Eara incl. et 11.15 The Phrandel World Toroight 12.05 mp. The Other Side of Midnight 2.05 Up Al Night TALK RADIO un Sandy Warr 7.00 Simon Bates 8.00em Sercly Warr 7.00 Smith Bates 10.00 Jonethen King 12.00 Tomesy-Boyd 2.00pm Anna Reeburn 4.00 Scott Chisholm 7.00 Sean Bolger 9.00 Moz Deb 10.00 James Whale 1.00-6.00em 4.00emi Mark Griffiths 6.00 Nick Bailey 9.00 Hanry Kelly 12.00 Susannah Simons 2.00pm Concerto 3.00 Jerris Crick 6.00 Neweright 6.30 Screets 7.00 Kein Russell's Houle Classics. See Choice 8.00 Evening Concert 10.00 Michael Mappin 1.00em Mel Cooper

Development 96 Midmight Newsdesk 12.38am Folk Routes 12.45 Bittam Today 1.00 News 1.10 Press Review 1.15 World Pasiking 1.45 Neath Matters 2.00 Newsdey 2.30 Screenplay 3.00 News 2.15 Sport 3.30 John Peel 4.00 Newsdesk 4.30 Bittone Today

CLASSIC FM

WORLD SERVICE

Altimes in GMT. 6.00era Newsday 5.30
Europe Today 6.00 Newsday 6.30 Europe Today 7.00 News 7.15 Cff the Shelf. The Suprama Artist 7.30 The Vintage Chart Show 8.00 News 8.10
Words of Fath 8.15 The Greenfield Collection 9.00 News in German 9.15
Anything Goes 8.45 Sport 10,00 Newsdesk 10.30 BBC English 10.45. If the Shelf. The Suprama Artist 11.00
Newsdesk 11.30 Ominibus 12.00 News
12.05per Business Report 12.15 Britain
Today 12.30 The Shory of Westerm Musig1.00 Newsdesk 11.30 Ominibus 12.00 News
12.05per Business Report 12.15 Britain
Today 12.30 The Shory of Westerm Musig1.00 Newsdesk 10.30 News in German
3.15 International Rectal 4.00 News
4.15 The World Today 4.30 News in German 5.00 Europe Today 5.30
Business 5.45 Sport 6.00 Newsdesk
6.30 News in German 7.00 News 7.01
Outdook 7.25 Words of Fath 7.30
Mustrack 8.00 Newsdook 10.30 The World Today 10.45 Sport 11.00 News
11.10 Take Five 11.15 Ed Stewen 11.45
Development 96 Midnight Newsdesk
12.30em Edit Press 12.45 Britain

139233 25

ic in the Talk parties and the second Total T

12 RASO - 1

The state of ENGLIC COLUMN

1372

In the care

-

West Training

2.5

11.27

210: -- 75

1.67面多式 计 4.15

12662 -

(in-C_{irl}s it water bod : 10 75

COMPANY WITH ...

6.00em: Ruse 'n' Jono 9.00 Richard Sidmer 12.00 Gleham Dene 4.00pm Nicky Home 7.30 Paul Coyle 10.00 Mark Forrest 2.00 6.00em Robin Baoks

5.00 The Music Afactine
5.00 The Music Afactine
5.15 In Tune: Berioz (Le Corseire); 7.03 Ravel
(Introduction and Allegro)
7.30 EBU International Concert Season, ive from the Oliver Messiesy's left in Paris. Left On Action

Messagn Hat in Paris. Let. Ove Andsnes, piano; Mailiri of Radio France; French National Orchestra under Frédéric Chestin performs. Rolf Llebermann (Furloso);

Hoff Liebermann (Fudoso); Messiaen (Trois petities
Margies de la Présence Divine); 8.15 A Brief History of Political Correctness; 8.35
Britten (Plano Concerto in D)
9.20 Cultural Baggage. Celibates
9.40 Russian Choral Music
10.45 Michaig It, with Mark Knopter
11.30-12.30am Ensemble. Lorraine McAsian, violin, Nigel Clayton, plano, perform works by Schubert, Szymanowski, arr

Schubert, Szymenowski, arr Kochanski and Grieg (r) 1-2.40 Night School. Treasur Island 1.30 French 16-18 2.10 Poetry of Passion

VIRGIN RADIO

8.00em On Air, Haydr (Symphony 3.00 The BBC Orchestres, BBC No 94 in G. Suprise) Philharmonic (f) Schubert (Du bist die Ruh) 3.45 A Prefude to Bach, Devitt Beefforen (Overture, Leoniore Montoney, fampsichord, plays Ferdinand Fischer and from Bach's Well-Tempered Clavis 4.30 Misterloso. The plansst ang.

No 1); 7.45 Sustains (Festival March); Vivaldi (Concerto in Bifet, Op 4 No 1, La Stravegenza); Berlicz (Vilanelie, Les Nuits d'été) 9.00 Morning Collection with Paul Garabacchiil. Sofer (Soneta No 36 in B); 9.07. Schubert (String Quartet No 1 in G minor, D18); Mozart (Pfano Concerto No 17 in G) 10.00 Musical Encounters. Métitias (I will celebrate):

Methias (I will celebrate); Schubert (An die Musik) Stravinsky (Petrushke); Haydn (Plano Trio in F); 11.05 Woodforde-Finden (Pale herids Tloved); Gretnarios (La. Meja dolorosa); Mozert (Symphony No. 38 in D. Prague); Verdi (Ehil Paggio). 1. Onorei Feistaff)

O Composers of the West: Parts before and after the French Revolution

French Revolution
1.00pm BBC Lunichtime
Concert, live from St John's,
Smith Square, London, Artur Pizerro, piano, Dukes (Fieno Sonaltz in E flat minor)
2.00 Schools. The Song Tree 2.15
Storybox 2.25 Let's Move
2.46 First Steps in Drame

ING Barings has ambitious expansion plans. It aims to build up its US distribution 5.55cm Shipping Forecast (LW only) 6.00 News Briefing 6.10 Farming Today 6.25 Prayer for the Day 6.30 Today, incl 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30 News 6.55, 7.55 Weather 7.25, 8.25 Sports News 7.45 Thought for the Day 8.40 Tickle the Public (2/6) 8.58 Weather 9.00 News 9.05 Start the Week, presented by Melvyn Brago business, and expand organically in emerging markets especially Latin America and parts of Eastern Europe. Mr Lindenbergh said fund management was another po-tential area in which ING presented by Melvyn Bragg and Lynette Merin: With Marilyn French, Sir Mertin Reas, Anthony Smith and Peter Mandelson

Peter Mandelson

18.00-10.30 News; Battling with the Peat (*M orly). Rorsald History chairs the history quiz

19.00 Daily Service (LW orly) from the Chapel of Unity,
Methodist Colege, Beltast

10.15 This Scept'd tele (LW orly)

10.30 Women's Hour, with Jerni Murray. Seriel: Letters Home, by Emily Buctsman (1/2)

11.30 Money Box Live: 0171-580

4444 from 10em

12.00 News; You and Yours

12.25pm Counterpoint 12.55

12.25pm Counterpoint 12.55 Weather 1.00 The World at One 1.40 The Archers (r) 1.55 Chineles Expenses

Shipping Forecast
2.00 News; Chrema 100: The Plano, See Choice
3.00 The Afternoon Shift

4.00 Neies 4.05 Kafelidescope 4.45 Short Story: Call Me Amella, by Gien Jayson. Read by Surny Ormonde 5.00 PM 5.50 Shipping Forecast 5.55 Weather 6.00 Neies 7.05 The Archers 7.00 Neies 7.05 The Archers 7.20 The Food Programme (r) 7.45 Cinema 100: The Monday Play -- The L-Stamed

Play — The L-Shaped Room. Dramatised by Valeric Windsor from the novel by Lynne Reid Banks. Salra India sa a pregnant leenag in a 1950s boarding house 9,15 Uncle Mort's Celtic Fringer Peter Transwood's A Good

Day for Barining (3/5) 9.30 Kalekioscope (r) 9.59

9.30 Kniektoscope (f) 9.59 westner 10.00 The World Tosight 10.45 Book at Bedfirms The Contractors, by John B. Kearle (6/10) 11.00-(f.30 Destinations (FM

only) (r) 11.60 Education Matters (LW

only) 11.30-12.00 After Eden (FM only) 11.30-12.00 Amer Exempt (LW) 11.30 Today in Parliament (LW) 12.00 News, incl 12.27em Weether. 12.30 The Late Book: Players, by. Don DeLillo (6/10)

12.48 Shipping Forecast 1.00 As World Service

FREQUENCY GUIDE. RADIO 1. FM 97.6-99.8. RADIO 2. FM 88.0-90.2. RADIO 3. FM 90.2-92.4. RADIO 4. FM 92.4-94.8; LW 198; MW 720. RADIO 5. LIVE. MW 883, 909. WORLD SERVICE. MW 648; LW 198 (12.45-5.55em). CLASSIC FM. FM 100-102. VIRGIN RADIO. FM 105.8; MW 1197, 1215. TALK RADIO UK. MW 1063; 1089, Television and radio listings compiled by Peter Dear, Gillian Maxwey, Rosemary Smith and Susan Thomson

THE TIMES

Non parlez par phone

IT'S good to talk, but only if the other person speaks English. A survey, Business Abroad, released today by British Telecommunications claims that thousands of British companies are speechless when calls come in from abroad. Two-thirds cannot handle an overseas sales inquiry, and half would rather nire an interpreter to do business with foreign firms. people questioned for BT could speak an eastern European or Scandinavian lansuage. Only four spoke Italian and just one spoke Japanese.

Media men move

HOLD the front page. The topranking media trio Richard Dale, David Forster and Ivor Jones are leaving Merrill Lynch for Salomon Brothers. They are ranked number one by Extel. Institutional Investor. Greenwich Associates the Reuters Survey of UK Investment Analysts and Consensus Research — phew! One of them has other talents, too. Jones, who joined Merrill Lynch only last year, once managed a toy manufacturing business in Sri Lanka.

Between the lines

WATCH OUT. The Inland Revenue is reportedly exercising its right to view board minutes with increasing frequency. Its aim is to see whether minutes pass the "smell test", which, Mark Nichols, tax partner with McKenna & Co, the City solicitors, explains, is all about the hunt for deals with a dodgy feel. "The wording of all board minutes in relation to should be considered very care fully," he says. "A minute failing to concentrate on the commercial benefits of a transaction whilst detailing the tax savings will hardly engender Big Brother's sympathies."

The write stuff

ING Barings Securities stood out for the wrong reasons with its response to a Stock Exchange questionnaire on electronic share-dealing. Other investment houses sent typed observations. Barings managed only a badly spelt scribble including: "Allowing market-makers to deal at better prices than clients is a disater".

How the bank sold for £1 may turn big-bucks buyer

the year since its rescue by ING future of Barings looked bleak. A val-Liant attempt by the Bank of England to stitch together a rescue had failed. Administrators had been appointed, and the best that Barings could reasonably hope for was a break-up of its three main businesses, corporate finance, securities and asset management, and their sale to new parents that it had

No one in the City would have believed that it would take Barings only 12 months to turn the corner and feel sufficiently confident to say that it had already put the past behind it and was concentrating on fighting for its place in the future.

But Hessel Lindenbergh, chairman of ING Barings, is the one voicing those confident views. Mr Lindenbergh was put in charge of Barings after its acquisition for £1 and a £660 million cash injection to recapitalise the bank by Internationale Nederlanden Groep on March 6 last year.

The deal followed two weeks of intensive negotiations with a host of British, American and continental European banks which were interested in buying all or part of the group that had collapsed after Nick Leeson ran up huge derivatives losses in Singapore. With hind-sight, said Mr Lindenbergh, ING believes that it got Barings at a good price, but then, he added, the Dutch are world-renowned for "paying less and asking for more". In the first nine months of last year, ING's financial results showed "a modest positive result" from Barings. Baring Brothers, the corporate finance arm, and Baring Asset Management produced positive results, while the performance from the securities business was negative, hit by restrictions on trading still in place until the end of last year.

Mr Lindenbergh said ING spent the first three months after the takeover dealing with administrative, legal and emotional problems in the wake of the collapse - he prefers to call it "the incident". After ING took control, Mr Lindenbergh said: "Since it was an asset liability transaction, we really had to build it up from scratch." That meant new legal structures, new trading names, new contracts. The bank also had to go through its control procedures, and in COLIN CAMPBELL | June established a new management structure which combined the management of Baring Brothers, Baring Securities and ING Capital, and later included ING Research and ING Investment Banking under Mr Lindenbergh's mannent. Several months later, the newly combined business changed its name to ING Barings and moved to new offices in London Wall.

Hessel Lindenbergh said ING believes that it bought Barings for a good price

Part of the change involved the departure of some of the top Barings management, those deemed to have collective involvement in the events leading up to the collapse.

He said there was remarkably little overlap between the two businesses. ING operates in 55 offices around the world. its particular geographic strengths were in Latin America and Central and Eastern Europe. This compared with Barings's strengths in corporate finance in the UK and broking in the Far East. One weakness in both operations remains in the US. From an early stage, the operations of the two firms were merged,

Lindenbergh said ING may seek to expand in the US, possibly as early as this year. e said: "There is still a need to expand US distribution capabilities."

But he said that in order to expand in the US, the firm realised it needed either to link up with a US house or, more likely, to acquire one. In London, ING and Barings still each have a banking licence. However, Mr Lindenbergh said that banking business is mainly conducted through ING and "over time

we may seek clients' permission to transfer their business' be integrated into ING, maintains its independent advisory stance and went from strength "both lucky and successful" said Mr Lindenbergh.

the corporate finance team was in the middle of defending Wellcome against a £9 billion hostile bid from Glavo. A senior director was dispatched to reassure the client, which was persuaded to remain loyal. A Barings team camped out in the Wellcome headquarters to avoid being distracted by the auction process.

from Barings to ING. Barings's corporate finance team, the only part of the bank not to to strength last year, being per cent; this year and has a target of closer to 20 per cent. When the bank collapsed. Mr Lindenbergh aims to capitalise on ING Barings's advisory, continental Euro-pean and emerging markets strengths. But, with its global ambitions, it is facing competition from the biggest investment banking names in the world, and in an increasingly competitive market, it is not yet possible to identify the

As a result of that, and of its work advising Lloyds Bank on its acquisitions last year, Barings ended last year by topping the City league table for winners and losers. ING is not disappointed with its acquisition, he added. "We feel in good shape. You should always start a marathon saying I am ready for it."

GREEDY. CORRUPT. SELFISH.

ito be continued

THE TIMES MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996 Hints but no stunts from lumpy lady Lecter Pauline Quirke, with no ing a book about her. Goodall has her own problems, not least of her own problems, not least of her own problems, not least of states and mick. Show the name gave Phil a home grown marrow — Thank you? The TIMES MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996 Pauline Quirke, with no ing a book about her. Goodall has her own problems, not least of her own problems, not least of her own problems, not least of states and mick. Show the name gave Phil a home grown marrow — Thank you? The TIMES MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996 Pauline Quirke, with no ing a book about her. Goodall has her own problems, not least of her own problems, not least of states and mick. Show the name gave Phil a home grown marrow — Thank you? The TIMES MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996 Pauline Quirke, with no ing a book about her. Goodall has her own problems, not least of states and mick. Show the name gave Phil a home grown marrow — Thank you? The TIMES MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996 Pauline Quirke, with no ing a book about her. Goodall has her own problems, not least of states and mick. Show the name gave Phil a home grown marrow — Thank you? The TIMES MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996 White name gave Phil a home grown marrow — Thank you? The TIMES MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996 White name gave Phil a home grown marrow — Thank you? The TIMES MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996 White name gave Phil a home grown marrow — Thank you? The TIMES MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996 White name gave Phil a home grown marrow — Thank you? The TIMES MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996 White name gave Phil a home grown marrow — Thank you? The TIMES MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996 White name gave Phil a home grown marrow — Thank you? The TIMES MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996 White name gave Phil a home grown marrow — Thank you? The TIMES MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996 White name gave Phil a home grown marrow — Thank you? The TIMES MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996 White name gave Phil a home grown marrow — Thank you? The TIMES MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996 White n night on BBCI, a strange, sus-tained exercise in Gothic holum that will perhaps acquit itself with a satisfactory resolution next weekend. However, after its first two parts, shown on Saturday and Sunday, only a mild sense of curiosity is what the viewer takes away. Given that Pauline Quirke has gone to all the trouble of revealing her acting talents — and wearing a hideous bodysuit — this seems a bit of a shame.

Five years ago, somebody murdered two women — Quirke's mother and sister. Quirke cut up the bodies. Now a rather posh writer, Caroline Goodall, is writ-orange). Anyway, the two women meet weekly in an improbably dark, scary room, and Quirke wrong-foots her, and basically it's Hannibal Lecter without the physical danger. Weighing 23 stone — with breasts at her stomach and stomach at her knees — Quirke is unlikely to make any lightning movements or hide sharpish on top of a lift.

Anyone watching The Sculptress for an interesting programme about Elizabeth Frink must have been badly disappointed. But there were some good effects, some good acting and some surprises in the script. Christopher Fulford seems to have made a full professional la Fig. 10 the Say. reasonary, loved the way our lady writer got her book deal. Her publisher noticed that she needed the money, so offered her a project. "I want it on my desk in three months," said the boss, and named a fancy sum. Wow. It must be great being a writer. Goodall also has a fancy flat with a turret, a fancy car and great jewellery. And she hasn't even started writing yet.

mentioned Quirke's "You can't hate what you've never loved" because it was rather the theme of Simon Nye's True Love on ITV last night. A hilarious and energetic 60-minute film, written by a chap whose simple trick is to make sure every character gets funny lines, this was a real treat. Donna (Emma Wray) is a nurse.

Truss

like Dorothy in Men Behaving Badly. She has thrown out her ne'er-do-well husband Phil (Philip Glenister) for sleeping with another woman — or, as she puts it nicely. poking anything with a handbag". Phil is a big kid with slovenly habits, who regards his LPs as old mates. Their two children are noisy and well loved. And now Donna has met hand-first time, Hodge announced proudly "It still makes me weep sometimes", to which she replied "Oh, it's not so bad". But the star of the film was undoubtedly the bashed-up, selfish comedian Philip Glenister — turning up with a peace offering of Twiglets (Big bag?"). reading stories to the children in front of Coronation Street. The best pop songs on the soundtrack were reserved for Phil. "I don't know what to wish for," said seven-year-old Shirley on her birthday. "Why don't you wish for Elvis to be alive?" he piped.

Donna enjoyed rejecting Phil. enjoyed encouraging James.
"We've got a history!" Phil pleaded. "So has syphilis," she pointed some gentleman farmer James out "He won't make you laugh."

truly left her heart. James attempted a pun in the car. That was a marrow squeak." And that was it. She chose the man who thought Roy Orbison was God. And she part from these dramas, we had An Evening with Spike Milligan on Sarurday (ITV), which was unusual for such shows in that all the audience shots showed celebrities actually enjoying themselves. Too often, the sneak reaction shot at these events finds Ronnie Corbett (or somebody) remembering he left the gas on. Milligan told lots of good stories, with funny voices, and the crowd loved him. Quite often we even saw Clive James chuckling, long while, though its title music is too dismissively diddly-diddly. Particularly impressive, and surprising, is its penchant for spectacular accidents. In the first week a confessional tumbled down a mountainside, narrowly missing a bus. Last night a piece of symbolic masonry fell off the church and nearly hit Ambrose, the skinny policeman. This bizarre mishap, involving a goat, a rope, a sandwich and a mouse, was a lot more believable than the ridiculous pileup in Casualty on Saturday.

I meant to write here about the Men's Health season, but have run out of space. So quickly, the upbeat message from Why Men Die Younger (BBC2) was this: castration is not a bad option. I only hope this is helpful.

6.00am Business Breakfast (96046) 7.00 BBC Breakfast News (Ceefax) (27317)

9.00 Bresidast News Extra (Ceefax) (4587607) 9.20 Can't Cook, Won't Cook (s) (3668442) 9.45 Kilroy (s) (5398846) 10.30 Good Morning (s) (2801171) 11.50 Lifeline (r) (Ceefax) (s)

News (Ceetax) and weather (6455423) 12.05pm Turnabout (s) (9906591) 12.30 Going for a Song (s) (48713) 1.00 One O'Clock News (Ceefax) (20404)

.30 Regional News and weather (77046688) .40 Neighbours (Ceefax) (s) (34824775) 2.00 Pebble Mill (s) (9102626) 2.40 Rich Man, Poor Man (4475201)

Rich Man, Poor Man (4475201)

30 The Busy World of Richard Scerry (s) (7318978) 3.55 Bodger and Badger (s) (1836775) 4.10 Chipmunics Go to the Movies (f) (s) (6311423) 4.35 The Genie from Down Under (Cestax) (s) (6268620) 5.00 Neveround (Cestax) (2142323) 5.10 Blue Peter (Cesfax) (s) (2142323) 5.10 Blue Peter (Ceefax) (s)

.35 Neighbours (r) (Ceefax) (s) (136510) .00 Six O'Clock News (Ceefax) (997) 30 Regional News magazines (249)

OO Noel's Telly Years. Noel Edmonds presents the television nostalgia quiz. The year in question is 1975 (Ceetax) (s) (1423)

30 Watchdog. Consumer magazine with Anne Robinson (Ceefex) (s) (133) 00 EastEnders. Phil turns to Pat in desperation (Ceefex) (6) (7341)

30 Goodnight Sweetheart. Gary is put out when the Americans descend on the Royal Oak (Ceefax) (s) (6978) 00 Nine O'Clock News (Ceefax), regional news and weather (7688)

30 Panorama. The programme asks who measures were taken to prevent the Sea Empress which can aground last week. from spilling her cargo of 65,000 tonnes of oil into British waters, causing one of Britain's biggest environmental disasters (Ceetax) (445065)

FILM: Bump in the Night (1991) with Meredith Baxter-Birney and Christopher Reeve. When a young boy is abducted, his journalist mother sets out in pursuit, aided by her estranged husband Directed by Karen Arthur (Ceefax) (7961249) M.L.: 10.10 Country Times 10.40 Fil.M: Bump in the Night 12.10am Film 96 12.40 FiLM: A Show of Force 2.10 Weather WALES: 10.10 A Parent's Guide (368539) 10.25 Nation (897626) 10.35 FILM: Burno in the Night (8324775) Dillinger (7338805) 1.45 News (6858602)

.40 Film 96 with Barry Norman. New film releases including Restoration, with Robert Downey Jr; Strange Days, with Ralph Flennes, and When Saturday. Comes, with Sean Bean and Emily Lloyd (Cestax) (s) (460404)

_ r L10 Dillinger (1945, b/w) with Lawrence Tierney and Anne Jeffreys. Gangster movie based on the exploits of bank robber John Dillinger, who is portrayed as a pyschopathic killer. Directed by Max

1.20am Weather (1443175)

VideoPhus+ send the Video PhusCodies numbers rand to each TV programms listing are Video Code* numbers, which allow you to programms your n recorder instantly with a VideoPhus+ handled oPhus+ can be used with most videos. Tay in the Video Code for the programms we wish his record. The remains to programms we wish his record. The remains to the programms we wish his record. The remains the programms we wish the programms we will be the programms we will be the programms to the programms we will be the programms to the programms we will be the programms to the programms to

6.00am Open University: Learning for All (Caefax) (2479065) 6.25 Using Television (Caefax) (1002171)

7.15 See Hear Breakfast News (8899794) 7.30 Stingray (f) (Ceetax) (31510) 8.00 Blue Peter _(r). (Ceetax) (s) (15997) 8.30 Songs of Praise (r) (Ceetax) (1672620)

Songs of Praise (r) (Ceefax) (1672626)

9.05 Daytime on Two: Christianity (s) (4577220) 9.25 Feasts (1358775) 9.40 Square One TV (2465201) 10.00 Playdays. (s) (5922572) 10.25 Hotch Potch (s) (8972220) 10.45 Look and Read (s) (7817591) 11.05 Zig Zag (s) (3772959) 11.25 Technology (s) (7550355) 11.40 English Time (s) (2178607) 12.00 History File (s) (18084) 12.30pm Working Lunch (46355) 1.00 History (s) (22575404) 1.20 Landmarks (Ceefax) (s) (225263268) 1.40 Storyfime (s) (34822317)

2.00 Poddington Peas (f) (10415423) 2.05 Open a Door(10414794) 2.10 The Natural World(9647084)

3.00 News (Ceetax) and weather (24622249)
3.05 Westminster. Live coverage of the debate on the Scott report (6233220) 4.30 Ready, Steady, Cook (s) (666) 5.00 Esther (s) (9201)

5.30 Today's The Day. History quiz hosted by Martyn Lewis (626) ce Precinct: Deathwatch. In the first of a two-part story, disaster strikes the planet Altor when a meteor explodes directly overhead. (Ceefax) (s) (585249) 6.45 Buck Rogers in the 25th Century (r)

Architect Sir Michael Hopkins (7.30pm)

BBC Design Awards 1996 hosted by Miranda Sawyer (775)

Horizon: Assault on the Male (Ceefax) (s) (451959) 8.50 The Male Survival Guide. James Bolam explains the mysteries of the prostate and what to look out for when it starts to go wrong (Ceefax) (508249) 9.90 Our Friends in the North. The year is 1984 and the miners are out on strike, forcing Mary and Tosker to confront their policemen son on the picket lines. With Daniel Craig, Christopher Eccleston and Gina McKee (Ceefax) (s) (2222317)

18.10 The Travel Show Essential Guides.
The spas of Budapest and amid the backwaters of Kerala in India (Ceefax) (s).
Followed by Women on Men (302125) 10.30 Newsnight (Ceefax) (217539)

11.15 Forever Young — HRT for Men. How testosterone can help men through their mid-life crises (Ceefex) (s) (356201) 11.45 Holiday Outlings. Exploring Australia's Northern Territories (r) (s) (534688) 11.55 Weatherview (426824) 12.00 Midnight Hour (s) (26058) 12.30am-6.00 The Learning Zone

GIOCE BBC Design Awards 1996

BBC2, 7.30pm The ten years since the BBC launched its The ten years since the BBC launched its annual design competition provide a chance to look back as well as forwards, to assess recent trends in design as a trailer for this year's contest which will be screened in June and July. The task is performed by those who will chair the three judging panels. The architect Sir Michael Hopkins is known to cricket fans for the Mound Stand at Lord's and to opera buffs for the new house at Glyndebourne. But he is also interested in Glyndebourne. But he is also interested in buildings developed in collaboration with buildings developed in collaboration with the community. The programme looks at one example, the Huddersfield stadium. Kenneth Grange explains the ideas behind one of his most famous designs, the Kenwood Chef, while the graphic designer Mary Lewis casts a professional eye over the pumps at her local petrol station.

Horizon: Assault on the Male BBC2, 8,00pm

Deborah Cadbury updates her prize-winning film of 1993 with new evidence of declining fertility in the male species. A planet where man and animals can no longer reproduce is still, happily, the stuff of science fiction. But Cadbury demonstrates that there is a proving body of scientific that there is a growing body of scientific research to suggest that the prospect is not entirely fanciful. The first signs of what turned into an alarming trend came from the animal kinedom in America the animal kingdom. In America the reproductive organs of turtles and alligators were becoming mysteriously smaller and the same thing was happening to fish, birds and large mammals. Work by scientists in Europe established links with the fertility of man. There is less agreement on the cause. though the expert finger points at exposure to domestic and industrial chemicals.

Kavanagh QC: True Commitment TV, 8.30pm

John Thaw polishes his northern vowels, dusts off his wig and gown and returns as the bluff Manchester barrister. The first series of Kavanagh QC was dominated by big, juicy trials with as often as not, a wicked twist in the tall. The subpoles, mainly concerning Kavanaghe borne life as concerning Kavanagh's home life, were underwritten and forgenable. But there are signs that the balance is changing. Kavanagh still has his big case, tonight defending a young anti-race protester accused of killing a neo-Nazi skinhead. But there seems to be an attempt to beef up the stimography desired. supporting dramas. One of these is the silly but enjoyable humiliation of pompous barrister Jeremy (Nicholas Jones) by a femme fatale. The other involves Kavanagh in domestic angst as his student daughter falls for a married man. And, yes, the court case has a surprising sequel.

Classic Ships: Rough Trade Channel 4, 8_30pm

The latest excursion into maritime nostalgia Inclaiest excursion into maritime nostalgia recalls the days when cargo ships were powered by wind and sail and the British merchant fleet was the biggest in the world. The most evocative footage comes from the heyday of the Port of London when, as an old beginning as a volume of the most excess wall. heyoay of the rort of London when, as an our bargeman says, you could more or less walk across the Thames on the merchant ships waiting either to unload or to pick up cargoes. There is also fond recollection of the barges which patrolled the 4,000 miles of the British canal network until the motorways came and the canals were retired to leisure and heritage. Among the preserved vessels featured is the Vic 56, built to service naval ships in the Second World War. It is notable as one of the last British steamships, a return to the reliable coal-based technology of the Victorian era.

Peter Waymark

6.00am GMTV (2962336)

9.25 Win, Lose or Draw (s) (3643133) 9.55 Regional News (Teletext) (5949249) 10.00 The Time ... the Place (s) (1190268) 10.35 This Morning (1190268) (15041775)

12.20pm Regional News (Teletext) (6451607) 12.30 News and weather (Teletext) (3795442) 12.55 Shortland Street (s) (3770133)

1.25 Coronation Street (r) (Teletext) (4791862) 2.00 Home and Away (Teletext) (s) (57326862)

2.25 Chain Letters (Teletext) (s) (57345997) 2.50 Simply Delicious with Family and Friends (3132220) 3.20 News (Teletext) (2479539)

3.25 Regional News (Teletext) (2461510) 3.30 Rainbow Days (s) (1851084) 3.40 Tots TV (s) (3869794) 3.50 Budgle the Little Helicopter (s) (1822672) 4.05 Scooby
Doo (r) (2036688) 4.15 Harry's Mad (Telefed) (s) (198779) 4.45 Art Attack
(Telefed) (s) (2563012)

5.10 The List (8893978) 5.40 News and weather (Teletext) (652133) 6.00 Home and Away (r) (Teleted) (s) (132355)

6.25 HTV News (Teletext) (202688) 6.45 Sportsweek (Teletext) (168930) (936607)

7.00 Talking Telephone Numbers (s) (6591) 7.30 Coronation Street, is Jack prepared to employ Tricia? (Teletext) (201)

8.00 World in Action. Should the judicia system show compassion to mothers who are being imprisoned for nonpayment of fines, rather than move towards a modern-day debtors' jail?

Anna Chancellor, John Thaw (8.30pm)

8.30 Kawanagh QC. Return of the legal drama series (Telefext) (46268) 10.00 News at Ten and weather (Teletext)

10.30 Regional News (425171)

10.40 FILM: Beatlefulce (1988) with Michael Keaton and Alec Bladwin. After dying in a car crash a couple return as ghosts to their larmhouse. When the house is sold to a tamily of yuppies, they turn to mischief-maker Keaton to haunt the interlopers out of the place. Directed by Tim Bunon (Teletext) (s) (23928336) 12.25 Bushell on the Box (s) (6458824)

12.55 Football Extra (7937422) 1.40 Customs Classified (3812176) 2.25 International Athletics (r) (475398) 4.15 Music Sox Profile (80341981) 4.30 The Time . . . the Place (r) (s) (31669)

5.00 An Invitation to Remember (r) (76244) 5.30 Morning News (94553)

As HTV WEST except 5.10pm-5.40 Ready Money (8893978) 6.25-7.00 Wales Tonight (367930)

WESTCOUNTRY As HTV West except: 12.25-12.30 My Story (6469626) 12.55 Coronation Street (3770133) 1.25-1.55 Chain Letters (84179607) 1.55 Home and Away (17214648)

2.25 The West at Work. Magazine senes focusing on business and industry in the West Country (57336249) 2.55-3.20 A Country Practice (2479666) 5.10-5.40 Home and Away (8893978) 6.00-7.00 Westcountry Live (18572)

CENTRAL As HTV West except:

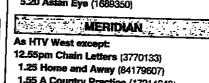

12.55 Home and Away (3770133) 1.25 Chain Letters (84179607) 1.55 A Country Practice (34838978) 2.20-3.20 Blue Heelers (1678978) 5.10-5.40 Shortland Street (8893978) 6.25-7.00 Central News and Wes

12.20am Profile (3172391) 12.40 Football Extra (8482517)

1.25 Bushell on the Box (7944089) 1.55 Customs Classified (3800331) 2.40 Film: The Master Plan (1954, b/w).

Espionage drama starring Norman Wooland, Wayne Morris and Tilda Thamar. Directed by Hugh Raker (6768195)4.00 Jobfinder (8104263)

5.20 Asian Eye (1689350)

1.55 A Country Practice (17214648) 2.25-3.20 Blue Heelers (9620317) 5.10 Home and Away (8893978) 5.37-5.40 Three Minutes - the Listings

6.00 Meridian Tonight (715) 6.30-7.00 Country Ways (317) 5.00am Freescreen (76244)

ference was the second Starts: 6.35 Think Tank (5556201) 7.00 The Big Breakfast (43355) 9.00 Fifteen to One (90688) 9.30 Schools: Geography (9226143) 9.45 Fienestri (4276648) 10.00 Sang Di Fang (8954201) 10.15 Learn Sign Language (3153713) 10.20 Place and People (8975317) 10.40 The English Programme (9486794) 11.05 Encyclopaedia Galactica (3056959) 11.05 Encyclopaedia Galactica (3056959)
11.15 The Mix (7556539) 11.30 Penawdau (2183539) 11.45 Living Technology (2171794) 12.00 Right to Reply (93292) 12.30pm Camberwick Green (31423) 1.00 Slot Melthrin (4710997) 1.35 Film: Keaper of the Flame (35283775) 3.30 Wired World (423) 4.00 Backdate (930) 4.30 Gardens Without Borders (442) 5.00 5 Pump: Rownd a Rownd Borders (442) 5.00 5 Pump: Rownd a Rownd (5356862) 5.15 5 Pump: Fiell (1697238) 5.25 5 Pump: Tochsbant (7318881) 5.30 Countdown (794) 6.00 Newyddion (588997) 6.15 Heno (685274) 7.00 Pobol Y Cwm (410065) 7.25 Y Byd Ar Bedwar (685268) 8.00 Hafod Henri (3881) 8.30 Newyddion (9688) 9.00 Auf Wiedersehen Pet (1997) 10.00 Sgorio (5885387) 11.05 Roseanne (881713) 11.35 NYPD Blue (541268) 12.30am-1.00 Seasiders (77398) 4.00 Ysgollon (68669) Borders (442) 5.00 5 Pump: Rownd a Rownd

6.35am Think Tank (r) (Teletext) (s)

7.00 The Big Breakfast (43355) 9.00 Fifteen to One (r) (Teletext) (s) (90688) 9.30 Schools: Geography (9226143) 9.45 Book Box (4276648) 10.00 Stage Two Book Box (4276648) 10.00 Stage Two Science (8964201) 10.15 Learn Sign Language (3153713) 10.20 Piace and People (8975317) 10.40 The English Programme (9486794) 11.05 Encyclo-psedia Galactica (3056959) 11.15 The Mix (7556539) 11.30 Rati-a-Tat-Tat (2183539) 11.45 Technology (2171794) 3 Right to Bank (4) (Telagory) (5) (93200)

12.00 Right to Reply (r) (Teletext) (s) (93292) 12.30pm Sesame Street (22978) 1.30 Wowser (90664369) 1.55 Musical Comedy Greats (34829220)

2.20 FH.M: Swamp Water (1941, b/w) starring Dana Andrews, Waller Brennan and Anne Baxter. An adventurer becomes involved with a murderer on the run, who is living with his daughter in the swamplands of Georgia Directed by Jean Renoir (Teletext) (470305)

4.00 Backdate (Teletext) (s) (930) 4.30 Countdown (Teletext) (s) (442) 5.00 Keepers of the Kingdom. The latest technology reveals the miniature secrets of nature (r) (Teletext) (3404)

6.00 The Cosby Show. American domestic cornedy (r) (Teletext) (607) 6.30 Hollyoaks. (Teletext) (s) (959)

7.00 Channel 4 News (Teletext) (425713) 7.55 The Slot (735046) 8.00 Screening Reels. Nick Fisher goes fishing for black bream in Wales. Last in series (Teletext) (s) (3881)

8.30 Classic Ships. The golden era of the merchant ship

(Teletext) (s) (9688)

9.00 Island of Dreams In the last of the series following the fortunes of real-life Shirley Valentines. Dia Garwood has come to terms with Greek tamily life, whereas Anna Vardakastanis is now debating and her son Theo should focus on life in Greece or return to Britain,

Stevens and Robards (10.00pm)

10.00 FILM; The Ballad of Cable Hogue (1970) starring Jason Robards, Strother Martin and Stella Stevens. A "lighthearted" western about a worn-out gold prospector who is robbed and left for dead by his partners. Directed by Sam Peckinpah (38149828)

12.20 FILM: Hush, Hush Sweet Charlotte (1964) starring Bette Davis, Joseph Cotten and Olivia de Havilland A supercharged melodrame about an old, reclusive Southern belle, tormented by the thought that she murdered her tiancé. Directed by Robert Aldrich (52521028)

2.45am The Other Americas A series looking at contemporary Latin America (r) (s) (750602) Ends at 3.45 4.00-5.00 Schools Place and People (68669)

For more comprehensive istings of satellite and cable hannels, see the Vision suplement, published Saturday SKY ONE

D0am Bolled Egg and Soldiers (35133) .30 Press Your Luck (3854046) 8.50 Love connection (6593713) 9.20 Court TV 4774249) 8.50 The Oprah Writtey Show -4462355) 10.40 Jeoparch/ (1/32607) 11.10 Safty Jessy Reptael (6900423) 12.00 Jeschy (7/0356) 1.00pres The Welsons 39064) 2.00 Geratio (50171) 3.00 Court V (2830) 3.30 The Oprah Writtey Show 6983997 4.15 Undun (2648930) 5.00 The Jimpsons (3571) 6.30 Jeoparch/ (4881) -100 LAPD (4539) 7.30 M*A*S*H (3715) 1.00 Central Park West (26539) 9.00 Police 1.00 Central Park West (26539) 9.00 Police Vescus (61125) 10.00 Star Trek: The Next Jeneration (11602) 11.00 Melriese Piece 83997) 12.00 Cevid Letternen (2416165) 12.45am Tre Untouchables (5891973)

SKY NEWS

News on the hour. 5.00mm Surnse ($203713) 8.30 The Book Prow ($92088) 10.18 CBS-60 Minutes 6022385) 11.00 World Nove and Business 60046) 1.30pm CBS News ($9715) 2.30 60046) 1.30pain CHS News (89719) 2.30 "arisment Live (8940) 3.30 Parisment: .he (8959) 4.00 World News and Business (8372) 5.00 Live at Five (87897) 6.90 Enright with Adam Boulton (2423) 7.30 Sportsime (760359) 8.10 CHS 60 Minutes (522257) 31.30 CHS Every News (84997) 22.30pain ABC Name (46902) 1.30 Toroight Mith Adam Boulton (8229331) 2.10 CHS 60 Marries (8193272) 3 to Carlington (80305) uns (1987973) 3.30 Paris

SYN MOVIES

B.Obers, Briganione: (1986) [21404] 8.00 Gaslight (1990) (61423) 10.00 Minto and Fig. Meb. (1990) (8231): 12.00 Cross My. Islant (1980) [31045] 2.00per Fory 'sl-Bringglers' Bay (1990) (23442) 4.00 Che-My Flegards' to Broad Street (1994) [1442] 8.00 Micho and the Mab (1990) (756%) 7.00 Cross-Mr. Rayda Contrar on (75085) 7.30 Close-Up: Kerdin (Wyatt Easy (5133) 2.00 For (15423) 10.00 Alleteir Macles Train (1994) (217775) 11,40 The Wrong Man (1993) (547259) 1.30mm Sleeping

SKY MOVIES GOLD

4.00pm The Larly from Shangini (1948) (SIG4) 6.00 Our Man in Havenne (1959) (85220) 8.00 The McCorage Break (1970) (97065) 10.00 Operation Dephresk (1973) (963317) 11.50 Action Jackson (1973) (963317) 11.50 Action Jackson i) (525591) 1.30-3.05am Point Blank THE MOVIE CHANNEL

6.00em The Snow Queen (1993) (29045) 8.00 Sherlock Holmes: The Baskerville 8.00 Sherlock Holmes: The Bestorvilla: Curse (1963) (13626220) 8.45 A Time to Love and a Time to Die (1967)
(55144404) 12.00 Perile of Problemine
(1963) (29688) 2.00pm Missing Parents
(1963) (21084) 4.00 Sherlock Holmes
The Besterville Curse (1963) (3084) 6.00
Telcuer (1963) (1820) 8.00 N Somiones
Hed Known (1969) (34220) 9.20 Jimes
Hed Known (1969) (34220) 9.20 Jimes
Hollywood (1964) (439249) 11.20 Scanner Cop (1963) (75481) 1.00em Bertuerlens at the Gete (1963) (705195) 2.50 (284 (1963) (516347) 4.15-6.00 Cagney and Lacey: Together Again (1964) (556350)

THE DISNEY CHANNEL

Sky Movies Gold Imm 10pm to 4am. 6.00pm Under the Umbrela Tree (82380133) 6.30 Fraggle Rock (41203807) 7.00 Warrie the Pooh (18125882) 7.30 Ducktales (29470779) 8.00 Chip 'n' Dale Ductales (29/70/75) 8.00 Chip 'n' Date (1520240) 8.30 Adventures in Wonderland (15811220) 9.00 West Disney Presents (8299881) 10.00 Under the Unitrol Tree (41294989) 10.20 Freggle Rock (1563108) 11.00 Hoch Corner (882276) 12.00 Cueck Ablack (1582238) 12.70 pm Dumto's Check (40515862) 11.00 Adventures in Wonderland (19575223) 1.30 FUM: 18 Days of Gree Liebsammer 34 (802798) 3.30 Corner (8822798) 1.30 FUM: 18 Days of Gree Liebsammer 34 (8027989) 3.30 FUM: 18 Days of Gree Liebsammer 34 (8027989) 3.30 FUM: 18 Days of Gree Liebsammer 34 (8027989) 3.30 FUM: 18 Days of Gree Liebsammer 34 (8027998 dedund (1957522) 1,30 FE.M. 18 Bays of Glory, Liethermer 94 (2027998) 3,30 Warnie dre Poch (69892152) 4,00 Cusck Attack (68893960) 4,30 Ducknies (6899671) 5,90 Cip. In Dels (42948274) 5,30 Dergier Bay (69891423) 8,00 Taczan (68998336) 4,30 Discussas (6898838) 7,00 Boy Meets Vorid (68246390) 7,30 FR.M. 7, Cry in the Vilid (45438171) 8,00 10,00 Roger Moore (29118881)

EUROSPORT 7:30mm Athletics. (79388) 8:30 Cross. Coursey Sking (30171) 8:30 Alpine Sking. (82133) 10:30 Mixtorspote (34862) 11:30

Bosing (38604) 12.30pm Stl Jurging (40249) 2.00 Bobsiejn (52268) 4.00 Ternis (38442) 5.00 Trail (4794) 6.00 Cer on los (1715) 6.30 Footbell (2069) 7.00 Speedward (25397) 9.00 Pro Wresting (5097) 10.00 Footbell (53094) 11.00 Europol 12.00-12.30am Formula I (7646) SKY SPORTS

6.00am Crickel World Cup: Peldstan v Holand (4137930) 12.00 Aerobice Co Slyki (31084) 12.20pm Footbell Special (57858) 2.30 (se Hookey, Newcaste v Milton Keynee (137881) 5.00 Max Out (1161) 5.30 Snowboard Tour (8404) 8.00 Sports Centre (3377) 8.30 Tartan Extra (84355) 7.30 Cricket World Cup. Peldstan v Holland, Kenya v Zimbaltwe (673171) 10.00 Sports Certare (32713) 10.30 Tartan Extra (3256) 11.30 Bushido (22717) 12.30am Cricket World Cup. Peldstan v Holland, Kenya v Zimbaltwe (815843) 3.00 Sports Centre (32718) 11.30 Bushido (22719) 12.30am Cricket World Cup. Peldstan v Holland, Kenya v Zimbaltwe (815843) 3.00 Sports Centre SKY SPORTS GOLD

10.00pm Golden Arrous (9107220) 10.30 Bobby Charlen's Footbell Scrapbook (1197442) 12.00-1.00pm The A to Z of Sport (9828195)

THE CHRISTIAN CHANNEL 4.00mm Living Word 5.00 Kenneth Cope-land 5.30 Kidz TV 5.45 General Enterlainmerk 6.15 Uil Elemen 6.45-7.00 Music SKY SOAP

7.00mm, Gulding Light (5719610) 7.85 Ar the World Turns (3660420) 8.50 Reylon Place (2333997) 8.20 Cays of Our Lives 10.10-11.00 Another World (5983828) SKY TRAVEL

11.00mm Globatotist (2892982) 11:30 Ghost Towns of the Old Viest (5088133) 12.30pm The Resignant Show (8873751) 1.00 Around the World In 30 Affantes (8517355) 1.30 Tuestes Suitie (1222282) 2.00 Trainable (8263133) 2.30 Calmany (8272288) 3.30-4.00 Kds Down Under (1824084) THE HISTORY CHANNEL 4.00pm Over There (26)6442 5.00 The Red Empire (6256220) 4.00-7.00 Biggre-phy (5223017)

THE SCI-FI CHANNEL

Mystenes, Metalic and Mysicles

. .

Orson Welles and Rita Hayworth (Sky Movies Gold, 4.00pm)

(6256249) 7.30 Ray Bracibury (1800404) 9.00 FLLM: Tales from the Grypt (37083930) 9.35-10.00 Sci-Fi Buzz (2673182) 1.00am Mysteries; Magrc and Mizacles (107843) 1.30 Ray Bracibury (3744089) 2.00 FLLM: Tales from the Crypt (9990689) 2.30-4.00 Might Gallery (5865379)

9.00cm True Romance (1313355) 9.90 Gerdeners Deny (4781055) 10.00 Two's County (8763978) 10.30 Our House (1319639) 11.00 The Paridot House (5959607) 11.30 Rurning Repairs (5959336) 12.00 Julie Chid (1333391) 12.30pm The Frugel Gourmot (4785881) 1.00 Yan Can Cook (3984846) 1.30 On the Edite (4784157) 2.00 Doors tells better 1,00 Tan Can Cook (3984848) 1,30 On Edge (4784152) 2,00 Dogs with Dun (1157862) 2,50 Secret Gardens (11099 3.00 Two's Country (1178997) 3.30-4.60 This Old House (1104442)

7.00am Angels (4788633) 7.30 Neighbours [5584630] 8.00 Sore and Daughters (1382862) 8.30 EsstEnders (1381133) 9.00 The Bill (1315713) 9.30 The Sufevans (4783423) 10.00 Societ Anny (198683)

bours (4794539) 1.00 EastEnders (1184864) 1.30 The Bit (4786510) 2.00 The Sulfivers (1154220) 2.30 Get Some in (1101355) 3.00 Angels (1178355) 3.30 Angels (1178355) 3.30 Eldorado (1173572) 4.00 Casushy (45359775) 5.05 Larry Grayson's Generation Genre (63359429) 6.15 Kerny's Comic Cuts (4129084) 6.25 EastEnders (7961959) 7.00 Eldoredo (1160336) 7.30 The Last Song (1182220) 8.00 Get Some Int (1178084) 6.30 Man About the House (1156591) 9.00 Casushy (6738355) 10.00 The Bit (4559591) 10.35 The Best of Top of the Pops (3385607) 11.20 Widows (5125152) 12.225as FLM. My Favourke Wite (89771379) 1.55 Shopping DOURS (4794539) 1.00 F TCC

6.00cm Swan's Crossing (694:2) 6.00 Peoply or Not (85133) 7.30 Caldonia Dreams (592:9) 8.00 Sweet Valley High (850cs) 8.30 Try TCC (2400:269) 12.35pm Try TCC (4596:255) 2.30 Jm Henson's Armad Show (757) 2.30 Jm Henson's Armad Show (757) 2.30 Osar's Orchestra (544:2) 4.00 Caldonia Dicorns (1152) 4.30-5.00 Sweet Valley High (7336) NICKELODEON 6.00am Henry's Cat (9022268) 6.15 Blue

(382591) 6.45 Toucan Tex (8934220) 7.00
Batink (8915133) 7.05 Gmmmy (4811822)
7.46 Rugets/Doug (387046) 8.15 Aashtril Roal Mansters (5259775) 9.00 Alvm and the Chipmunks (19862) 9.30 Pee-Woe's Playhouse (56881) 10.00 Benaria Sandwich (26626) 11.00 Châdren's BBC (48242)
12.00 Magne School Bus (38626) 12.30pm Grimmy (67997) 1.00 Global Guts (17978)
1.30 Visionaries (68268) 2.00 Children's BBC (61201) 3.00 The Littles Pet Shop (3669) 3.30 Migrity Max (5779) 4.00 The Ferals (7510) 4.30 Rugrats and Doug (3794) 5.00 Sister Sciler (6133) 6.30 Mirror
Mirror (4046) 8.00 Ren and Stimpy (1959)
6.30-7.00 Clarisse (5539) DISCOVERY

4.00pm Bush Tucker Man (1190249) 4.30 Lifeboot (1189133) 5.00 Treasure Humers (1171442) 5.50 Terra & (1103713) 6.00 Rating from Everest (1100826) 6.30 Reyond 2000 (9612775) 7.30 Arthur C. Clarko (1180862) 8.00 Invention (1177626) 8.30 Weather 9.00 Cm the Road Agen (6736997) 10.00 Classic Wheels (6739084) 11.00-12.00 Custer's Last Stand (3798405) BRAYO

12.00 Fil.M Man Beast (47598249)
1.15pm Honey West (4755825) 2.00 The Sant (6751133) 3.00 Zoc Gang (5958978)
4.00 Fil.M The Night of the Huner (1174599 6.00 The Adventure of Robin Hood (1197152) 6.30 The Time Tunnet (5600201) 7.30 The Green Honet (1184688) 6.00 The Samt (6700569) 9.00 Starsky and Hutch (6723-23) 10.00-12.00 Fil.M The Medical Touch (5957249)

PARAMOUNT

7.00pm Berson (8997) 7.30 Family Ties (4423) 8.00 Ensettamment Tonigni (4317) 8.30 Wings (6152) 9.00 Soap (39012) 9.30 B30 Wings (6152) 9.00 Scap (35012) 9.26 Laverne and Smiley (47135) 10.00 Enser-laiment Tonght (30355) 10.30 The Vacanv Lot (16775) 11.00 Kds in the Half (17317) 11.30 Saturday Night Live (20713) 12.30 mm The Odd Couple (31534) 1.00 Wings (37992) 1.30 Scap (34398) 2.00 Laverno and Smiley (71911) 2.30 Entertainment Tonght (67718) 3.00 The Vecant Lot (57756) 3.30-4.00 Kids in the Half (81398) UK LIVING UK LIVING

5.00ean Agony Hour (7219171) 7.00 Kirby (7304607) 8.00 Esther (9890143) 8.30 Signs of the Times (6442464) 9.00 Sport on a Plate (1019419) 8.35 Kate and Allie

(2156775) 10.05 The Jerry Springer Show (8530930) 11.00 The Young and the Resiless (8639959) 11.55 Birockside (7)10249) 12.30pm Dengerous Women (3940715) 1.25 Concents (6151626) 2.00 Agony Hour (8707107) 3.00 Live at Three (7876862) 4.00 Intalustion UK (9450317) 4.30 Crosswits (6405997) 5.05 Lingo (11339107) 5.30 Liudly Ledders (9463891) 6.00 Bewrittend (9460794) 6.30 Brookside (6548539) 7.05 Food and Dmik (976636) 7.40 The Joker's Wild (9064336) 8.05 The Young and the Resiless (1003775) 9.00 Fillm When He's Not a Stranger (21542510) 10.50 Entertainment Now' 11.00-12.00 Lings Sci. Life (4518539) FAMILY CHANNEL FAMILY CHANNEL

5.00pm Escape from Jupiter (4959) 5.30 Tirtin (392249) 5.55 Batman (835220) 6.30 Catciphrase (2881) 7.00 Tirtin Pursui (742317.30 The Fail Guy (89246) 8.30 Only When I Laugh (2978) 9.00 Say Lucky (89559) 10.00 Troasure Huni (89046) 11.00 Cats Eyes (96881) 12.00 The Fail Guy (21756 1.00em Batman (73718) 1.30 GP Cats Eyes (95881) 12:00 The Fat Guy (21756) 1:00em Balman (73718) 1:30 GP (20114) 2:00 Brg Brother Lake (24027) 2:30 Alncan Stuc. (33814) 3:00 GP (95282) 3:30 Brg Brother Jake (27114) 4:00 Airican Stucs 4:30-5:00 Escape from Jupiter (87911) MTV

6.30am The Grand (56404) 7.00 3 from 1 (985.933) 7.15 Arrake (5182881) 8.00 Music Videos (548268) 11.00 Soul (83046) 12.00 His (84668) 1.00pm Music Non-stop (72504404) 2.48 3 from 1 (2016) 3.00 Cinematic (7821572) 3.15 Hanging Out (4843084) 4.00 News 4.15 Hanging Out (2608572) 4.30 Oal MIVY (9794) 5.00 Hit List UK (58775) 7.00 Greatest Hits Hil List UK (58775) 7.00 Great htt List UK (587/5) 7,00 Greatest Hits (9881) 7,30 Red Hoft Chilli Peppers Boofleg (85094) 9,00 Red World London (50046) 9,30 Beaus and Butt-Head (85317) 10,00 News 10,15 Chematic (524269) 10,30 10,10 Chematic (524269) 10,30 Reggie (54959) 11.00 The End? (61065) 12.30am Night Videos (1971466)

7.00am Power Breaklast (3516626) 9.00 Cale (6836442) 12.00 Heart and Sout (533666) 1.00pm The Varyl Years (9023274) 2.00 Devid Esser (6348422) 2.00 Devid Esser (6348422) 3.00 Into the Music (7802607) 6.00 VH-1-2-3 Sancie Shaw (3423030) 7,00 VH-1 for You (8397355) 8,00 Album Charl (6377691) 10.00 Beachub (9116978) 10.30 Planet Rock Profess Michael Bolton (9125626) 11.00 Tommy Vance (3799539) 1.00am Strug (3662621) 2.00 Davin Patrol

CMT EUROPE

Country music from Sam to 7pm or satellite, 24-hours on cable ZEE TV

7.00am Asian Morning (43274065) 8.30 Public Demand (32464881) 9.30 Campus (9176959) 10.00 Undu Senal Chund Gertan (68996689) 11.00 Khansi khazarra (12676779) 11.30 Yaadon Ke Rang (11226238) 12.00 Bunyaad (15408978) 12.30pm Khubsoorat (91710775) 1.00 Hindi Fil.M: Pab Patrii Ain Tawad (23429379) 4.00 Mrze Ghalib (8004721) 4.30 Akbar Bribal (46681965) 5.00 Zee 20ne (34996768) 5.30 Guprati Senal, Narsanyo (19409107) 6.00 Chakranouha Control 19409107 6.00 Chaltanytha Asranyo (19409107) 6.00 Chaltanytha (26154030) 6.30 Zee and U (46681910) 7.00 Perempan (57681201) 8.00 News (34587152) 8.30 Hndt FILM Gummann (20151591) 11.00 Yule Love Stones (3102800) 11.30-12.00 Baran Massley (64766046)

CARTOON NETWORK/TINT

7.00pm The Journey (1959) [18819794] 9.15 The Year of Living Dangerously (1982) [92182335] 11.30 Old Acquaint-(1962) [92:0230] 11:30 Ora suspensions (1943) (62309268) 1.30am The Phantom of Hollywood (1974) (79533176) 2.55-8.00 Candidight in Algoria (1944) (28551466) CNN/QVC

CNN provides 24-hour news and QVC is the home shopping channel. PERFORMANCE

7.00pm GRP All Staro and Lec Resnour 9.00 Mozan's the Morriage of Figure 12.00-2.00am Ent. Bruhn Gala BBC WORLD

News on the Your S.00am BBC World News 8.15 The Money Programme 9.25 Food and Dank 10.00 News0esk 12.05pm Comespondent 1.15 World Business Report 1.30 Newshour Assa and Pacific 9.25 QED 3.15 The Money Programme 4.25 The Clothes Show 5.15 World Business Report 5.25 Tomorrow's World 6.00 The World Today 8.05 The Money Programme 9.25 Houlday 10.00 World Report 11.00 World News 12.30am Newscapp 1.00 Newscapp 1.00 Newscapp 5.00-6.00 Newsday 5.00 Newsday 5.00-6.00 Newsday 5.00 New

BARING UP 42

BANK SOLD FOR £1 MAY BECOME A BIG-BUCKS BUYER

BUSINESS

POPULIST PAT 42

GRAHAM SEARJEANT ON AN AMERICAN MESSAGE OF DESPAIR

BUSINESS EDITOR LINDSAY COOK

MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996

Price Waterhouse action against Abu Dhabi over BCCI

By Patricia Tehan BANKING CORRESPONDENT

PRICE WATERHOUSE, the City accountant, has secretly launched a multibillion-dollar action against the Abu Dhabi authorities in connection with the collapse of the Bank of Credit and Commerce International in July 1991.

Price Waterhouse, BCCI's princi-pal auditor, sought High Court approval last year to bring proceed-ings against the Abu Dhabi authorities, who were the majority shareholders in the failed bank.

Approval was required because the Abu Dhabi authorities are outside the jurisdiction of the English court. A series of documents have been filed with the Chancery division of the High Court, most recently last autumn.

Price Waterhouse's action is a third party notice, enjoining the Abu Dhabis in a $3 billion claim against the accountant by Deloitte & Touche, BCCI's liquidators. Price Waterhouse refused to comment on the Abu Dhabi claim. The Abu Dhabis were also unavailable for comment yesterday.

In the action brought by Deloitte & scaled down to between $3 billion-& Touche in March 1992, Price and $4 billion. The two firms are Waterhouse is alleged to have failed to detect or report financial irregularities at the bank. Deloitte's action also includes a lesser claim against Ernst & Whinney, now Ernst & Young, which also once audited aspects of BCCI.

Deloitte & Touche initially sought a claim against the audit firms for BCCI's entire net deficit of up to $11 billion -- for alleged failure to detect or report financial irregularities dating back as far as defending the claims vigorously.

The timing of the Price Waterhouse action against the Abu Dhabis is sensitive in view of the fact that the majority shareholders are due to hand over the bulk of a $1.8 billion compensation deal to the liquidators in April or May, en-abling them to make a first payment to BCCI creditors in May or June. The Abu Dhabis have always claimed that their portfolio funds of at least $2.2 billion were used to prop up BCCI's fraudulent activi-therefore, one of the bank's largest creditors. However, under the compensation agreement negotiated by the liquidators, the Abu Dhabis have agreed to waive their claims over the $2.2 billion. They remain creditors in respect of deposits held at the bank on behalf of Abu Dhabi

The $1.8 billion agreement was approved by the Luxembourg court last December, and an estimated 100,000 creditors worldwide, 35,000 of them in the UK, are expected to receive a payment of at sary of the collapse.

BCCI was shut down by banking regulators, co-ordinated by the Bank of England, in July 1991 after the discovery of massive fraud. Last December, the liquidators reported that the $14 billion liabilities at the time of the collape had been reduced to $10 billion. Net recoveries of $3.3 billion had been made since 1991. Deloitte & Touche are planning to release some $2 billion, including the funds from least 20p in the pound by May or June, just before the fifth anniveragainst third parties. These include Price Waterhouse, Ernst & Young and the Bank of England

☐ A United Arab Emirates appeals court yesterday adjourned the trial of several BCCl defendants until March 13 after it asked for the return of Mohammed Swaleh Naqvi, the former chief executive, from the US. The judge asked the attempt to bring back Mr Naqvi, who was sentenced to 14 years in prison after he was extradited to the US in May 1994.

Bid protection Bill under fire from societies

By Robert Miller

NEW rules to give Britain's building societies better protection against hostile takeover bids are to be laid before Parliament within the next two weeks, but building society chiefs who want to retain mutual status argue that the new legislation does not go far enough.

Angela Knight, Economic Secretary to the Treasury, said yesterday that the new Building Societies Bill will give societies much greater freedom to extend their business operations without being forced to become stock market companies. They will be allowed to branch out into general bousehold and motor insurance, and make loans to a far wider range of Mrs Knight said that societies should be free to consider the best interests of the mutual belongs, "without having to be forced in one direction or another. We want to get rid of any duck shoots on societies."

The proposed legislation comes hard on the heels of last week's disclosure by Nationwide that it intends to give away half its annual £400 million profits to around 7 million horrowers and savers via lower home loan rates and higher returns on deposits. The Britannia, Bradford & Bingley and Yorkshire have also expressed their intention to remain as mutuals through similar schemes.

Brian Davis, chief executive of Nationwide, the UK's second largest society, said that the move underlined the benefits to members of remaining a mutual instead of becoming a bank: "If Nationwide were a public limited company we would not be doing this."

Adrian Coles, director-general of the Building Societies Association (BSA), said the new Bill did not go far enough to protect its members from potentially hostile bids. These could come from a variety of financial institutions, including banks, which have expressed interest in acquiring a building society.

"sure" way to make building societies less vunerable to predators was for "the Government to take steps to limit the risk of a so-called hostile bid", he said, "It should apply the two-year rule properly and only members of two years standing should be able to benefit in a takoever or merger situation."

The two-year rule in the 1986 Building Societies Act states that only qualifying members of two years standing or more with a particular society can qualify for a cash bonus when a society becomes a public company.

This rule has been tested in court by societies who devised an alternative way of rewarding members, regardless of the two-year rule. These include the Abbey National, the Cheltenham & Gloucester, acquired by Lloyds Bank, and the Halifax and Leeds. To overcome the two-year cash honus rule these societies, and the Woolwich, have offered windfall bonuses worth between £900 and £1,000 on average - by way of free shares rather than cash. John Wriglesworth, head of strategy at the Bradford &

Bingley, said: "We estimate that £50 million has been spent in legal fees by various societies on interpreting the two-year rule. We want the Government to ensure the long-term health of building societies by making sure this rule is properly enforced."

He added: "Selling out mutual status just because someone is offered £500 or whatever is not the way to decide a building society's future. That is for long-standing members who have been loyal to the society, and not just the carpetbaggers."

Angela Knight, who is preparing legislation to end "duck shoots on building societies"

Business faces extra £500m bill on pensions

BY PHILIP BASSETT, INDUSTRIAL EDITOR

costs to employers to changes in pension law are "substantially" higher than ministers, estimated — and is pressing the Government to change its proposals to ease the burden on companies Leaders of the Confedera-tion of British Industry have privately told ministers that the cost to employers of changes arising out of the 1995 Pensions Act could be in excess of the £300 million originally envisaged by the Government — perhaps as much as £500 million. They believe such high costs will hit jobs. Legal changes arising out of the Act, aimed at giving greafer protection to employees after high-profile cases such as that involving the the Mirror Group, will require the estabishment of a minimum fund ing requirement (MFR) of pension schemes. While emloyers accept that proper funding of schemes is "essential, they are concerned that a balance should be struck between the imposition of "excesunacceptable" levels of risk for pension scheme members. In an unpublished letter to Oliver Heald, the Social Security Minister, the CBI says it is "concerned that such a balance has not yet been struck in your latest proposals". Draft: regulations on the MFR circulated by the DSS are currently being considered by business.

Drawing on an analysis prepared for the CBI by Alexander Clay, the actuarial con-

BRITISH business is protest- Government that "the cost of ing to the Government that the the MFR, allowing for the recent changes, could be well over half a billion pounds per

John Cridiand, the CBI's human resources policy direc-tor, says that this is considerably in excess of the £300 million to £400 million envisaged by Peter Lilley, the Social Security Secretary.

A confidential CBI document says that the "fundamental problem of the MFR is that it "does not reflect the funding and investment strategies of the majority of UK pension schemes". While employers accept that a MFR will lead to an increase in costs, the CBI's paper argues that under the Act, schemes will have to switch from potentially high return, albeit more volatile. return gilt-edged stocks. Funding will have to be increased to ensure a high contingency reserve or surplus. According to the CBL most pension schemes invest about 80 oer cent of their assets in equities "because they have edged securities and are ex-The CBI adds that the Govern meat's proposals are "unnec essarily conservative — a factor that adds unnecessarily to employers costs.

Business leaders are calling on the Government to revise upwards its estimates on equity returns and are seeking talks with ministers on what they see as the "political issue" of setting the parameters of sultancy, the CBI informs the the planned MFR.

for a tighter outfit

No 714

DOWN

2 Properly (6)

3 Be worth (7)

ACROSS

- 3 Hopeless investment (4.4) 7 Go without food (6)
- 8 Signal fire (6) 9 Show bafflement (6)
- 10 Trouble; harass (6) 11 (Make a) joke (4)
 - 13 (Kent) wooded country: sounds like brandish (5)
 - 15 Diary of Frank (4) 17 Essential quality (6)

 - 18 Avoid (6)
- 19 (Bill) not settled (b)
- 20 Without difficulty (6) 21 Learned, cultivated people

- 13 Fighter (7)

SOTI) (4,4)

- 14 Rhine siren (7)
- 15 Solicit (6)
- 16 Sewing instrument; rivalry

1 Straight man; puppet (6)

4 Stubborn reactionary (7)

5 Bring about; an event (8)

11 England personified (4.4)

12 Affection (one has for per-

6 A few words; court decision

2 SOLUTION TO NO 713 ACROSS: 1 Dwarf 4 Lasagne 8 Continuum 9 Ugh 10 Yes 11 Nightchub 12 Frail 13 Ingot 16 Strumming 18 Alb 20 Orb 21 Thrilling 22 Notched 23 Ellis DOWN: 1 Decay 2 Amnesia 3 Friendly march 4 Lounge 5 Something else 6 Gruel 7 Exhibit 12 Festoon 14 Glacial 15 Nimrod 17 Robot 19 Bogus

AKOM LIMITED IS NOW OFFERING READERS OF THE TIMES FREE DELIVERY OF THE ITEMS LISTED BELOW AT STANDARD RETAIL PRICE — OFFER APPLIES UK ONLY.

OFFER APPLIES UK ONLY.

TIMES WORLD ATLASES: 9th Comprehensive De Luxe Edition 285. 7th Concise Edition 485 3rd Family Edition 477.99, Reference Edition 122.99, Compact Edition 68.99, Mini (Pocket) Edition 68.99 ALSO The Times World History (PB) 612.99.

TIMES THEMATIC ATLASES: The Times Adiso of World History (HB) 482, Concise Edition (PB) 614.99, Compact Edition (HB) 19.99. The Times Adias of Concise Edition (PB) 614.99, Compact Edition (HB) 19.99. The Times Adias of Architectory (HB) 285. The Times Landon History Atlas (HB) 622.99. ALSO The Times Night Sky 1996 (Astronomer's Guide Booklet 63.50.

Send cheques with order payable to Akom Ltd 51 Manor Lane, London SE13 SQW. Delivery to 8 days. Tel. 083-852 4575 (24brs) No credit Cards.

Levi Strauss boss goes

FROM RICHARD THOMSON IN NEW YORK profits come from overseas.

gone from $2.6 billion to $7 billion, while profits, which hit

LEVI STRAUSS, the world's largest clothing manufactures and maker of the famous 501 jeans, is poised to announce one of the largest leveraged buyouts in recent years that will turn members of the Haas family, which controls the company, into some of America's richest individuals. Robert Haas, who has run the San Francisco-based combine for 12 years, and several close relatives, will spend about $4.6 billion to buy back shares they do not already own. The scheme values the company at close on $14 billion. Under the terms of the deal,

Mr Haas will be allowed to buy $70 million worth of shares for less than $250,000. When the buyout is complete he will be worth more than $1 billion.

While the company advertised its jeans in 1900 as being "for men who toil", the image has changed over the past 20 years in the wake of international expansion and the creation of the jeans as a fashion brand, About half of Levi's losses on Wall Street.

yesterday emphasised that the

The image of Levi jeans past five years. The aim of the buyout is to concentrate ownership within one part of the Haas family, direct descen-dents of Levi Strauss, the Bavarian immigrant who founded the company 145

Over the years, ownership has become dispersed between about 200 family members. The buyout will concentrate 75 per cent of the shares with Mr Haas, his uncle and two cousins. It is the second phase of a process that started in 1985 when an earlier buyout led by Mr Haas bought shares back from the public.

The move has caused a row within the family because Rhoda Goldman, Mr Haas's aunt, with a 124 per cent stake, claimed that the $265 per share offer price was not enough. Since her death recently, it is not clear what action her family will take.

However, even if they do not accept. Mr Haas is set to gain control under the terms of the

'No big losses' for Soros fund

By Robert Miller

interest rates. He is also repu-

SOURCES close to Quantum fund was "practically flat so far this year". Fund, the investment enter-Hungarian-born Mr Soros, prise led by George Soros, the financial speculator, denied 62, was rumoured to have correctly anticipated a fall in US reports yesterday that the enterprise faces substantial ted to have gambled on a rise Mr Soros, who made $1 billion when he bet against in the dollar against the yen, accompanied by a rise in bond prices. However, bond sterling in the currency crisis of 1992, was said to be facing prices have fallen sharply. losses on a similar scale as a Speculation over Quanresult of long positions taken tum's potential losses in the in the bond market. Sources US bond market has prompted nervous selling of the fund's shares, which have that declined to be identified collapsed by almost 40 per cent in a matter of weeks. At the start of February, shares in the fund stood at $33,096. On Friday they closed at $20,740, a drop in value over the month of $1.6 billion.

Mr Soros suffered a serious reverse in the financial markets two years ago.
On St Valentine's Day 1994, Quantum admitted to losing $600 million after an against the yen.

Who goes this far to give you international credit insurance?

Only Coface has a network of insurers in countries covering 70% of world trade. No one else goes to such lengths for their clients.

Coface LBF

Don't sign until we've quoted. vsk a credit broker for details or call 0171 (25-7620)

歩 ニー Rich :

THE TIMES MONDAY FEBRUARY 26 1996

Clinton dilemma bi over Bo after Cuba shoots down two aircraft

From Ian Brodie in Washington and David Adams in Miami

PRESIDENT CLINTON'S lop defence and foreign policy advisers gathered at the White House yesterday to try to determine if two Cessnas flown by four anti-Castro exiles had deliberately ventured into Cuba's air space before they were shot down by two Cuban MiGs on Saturday. Cuba admitted the attack.

which, it said, lasted seven minutes, but added that it took place only five to eight miles from its coast, well within Cuban air space. But Brothers at to the Rescue, which organised the flight, insisted that the Cessnas were on a routine humanitarian mission well outside Cuba's 12-mile limit.

Cuban exiles demanded a swift and harsh response from Mr Clinton, and Pat Buchanan, whose Republican presidential campaign is on a roll, isaid President Castro of Cuba should be warned that his should be warned that his entire air force could wind up at the bottom of the Florida Straits if he continued to shoot down civilian aircraft.

Washington officials confirmed that the Cessnas ap-parently ignored a US warning not to fly south of the 24th parallel, which lies more than 40 miles beyond Cuba's 12-mile territorial waters. US officials also conceded that cavalier Brothers to the Rescue Cessna crews had in recent months been goading the Cuban authorities by flying into their air space. On one occasion, the Cessnas dropped anti-Castro leaflets along the length of Havana beach. Mike McCurry, the White House spokesman, said the Cuban and American Governments had repeatedly warned the pilots about their provocative tactics. Before taking off from Miami, the Cessnas had filed flight plans that did not mention Cuba as a destination. Had they done so, they would have been prevented from leaving. If the Cessnas were in fact in the wrong, and had intruded into Cuban air space, Mr Clinton's options might nor nally be limited to stern repetitions of this condemna-Florida primary a little over two weeks away and Republicans and Cuban-Americans baying for action, he may feel it necessary to do more than merely protest.

One non-military option open to him would be to take another look at a Bill in Congress that would tighten the US embargo of Cuba by extending US economic sanctions to foreign corporations doing business in Cuba.

The Bill has provoked diplomatic protests from Britain and other nations where comparties would suffer. Until now Mr Clinton has been unenthusiastic. Guided by conservative Republicans, the Bill has passed both houses of Congress and now awaits agreement on a final version. His opponents could push forward with the Bill in the coming days and put Mr

Witnesses on cruise ship

Miami: Passengers on a cruise ship that sailed by the scene of the Cuban air attack said the small private planes were instantly blown apart in the incident, Miami television WSVN-TV reported.

Passengers on the Majesty of the Seas cruise liner returned to the port of Miami yesterday morning. and said they were horri-fied by what they saw. "A missile hit the aircraft and just blew it to pieces. There was hardly any wreckage, any debris, just boom and it was gone in a puff of smoke," one unidentified passenger said. Another nger told the tele vision station: "They just appeared out of nowhere

Video film taken by one unidentified passenger on the ship, which was sailing more than 20 miles off the coast of Cuba, showed clouds of black smoke on the horizon. The pictures were taken with a long lens

Clinton in the awkward position of seeming to pamper Señor Castro by threatening to veto it. A degree of his dilemma's seriousness could be drawn from the top-level cast summoned to yesterday's White House meeting.

Relations between Cuba and America are, as usual, in a state of flux. Mr Clinton has eased some travel hans and there is a growing feeling in business circles that the US trade embargo has outlived its usefulness and that US firms should be allowed to return to Cuba before all the best contracts are snapped up. Besides. US businessmen argue, an expansion of the Cuban economy would be a means of loosening Senor Castro's grip on the country.

The boisterous exile community in Miami, traditionalgenerous with political donations, disagrees. They say only tougher measures will work against a regime that remains unregenerate and brutal. They have seized on the shooting down of the Cessnas to bolster their case. "No aircraft could be less threatening than the ones they used," said Robert Torricelli, a Democratic congressman who has flown with Brothers to the Rescue on their former mission of searching for rafters escaping from Cuba. They've made these flights for years and are well known for being humanitarian," he said.

US Coast Guard headquarters in Miami said yesterday that it had not found any trace of the Cessnas since two oil slicks were spotted late on Saturday about 20 miles from the Cuban coast.

"We're going to be out there all day searching, and then we'll review our plans at nightfall," said Petty Officer Mark Mackowiak. The Cessnas took off a week after an opposition group calling itself the Cuban Conciliation was denied permission by Cuban authorities to hold a unity rally. As many as 40 members were arrested. This weekend Granma Havana's official newspaper, reaffirmed

Republican rivals ride to showdown in badlands of Arizona

Pat Buchanan speaks from the steps of the courthouse in Prescott, Arizona, during a rally of Republican supporters

Border town fails to rally behind Buchanan's immigration banner

FROM TOM RHODES IN NOGALES ON THE US-MEXICAN BORDER

SOUTH of Tucson, where the western Sierra Madre picks up the ragged end of the Rocky ountains, lies the dilapidated border town of Nogales and the possible key to Pat Buchanan's success in Arizona.

The town, whose sprawl of cheap boutiques and depressing motels straddles the Nogales Pass leading to Mexico, has become one of the foremost channels for illegal immigrants entering America and a target for the Republi-can presidential candidate.

During a drive to win Arizona's primary tomorrow on a message of protectionism. Mr Buchanan has rarely missed a chance to name Nogales as the root of all evil, a staging post for the shipment of cocaine and illegal aliens to America — a symbol not merely for the poisoning of teenagers, but also for wasted welfare payments.

tive stronghold of Prescott, five hours' drive from the border and 60 miles south of the Grand Canyon, the firebrand commentator quickly warmed to his theme. He criticised the failures of the North American Free Trade Agreement, the Mexican "bailout" by the Clin-is soaring ... go down to Nogales and see for yourself." This, apparently, is a visit been told illegal immigration

he has never been prepared to make himself. Invited many times, Mr Buchanan has neiit seems, to confront its largely

6 No one has the right to walk across the borders of the United States of America with impunity 9

ton Administration and, of course, the iniquity of illegal one has the right, because they've got a lousy Government down there, to walk across the borders of the United States of America with impunity," said Mr Buchanan, sporting a cowboy's black show arrived in the conserva- trademark in Arizona. "We've described as Buchanan sup-

a better time to arrange a

Lenders are falling over potential borrowers, offering tempting deals both to home buyers and those who want to re-mortgage. Making the right choice could easily save you hundreds, or even thousands of pounds a year. The rapid expansion of mortgage lending over the telephone in the past year is part of the same financial revolution that has brought cheap insurance and 24-hour banking to millions of homes.

Today, the right mortgage choice can be just a call away. Not surprisingly, a number of High Street lenders now claim to offer the same service to their customers.

some promise more than they deliver. Often, the mortgage you are offered is no cheaper than you would get by queuing in a branch. Some enders will not complete the deal until you go in to see

FirstMortgage does not operate under the same old branch-based system as most to cut overheads, passing on the savings to its customers in the form of cheaper loans.

Form-filling is taken care of by FirstMortgage, saving you time and cutting out endless

All it takes to arrange that mortgage is a free call on 0800 0800 88, typically lasting no more than 15 minutes, to a consultant at the company's FirstMortgage consultants are on hand to answer your cestions about the best kind of mortgage to pick in today's climate. Because everyone has special needs, they are also there to advise on the best options to suit your

Any questions you may have about the suitability of a particular loan are answered in a clear, jargon-free manner. Unlike other lenders who may also try to sell you a whole package of individual circumstances.

central offices.

But as with most claims,

mselves to win over chean morteage.

Mexican population. "We've telephoned his office and sent dozens of faxes over the last nine months inviting him to come," said Brendan Fitz-Simons, publisher of the Nogales International newspaper. "He's never coming here. He hasn't got the balls."

Certainly, the people of No-

ADVERTISEMENT

Telephone mortgage experts help

homeowners exploit rate cuts porters. If elected to the White House, he has promised to introduce a five-year moratorium reducing annual rates of legal immigration from 888,000 to 233,000. "He is a racist who is no good for America," Alfredo Ruiz, partner in a mattress shop, said. You can't stop people coming. From California to Texas people know they need to let mmigrants in. They need us for their own economy."

Since California passed

Proposition 187 in 1994, to eliminate benefits to illegal immigrants, Nogales has become a main route for "wetback" Mexicans seeking work in America. The town has earned the title "California's side door" and, although the border patrol says arrests dropped to 3,094 in the first two weeks of this month, less than half the number caught the previous February, thou-

Campaign coffers run low for Dole

FROM MARTIN FLETCHER IN WASHINGTON

THE race for the Republican presidential nomination took another bizarre turn at the weekend with news that Robert Dole is dangerously close to reaching the lederal spending limit and the top-tier candidate in the best financial health may be Pat Buchanan.

The Senate leader has had no trouble raising funds. His problem is that he has spent hugely on staff and advertising but failed swiftly to lock up the nomination. He faces an unexpectedly protracted battle that may last well into the spring, and has already spent all but $5 million (£3.25 million) or $6 million of the $37 million limit imposed on candidates receiving federal

In more bad news for Mr Dole, Steve Forbes won Saturday's Delaware primary. This was hardly a surprise as Mr Forbes alone campaigned in the state. Mr Forbes, from neighbouring New Jersey, attracted 33 per cent, Mr Dole 27, Mr Buchanan 19 and Lamar Alexander, the former Tennessee Governor, 13.

Mr Dole originally believed he could secure the nomination with resounding victories in this month's lowa caucuses and New Hampshire primaries, but that plan went disastrously awry when he only squeaked home in the first and lost the second. Moreover he had to spend far more than planned to counter millions of dollars worth of negative advertisements from Mr Forbes.

Mr Dole's campaign has far higher overheads and is far more dependent on advertising than his rivals, and he must now fight 30 primaries including the giant states of Florida, New York, Texas and California this month with less than $6 million.

Mr Buchanan has raised a mere $12 million but operates in an entirely different fashion from Mr Dole. He has no costly consultants, polisters and advertising men. He lives off the land, depending primarily on endless intertelevision stations.

Opposition leaders held in Dhaka

SOUTH ASIA CORRESPONDENT

FOUR senior or osition leaders were. arrested in Bangladesh yesterday, nine days after a violent general election shattered hopes of democracy in a country for most of its life accustomed to closed since Saturday because of clashes is fighting for survival. Turnout in the between supporters and opponents of the general election was 10 per cent. mostly Government, which was re-elected in a poll boycotted by all main opposition parties. Forty people were injured yesterday when government supporters broke through the strike lines of pro-opposition crowds in Chittagong.

Five years after the first free election in Chittagong, the main port, has been the country's 25-year history, democracy because thugs roamed the streets at the opposition's behest. Commentators have iggested that the armed forces may be be forced to step in.

The political stalemate looks set to drive the country into greater chaos, severely hurting the fragile economy and scaring away foreign investors.

Mandela writes off rumour of ill-health

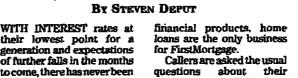

FROM INIGO GILMORE IN JOHANNESBURG

PRESIDENT Mandela has addressed concerns about his health and increasing perceptions that he is indispensable to South Africa's future success in an extraordinary news-

Writing in the Johannes-burg Sunday Times yesterday Mr Mandela said he felt "on top of the world" and laughed off "wild rumours" about his immiment death. Tales about his ill-health dated back to his days as a prisoner on Robben Island, he said. He also sought to play down his significance in South Africa's recent success by suggesting that he was just a player in much larger game. Under a headline "Don't praise me to damn the rest". Mr Mandela said the South African people, investors and politicians were aware of his retirement after elections in 1999, yet there was confidence in the economy and South Africa's future. He added: "A ridiculous notion is sometimes advanced that Mandela has been exclusively responsible for these real achievements of the South African people, particularly our smooth transition."

The President's Office said the article was prompted by the worst run on the rand in history and concerns about the impact of unbalanced hero-worship in the media. Last week's panie was triggered by an ambulance out side Mr Mandela's office. called for a security official who had slipped.

property, any existing loan and personal circumstances. An application form is filled in by the consultant and the mortgage can be agreed in principle by First Mortgage at the end of the call, subject to normal conditions. If you agree, the form is immediately printed out with all your details and sent to you. All you then have to do is sign FirstMortgage has loans to suit all individual circumstances. Where it can't find the right product for you from its own range, the company can provide market-beating offers from other lenders to ensure you get the best deal For example, many experts now believe it is highly likely that mortgage interest rates will fall even further in the next few

This belief is fuelled by a combination of factors, including the Chancellor's anticipated decision to lower base rates further, the continuing mortgage price war, plus the decision by some building societies to offer "loyalty" bonuses to their existing members. You can gain from this by choosing a discounted mortgage, where the interest you pay is pegged several points below the prevailing rate ow the prevailing rate. That way, if interest rates fall, so does the cost of your loan.

FirstMortgage now has a deal available that cuts up to 3.25 per cent off the existing average variable rate of 7.4 per cent for two years. It then moves back to the variable rate, which is guaranteed for five years to reflect the average rate offered by the top five building societies. Whatever happens, you don't lose out. Discounts of up to 2.25 per cent are on offer over a three-year period.

For those who prefer the security of knowing exactly how much their outgoings will be over several years, FirstMortgage has a competitive range of two, three and five-year

It's all handled by telephone two years and thercaster a fixed rate options Both First Mortgage's fixed and discounted mortgages are available without the usual set-up fees, in which case a slightly higher interest rate applies. Whatever your needs, the chances are there is a FirstMortgage loan which can be tailored to meet them. Trained consultants are on hand between 8,00am and 7.00pm, Monday to Friday, to answer any queries.

As with all mortgage lending, loans are secured on your property and are subject to status. A suitable life insurance policy is also reastired.

The APR is based on a typical example of a repayment loan of: $45,000 for a house purchase of £60,000.

The loan term is 25 years with a discounted variable rate of interest of 4.24 per cent per annum for the first after 300 monthly payments of $246.17 ($237.94 net of MIRAS on £30,000 at 15 per The total amount payable is £74,346, including legal fees of $250, an arrangement

the equivalent variable rate

(assumed to be 4.24 per cent

The loan will be repaid

fec of $275, a valuation fee of £140 and a money transfer fee of £45, all of which are inclusive of VAT.

Before calling FirstMongage for your free quote, consider the following: Do you have at least 10 per cent equity or deposit? Do you have a clean credit history with no mortgage arrears Do you want to save time by arranging your loan over the phone? Do you want a mortgage that will save you

If the answer is yes to all the above then phone 0800

0800 0800

Call free now to arrange your mortgage direct

MORTGAGE

For a written quotation, write to FirstMontgage, B 14-15 Lancaster Place, London, WC2E 7EP. You can also reach them on the internet on http://www.first-mortgage.co.uk/ims/ YOUR HOME IS AT RISK IF YOU DO NOT KEEP UP REPAYMENTS ON A MORTGAGE OR OTHER LOANS SECURED ON IT.

■ VISUAL ART

Private masterpieces from the Doria Pamphilj Gallery in Rome, on show at the National Gallery OPEN: Now REVIEW: Tomorrow

THEATRE

Peter Bowles, Deborah Grant and Caroline Langrishe star as Noël Coward's Present Laughter hits London OPENS: Tomorrow REVIEW: Thursday

■ DANCE

A whodunnit in which everyone has a motive: Kim Brandstrup's new Crime Fictions for Arc at Sadler's Wells OPENS: Tomorrow REVIEW: Thursday

Far from the

Madding Crowd

Birmingham

Hippodrome

OPERA

Bernard Haitink conducts as Covent Garden's controversial Götterdämmerung makes a comeback

OPENS: Tomorrow REVIEW: Thursday

LONDON

SPRING LOADED The Place the's annual indute to the best of Robeh Independent dance open union with a programme by the award-wraming Aleita Collans company. Her new programme leasure: the premiere of a duet, Certain Obsessions, and a reworking of the popular Che Gebde Manina, which cheeksly brings logether Puccini extracts and langos by Piacolla. Place, Duke's Road, WC1 (0171-387 0031) Tonight-Wed, 8pm. Unbl May 16

MUSIC AROUND TOWN The great plants! Artur Pizzaro starts the music day with a kinchirme recital of Debussy and Dukas at Smith Square Martyn Brabbins and Sinfonia 21 come in common night with works by Kagel Janathan Hancy, Beno and Berg Two of Europe's brightest young artists. Tim Hugh (yord parriogal called with the High (joint principal called with the London Symphony Orchestral and panist Philippe Cassand learn up for a programme at the Wignore that includes the world premiers of a work dodusted to Huigh Crisistane Boesch's Sonata for Child in Plano No 2 And, firally, the Storey Kent Quartet swings into action in Nightsbroke for two nights of popular standards, with Dave Newton at the plano noth Square SW1 (0171)

N CHAPTER TWO: Torn Cont. and Sharon Gless play unattached New Yorkers whiting towards each other in New Simon's still entertaining, touching

Gielgud, Shaftesbury Avenue, W1 (0171-494 5065) Mon-Fn, 8pm Sat 8 15cm; mats Thurs 3cm, Sat 5cm, E EAST LYNNE. Mis Henry Wood's tamous tale of the downtaß of Lacty isabel Vane, interestingly done though the modern comments led unnecessity. Greenwich, Crooms Hall, SE10 (0181-RSS 7755) Mon-Set, 7 45pm; mer Sat.

☐ THE ENDS OF THE EARTH Samanitha Bond and Michael Sheen in new David Lan play, set in the Balkans where a gaclogist, to save his ill where a gactograf, to save his ill daughter must make an impossible secrifice to give up smoking. Andre

Serban directs
National (Cortesioe), South Bank, SE1 (0171-928 2252), Now previously, 7 30pm, opens Feb 29, 7pm, in rep. (§) M AN INSPECTOR CALLS Stephen Nicholas Woodscon as the al-Monwing inspector, and Edward Peel and Susan Engel as the pilars of society Garriek, Champ Cross Rook WC2 (1711-494 5085) Mon-Fn. 7 45pm Sal, 9 15pm; mats Wed, 2.30pm, Sal, 5pm ☐ THE LONG AND THE SHORT AND THE TALL: Mark Arden and Sen

NEW RELEASES

◆ CASINO (18) Scorsese's epic of

Las Vegas in the 1970s, gocnous background detail, but the human drama flags. With Robert De Niro, Sharon Stone and Joe Pesc.

Barbican (§) (0171-638 8991)

Clapham Picture (0171-498 3333)

Empire (§) (0171-437 1234) MGM:

Baker St (0171-935 9772) Fulham Rd
(0171-370 358) Thorsafero (§) (0171-

(01426 914666) Rio (0171-254 6677)

rent approaches to romance

Las Vegas in the 1970s, glonous

434 0031) Notting Hill Core

SENSE AND SENSIBILITY (U)

Director, Ang Lee. Chelsea (0171-351 3742) Curza

Mayfeir (0171-369 1720) West End (0171-369 1722) Odeon Kensington

◆ TRAINSPOTTING (18): Abrasav

◆ TRAINSPOTTING (18): Abrasave look at unive kie, from Invine Welsh's novel, made by the Shallow Grave team With Ewan McGregor and Ewen Bremter Director, Danny Boyle Chaphann Picture (0171-498 3323) Gate [5] (0171-727 404.3) MGMI Futte Rd [5] (0171-727 404.3) MGMI Futte Rd [5] (0171-839 1527) Tottenham Ct Rd (0171-839 1527) Tottenham Ct Rd (0171-636 6148) Odeon Swiss Cottage 10171-636 6148) Odeon Swiss Cottage 101746 941949] Ritzy (0171-

Cottage (01426 914098) Ritzy (0171-737 2121) Screen/Baker St (0171-935 reen/Green (0171-226 3520) UCI Whiteleys (2) (0171-792 3332) Warner (2) (0171-437 4343)

(0171-727 6705) Öc

E (0171-792 3332

TODAY'S CHOICE

A daily guide to arts compiled by Kris Anderson

Wigmore Street, WI (2) (0171-935 2141) 7 30pm, Pizza on the Park, Knightsbridge, SW1 (0171-235 5550/ 5273) Tonight and Tua, 9pm ELSEWHERE

BATH Tony Stattery is back on tour, playing the irrepressibly camp emertainer in Peter Nichols's Privates on Parade, his connedy with music set at a 1948 Army camp party in Malaya. Not sustable for children. Theatre Royal, Sawckose (01225-448 844) Tongris Wed. 7 30pm Thurs-Sat, 8pm mas Wed, Sat. 2 30pm.

BRIGHTON The joint's really jumps as Clarka Polors is irresistible tributa to Louis Jordan, Five Guys Named Moe comes to lown Theatre Royal, New Road (01273-328 488) Tonight-Thurs, 8pm, Fri and Sat. 8pm and 8.45pm

NOTTINGHAM: Opening right for the cornedy due Steve Punt and Hugh Dennis, as they step into their first

THEATRE GUIDE

ouse full, returns only ome sests available sets at all prices

Albery, St Martin's Lane, WC2 (0171-369 1730) Tonight-Sat, 8pm, mats Thurs, 3pm and Sat, 5pm. Final week

SKYLIGHT Michael Gambon and Lia Wilkems, with Daniel Berts, in David Hare's drametization of society's conflicts in the form of a prickly reunion between two lowers. Richard Eyre directs this Nabonal theatre transfer Wyndham's Channg Cross Road, WC2 (0171-369 1736) Mon-Sat, Apm mai Sal 3pm

E SWEET PANIC Stephen Poliakolf's thought-provoking play about the awfulness of working as a child psychologist in an urban nightmare. Harnet Walter and Saskia Reeyes both ent. redead, Swiss Coltage Centre NW3 (0171-722 9301) Mon-Sat. Bpm; mai Sat. 4pm. (2)

TOMMY: Pete Townshend's famous musical stars the 19-year-old hitherto unknown Paul Keating as the deaf, dumb, bland pinbell wcard, with Kim Wilde as his mum Des McAnuff, cowriter of the book, directs.
Shaffaesbury, Shaffaesbury, Avenue,
WC2 (0171-379 5399) Now previous:
Bpm; mais Wed and Sat, Spm. Opens Mar 5, Tpm. Mar 4: all proceeds to Teenage Cancer Trust (0171-436 2877) (5)

theathe roles with All in the Tissing: So; short plays by off-Broadway writer David lves, One was the insparation for the Rim

Grounding Day Playhouse, Wallington Circus (0115-941 9419). Tonight, 7:30pm, Than Mon-Sat, 7:30pm, mals Mar 7 and 9,

OXFORD: Henry Goodman plays
Freud, with Tim Potter as Sahador Dai, in Terry Johnson's surreal, double award-winner. Hysterica. Accidence by our reviewer as "the humaest serious play in London" last year.
Playhouse, Beaumont Street (01865 789600. Tonother-Trus. Sec. 7.300m:

LONDON GALLERIES

2.30pm. Until Mar 16. 🖸

Barblean, Sik Street, EC2 (0171-638 6891), Tonight, 7 15pm, Tue, 2pm and 7.15pm, Final performances

WALLEY SONG: Althol Fugard's first

LONG RUNNERS

LONDON GALLERIES
British Museum; Okyo and Kyoto penenga (0171-836 1559)
Hayward Spellbound; Art and Film (071-928 3144)
Lalighton (0171-928 2314)
Lalighton (0171-922 3316)
National Gellery Old Master paintings from Rome's Done Pamphil Gallery (0171-747 2885)
National Portrait Gallery: The Room in View (0171-306 0055) Royal Academy; Fredenc Leighton (0171-439 7439)
Tailer Cézame; 84 Woodroar
15 bronze statues (0171-827 8000)
V & A. The Leighton Frescoes (0171-938 8500)

TWELFTH NIGHT lan Judge's attractive production, interestingly recast, with Edward Petheronoge as WALLEY SONG: Alto Fugard's first piley since the end of aperthed interestingly mounts aspects of the past white welcoming, with degress of enthusiasm, the future Fugard himself acts two roles Reyall Count, Sloane Square, SW1 (017)-730 1745) Mon-Set, 7 30pm, mat Sat. 3 30pm.

□ Blood Brothers Phoener (0171-867 1044) □ Dead Guilty: Apollo (0171-494 5070) ... ■ Ferre: The Musical Cambrodge (0171-494 5083) □ Futnry Money: Playhouse (0171-879 4401) ... □ Jolann, Victoria Palace (0171-834 1317) ■ Les Missimables: Palace (0171-434 9090) Sumed Renteurent: Archite (0171) Ticket information supplied by Society of London Theatre

CINEMA GUIDE

films in London and (where indicated with the symbol ◆) on release across the country

CURRENT BED OF ROSES (PG) Withy

and Christian Slater. Plaza (3) (0171-437 1234)

◆ DESPERADO (18); Robert Manach, with Amoreo Banderas es to quist-playing kider seleming vengean MGMs: Chelseer (0171-352 5096) Haymericel (0171-839 1527) Tothenthem Court Road (0171-836 6148) UCI Whiteleys (2) (0171-792 3332) Warrier (2) (0171-437 4343)

◆ JOHNNY MINEMONIC (15) The Yakuza want the control of Keanu Peeves head Futuristic folly from a teacture is a stee William Change cyberpunk author William Gibson Odeon West End (01426 915574) ◆ LOCH NESS (PG): Ted Danson

◆ JUMANJI (PG); Exhibarating rome about a rainforest board game that comes to life. With Robin Williams

Clapham Picture House (0171-498 3323) MGMs: Beker Street (0171-335 9772) Cheissa (0171-332 5036) Fullsam Road (2) (0171-370 2636) Fullsam Road (2) (0171-370 2636) Odeons: Kensington (01426 914666) Leicester Square (01426 915683) Marphe Arch (01426 914601) Swiss Cottons (01426 914601) Swiss Cottage (01426 914098) UCI Whiteleys (5) (0171-792 3332)

CTHELLO (12): Laurence Fishburne as the jestous Moor, Kenneth Branagh as the schemming lago Oliver Parker's lively version for general audiences.

Barbican & (0171-638 8891) Odeons: Haymarket (01468 915333) Cottage (01426 914098) Phoenix (0181-983 2233) Richmond (0181-332 Whiteleys (6) (0171-792 mer (6) (0171-437 4343) 0030) UCI Wh

IL POSTINO (U): Michael Radiord's arming delight about a smpk man dipening his eyes to poets Monderful performance by the late Massimo Trossi MGMe: Panton Street (0171-930)

ULYSSES' GAZE (PG): Portentous Lismiere (0171-836 0891) Renoir (0171-837 8402) Ritzy (0171-737 2121)

WITHNAIL & I (15) Revival of Bruce Robinson's quirky comedy, with Richard E. Grant and Paul McGarm as would-be actors miserable in the Lake District MGM Shaftesbury Avenue (017) MGM Shaftesbury Avenue (0171-836 6279) Odeon Kensington (01426

Nice but not naughty

Best chemistry: Monica Zamora (Bathsheba) and Yuri Zhukov (William Boldwood), in David Bintley's new Thomas Hardy ballet

he last time the choreographer David Bintley got together with the composer Paul Reade and the designer Hayden Griffin the result was the hugely popular full-length ballet Hobson's Choice. This time the three of them have used the same ingredients — a well-known, very English story, a literary source that became a famous film, a cast of colourful rustics — and are no doubt hoping for a similar success. Although their new Far from the Madding Crowd for Birmingham Royal Ballet is not quite so appealing as Hobson's Choice, it looks as if the collaborators have done it again. Moré

The story of the strong-willed West Country farm owner Bathsheba and the three men who compete for her love is told over three acts with a good deal of narrative detail, and a good deal of padding. The crowd The costumes are flattering, their scenes, of assembled shepherds, earthy tones enlivened by the bold red thatchers, dairymaids, farmers and fishermen, go on far too long, indulging Bintley's undoubted talent for folksy characterisation.

One cannot imagine the characters in Thomas Hardy's 1874 novel being quite so clean or quaint as they are in Bintley's tame adaptation — indeed, you would be hard pressed to pick up the scent of sheep on Gabriel Oak, even at the shearing supper in Act I. This Weatherbury seems to be inhabited by people who somehow manage to go about the dirty business of farming without actually getting their hands or their smocks - dirty.

Passions are similarly muted, except for some wonderful moments of highmelodrama. The best is Sergeant. was carrying his illegitimate child. In a fit of wild desperation at the sight of her coffin, Troy seizes the corpse for a farewell kiss and then lashes out at Bathsheba, his still-loving wife. But Bathsheba herself - like all the main characters - is underwritten: her appearance at the local Corn Exchange, for example, designed to cause a minor sensation among the gentlemen farmers", lacks a beguiling sensuality.

The choreography is familiar Bintley terrain, but with added comph to the key pas de deux, especially the first encounter between Bathsheba and Troy, which amounces the destructive nature of their relationship in a brute coupling. Elsewhere, though, attempts at sexual daring end up looking crude rather than suggestive, more like embarrassed fumblings in the dark.

Griffin's realistic designs are simple yet strong: a rough-newn structure timbered serves as the framework for every scene.

.

۳ú*

acr .

.....

(ZZ*= * * *)

le i i pira

450 V

o³ be iire .

top , =-

4.4

DE O

de :

1.5

jith :e

STOP:

Reduce.

b .

i kan

PB... 10 s.

Te:--

ates . . .

M 127

Marc :

Ψ,

1965

|≇cr_s

ALT

D.:

× ...

earthy tones enlivened by the bold red of the cavalry officers' dress uniforms. Reade's score is accomplished and energetic, nicely attuned to the narrative requirements. And it was extremely well played at the Saturday matinee by the Royal Ballet Sinfonia, with Peter Ernst Lassen in the pit.

Best of all is what Bintley's ballet -does for the acting strengths of his cast, and for that reason alone it deserves its place in the Birmingham repertory. Kevin O'Hare really outdoes himself as the nasty Sergeant Troy, David Justin is brilliant in the final reconciliation between Gabriel Oak and Bathsheba, and Yuri Zhukov, as a charismatic William Boldwood, provides the best chemistry of all Bathsheba's lovers. Monica Zamora's Troy's heart-stirring remorse at the dark-eyed heroine is winsome; all she death of Fanny Robin; the servant who needs now is a little more charisma of dark-eved heroine is winsome: all she

DEBRA CRAINE

Stir fry and stir crazy

15th-century A Record of the Journey to the West might be called the great novel of China. That folkloric epic tells of Tripitaka's adventurous trek to bring back the Buddhist scriptures from India. Stylistically, the farcical and mean- split cultural identity. satirical and poetic mingle. The journey has long symbolised man's pilgrimage

THIRTY volumes thick, the

Now Ivan Heng's short, solo performance piece offers a modern version. His Journey West, revived in Battersea for BAC's pick of the fringe season, is comparatively flimsy though with flashes of promise. Heng portrays a young man called Ming vocation, acting — who escapes his roots and the restrictions of Singapore to settle in London, where he is absorbed into Britain's apparently freer lifestyle. However, he also comes up against racial stereotyping. His agent keeps ringing to offer such inausoicious film parts as male prostitutes through life.

and space aliens. Ming also runs into his own homesickness and is torn by his now-This devised piece, ed by Tripitaka Theatre Company, begins with mask work. Creating one of the evening's most powerful moments, Heng peels a grotesque paper face off his own, tearing its Chinese features down the middle. He then proceeds to pull exaggerated expressions himself, not a happy clown. Heng nips deftly between performance styles. One minute he is a camp comic. then, turning his back, becomes his father's ghost, a hulking, almost-operatic figure. Meanwhile, following in the footsteps of the original Journey to the West, the script cuts between prose-poetry about bright stars and satirical send-ups of British snobs.

Eves 7.30 Mats Wed & Set 2.30

& 7:30 (LAST PERS) WILD OATS John O'Keelle COTTELSLOE Ton't, Tomor

PREVEWS 7:30 THE ENDS THE EARTH David Lan

CATS

MOTION PLEASE BE PROMPT

LIMITED NO. OF SEATS AVAI

DAILY FROM BOX OFFICE.

OLD VIC 0171 928 6855/312 8034 "ALAN BENNETT'S

SUPERB ADAPTATION F.T

THE WIND

IN THE WILLOWS

are experimental, the cultural observations seem basic for too long. Journey West starts to grow darker and more intriguing at its close but before that, the alternating comedy and sadness just play across the surface. SWINGERS are the boys who hang themselves in prison. Ashmeed Sohoye's new play, a three-hander deservedly transferring from the Grace to the Old Red Lion, Islington, is about the frustration, aggression and despair that develops in a young offenders' establishment visitor's session, played as one-sided alienated conversations. That apart, we never leave the breeze-block cell joyrider serving what he hopes are the last days of his sentence, suddenly has to share. Simon, a mentally simple and unstable new arrival. is an arsonist who has had no warmth in his life.

LES MISERABLES.

Sohoye shows the two rubbing each other up the wrong way. But he also denicts friendship, albeit volatile. For all the personal and racial gulfs between them, they come to protect each other. The real troublemaker is

Sparks, the corrupt screw who presses home his twisted fondness for Simon ("you remind me of my son") while being bent on wrecking Hussein's life because the latter is a There is a single, fleeting - "Paki" and in the governor's good books. Hussein is also at his own game, taking demeaning treatment while remaining clearly unbroken. Nabil Elouhabi gives a beautifully relaxed performance as Hussein. The viciousness of Geoff Bell's superficially affawhich Hussein, a wised-up ble Sparks is horribly quietly played Sohoye has an ear for real speech. More startlingly, this play proves a smooth blend of docudrama and comedy. Ricci Harnett's nerdy Simon launches absurdly into slow karate moves, referring to the handbook in between.

Croucher has coaxed confident performances out of his cast, but the intimacy between the two boys might be explored more sensitively Harnett's psychotic tics need fine-tuning while all three characters' flashes of anger might be sharper. That said, downplaying the dramatic contrasts makes this grey world the more worryingly everyday.

KATE BASSETT

WHITEHALL 389 1735/344 444/

BEST NEW MUSICAL

ROY ORBISON STORY

see Thu B, Fri, Set 5:30 & 8:30, Sun 4

LAST 2 WEEKS OF RECORD-

MITTEHALL 368 1735/844 444/420

Returns From 12 March

TRAINSPOTTING

WYNEHAMS 0171 SEP 1736

BEST PLAY CENTER AWARDS

SKYLIGHT

by DAVID HARE Directed by RICHARD EYRE

The Royal National Theatre production for 9 treats only

Mon-Set 8.00 Med Set 3.00

(no big tee) /344 4444 (big fee) -

WILLIAMS

Tues Fel at 8. Set at 8.30 Mais Wed 5 Set at 5, Sun at 4

ENTERTAINMENTS

VERY BIG FOR SALE

ART GALLERIES

ROY MILES GALLERY 29 Bruton Street W1

COLISEUM 0171 622 8300 (291) ENGLISH NATIONAL OPERA Tomor 7.30 TOSCA ROYAL OPERA HOUSE 0171 304

OPERA & BALLET

The Royal Opera Ton't, Fr. 7.00 SEMELE Bisstut Britiance Times Tomor 4.30 (First Night), Sat 4.00 Thur 7.30 (First Night) GREELLE

> To advertise in this section please call 0171 481 1982 or fax 0171 481 9313

THEATRES ADELPHE
"ANDREW LLOYD WEBBER'S MASTERPIECE" Wall St. Journal

BOULEVARD Winner of 7 Tony Awards including BEST MUSICAL Stating Petula Clark

24-R CREDIT CARD BOOKINGS CALL 0171 344 0055 (birg fee) GRP BOOKING 413 3302 (birg fee) No booking fee for Adelphi Box Office Cellers Recorded information 0171 379 8884 Alexand Call Helen The J. See 2 00 Mon-Set 7.45 Mats Thur & Set 3.00

ALBERY 359 1730/344 4444/420

ODOL LAST WEEK THE LONG & THE SHORT & THE TALL by Walle Hell during, civilining evening Eves 8. Mats The 3, Set 5

AL DWYCH 416 ED48 + birg lees 344 4444/420 0000 PETER BOWLES DEBORAH CAROLINE LANGR

In Noel Coward's Classic Cornedy PRESENT LAUGHTER PRESS HIGHT TOMOR AT 7 Micon-Sept 8, Meete Thu 3, Sept 4

ART GALLERIES

ART GALLERIES & EXHIBITIONS The Times will be publishing regular histings in these columns To promote your forthcoming exhibition

Contact July Cooper or Joanna Hauptman on Tel. 0171 481 1982 or Fax. 0171 481 9313

APOLLO LABATTS 344 4444/420 0000 (+ bkg lee) "ANDREW LLCYD WEBBER & TIM RICE'S JOSEPH AND THE AMAZING ECHNICOLOR DREAMCOAT staring PHILLEP SCHOFFELD PRESS NIGHT TOMOR AT 7 SUNSKT

> 000. Eves 8, Mais Thy 3, Sat 5 & 8.15 HAYLEY MILLS "Magnificand" F.T. JENNY SEAGROVE "Impaccable" Tunes DEAD GUILTY

UNITE. APRIL, 20 Tue-Sat 7:30, Mats Thu, Set 3:00 Riverdance returns 16 May...

Richard Harris' new play is TH PERFECT THRELLER' S.Times LAST 3 WEEKS OF RECORD BREAKING RUN

APOLLO VICTORIA cc 0171 416 8055 cc 20hrs 0171 344 4444/0171 42 0000 Grps 0171 418 6075/ 413 3321 Andrew Lloyd Webber's New production of STARLIGHT EXPRESS "A REBORN THEATRICAL

Whate knuckie runs 19.45 deih Tue & Set 1500 Tickets from £12.50 BRIDGE 80 & cc 0171 49

5154 cc (no bkg tee) 312 1992/ 344 4444 Grps 413 3321/ 312 1970/ 494 5454 FAME THE MISSICAL "TAME IS A FEEL-GOOD

TREUNIPH" Mail On Sunday

REATHTAKING" indepe Eves 7.30, Mats Wed & Set 3.00 20MEDY BO & cc (177) 369 1731 cc (1771 420 0000 (no bikg lae) ZOE WANAMAKER in THE GLASS MENAGERIE

TENNESSEE WILLIAMS Directed by Sent Mendes Eves 7.30 Met; Set 3.00

CRITERION 369 1737/344 4444 Returns From 5 March Reduced Shakespeare Co THE COMPLETE WORKS OF WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE (Mate Thur et 3, Set et 5, Sun et 4, Eves et Born

> HISTORY OF AMERICA (abridged) Tuestays Only at 8pm DOMENSON Tickstines 0171 418 5080/ 0171 420 0000 (blog fee). Grps 0171 416 6075/413 3321/420 0200 CREASE ing RICHARD CALKIN SURIAL AHTHA JAMUS

THE COMPLETE

Test, forloss & tes, tes, tes, Cally Mirror
Even 7.30, Mats Wed & Set 3pm
TICKETS AVAILABLE - APPLY DAILY TO BOX OFFICE 58 cc (Blog fee) 28hr 7 days 0171 484 5110/344 4444/620 0000) Grps 484

MISS SAIGON THE CLASSIC LOVE STORY OF OUR TRACE NOW IN ITS 7TH SENSATIONAL YEARS Eves 7.45 Maks Wed & Sax 3pm Good seats avail for Wed Max & some perfs - apply 8.0. FOR TELEPHONE/POSTAL BOOKINGS & PERSONAL CALLERS

5454/413 3311/312 8000

0171 494 5060 (BKG FEE) DUCHESS ac 0171 464 5070 ac 34 444 (no big het/420 0000 (big lie) 0171-413 3321 Eves Born, What mat 3pm, Sut Spm & B.30 "A SAUCY COMEDY" E. Sut NOW IN ITS 5th YEAR DON'T DRESS FOR DINNER

DUKE OF YORK'S 0171 836 (24trs, no fee) ROYAL COURT CLASSICS David Storey's Classic Sporting Colebration THE CHANGING ROOM unity, comeradorie, jey" Tro "exestedy, fundase" D.Mei "exhibitation" (en Sue ng" ion Sun Eves 7.39, Mets Thu & Set 3.00 Socially Outrageous" T.O.s.

PORTUNE BO & CC 0171 836 2238/0171 312 8033 LARRY MICHEA THE WOMAN IN BLACK

Adapted by Stephen Malletzith "The speet thrilling and chilling play for years" Dide! NOW IN ITS STH YEAR n-Shet Byon Maries Types Sprin Seet 404 FORTUNE Sandays Span "Cuite Askmishing" (BC Elizabet: Manufieki er MARIZ "Great Staff" D.Tel

0171 312 1990 (no blog tee) Some Experiences You Ne Forget WINNER OF 19 ROLLAN ET AN INSPECTOR CALLS

HALLING_HEUST BE SEEN D.M.E One of the most introduction thestrically imaginative exigences of the 1990s" Eve "TWO HOURS OF ENTHRALLING, VISUALLY STURMING DRAMA"D.Tel Monfri 7:45, Set 5:00 4 6:15.

GEELGUD 484 5055/344 444 /420 (000) TOM CONTI SHARON GLESS in NEIL SIMON'S CHAPTER TWO n - Fri 8, Maris Thu 3, Set 5 & 8 15 HAYMARKET 930 9800 CE 344 4444/42E 0000 (blog has The Peter: Hall company

fartin Shew Anne Carte Fenny Downle Devid Yella Richtel Decision Dulcie Gr OSCAR WILDES AN IDRAL HUSBAND Eves 7.45, Mans Wed & Set 3.00 8 WEEKS ONLY "GPEAT & GLONIOUS" & Time ER MAJESTY'S 24y 44 5400

(Physical) CC 344 4444/20 0000 (physical) Interpolation of the Control of the Co "AN TRRESISTABLE PIECE OF THEATRE" LNR THE PHANTOM OF A wonderful evening "FT "AN ABSOLUTE WERNER" Time Out THE OPERA Rected by HAROLD PRINCE MONEY BIKE TO DEC ME Seeson ends 27th April Wed & Sat mats 2.30pm Apply to Box Office delly for sphirms

PALACE THEATRE 0171-494 0909 0171 494 5020/344 4444 (£1 161 apr chg) 420 0000 Grps 0171 494 5454 cc 24hrs (phg fee) 9171-344 4444 Gross 0171, 413 3311 returns to the West End

NOW IN ITS 111H RECORD-BRIEAKING YEAR Evec 7:30 Made Thu 5 Set 2:30 OLIVER! 2ND SPECTACULAR YEAR LIONEL BART'S MASTERPIECE Latecomers not admitted undit the interval LIMITED NO. OF SEATS AVAIL YOU CAN'T ASK FOR MORE DALY FROM BOX OFFICE

PHOENIX BO/CC 0171 269 1733. /344 4444/420 0000 (fee) SOME GOOD SEATS AVAIL BEST MUSICAL NATIONAL THEATRE BO 0171 9 2252 Gps 0171 620 0741,245 cc big fee 0171 420 0000 OLIVIER Tent 7.15, Tenor 2.00 &
7.15 A LITTLE NIGHT NICHOL Natic & Iyate by Stephen Sondheim, book by Hugh Wheeler
LYTTELTON Tent 7.20, Tenn 2.15
LYTTELTON TENT 7.20, Tenn 1.04.74 BLOOD BROTHERS. STEPHANIE LAWRENCE ITEFAN DIENNES CARL WAYN Brings for audience to its for nd rouring its approvel". D Me Eves 7.45 Mets Thurs 3 Set 4 PICCADELLY 0171 3EJ 1734 CC 2003 344 4444, Grps 312 1970/9 (3 3321 WINNER! BEST MUSICAL

Brings the and and coaring to

EW LONDON Druy Lane WC2 80 1771 405 0072 CC 0171 404 4079 34th 0771 344 4444/20 0000 Gps 0771 413 3311/830 6123 MACK & MARKL THE HOLLYWOOD ROMAN Mon-Set at 7.45 Mate Wed & Set at 8.00 T.S. BLOT MIERWIDAYL ANARD HENNE MUSICAL Now Booking to 28 Septem EVER 7.45 Mate Toe & Sat 3.00 LATECOMERS NOT ADMITTED WHILE ALLOTOFILM IS IN PLAYHOUSE 0171 ROD 4401 (0171 420 0000)(0171 344 4444 SYLVIA SYMS HESRY MIGGER

> A RODNEY BEWEI IN RAY COONEY'S MEM COMEDA NEL FUNNY MONEY NATED BEST COMEDY 1996 OLIVIER AWARDS "LAUGHS GALORE... A WINNER D. Sop Setter than Feydeer priceless O. Tel

LYNDA BARON RAY COOKE

TREVOR BANGESTER PETER ELLIS RON ALDRIDGE

on-Sat 8.00, Mats Thu 3.00, Set 5.00 PRINCE EDWIARD 0171 447 5400 First Call 420 0100 (24% Big fee) 344 4444 Groupe 420 0200 Campron MacKaboth presents MARTIN GUERRIE A New Musical by BOUBLIL & SCHONBERG

FROM 22 MAY 1996

ROYAL SHAKESPRARE COMPANY LONDON (0171-698-8891) BARBICAN: TWELFTH NIGHT Ton't 7.15 THE PIT: CAM Ton't 7.15 STRATICAD (01789 25) RST & SWARE THE WINTER
VISITORS' SEASON

Enda 10 April

SAVOY 0171 836 8868 ANCKLA THORNE COMMUNICATING - DOORS by ALAM AYCKBOURN Nominated Best Comed Other Awards 1995

"A MELOGRAMATIC COMEDY FRILLER WONDENFULLY FUNNA AND GENUNELY SCARY" D.Tel "With the audience in turn..." ROARING WITH EALIGHTER AND Even 7:30 Mets Wed & Set 3.00

SHAFTESBURY DIT: 379-5360

0171 344 4444 (24 trino blog fee) Groupe 0171 419 3321 TOMMY PAIL KEATING KING WE'DE as Torony as Mrs Walter "AN ENTERTAIN JUGGERNAUT THAT LIFTS THE AUDIENCE RIGHT OUT OF ITS SEATSPINY Times
Mon-Set Born, Wed & Set Spin
THS WEEK SOLD OUT, QUELE

bing feet 0171 497 9977 (bing lee) Groups 0171 312 1994 (no bing lees

BUDDY The Buddy Holly Story "BRELLANT" Sun

WONDERFUL STUFF SON TH BUDDY. Tues-Thurs 8.0 Fri 5.30 & 8.20 Sets 500 & B.30, Suns 4.00 ALL SEATS 1/2 PRICE FRI 5:30 PERF 78 HEAVENLY YEAR

RIMDY

smart enough to beat Sparks

VALIDEVILLE 0171 836 9967 cc 34

444/420 0000 (no big los)
PETER GREENWELL

The best Noel Coward since
Hoel Coward Aim Jay Lemer A TALENT TO AMUSE The Words & Bluelc of Neet Coward From Tonor for Eweeks only PRESS NIGHT WEDS AT 7 on Set 800. Mate Wed & Set 3.00 ACTORIA PALACE BO & cc (m

Groups (171 312 1997 (no fee) (0171 930 6123 (bkg fee) 1986 OLIVIER AWARDS JOLSON BEST MUSICAL BRIAN CONLEY ves the performance of decade" Mail on Sunday

JOLSON ing his Sun. Tel JOLSEN alising à stallion su ann D. Mai Bygs Mon-Set 7.30, Marts Wed & Set NOW BOOKING TO FEB 1997

DAILY FOR RETURNS ST BARTIN'S 0171 838 1443 (no Exec 8. Tors: 245. Set 5 8.8 THE MOUSETRAP

STRAND THEATRE SON OF & CO. (no ite) 0171 930 8900 cc (blog lee) 0171 344 4444/420 8000 Groups 0171 413 3321/0171 930 6123

298,000 READERS OF THIS SECTION ATTEND THE THEATRE AT LEAST 2/3 TIMES A YEAR, 152,000 GO TO THE THEATRE ONCE EVERY 2/3 MONTHS.

To advertise in The Times theatre listings please call our entertainments team on 0171 481 1982 or fax 0171 481 9313.

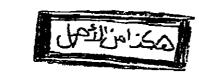

Control of the Parish galatina a second

All major credit cards accepted

g Majo: comic creation-

Property of the second "A thumph

A DEFICHA Br. Mr. A Last Control of the Control of the ROCK

Bruce Springsteen goes solo for his long-awaited British tour, starting in Manchester GIG: Wednesday REVIEW: Friday

Colin Davis tackles Bruckner's majestic Seventh Symphony with the LSO at the Barbican CONCERT: Thursday REVIEW: Saturday

FILM

Murder and corruption run amok in the end-of-the-millennium virtual reality thriller, Strange Days OPENS: Friday REVIEW: Thursday

BOOKS

Dissecting a poet: the life and work of T.S. Eliot is examined in a trio of new books IN THE SHOPS: Now REVIEW: Thursday

TUESDAY TO FRIDAY IN SECTION 2

The symbiosis of film and fashion is celebrated at the NFT this week. Joe Joseph gets dressed up

Still a giant step behind

THE stage gets very crowded during a James Carter performance. In the space of an hour be wheels on a score of bigname saxophonists of the past 50 years. Don Byas, John Coltrane, Illinois Jacquet, Gene Ammons, Eric Dolphy. David Murray - they. and many others besides, line up for their guest spots in the young virtuoso's stream

Few young saxophonists are as fluent in the vocabulary of jazz hist-ory. On his new album The Real Quietstorm he goes a step or two fur-ther, adding bass clarinet, baritone saxophone and bass flute to his armoury. Byas's 1944 Stomp stands alongside Bill Doggett's Eventide and an obscure sliver of Ellingtonia on The Stevedore's Lament. In the current period of consolidation, when the Marsalis generation are more interested in being curators rather than creators, Carter runs his own tenstorey museum.

> James Carter Rhythmic

Cran

And a stimulating place it is too; there are no cobwebbed corners here. This is old music played with a young man's lungs. What was disappointing about his Rhythmic set was that he he himself servation makes on the sleeve of his album: "With far fewer notes and a slower pace, you have to pull back and think even as you forge ahead." The long undifferentiated stretches of hard blowing, sustained notes and clever quotations soon grew self-defeating.

Carter gives the impression of a man who is starting to believe all the record-company hype. There was a sullen, narcissistic edge to this display. He will have to learn to accept, for instance, that members of the audience are free to talk quietly between numbers. The great players of the past had to put up with much greater indignities. When he finaily played a tenor ballad. Carier deployed a gorgeous tone at both ends of the register, yet he could not resist indulging in sardonic bleats and even broke off all together as if to suggest that he could think of better places to be. He is a very good player, but not yet the giant he thinks he is. To paraphrase an old quotation. Ben Webster drunk is better than James Carter

CLIVE DAVIS

Tailor-made for Hollywood

ing couple? Elsa Schiaparelli thought so. What Hollywood designs today," she purred, "you will be wearing tomorrow, although, of course, nobody had even an inkling of Barbarella back then. And what influence there is has not all been one way: while Saint Laurent, Chanel and Armani have all cut clothes for the movies, and while Joan Crawford's and Clark Gable's shoulder pads were copied in every high street, the truth is that Hollywood mirrors as many fashions as it inspires.

But either way, it has been a fruitful marriage. You need only look at all the film plots that have been placked from the fashion world: Stanley Donen's Funny Face and Hitchcock's Rear Window both feature fashion models (Audrey Hepburn and Grace Kelly); Antonioni's Blow Up focuses on a fashion photogra-pher, in The Bitter Tears of Petra von Kant, Petra is a possessive fashion designer; Robert Altman's recent Pret-d-Porter is one long squint at the

As for Jerry Schatzberg's Puzzle of a Downfall Child, it not only traces the life of a top fashion model (Faye Duna way), but the film marked Schatzberg's directorial debut after his successful first career as a fashion photographer.

So, a fruitful marriage, then. But fruitful enough to merit a season of fashion-related movies in London? The National Film Theatre thinks so.

The clothes people are wearing, and how they look, is a central feature of many films," says Peter Wollen, who is curating the NFT pro-gramme, called Unzipped! Film and Fashion. "Fashion contributes to the look of the film: But it also affects your judgment about them is altered by the clothes they wear. Hitchcock, who acted almost as a personal dresser to his characters, had very strong opinions about what his stars should wear."

Wollen, Professor of Film at UCLA and also a film-maker, says that ever since the 1910s. when fashion shows were filmed as shorts for supporting programmes by Pathé and others, or inserted into gloomy newsreels to liven up the footage, haute couture and

AFTER two hugely successful albums of very personal and very captivating songs, Tori

Amos has, she says, made a bid for artistic freedom. The result is her new record, Boys for Pele, which boasts lyrics that rattle chaotically across gets the better of the melodies.

named "Dew Drop Inn" tour) takes the same gamble; she is

Her new tour (the quaintly

Pretty as a fashion plate: Jerry Schatzberg's 1970 film Puzzle of a Downfall Child traced the life of a top model, played by Faye Dunaway

Hollywood have picked each other's pockets.

Clothes designers have always been aware of the commercial rewards of working in Hollywood. Givenchy made Hepburn's costumes in Furny Face, Mary Quant designed Charlotte Rampling's "Swinging - London wardrobe in Georgy Girl, Vidal Sassoon cut Mia Farrow's hair for Rosemary's Baby, and Yves Saint Laurent dressed Catherine Deneuve in Luis Bunuel's Belle de Jour. Coco Chanel worked on Alain Resnais Last Year in Marienbad and Re-noir's La Règle du Jeu. Nino Cerruti had a hand in Faye Dunaway's outfits for Bonnie and Clyde. Ralph Lauren launched the "Annie Hall look" when he kitted out Diane Keaton. In Paul Schrader's American Gigolo, an entire scene is devoted to panning across several shelves of Richard Gere's Armani wardrobe. Cerruti has draped his fabrics over everyone, from Robert Redford in Indecent Proposal to the stars of Fatal Attraction, Pretty Woman, The Silence of the Lambs and Basic Instinct. Peter Greenaway's The Cook, The Thief, Jean Paul Gaultier's calling card into the movies.

All of them benefited from exposure on the screen. Armani is almost a uniform among wealthy Hollywood folk. James Acheson's awardwinning costumes for Dangerous Liaisons even spawned a range of "Dangerous Liaisons

But designers also acknowledge Hollywood's influence on them. Gaultier says: "Ben Hur, Gone with the Wind, The Wild One have all had an impact on my collections, and the cinema has continued to affect style as late as Bonnie and Clyde and Once Upon a Time in the West." Giorgio Armani, who also designed the clothes for Brian de Palma's film The Untouchables, says he has loved the films of the 1930s and 1940s since his the local cinema provided the length and breadth of the locals' entertainment, and cinema remains his "second love outside fashion* Maybe it was just coinci-dence, but Wollen points out that many of the men who created the Hollywood dream factory came from the world of women's clothing, though it was known as the garment industry rather than couture and it stood several rungs below the empires of Schiaparelli and Chanel. Adolph Zukor was a furrier who made the cash he needed to invest in the film business by making a speculative killing in red-fox pelts. Sam Goldwyn was a glove salesman. Louis B. Mayer was a used-clothes dealer. The Warner brothers' father, Benjamin, was a cobbler who made his sons' father owned a tailor's shop.

"I do think this had an influence in the 1920s, when there was a taste for flamboyant costumes," says Wollen. "Studio heads loved to see these sumptuous, over-the-top costumes. Particularly in the age of silent films, the costumes said a lot."

The 14 films being shown in the NFT's season include Unzipped!, the semi-fictional, flyon-the-wall-style account of an Isaac Mizrahi show, and David Byrne's stunningly-costurned True Stories, which blurs the distinction between fiction and documentary. Anything missing?

"I couldn't find any film with Issey Miyake costumes, and to me he's the great designer of our times. That's my big regret. He's done theatre, but not films. You'd using Armani in American Gigolo, might have used Miyake in his Mishima film. but he used Eiko Ishioka instead. There are no John Galliano movie designs, or Comme des Garcons, either." But even film fans can be influenced only so far. You do not find many cinema devotees working overtime to save for a Woody Allen

● Film And Fashion at the NFT runs from Friday to March 20. Tickets: 0171-928 3232

OPERA:

A shot from the lip

THE Greek mezzo Markella Hatziano has at last appeared as Verdi's Amneris, the role intended for her Covent Garden debut. Cancellations and defections forced the Royal Opera to shuffle the pack of available singers at the start of the year and Hatziano began by being drafted into Samson et Dalila, where she per-formed with considerable Playing Dalila and Amneris back to back is inadvisable. especially for those who sing at full throttle as she does. But Samson is now over and Hatziano takes up position in

She adds ballast to the cast Rodney Milnes described early this month. She has a formidable chest register and is not afraid to exploit it to the full, arms akimbo like an energetic copper on pointduty. It recalls the extrovert singing of Cossotto and Gorr; nothing wrong with that. Amneris and Aida (Andrea Gruber, a soprano not short of a few decibels) go at one another in Act II, squabbling over the body of Radames like a couple of grandes dames. And grandes is the word.

Aida . Covent Garden

She also let rip in the Trial Scene, giving a bit too much to begin with, so there were signs of flagging at the close. But she covered this up well. An Eboli from Hatziano in Don Carlos could be exciting.

Broad gestures are the order of the evening. Sidwell Hartman's Radames is forceful and not very lyrical, Greg-ory Yurisich's Amonasto full of fury. Norman Bailey's King cially against Robert Lloyd's suave Ramfis. No doubts about who runs Memphis. The conductor, Jan Latham Koenig, had his moments. especially in the big ensembles. But some of the individual playing was scrawny after the glories Mackerras achieved in Semele on Monday. There is plenty of raw energy in this Aida, but those in search of subtlety should hold on for another day.

JOHN HIGGINS

the language, chased by a voice in the grip of a wild array of emotions. It can make for an inspiring ride, but it also risks collapsing into selfindulgence as the melodrama

Tori Amos Regent, Ipswich

a brave performer. Apart from the occasional appearance of bling notes are interrupted by guitarist Steve Caton, who thumping chords, and are accompanied by singing that rushes from breathy hesitancy adds some gentle sound effects, Amos spends nearly two hours alone on stage, flanked only by her piano and to full-throated assurance. The music seems to follow the harpsichord.
She begins with Beauty cracked logic of private thoughts.

Queen and Horses from her Songs from her earlier latest album. The rolling, tum-records — Crucify or Comflake Girl - retain a surer structure, but they, too, are given an extra passion as she straddles the piano stool. one leg stretched back as if awaiting the starter's gun.

This passion is, however strangely enigmatic. While your ears are regaled with the brittle beauty of her playing, they are also assailed with some very weird lines: "I'm just coming out of the cell in my brain" (Little Amsterdam) or "She thinks she's Kaiser Wilhelm or a civilised sylla-bub" (Mr Zebra). She, too, retains an air of mystery. She says little between songs, and her face remains in partial shadow. She is lit from above or from the side, while overhead swirling patterns or strange images are projected onto a triangular screen. We are left to sit and wonder at her feelings as she sends her voice through the spiralling flights that provoke those inevitable comparisons with Kate Bush, Joni Mitchell

It is all the more extraordinary, then, when she breaks out of her solipsistic cocoon for Me and a Gun, the true story of a rape. She turns to face the audience, and sings unaccompanied a gentle folk tune. Her understated anger is so direct that it is we who want to look away and hide in the shadows. It is as chilling as it is brilliant.

CAR INSURANCE

PAY BY INTEREST FREE INSTALMENTS

Full marks for zero effort

IN THE fourth of the 14 programmes in his continuing Bruckner/Mozart series with the London Symphony Orchestra, to which an extra repeated programme has now been added on March I, Sir Colin Davis stepped aside from the mainstream of Bruckner's symphonies to focus our attentions on his "Zero Symphony" or Symphony No. 0, of which the composer wrote on the score, "only an attempt. Totally invalid". Since it came back into circulation (and recording). however, it has been shown not to deserve such a putdown. Certainly on this occasion, Sir Colin made a persuasive case for our enjoyment of it on its own terms, which are those of an emerging musical personality already beginning to establish itself. Maybe there is evidence of Bruckner treating his ideas like musical building blocks, not lacking in character so much as in construction.

One Brucknerian has likened it to "overweight Rossini", but to my mind there is more in common with Schubert and Mendelssohn, the JOHN STREET | latter in particular in relation

Discount for under 10,000 |]

FREE Uninsured Loss Recovery

0800 00 4121

miles per year

FREE 90 day Green Cord

CONCERT

LSO/Davis Barbican

to a jolly scherzo movement, a beguilingly languid trio sec-Although the preceding Andante suggested the composer was uncertain of his way, the affecting writing for wood-wind was a delight in this performance, as were the strenuous orchestral efforts to make the most of big unison effects, contrasted with dancing triplets in the finale. The conductor took a generally broad view of a work which acknowledges its antecedents without either treading or trading on them too heavily. It may have been only an "attempt", but it is one that is worth our acquaintance in relation to more familiar Bruckner. In contrast, familiarity with Mozart's A major Violin Concerto (K219) on the part of the soloist here. Anne-Sophie Mutter, bred certainly not contempt but too much of a kind of easygoing contentment, without trace of fizz, even in the "Turkish" episode. For all its elegance, a good deal more zip was needed from both soloist and orchestra, such as one heard in the opening overture to Mozart's La clemenza di Tito, endowed with a spirit and character that made one regret Sir Colin was not conducting more of the opera, preferably all of it.

NOEL GOODWIN

Building a Library returns

a person's mobility, co-ordination, sight, and, above all their independence. The MS Society exists to provide practical and emotional support and fund vital research for people living with this devastating disease. For example, we make grants to pay for adaptations in the home which give people living with MS more freedom to look after themselves.

Your regular gift of just £3 a month would help to make sure we're always there.

Become a Friend of The MS Society

Your regular monthly gift will give us the income we urgently need to carry on supporting people with MS and their families.

Please send me information on how to join: 🔲 ise return your completed form to:

FREEPOST (BS4335), BRISTOL BSI 3YX

Cr cetephone 0800 100 133

Lycenton Theatre: 28, 29 Feb, 1, 6, 7, 8 Mar at 7,30pm,

2 & 9 Mar at 2.15pm & 7.30pm (Final Performance).

Anjana Ahuja reports on the attempt to copy a chemical that could cure cancer

t is the stuff of scientific rare compound, find out it is a possible cure for cancer, and manufacture tons of it in the laboratory. Researchers at University College London are trying to turn that fantasy into reality with the help of barnacles. The UCL team of chemists, led by Dr Karl Hale, is attempting to replicate, or synthesise. bryostatin I (BI for short), a compound found on the hulls of ships which sail in the BI, which is made naturally by barnacles which live only on these ships, has been found to kill many types of cancer cells and to stimulate the immune system. It is already on limited trial at the Chur-

> 'You sit down with a coffee and picture a molecule' chill Hospital, Oxford, and Hope Hospital, Manchester. Rather than make BI, wouldn't it be simpler just to collect it from lots of barnacles? "Doctors can run fullscale medical trials only when they have enough of the stuff, and the natural yield is too low." says Dr Hale. "You would need to process a ton of barnacies to get half a gram. The other drawback is that isolating BI is a very arduous procedure, and it would take a year to get that half a gram."

Bl was first isolated in the mid-1980s by the eminent isolation chemist George Pettit and co-workers at Arizona State University. Separate, later studies found that Bl doubled the lifespan of mice with ovarian cancer. It was a big breakthrough. "Ovarian can-cer is a tough nut to crack, as it is very resistant to chemotherapy. Also, only a low dose was needed to combat the disease," says Dr Hale.

Scientists found two pos-sible mechanisms responsible for the potency of Bl. It either interferes with communications between cancerous cells, or it triggers into action dormant T-cells, which defend the body against attack.

Research groups across the world were also triggered into action — to see if they could make up the shortfall in nature. The structure of BI was quickly unravelled by scientists, and the individual building blocks of the molecule identified. That signalled the start of the race to synthesise B1.

In the case of Dr Hale, who got going in 1991, all his projects start with a cup of coffee and a good think. "You sit down with a picture of the molecule in your head and

The making of a molecule: chemist Neka Jogiya with a model used in the manufacture of a synthesised compound used to treat cancer. In nature, it is found in barnacles

Miracle in a mollusc think about what chemical bonds you can break," he says. After a while you end up with a simpler molecule. Then you just keep working backwards so that the molecule becomes even simpler.'

The aim of this approach. called retrosynthetic analysis. is to arrive at a starter molecule which is cheap and readily available. The next step is to graft onto this starter molecule, through test-tube reactions, other chemical groups. Through this painstaking eventually rebuild the target substance.

There are obstacles. Some times additional bonds some with undesirable sideeffects - are formed. Such setbacks require new plans of action — perhaps a different way of constructing the target substance. "Most chemists will use different routes to build a particular chemical, depending on their expertise," Dr Hale says.

nother problem is that some comshow pounds chirality, which means they exist in two forms which are mirror images of each other. Just as a jigsaw piece will not necessarily fit down, the two forms of a chiral compound, of which Bl is an example, will not necessarily react identically. However, the desired version can be made by using a substance called a chiral reagent. In the case of

BI, making the wrong mirror image would have unknown effects, since this other form has never been found in students overcame these obstacles and reached the halfway stage this year, hot on the heels of rival chemists at Harvard and the Massachusens Institute of Technology. Despite such promising progress, Dr Hale may have to throw in the towel. Two weeks ago he had an application for a grant from the Engineering and Physical Sciences Research Council (EPSRC) -- to pay for an experienced chemist - turned down. He had - turned down. He had applied to the EPSRC because funds from a variety of sources, including the Royal Society and several pharmaceutical companies, were drying up. Dr Hale says he feels the ground has been snatched away from under him.

Dr Hale and two PhD

"I am very surprised, because our results are so good," he says. "I have presumably been turned down because the project was not thought important enough. But how much more important can you get than a trying to make a substance which puts cancer into remission?"

Fortunately, Dr Hale is not working exclusively on Bl. He has engaged several researchers to work on the mysterious-ly named A83586C (AC, for short). This potent antibiotic. of "unprecedented structure", was discovered by accident in the soil on the Pacific island of Guam, and research into its chemical make-up has attracted a more generous grant of £200,000 from the EPSRC.

Dr Hale recalls: "Animal health scientists were looking for animal growth promoters, and AC was examined as part of their natural screening pro-Test-tube reactions showed that AC could kill off almost all bacterial infections and cancers - but tests on mice proved disastrous. "The compound killed the mice before it had even had a chance to work on their ailments," he says. Several international research groups eagerly awaiting these results abandoned plans to synthesise the substance. However, undeterred by such devastating toxicity, approach. He decided to examine the molecular design of AC, find out where the toxic bits lie, and take them out. The result would be a non-toxic analogue — a molecular

Dr Hale took a more studied relative of AC boasting its bacteria and cancer-killing potential but without the deadly side-effects. Such a substance would see off the growing army of bacteria resistant to modern antibiotics.

Outbreaks of such bacteria are rare, but they strike with such virulence that developing new and stronger drugs to wipe them out has become an important research area.

This is why Dr Hale believes research into synthesis is so important. Each faltering step is also an advance in have to develop a completely, new synthetic method for per forming a chemical step, and that extends our library of

Dr Hale is three quarters of the way through synthesising AC. "We have about six steps left to go but you never really going to take," he says.

He envisages finishing next year and then starting the ardious search for a non-toxic analogue. Meanwhile, work on BI is suspended, and with it the hopes of patients and doctors excited by the prospect of a cancer cure. Or Hale intends to pester other grantgiving bodies but is dismayed at losing the edge on his competitors. Even if I do

> What is more important than holding back cancer?

~

eventually get some money. I think the delay will have cost us our chance of getting there

The outcome might be more positive for other groups involved in synthesis research. This is especially true of research conducted for drugs companies, for whom the abil-ity to build substances from scratch is a dream come true. The importance of chemical synthesis was highlighted last year, when the pharmaceuticals giant Zeneca bestowed £1.15 million — its largest single gift to chemistry research — on the chemistry department of Cambridge University.

The grant is being used to explore an exciting branch of research known as combinatorial chemistry, in which a number of basic chemical building blocks are mixed and matched, or combined, in different ways. There are methods for doing this at present, but they are so slow that only 20 compounds can be manufactured and screened

The Cambridge group hopes to develop a technique of making and sifting through a million compounds a week. Achieving this rate will in-volve miniaturising the process, so they can churn out lots of tiny samples, and developing an automated screening technique, so that the samples are barely in existence before 🤸 being dumped onto a conveyor belt and put through exhaus-

If a compound is found to be "active", then the researchers can isolate and refine, or even rebuild it. Such research, the company hopes, will lead to the discovery of a new genera-

A surprising pattern to disease \square How to increase your fleece \square The death throes of a binary star

AT A medical centre in Baltimore. Maryland. patients complaining about digestive problems are in for a surprise. Dr Marvin Shuster. a specialist in digestive diseases at the Bayview Medical Centre, part of Johns Hopkins University, asks if he can take their fingerprints.

Dr Shuster has found that people who suffer from a disorder called chronic intestinal pseudo-obstruction, or CIP, are much more likely than others to have a rare fingerprint pattern known as

Mercedes

OWNERS

Fingerprint clue to health

a digital arch. In a seven-year study recently published in the American Journal of Gastroenterology, he reports that 54 per cent of the patients he and a colleague had studied had this particular pattern.

"About 93 per cent of people have fingerprints formed by loops or whorls," he says. "Both begin and end on the same side of the finger. Fin-

INSURANCE FROM

generally Roman arches, starting on one side and ending on the Why the fingerprint should be linked to a disease that causes abdominal pain, vom-iting, nausea, and debilitating weight loss may at first seem inexplicable. Dr Shuster suggests that the cause must be genetic, since he has found that the more digital arches there are, the stronger the COMPREHENSIVE correlation. But there is, perhaps, an alternative explanation, deriving from work by Professor David Barker at Southampton University and now under investigation by a team at Liverpool University. From old birth records, Professor leagues have shown that many diseases. including heart disease and diabetes, are linked to weight at birth and hence to conditions in the womb. It is in the first 20 weeks of foetal life that finger-prints are laid down, the same period in which the major organs are formed. The hypothesis is that dietary deficiencies in the mother at this time may affect the development of the organs, leaving the baby poorly prepared for more wool rather than a

They report in the current issue of Biotechnology that the strategy worked. At 14 months of age, clean fleece weight in the transgenic sheep was in-the first reported improvement in a production trait by genetic engineering of a farm unimal without adverse effects on health or reproduction,"

To our knowledge this is creased by 6.2 per cent.

the pattern could be reflected in the fingerorints. The Southampton team found that whorls — which look like concen-SCIENCE BRIEFING Nigel tric circles appear to commoner in people with high blood pressure. and may be a marker for poor nutritional status in the womb. To check if this is true, Clarissa and Professor Peter Pharaoh, at Liverpool, have been studying a group of 400 low-birthweight children born on Merseyside in 198081, taking palm and finger-prints from each and comparing them to controls of normal birthweight.

Hawkes

The study, three-quarters complete is designed to show whether there is a link between fingerprints, high blood pressure, and lung function. It is already known, Professor Barker says, that some conditions that originate in the womb, including cerebral palsy and Down's syndrome, are linked with specific fingerprint patterns. Success in linking finger prints to other diseases could help in diagnosis. In the case of CIP, the fingerprint discovery could do away with any need for exploratory surgery to diagnose the condition. And if a link to high blood pressure can definitely be established, early diagnosis could be used to give advice about diet or other ways of avoiding health problems.

involved in controlling the Woolly genes growth of animals. in sheep grown for wool, the flock together point is to breed not giants. but ordinary sheep with better bulkier sheep.

FARM animals are the outcome of 10,000 years of selective breeding. Now the process has taken a new step. with the production in New Zealand of transgenic sheep that produce more wool without any detrimental effects on the animals' health. The result was achieved by linking two genes together. one from a sheep and one from a mouse. The team from Lincoln University in Canterbury, led by Dr David Bullock, used the sheep gene that codes for a substance called insulin-like growth factor. Many experiments have shown that this factor is Mystery object

AMERICAN astronomers have identified a very peculiar object at the centre of our galaxy, the Milkv Way.

Found at the end of last year by the satellite-borne Compton Gamma Ray Observatory. the object emits X-rays and gamma rays in regular pulses and in erratic bursts - up to 18 an hour. Known as GRO J1744-28 from its catalogue number, the object was quickly nicknamed a "bursting pulsar".

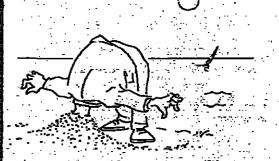

Its behaviour, says Professor Don Lamb of the University of Chicago, is unlike anything ever seen before. In a paper submitted to Astrophys-ical Journal Letters, he and colleagues Dr Coleman Miller from Chicago and Dr Ronald Taam from Northwestern University say they believe that the signals are the death throes of a low-mass X-ray binary star.

This consists of a very dense neutron star with a second ordinary star in orbit around it. The two circle each other once every 12 days. The second star is dying, puffing up and shedding its outer hydrogen shell which is then drawn towards the neutron star, crashing to the surface and igniting thermonuclear explosions that account for the strange and unpredictable bursts of energy.

"We know a lot about what happens when a star dies alone," says Professor Lamb. "But we don't know what happens when it is in a binary system."

WHAT KIND OF TEACHER ARE YOU WITHOUT THE TES?

DON'T MISS THIS FRIDAY'S RESOURCES SPECIAL - A 28-PAGE PREVIEW OF THE EDUCATION SHOW

BUY YOUR OWN COPY AT NEWSAGENTS FRIDAY

Good for canines.

Quality Rewarded by Low Insurance

Exclusive Schemes for Mercedes Tel: 0121 449 4511 NOW!

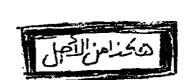

or Phone your Nearest Branch at the Local Rate on 0345 123111

|| Hill House Hammond

Over 250 Branches Nationwide

Learning to live without Christopher

The comedian Julian Clary talks to Mary Riddell about the death of his lover from Aids - and why his stage persona has become a drag n the end, the whole lot was junked. The frills, the feathers, the tourniquet-tight bodysuits and the sequins he once wore in quantities sufficient to make Come Dancing look minimalist. Julian Clary does not use the word parody, but it is clear that, even by his own elastic standards, things had gone too far.

All those costume changes. I mean, I could see my life stretching ahead of me — an endless round of looking at fabric swatches. Besides, I'm 40 in four years, and to my mind there's something sad and tragic about an ageing homosexual squeezing into Lycra and putting on make-up."

And so, in a style transplant akin the Queen adopting ra-ra skirts, Clary will appear before the audiences for his forthcoming tour, wearing suits. "Day clothes ... you know, velvet stuff. But glamorous. I suppose the word sophisticated springs to mind."

There is a hopeful note to his voice, for it is obvious that the outrageous trappings on which he built his career have finally become wear isome. We are sitting in a wine bar, where Clary is puffing through a pack of Benson and Hedges and sipping the bottle of white wine bequeathed (although not, as it transpired, paid for) by a previous interrogator from something called Thud magazine.

He is surprised that I wanted to talk to him. Why? "Oh, you know, I'm just some camp comic light entertainment shirtlifter," he says, slightly bitterly, and, in terms of high camp, his act indeed attains the altitude of a Mont Blanc

His entire repertoire, from the TV shows to the particularly unpleasant live television insult to Norman Lamont - for which London Weekend Television had to issue a public apology — has been dedicated to establishing that im-

The odd thing is that Clary, although always a more complex copposard. Grey suits. Business man than his material suggested, suits. The uniform of a man who man than his material suggested, suits. The uniform of a man who has grown so tired of it. So boxed, it programmed computers for Marks seems, that the new show is an autobiographical ramble round his te, his parents (a probation officer and a policeman), his lovers and his retired stage companion, Fanny

The Wonderdog.

If age has redefined what he wants to do, then so have the areas of his life not served up for public. consumption. Four years have passed since Christopher, his lover, died of an Aids-related illness, and although Clary has sketched in a brief account of therapy and sorrow for the benefit of interviewers — he has never elaborated on his loss.

He considered incorporating some mention of Christopher into his act, but he could not in the end bear to. "I couldn't find a way to do that, although there are some things about death that are very

After Christopher died, I did as he had asked and took his ashes to Portugal to scatter them on the beach where we used to go together. I took him in a little metal urn which showed up on the X-ray machines. I had Portuguese airport

'I find I am a bit calmer and more confident now. That's why I don't need all that armour to get on to the stage' officials asking me what was in the box, and I had to say: My boylriend. There is the small, rather thin, smile of someone accustomed to combining the amusing and the hearthreaking and pretending not to notice when the mixture curdles. He did it for months - watching by day as the man whom he loved grew weaker and more helpless and, by night, feeding to audiences the familiar shock-tactic patter of jokes about gay sex.

And even now, four years on, he goes home to his north London flat and hangs his new velvet suits next to the tidy row in the bedroom & Spencer — a man inconspicuous in life and notable in death only because of his association with Julian Clary.

"Christopher was very private, then and now, which is why I have never talked about him before. But, yes, I kept his suits. Nice suits, but too small for me. I find it very difficult to throw away anything of his. What I find useful, too, is not to think that the relationship is over— to believe it's still going on and have some sort of dialogue with the person who's no longer around.

"I think of things that would be funny to Christopher. He laughed at very physical things, like people falling over in the street — a rather cruel sense of humour. Things like that make me think of him.

"I don't know if I felt a despair at watching him die. The relationship changed into one of looking after him, and in a way it was a privilege. It wasn't hard to nurse him because he wasn't terribly miserable. He was trying all the time to lead a normal life and not to let the illness get in

"He was 28 when he died, and I was 31, and it was so young for him to deal with his demise and for me to cope with bereavement. At that age you're too busy being a young person to think of death, even though so many gay men go through the same thing. I suppose afterwards you feel rage - that's the second stage. The final one is acceptance. People say the four-year mark is significant - that that's when you can come out of the

And now there is a new boyfriend - a topic which drives Clary into an agony of tactful hedging. "I'm on very tricky ground, because he's going to read this. So I can't say that it's not at all like Christopher. or that I love him twice as much."

formula about it being too soon to create a relationship which is more than superficial "Yes, I'll go along with that," he says, relieved. "I wanted to give you an answer which is true but not too embarrassing for us all to read."

Quite the most surprising thing about him is his honesty. Interviewers — once they have recovered from the fact that he is tall, attractive and less caked in makeup than Barbara Cartland - have complained that he is also prickly. monosyllabic and prone to inven-

But he is actually scrupulously honest. "It's a bit of a curse really. I wish I had lots of showbizzy answers, so that this would be less of an ordeal. But I think it's important to say something honest, even if it's not particularly clever. "And I am also a hit calmer and

The new Julian Clary: a domestic life devoted to doing the laundry, reading and feeding the cat -- but he still has the ability to shock more confident now. That's why I don't need all that armour to get on stage.

Away from the spotlight he leads a life quiet to the point of torpor, in which he does the laundry (a particular hobby), makes elaborate collages, reads crime books, feeds the cat and occasionally - although he tries to curb it - takes to his bed in a fit of depression.

"I like monogamy. There's a lot to be said for it in terms of a peaceful life. I spend lots of time calming myself down and being nice and domestic and quiet. It would cause me stress to be in a polygamous relationship. Most gay relationships have that understanding, because sex is such a big deal for gay men. You suffer for vour sexuality."

and needs of gay men, and he is a persuasive ambassador, but however toned-down his new act may be, and however influenced it may be by his own tragedy - he naturally still mandated to

His concern is with the rights

Before I left, he stuck out both arms and gave me a quick inven-tory of his jewellery. This is a ring you are supposed to wear round your genitals. Here, do hold it. I promise you I've only ever worn it as a bracelet. And on this arm, there is the watch that my grandfather left to me when he died ... On one hand, the vaguely salacious. On the other, the sentimental. A reasonable illustration of the contradictory nature of Julian

Susannah Constantine: mistress of the flying tresses

Brushing up on the art of hair flicking t school, we used to count them. They sat The Princess of Wales started the fashion for head tossing - and now in a row at one end of half the young women in the land are at it. Giles Coren has had enough the German class horseshoe: was still the apple of all our five girls, four professional hair flickers - the fifth had a eyes, and hair auto-manipustiff red perm that just wouldn't budge — and, while lation was not yet a political thumbing through their Goe-the, they would flick up to ten For the flicktease has become the equivalent of a Masonic handshake in high were golden examples to well-tressed wannabes like Amanda de Cadenet and Danni Behr, who flicked their way to the top of the social whirl Millionaire socialite Tamara Beckwith's flick made her an actress, and Koo Stark's wheedled her into Prince Andrew's affec-

Christina Odone, who flicks

Catholic

Literary flickers include

Herald Editor

times a minute. We gave names to each different style of dislodgement. There was the "is it still there?" flick, in which a hand oscillated backwards through the hair as if to check that none of it had fallen out. There was the "double flip", which turned the drape from one side to the other and then back again; and the incredible "double flip with half-pike", which involved piling the hair on the head in the middle of the second pass and then letting it fall with a slight inclination of the neck. That, of course, was back when the Princess of Wales glory to her." Then there is Spectator columnia ctator columnist Petronella Wyatt, and novelist Rachel Cusk who, despite a distinctly 19th-century writing style, enjoys a follicular society. Jemima Goldsmith. freedom that was denied to Tara Palmer-Tomkinson, Jane Austen by her bonnet, and Susannah Constantine and to George Eliot by her Luvvy flickers include Liz Hurley (who learnt it from Hugh), and Emma Thompson, who has brought a new meaning to the phrase "going to see a flick".

Doets have long been fascinated with the sexual lure of the flick. Pope saw its power in The Rape of the Lock. Fair tresses man's imperial race out of exegetical respect for I insuare, And beauty draws us Corinthians ii, 14: "If a with a single hair." But it was woman have long hair, it is a Keats who spotted the crucial ingredient in his ode To Autumn: "Thy hair soft-lifted by the winnowing wind."

If there is no winnowing wind, though, a girl must soft-lift it herself, as the shampoo industry well knows. Think of the Timotei girl flinging her head back out of a bucket of water so that it fans into something like the back of a sailfish.

T.S. Eliot, mysogynist and sociopath that he was, summed up the spiritual emptiness of the modern world in The Wasteland with "she smoothes her hair with automatic hand". But is not this ubiquitous 20th-century tick an atavistic substitute for the lady's fan?

in 18th-century drawing rooms Tamara and Jemima would have half-hidden, half-revealed their faces with the fluttering of a fan. It was a social crutch in 18th-century drawing rooms, a soothing fiddle and an instrument of sexual entrapment. Modern woman has had to resort to ment and revelation. The fact is, though, and this is not often stated boldly enough, that flicking your hair is a revolting habit, an act of social terrorism on a par with nose-picking and bottom-scratching.

the home-harvested prop of cuticle and keratin for the purpose of alternate conceal-

Lovely though it was to behold the school hair flickers at their ballet, my delight turned to disgust one sum mer morning when they did a synchronised quadruple reverse turn, with double pike, right in front of a south-

PHONE FREE TODAY ON

young hands swept their respective barnets into the air. I saw a cloud of dust and dandruff picked out by the morning shine.

This was followed by a "follicle shotput", which involves bowing the head so that hair hangs forward and then, after pulling all the strands into a perfect curtain, flinging them back so that the hair sprays at 360 degrees like a nail-bomb.

Except it was not nails that flew in the glare, but any number of flakes of skin. It is a cardinal rule, among the nicer people, not to brush one's hair in public. Nor would you adjust your bra at a social event, floss your teeth or, dig for toe jam. Alluring though modern Rapunzels may think it is, they should bear one easy guideline in mind. Don't flick your hair where you wouldn't flick a

It's 3 o'clock in the morning. You're miles from home. Aren't you glad you joined the RAC?

You never know when an accident, breakdown, theft or simple act of vandalism is going to leave you stranded, miles from anywhere.

Even if you can find someone who's willing to come to your aid, the chances are you're still going to have to pay up to £150 just for a tow. That's when you'll be glod you joined the RAC.

Fast, effective roadside assistance. We'll get to you fast, in under 40 minutes, on average. In over 80% of cases, we can fix breakdowns at the roadside. Or we'll tow you to a nearby garage, free.

A range of options to get you where you're going. From hossle-free vehicle recovery, to a hire car or overnight accommodation if you break down, our range of services lets you tailor your cover to meet your needs.

Cover whenever you're on the road. As a Member of the RAC, you're covered whatever car you're driving. So you can call for help whenever you need it. Even when you're simply a possenger in someone else's cor.

To join today, or lind out more, till in and post the coupon or call usfree on 8800 029 029.

Available with our Railex Service - ask for details.

how I can join

Matthew Parris

I wish love would take its many splendours somewhere else — I've got work to do s there too much sex on television? A friend and . I were watching Neighbours as an impossibly good-looking and suntanned young Australian, in shorts, and his nubile girlfriend (they looked about 17) headed for bed. A kiss had occurred. Sex was in prospect. Naturally they had a condom. Of course, you never actually see anything: the camera pans delicately away toward the bedroom curtains. You have to guess. But still my friend was vexed. "It's not the scene itself," she said, "you cannot object to two people kissing on TV. And it's not the implication that sex occurs between unmarried teenagers. We know that. 'No, what's so corrupting is not the fact of sex in soap opera, but the relentlessness of it. Sex. sex. sex. Again and again the storyline returns to sex. Kids are growing up to think sex is all that's worthwhile in life." An opinion frequently expressed. It may be a fair point. I offer no judgment. For it is something else in Neighbours, Heartbreak High and (at a much more sophisticated level) soaps like EastEnders and Brookside. which offends me. Love. The one more constant intrurelationship sion of love. Never mind the sex. in all it's the love I'm of its sick of: why are people on televiscomplexity, ion always falling and I'll in love, talking about love, fall-ing out of love, scream falling in love again? There is too much love on prime-time TV. Sex, after all, doesn't take long and you can always switch off. Few of the relationships in mainstream soap opera are of the casual. animal kind whose celebration in the modern media conservative moralists so deplore. This is not a fair charge against the plots of family soaps. Where sex comes in, it is usually of the sex within a loving relationship" kind. Where a moral is implied it is the triumph of true love. The complaint that soap-makers peddle raw sex, without human relationships in all their depth and complexity, is rarely sustainable.

They peddle almost nothing else. Show me one more human relationship in all its depth and complexity, and I'll scream. Relationships, relationships, relationships. From Jane Austen to Blind Date, it's all the same. And it's simply a lie. The primacy of human relationships is the great human evasion. The notion that our highest purpose on this planet is to love and be loved: that is the great corruption. We can know nothing about others beyond fantasising that they may be like us. That a man finds himself, or a woman herself, through a relationship with another — that life's happiest endings consist in some profound fusing of two souls - these are the pernicious untruths. These are what enfeeble. These are what trivialise the possibilities of mankind. These lead millions away from selfdiscovery towards the pur-suit of, at best, narcotic contentment; at worst, disappointment. Love. if we are unlucky enough to find it, leaves us grounded. Stuck fast in the shallows of human experience Coupling kills. Close relationships cripple. In the face of every saccharine assurance to the contrary, I assert — on the evidence of everyone I've known well. woman or man, who has fallen in love with someone every friendship I have lost to a "relationship", every companion I have lost to a are diminished by the transition. The best that can be hoped of romance is that it dwindle into affection. In romance we sink, we fade, we faiter, we lose selfconfidence and self-respect: we cease to cohere. Occa-

lover — that human beings sionally, one meets people who seem genuinely en-riched by a relationship; but there was almost always them beforehand: they were not viable as individuals. A half and a half may make one, but one and one makes about one and a quarter. Reading this, you will say: "What's eating him, poor lamb? have given him the push." But nobody has. I'm fine thanks. It's those Aussie idiots in shorts I pity, staggering around, moon-faced, on Neigh-bours, their brains empty and their legs perfect, fall-ing in love. Don't they have careers? Don't they have hopes, talents? Don't they have ambitions? Can they sing? Dance? Play the gui tar? Change a plug? Plaster a ceiling, run a mile? We are hardly told.

ave you noticed how TV drama is dominated by love, crime, vets and hospitals? Kissing, being ill, slavering over animals and taking a morbid interest in the wrongdoing of others: these, now God is dead, are the opiates of a liberal culture. Relationships, and worse — talking about kind of self-relief for a society which has stunted the more exciting and dangerous of human drives. People fall in love because they think they have noth-

Nothing to do! Leave love with its slippers by the fire; put on your boots. Lift your gaze from your lover's eyes and see the sky behind, and all the stars! There are mountains and forests and rivers, whole wide oceans to cross. There are furrows to plough, rocks to shift, streams to dam. There is work, so much work - that happiest of pursuits — to be done.

"How alike," someone once wrote, "are the groans of love to those of the

The Scott report's missing summary should have concluded that the Attorney-General was negligent

The report of the Scott inquiry Why Sir Nicholas is an admirably thorough, lucid and fair-minded document. The debate so far has been inadequate, confused and partisan, and today's debates in Parlia-ment are unlikely to be any better. Why is this? It is because Sir Richard should carry the can Scott decided not to issue a summary of his conclusions. The politicians on both sides have picked out the passages which told in their favour, as in the Matrix Churchill case? Find-,

9. Can the Attorney-General be held responsible for the errors of this prosecution? Finding: He can.

10. Did the Attorney-General mislead Michael Heseltine, the President of the Board of Trade, on the law on Finding: He did.

11. Did the ministers who signed Pff certificates do so recklessly or wrongfully? Finding: In the light of the Attorney-General's advice, they did not 12. Did the Government conspire to cover up its own conduct by using PIIs to send innocent men to prison? Findings: It did not.

Of these 12 findings, seven may be regarded as non-controversial, but five are controversial. It seems to be generally agreed that lethal arms were not exported to Iraq, but arms making equipment was, that the Government did know of these exports, that officials rather than ministers confused the supergun information, that the Matrix Churchill prosecution should not have been brought, but ministers were entitled to rely on the Attorney-General's interpretation of the law on PII certificates, and that the Government did not conspire to pervert justice. This leaves two groups of issues which are in dispute. The first is: Were the guidelines changed? Was Parliament told? Should William Waldegrave be held individually re-sponsible? The second group is: Did Sir Nicholas Lyell fail in the Attornev-General's duty to supervise the Matrix Churchill prosecution? Did he mislead the ministers about the state of the law as it then stood? These groups could be called the Waldegrave and the Lyell issues.

There is an important difference. Sir Nicholas Lyell, as Attorney General, had an independent role in advising the Government on law, and an independent responsibility for preventing miscarriages of justice. It has long been established that the Prime Minister of the day cannot tell the Attorney-General what to do in his legal capacity; he cannot order him to bring one prosecution or to

William

William Waldegrave was at the time Minister of State of the Foreign Office. The government policy on arms for Iraq, right or wrong, open or duplicitous, was not his personal policy. During the relevant period, there were two Prime Ministers, Secretaries of Trade and Secretaries of Defence. All of these were senior to him in Government, and the policy was undoubtedly a collective one. Sir Richard Scott's desire to hold individuals, even including civil servants, be admirable, but his concentration on Waldegrave is a defect in his report. He fires at the patrol boat, but thisses the fleet. Waldegrave's subordinate responsibility is not negligible. but is quite different from Lyell's independent constitutional function. The question whether the guidelines were changed will be one of the main issues of today's debate. My own judgment, like Scott's, is that they were, but I am more sympathetic to the counter-arguments than he is. There is no precision about guidelines; they are not statute law but indicators of a policy which changes with events, and events change greatly, there was the ceaselire, the Salman Rushdie case, and so on. A reasonable man could have taken the view William Waldegrave took at the time, with complete: integrity, and indeed Scott accepts Waldegrave's integrity, though he disputes his judgment.

I should also have given more weight than Sir Richard to the problem of Iran. If there was a change, how could Parliament be told without setting off a new storm in our difficult relations with the Iranian. regime? That was a real national interest difficulty in the way of disclosure. However, the responsibility was plainly that of the Government as a whole. It would, whatever view one takes, have been quite wrong for Waldegrave to resign and the Government to remain.

That is not the case with the Attorney-General since his particular responsibility for the administration of justice is personal to him. He probably did mislead Michael Hesel-fine on the law on PII certificates. Lord Justice Bingham, now Master of the Rolls, defends the Attorney-General's interpretation of his ruling. in the Macanipuola case. One must give weight to that But his Mac-anjuola ruling clearly states that there are exceptions to the principle that a minister must always sign a PII certificate for appropriate documents: This does not mean that in any case where a party holds a document in a class prima facie immune he is bound to insist on an assertion of immunity. The Attorney-General told the President of the Board of Trade that he had no alternative in law but to sign. Whateyer the Master of the Rolls now says, that was wrong in terms of his own

Yet had legal advice, honestly given, is not a resigning matter. What should be a resigning matter is Sir Nicholas Lyell's general maladministration of the prosecution, his failure to supervise it, his failure to see that the instructions to prosecuting counsel were properly drawn, his failure to pass on the President of the Board of Trade's reservations to the trial judge, as he had said he would do, his failure even to read Michael Heseltine's letter of September 11, 1992, for ___ three or perhaps even seven weeks.

A wrongful prosecution was launched although a senior minister repeatedly demurred, a key letter was not even read; a promise was not kept. The Attorney-General treated this obviously difficult and sensitive prosecution as a routine matter, and negligently at that. Michael Hesel tine's letter is discussed in paragraph G.13.70, on page 1357 of the report. No one could read that paragraph and still maintain that Sir Nicholas Lyell reached an acceptable standard of diligence in the pursuit of justice in . the Matrix Churchill prosecution. He should have resigned long ago.

New Labour's new face

Peter Riddell

they were bound to do. Two leading judges, Lord Donaldson and Lord

Nolan, have regretted the absence of a summary of Sir Richard's findings,

Any summary by a third party must be unsatisfactory and may be inaccurate, so I put one forward with great diffidence. Nevertheless the debate cannot be understood without some definition of the charges that emerged from the inquiry, and Sir Richard's findings on them. There which might be regarded as potential resigning matters. There may be others, but these 12 provide some

I. Were arms exported to Iraq during the period of the arms guidelines?

2. Were items of arms-making equipment exported? Finding: They were.

3. Did the Government know of these

4. Were these exports a change in the Howe guidelines of 1984? Finding:

5. Was this change in the guidelines reported to Parliament? Finding: It

6. Was there a failure to keep Parliament properly informed about the supergun case? Finding: There was.

but as a result of officials failing to

7. Was William Waldegrave particularly responsible for the failure to inform Parliament of the changes in

8. Was there a wrongful prosecution the guidelines? Finding: He was.

basis for analysing the report.

Finding: They were not.

exports? Finding: It did.

They were,

was not inform ministers.

emed to be 12 separate charges and they are right to do so.

asks if Peter

Mandelson's

prospectus will satisfy voters

more in defining what his "new" Labour Party is not than what it is. Most of his efforts have been about showing that Labour is no longer the party of high public spending and of the vested interests of the trade unions and minority groups. It is obviously vital for him to ensure that Labour does not lose in the same way as it did in 1987 and 1992. But his attempts to define a distinctive image for "new" Labour have so far been vaguer and

The "young country" has come and, fortunately, gone. It always sounded like a pop group or a Third World nation. "One Nation social-ism" remains, though it is elusive to most voters. The "stakeholder society" has become the slogan or big idea of 1996. Despite Labour's initial failure to make clear that this did not mean a big extension of union rights, the implication that everyone should have a stake in society has a popular appeal.

But Labour policymaking has often been about grudgingly accepting changes introduced by the Tories: council house sales, union ballots, privatisations, grant maintained schools and testing. Much of Labour policy has been described with only policy has been described, with only slight exaggeration, as the Tories minus two years. "New" Labour is supposed to mean more than that. Gordon Brown has made proposals to encourage the long-term and youth unemployed back into work, and he and David Blunkett have talked about lifetime learning accounts for individuals. And there is also the whole constitutional reform programme. But there is a vacuum, or at any rate caution, in too many areas.

The Blair Revolution by Peter Mandelson (the Labour MP and adviser to Mr Blair) and Roger Liddle a public policy analyst and former Liberal Democrat who rejoined Labour last summer) attempts to give coherence and substance to "new" Labour. Having discussed the book with the authors, I know that much of what has been said about it so far is nonsense. It is neither an "inside the Blair office" account, nor a proxy for the leader's secret plans. The misconceptions have arisen because of Mr Mandelson's closeness to Mr Blair and his reputation as a master manipulator. This has been an inhibiting factor. Although Mr Blair himself was keen for the book to be adventurous on policy, the authors felt constrained not to write anything that would embarrass their leader. and give ammunition to either the Labour Left or to Conservative Central Office. For example, they recognise many of the problems in Labour's far-reaching proposals for constitutional reform, but dodge the question of whether devolution will require a reduction in the number or powers of Scottish MPs. Similarly, while their pro-European views are clear, they are diplomatically cautious about a single currency.

Nonetheless, The Blair Revolution (published today by Faber at £7.99) is by far the fullest and most revealing discussion to date of where "new Labour differs from "old". Its explicit statements and its hints together make it essential reading for anyone wanting to understand what Mr Blair is trying to do. This amounts to a reconstruction of the Centre Left, turning Labour into what Mr Blair has described as "literally a new. party". One of the most interesting chapters is about this "new party". It recognises that Labour has failed in government in the past because of a breach with party activists. Blairism involves the creation of a mass party in which individual members, rather than unrepresentative groups of activists, have a say via ballors on major policy issues. Links between Labour and the unions would be transformed to emphasise the in-volvement of trade unionists as individual party members, rather than trade unions with their block votes. The authors also envisage closer co-operation with the Liberal Democrats. In a BBC interview yesterday, Mr Mandelson was tional representation, but the alternative yote. That will not be palatable to Labour traditionalists. All this does not amount to just an reach

1.

MINI.

ioles . . .

档:

1201x ----

: - - - - I

Bogh .

Te ko

MILT.

1 6

₩.

÷(1)....

Mary ...

STATE OF THE

adiate ...

SDP Mark II. The authors are fully aware of why the SDP failed. It was not merely because its electoral base was too narrow, but also because it failed to develop a coherent ideology (though Mandelson and Liddle underplay the similarities between David Owen's ideas and Mr Blair's).

New Labour attempts to blend a free thanker economy with social splidarity, and mutual obligations.

Mr Blair is trying to retain the support of Labour's core working-class suppoders, which the SDP never attracted, while abandoning Lab-ours old class-based approach, to become a broader centre-left party.

o as to ensure that a Blairite programme can be implemented, the book suggests strengthening the Policy Unit and the political advice within 10 Downing Street, and making the Cabinet Office more like a Department of the Prime Minister. Success will, however, depend on realistic policies. The authors see the government's primary role as ensuring macro-economic stability, resisting demands for big pay rises and a public spending bonanza, and acting as a partner with the private sector in job creation and with parents in improving schools.

But perhaps the real question is not "Can New Labour Deliver", as the book's subtitle asks, but would it make a difference? For all its caution on sensitive issues, the book points to where a Blair government might make a difference in dealing with the social costs and casualties of a more divided society. That will not satisfy those like Will Hutton, who argues in the new issue of Prospect that Mandelson and Liedle are reluctant to challenge the structure of market capitalism. But the book addresses the central issue for a Blair government of whether a competitive economy can be reconciled with social co-hesion. It makes a powerful case for Blairism. "Old" Labour does not have an answer. The Tories need to produce one, soon

House damned

FORGET Sir Richard Scott's multi-volume deliberation on arms sales to Iraq. An earlier Scott report was a concise, brutal condemnation of the Government, in far less equivocal language.

An intriguing letter has been uncovered from one Jonathan Scott to his brother Richard, the greatgreat-great-grandfather of Sir Richard Scott and a serving officer — later colonel — with the East India Company. It describes a visit to the Commons in 1786.

'My dearest Dick," Jonathan Scott begins, "I told you that I was at the House on Monday. It is a great Scene at first, but when you have heard those who speak, declare things as truth which must be contrary to their Conviction and see the greater part by far of the members like so many Machines waiting (on both sides the question) in Silence for the Signal from the hand which is to put them in motion, the importance of the assembly ceases and you are led either to laugh at the farce before you or lament the imposition of the some degree corrupt, but ours certainly more so than any under the sum

As Sir Richard laboured over his own report, a portrait of his namesake, recipient of the letter, gazed down on him from the wall of his Buckinghamshire home.

• Should Rentokil's hostile bid for the business services group BET be successful, children across the country will be sitting down to school dinners provided by pest control experts.

Mocking stock

THE Princess of Wales is to be examined by a television psychoanalyst. As part of Channel 4's Without Walls series, she is to be put on the couch by Dylan Evans who will talk to a lookalike of the Princess, but nevertheless promises new insights into the workings of her mind.

Psychoanalysing Diana, which is to be screened later this year, will events in her life and will be based on previously documented statements by the Princess. Evans says crude accusations such as that Diana is paranoid are totally misconceived, but he offers an analysis which he hopes "will be of help to the real Diana".

In a separate stunt, imperson-ators of the Prince and Princess have been booked for an evening at the Café Royal later this year. A recreation of their post-wedding party will descend into acrimonious trading of insults for the amusement of tourists.

• The singer Sinead O'Connor, always ready to save the world, is now trying to negotiate with the terrorists. In a letter to The Irish Times feature dramatised recreations of she exhorts the IRA to renounce violence."Hand in all weapons." she advises. "Let the British Government have their elections and let the British tabloids say what they like. It doesn't matter if they say you've surrendered, so what? Who cares what they say?" Or you, dear.

It's for you

GERALD KAUFMAN is spearheading a campaign to crack down on what he sees as the greatest blight on modern rail travel: mobile phonies.

The former Shadow Foreign Secretary, who spends much of his life shunting between London and his Manchester constituency, has put down a question to the Transport Secretary, Sir George Young, asking for separate carriages for mobile phone users.

"The other day one guy was on his phone without a break all the way from Manchester:to London," he says. I couldn't move away because they were all around me, a whole nest of them. We should have environment impact papers, prepared and perhaps put them in carriages with the smokers."

 Philip de Glanville, the Bath and England rugby union centre, did not have the most auspicious first day in his new job as a market. ing consultant for a Surrey based firm last week. He astonished his new employers by arriving with a pair of black eyes after a tough weekend match.

Unswung hero PETER SNOW has been brought to his knees by the vagaries of his famous swingometer. His treasured toy, which is cranked up on

Snow: sultan of swing

every general election night to indicate the progress as results come in, went haywire during the BBC's election dress-rehearsal over the warmer than previously about elec-

One of the scenarios in the biggest ever dummy-run was a 3 per cent swing to Labour in John Major's Hunningdon constituency: Somewhere a computer went into a spin and calculated instead a 27 per cent swing and complete. Tory metidown. The swingometer went bananas, says one observer.

Show just couldn't help himself and fell to his knees laughing uncontrollably."

• Paul Daniel, the new musical director of the financially troubled English National Opera, knows that he is expected to pull rabbits out of the hat. Fitting then that the bane of his life is to be forever con-fused with the smarmy magician Paul Daniels.

Not likely

IT WON'T be over until the thin lady sings. The distinctly well-cushioned Christopher Biggins is planning to collaborate on an opera with concave supermodel Jodie Kidd. Biggins is off to Barbados for a theatre and opera festival at the home of Jodie's parents. I shall be directing Tosca and am trying in persuade-Jodie to take a cameo role," he says, "With my glamour, and her dramatic instinct we shouldn't go far wrong."

Kidd: would be diva

の教育をは、他の教育の対象が対象を表現を表現を表現している。

是一个人,就是一个人,也是一个人,

7,7

77 73 78

· 医克克里氏病 1

SCOTT VOTE

Tonight is the time to stand up for Parliament

Most Conservative backbenchers will be tempted to vote today as if they were Members of Government rather than Members of Parliament. Rarely will the distinction between the executive and the legislature have seemed so blurred as in tonight's vote on the findings of the Scott report. Despite Sir Richard's judgment that Parliament was misled and the rules of ministerial procedure broken, MPs will probably let their colleagues off the hook for one simple reason which has nothing to do with Scott: a general election is near.

So if the Scott report found an unusual level of cynicism within the executive, the vote on the subject may betray a similar level of cynicism in Parliament. Most Tory MPs are privately embarrassed by Sir Richard's findings. They are also piqued that the institution in which they represent their voters has been so disdainfully treated by ministers. But, despite their adherence to the notion of parliamentary sovereignty, all but a handful seem unprepared to take the action tonight that might force an arrogant executive to mend its ways.

Ministers have compounded their sins since the report was published. By claiming that Sir Richard totally exonerated them. they fooled nobody for more than a day. But it does take at least a day to read 1,800 pages of legalistic language. Ministers ensured that they were already halfway down the course by opening their own starting gates long before those of the Opposition, the media, or indeed their own backbenchers. Tory MPs are right to feel insulted, now that they have had time to catch up, when they realise how brazenly they were misled on the day of publication by their own Cabinet colleagues. They know too that any contrition shown in the House of Commons today will be as cynical as the chutzpah that dominated the initial response.

The Government's tactics have been received as badly in the country as they have with Tory MPs. John Major allowed himself to be trapped by Tony Blair into determining in advance of the report that no minister would be allowed to resign. When Mr Blair stood by Harriet Harman, and compared his steadfastness with the Prime Minister's tendency to "buckle under pressure". Mr Major snapped up the bait.

Yet preventing a guilty minister from re-signing is no sign of virility. Most voters see it as a sign of weakness. Had the Prime Minister allowed Sir Nicholas Lyell, the Attorney-General, to go on the first day, the quality of his Government would have been undiminished, but his stock with the public would have risen. At least he would have shown some humility, some admission that mistakes had been made. After a few days the flurry would have died down, and the only memory of the Scott report would have been that it claimed the career of a minister whose name few had known in the first place. Instead the report is still a sore. The Government's reaction to it has demonstrated how cavalier it is with the truth and how little it cares not just about public opinion but also about the views of its own backbenchers. Only when one of them threatens to resign the whip is any notice taken of his discontent. The "loyalty" of others is taken for granted.

So if some Tory MPs feel tonight that their loyalty to the institution of Parliament ought to be greater than blind attachment to their party right or wrong, they deserve an accolade. Those brave Members who go against the whip will be casting a vote for honest government, for ministerial accountability and for the acceptance of responsibility for mistakes. If their votes tip the Government into defeat, they can always reaffirm their party bonds tomorrow. But tonight is a time for defending parliamentary sovereignty and good governance.

BOMB LAW

Terror must not stop the peace process in Israel and Palestine

Jerusalem and Ashkelon brings the number of people killed by Islamic militants since the signing of Israel's peace treaty with the Palestinians to nearly 80. If this is the harvest of peace, what was the point? That is the understandably emotional first reaction from an angry and divided nation. It is precisely the reaction the suicide bombers anticipated. Like the IRA, the enemies of negotiation are attempting to make compromise impossible. Rather than settle for less than the triumphatist fulfilment of all their claims, they are ready to use indiscriminate terror to harden positions on both sides.

As in Northern Ireland, the renewal of violence when peace was within grasp is a frustration and Hamas rejectionists do not command the support their propaganda claimed, as was evident from the failure of their call for a boycott of the recent Palestinian elections. Bombs are their only answer.

The killings will indeed produce, in the short term, the despair and impasse that the bombers intended. Shimon Peres has frozen all further talks with Yassir Arafat's Palestinian Authority. His Government, surging into early elections on the crest of a 20-point lead over the Likud opposition, will come under ferocious attack. The sympathy vote Labour has enjoyed since the assassination of Yitzhak Rabin will be dissipated. along with the cloud of public revulsion that has linked the Israeli Right to the murderous aims of rejectionist zealots. Mr Peres may defiantly proclaim that terror will not stop the peace process. But to save his credibility. he must accede to the clamour that Mr Arafat impose virtual martial law in the

The death toll from the two bombs in areas his fledgeling Authority nominally controls. He may even be forced back to the revenge tactics so favoured by previous Israeli Governments: the collective punishment of the occupied territories by sealing their borders, or air strikes on Palestinian camps in Lebanon.

The bombs were directed as much against Mr Arafat as Mr Peres. The PLO leader already has many enemies and dwindling room for manoeuvre. Hamas may have been outwitted in the election campaign, but it can draw on widespread Palestinian discontent. Despite a boom in construction and the rewarding of Arafat loyalists with hundreds of sinecures, unemployment is certainly more than 30 per cent, with up to each year.

The bombs will increase tension, but also the stakes for both men. To boost his election campaign, Mr Peres needs to show that the Palestinian mainstream is irrevocably committed to peace and will by rescind those sections of the Palestine National Charter -the nearest thing to a PLO constitution calling for the destruction of the Jewish state. Mr Arafat, though committed to summoning the Palestine National Council for this purpose within weeks, is already playing for time: he cannot persuade doubters to give away their trump card without prior assurances that Israel will withdraw from Hebron, the last main town under occupation, and begin the final status talks on Palestinian autonomy on time. The bombings have made it harder for each man to reach out to the other; but they have increased the dependence of both on the survival of the peace process.

THE JOKE IS IN THE POST

Perforated, sticky, and now funny too

foday the Royal Mail issues a set of First Class stamps reproducing in millions miniature pocket cartoons beside the profile of the Queen. Also today The Times and the British Cartoonists' Association will announce the first winners of their competition to select the young cartoonists of the year. This is a happy coincidence, for cartoons and postage stamps are endearingly compatible miniature British art forms.

The original cartoni (large sheets of paper) were preliminary drawings by such Italian artists as Leonardo and Raphael. And caricatures also take their name from another Italian, Annibale Carraccia, But the art of making fun of society and the famous in rude drawings is a British invention. The Prince of Wales has written correctly that his family and other modern celebrities are more politely treated by cartoonists than were George III and his family and ministers. Hogarth, Gillray, Rowlandson and the other founding fathers of the cartooning art were libellous, bawdy and vicious as well as impertinent. They turned to their trade as very young cartoonists indeed, to escape from family poverty and traditional careers. And they left a better record of Georgian manners and politics than their more respectable contemporaries. . The first sale of adhesive postage stamps was recorded in England on May 1, 1840. And in the following year the earliest reference to stamp collecting was made in a third native miniature medium, the Agony Column. A small advertisement was placed in The Times by "a young lady being desirous of covering her dressing-room with cancelled postage stamps".

From those early days the numbers and varieties of stamps have increased by so many thousandfolds that Philatelic Man can no longer collect the stamps of all nations and all periods. He has to specialise. Stamp collecting introduces the young imagination to art, geography, economics and national symbolism. It also challenges adults asked to locate Vanuatu and San Marino. As international advertisements, obscure countries issue majestic stamps that cost far more to produce than their face value of a kopek or a lek. By another inverse peculiarity of the stamp trade, the value of a postage stamp fluctuates widely from its hypothetical catalogue price depending on whether it is being sold or bought by a dealer.

So from tomorrow these cartoon stamps will deliver a smile with the morning post. along with the dread of the brown envelope and the irritation of unsolicited financial advice. Mel Calman and his fellows will have a wider audience for their work than all previous cartoonists seen together. But what will addressees in China and Peru make of their angst-ridden little men in a hostile world? They should at least catch the eternal complaint of the cartoonist about the cheque in the post whirling in outer space. And our young cartoonists chosen in memory of Calman, can calculate that if they capture the spirit of the age, they too can one day get their work on a postage stamp.

ETTERS TO THE EDITOR

[Pennington Street, London El 9XN Telephone 0171-782 5000

arms prosecution

From Sir Nicholas Lyell, Attorney-General

Sir, Your leader on February 24 fathe bad Attorney") contains inaccuracies which I cannot leave uncorrected. It was perhaps influenced by Lord Hutchinson's selective and misleading letter (February 23) from the Opposition benches.

Nowhere in the five-volume Scott report is there any suggestion that I should have intervened to stop the Matrix Churchill trial. Lord Hutchinson is mistaken in saying that I have superintendence of all prosecutions. Customs, unlike the Crown Prosecution Service and Serious Fraud Office. is not a prosecuting authority which I superintend.

Despite this, as soon as Michael Heseltine's concerns were brought to my attention. I immediately called a meeting with Alan Moses, QC, the highly experienced prosecuting counsel, and the Customs solicitor to be assured that the prosecution was indeed fair and proper.

My advice to Mr Heseltine was correct and my view of the law has been endorsed by the Master of the Rolls and by many lawyers writing in your columns (letters, February 17, 19, 21-24). The specially redrafted PII certificate prepared for Mr Heseltine emphasised that the decision on disclosure of documents was for the court. It worked as intended.

Mr Heseltine's short letter thanking me for my advice was not "left unread". It was read in my absence by the relevant official and immediately passed to the Treasury Solicitor's Department responsible for briefing Mr Moses. Your suggestion that I was "happy to allow" disclosure of Secret Intelligence Service evidence is wrong. This was not a matter on which I advised at all.

There are lessons to be learnt from the report but it is wrong that the underlying facts should become to distorted in comment.

Yours sincerely.
NICHOLAS LYELL, Attorney-General's Chambers. 9 Buckingham Gate, SWI. February 25.

From Mr Geyve Walker

Sir, Roy Amlot and Julian Bevan (letter. February 21) argue the truism that if a minister feels the public interest is prejudiced by production of documents then he is under a duty to sign a PII certificate. Surely where the Attorney-General went wrong is that he seems to have advised ministers that they were under a duty to sign even if, like Mr Heseltine, they felt that public interest would be better served by disclosure rather than suppression.

Yours faithfully. GEYVE WALKER (Prospective Liberal Democrat Penrith and the Border). The Old Vicarage, Barton, Tirril. Penrith, Cumbria. February 21.

From Mr John D. Harris

Sir. Lord Carrington's careful and decent sentiments (letter, February 22) may well have applied in the early 1980s. Sadly. confidence in government ministers has been severely eroded since his time. There is now little or no inclination to give them the benefit of the doubt.

JOHN HARRIS. Chilland Barn. Martyr Worthy Winchester, Hampshire. February 22.

From Mrs Audrey Gardner

Sir. John Major has thrown away his chance to be a "good butcher" - and with it. I think, any chance of winning the next general election.

Yours faithfully. A. GARDNER Morticombe, Cherry Bridge, Barbrook, Lynton, North Devon. February 21.

Missing mural

From Mr John Morton

Sir. Illustrating your report of February 19 on the Royal College of Art is a photograph of the "Lion and Unicorn pavilion at the 1951 Festival of Britain exhibition. I was assistant to the pavilion's architects. Dick Russell and Robert Goodden.

The end wall of that pavilion was a mural, Country Life, by Edward Bawden; 45ft wide and 36ft high, it was one of four works of art in the exhibition which the Arts Council decided should be kept after the exhibition closed. The mural's 71 panels went to the Ministry of Works store at Barry Road, Willesden, London, in March 1952, and racking and covers were provided in 1954 for their long-term storage.

The Department of the Environment sold the store in 1974. I believe. but there is no information on what happened to the contents. I wonder if anyone knows?

JOHN MORTON. 65b Barrowgate Road, Chiswick, W4. February 20.

Letters to the Editor should carry a daytime telephone number. They may be sent to a fax number -0171-782 5046.

Attorney's view of New inquiry into higher education

From the Chief Executive, Committee of Vice-Chancellors and Principals

Sir. Your leader, "University challenge" (February 21), analysed the options facing Sir Ron Dearing as he prepares his inquiry into higher

Contrary to your assertion, the recent massive expansion has been chieved without any perceptible relaxation of entrance requirements. Analysis by the Universities and Colleges Admissions Service (Ucas) shows this clearly. The explanation is that before the expansion many young people, notably young women, left full-time education for work. Despite being well qualified to enter university they chose not to do so.

It has not been necessary to "dilute degree standards" as you suggest, nor would it be countenanced. The young people we are now educating to degree level would have been a credit to any university at any time, but more of them now have higher aspirations than in the past.

That is something to be applauded and encouraged. We hope Sir Ron will recognise the fact.

Yours faithfully, DIANA WARWICK, Chief Executive, Committee of Vice-Chancellors and Principals of the Universities of the United Kingdom. 29 Tavistock Square, WCl. February 21.

From Dr Margaret Atkins

Sir, The Government is asking about "the purpose of a degree". What a pity it did not think to ask that question before overseeing the collective chaos caused in recent years by "modularisation", "semesterisation", the introduction of continuous assessment, research assessment exercises". "teaching assessment", "quality audit" and rapidly increasing numbers of students.

Those of us who already had a clear understanding of the purpose of education and who have been struggling to keep teaching and scholarship alive may be forgiven for feeling puzzled. We had thought the politicians and bureaucrats at least thought they knew what they were doing.

Yours sincerely, MARGARET ATKINS, University of Leeds, Trinity and All Saints College, Brownberrie Lane, Horsforth, Leeds, West Yorkshire. February 23.

From the Vice-Chancellor, Nottingham Trent University

Sir, The greatest service the Dearing committee of inquiry can perform is to move quicky to develop a vision of higher education neither as a cure for all economic ills nor as "outdoor relief" for middle-class children.

It must, of course, address issues of funding and student maintenance in a context of other economic priorities. However, these issues will fall naturally into place if the committee can develop a convincing account of the collaborative role of universities within a competitive economy intent on equipping its people - not necessarily or exclusively through formal study — for a lifetime of learning.

Your leading article refers to prob-lems associated with "large-scale lecturing" and a reduction in seminars

The other side of the coin is the development of imaginative and costeffective approaches to teaching, learning and assessment, increasing use of learning technologies: greater involvement of employers and students in developing flexible and responsive courses; partnerships between universities and business in lifelong learning and updating: and the growth of contract and problemorientated research.

Yours faithfully, RAY COWELL Vice Chancellor, The Nottingham Trent University, Burton Street. Nottingham NG! 4BU. February 21.

From the Pro Vice-Chancellor of De Montfort University, Leicester

Sir, Isn't there a flaw in The Times's contribution to the higher education debate? To suggest a higher education super league is to run the risk of abrogating intellectual and social responsibility.

The expansion in higher education did not just happen as a matter of governmental whim. It was necessary to meet the demands made in the shift of the country's economic base from manufacturing to service industries.

This demanded a more highly educated workforce. Yet the expansion occurred at a time when the GDP was at the best static. The result was a challenge to the universities for greater efficiency in financial, administrative and academic management.

There was also a necessary requirement for a diversity of mission amongst the universities, which continues to exist. Within it excellence has to be defined in accordance to stated aims and purpose. Merely to envisage distinctive funding for one important aspect within that diversity is to ignore the fundamental requirement of the sector as a whole. Yours faithfully, MICHAEL SCOTT, Pro Vice-Chancellor. De Montfort University, The Gateway, Leicester, LEI 9BH. February 23.

Scope for corruption in arms trade

From the Chairman of Transparency International (UK)

Sir. It would be unfortunate if those aspects of the arms trade which are covered by the Scott report were allowed to obscure another major problem which was not part of Sir Richard's brief, namely the extent of the corruption which is involved in "defence sales".

Transparency International, a Berlin-based coalition against corruption in international business transactions, formed in 1993, is not opposed to military supplies per se: nor does it seek to see any exporting country disadvantaged in relation to any other. It is, however, deeply concerned at the huge commissions which are commonly attached to these sales, the size and secrecy of which makes them an ideal vehicle for grand corruption.

Informed opinion estimates such commissions at an average of 15 per cent on annual global sales of some $4.5 billion, about two thirds of which are to developing countries. Most of this money benefits political and military decision-makers in the buying countries, although a small pro-portion is commonly kicked back to the negotiators of the supplying com-

It will not be easy for exporting countries to beat swords into ploughshares, but it is in fact the modern equivalent of ploughshares that most developing countries need. Their apparent preference for swords is too often based not on any rational decisions about priorities but on the financial benefits to be received by their leaders.

Multilateral implementation of the OECD's 1994 recommendation on illicit payments in international business transactions, in the negotiation of which the British Government played a creditable part, would go far towards reducing this tremendously damaging trade.

Yours faithfully, GEORGE MOODY-STUART, Chairman. Fransparency International (UK), Annat. Il Woodfield Lane, Ashtead, Surrey.

February 22.

Juries and justice

From His Honour Peter Mason, QC

Sir. I agree with Judge Peter Smith (letter, February 22) that concealing the truth from a jury about a defen-dant's criminal record is not necessarily fair as English law supposes. The law of most European countries requires no such concealment.

It is also my experience over many years in the criminal courts that a jury is as likely to acquit a defendant after hearing of his criminal convictions as when these are concealed. The rationale seems to be, "the police had it in for this person; we must give him (or

Educated jurors now know that if no mention is made in court of a defendant's good character he has a bad one. Can it be fair to him that they should speculate as to what his previous convictions were, how many there were, and how bad?

Yours faithfully, PETER MASON. 11 King's Bench Walk, Temple, EC4. February 22

From Mr Graham Chainey

Sir. Dr Nick Fox (letter, February 19) complains that jurors can claim only £45 maximum remuneration per day. When I last did jury service about five years ago I received, as someone not currently working, no remuneration except a meagre subsistence allowance to cover fares.

It seemed unjust that two jurors could sit next to one another in the jury box, doing the same work, one ing paid the maximum and the other nothing.
Such inequalities exacerbate one's resentment at the process of compulsory jury service: if you failed to attend you could be fined £100 per day. Disaffected jurors are unlikely to be good jurors.

Yours faithfully, GRAHAM CHAINEY, 35 The Albemarle. Marine Parade, Brighton, Sussex. February 19.

From Mr Giles Curtis-Raleigh

Sir, Dr Nick Fox writes that "£45 per day is only 10-20 per cent of a normal professional fee. Would the lawyers attend for this?"

The short answer is yes, we do, almost. The standard appearance fee for a barrister in the Crown Court. payable for the majority of legal aid hearings, is £45.75 plus VAT. Dr Fox is certainly right that this is only a fraction of what we deserve.

Yours faithfully, GILES CURTIS-RALEIGH, 4 King's Bench Walk, Temple, EC4. February 19.

Small papers fear for the future

From the Editor of Tribune

Sir, From the beginning of March, the retail newsagent giant, W. H. Smith. will drop 300 small publications, including Tribune, from its news shelves. Instead readers will have to make do with a publication-ordering service. Casual sales will cease as diversity and choice are restricted.

John Menzies is set to follow that lead by removing small publications from selected stores for a trial period. The news trade is shocked by the extent of the "delisting" of so many titles; so are we. Tribune learnt of its fate by chance after the decision had been made. In the long run we, along with the hundreds of other small publications, face being forced out of the news trade altogether.

The decision taken by W. H. Smith is based on what looks like a mistaken belief that it can compete with new outlets such as supermarkets and pet-rol stations, which offer a very limited selection of titles. I hope the news shelves of the future will not groan under the weight of computer and pornographic magazines, heralding the final triumph of market forces. That there has been so little outcry can be put down to the fact that W. H. Smith and the distribution companies that supply it have thus far refused to release to us the full list of publications to be affected. However, it seems to me that other left-wing titles may be threatened, unlike for instance The Economist or The Spectator. But then an election is not very far away, is it?

Yours sincerely, MARK SEDDON, Editor. Tribune, 308 Gray's Inn Road, WCl. February 23.

Lenten message

From the Reverend Charles J. Hall Sir, Your Ash Wednesday leading article, "From Lent to new life", was most refreshing: simple, undenom-inational and pertinent to a world where the God framework seems to be crumbling so rapidly. Anyway, I quoted from it today at my local borough council where, as mayor's chaplain. I was leading the council in prayer at the start of their meeting, believing that your reput-ation for fairness could cause no possible offence in a borough that has swung from one extreme to the other.

Yours faithfully. CHARLES HALL, The Vicarage. 61 Church Street. Stapleford, Nottingham. February 22.

Arnhem hero

Sir. You refer to the possibility that the Burslem-born Lance-Sergeant, Jack Baskeyfield, will become "one of the few common soldiers to be commemorated by a statue" (News in brief. February 16).

Having been awarded the Victoria Cross, Baskeyfield — a glider-borne member of the South Staffordshires. by the way, not a paratrooper - was hardly a "common" soldier; indeed, he was a remarkably uncommon one. There were no "common" soldiers fighting at Arnhem.

Yours truly, DONALD F. COOPER, Westridge, Elm Lane, Well End, Bourne End, Buckinghamshire. February 16.

Banking problems

From Mr John Dibblee

Sir, Mr Barnaby Usborne, as a red/ green colour-blind person, has obvious difficulty with bottle banks (letter, February 21). If he has help at home to sort the bottles into separate bags, he only has to follow these simple rules to be as accurate as most of us: the green bin is the full one and the brown, the empty.

Yours faithfully, JOHN DIBBLEE, 43 Cross Lane, Cubbington, Learnington Spa. Warwickshire. February 21.

From Mr F. N. Walker

Sir, If Mr Usborne will look at his empty bottles through rose-tinted glasses the clear ones will appear clear, the green ones as black, and the brown as muddy.

Yours faithfully, FRANK WALKER, 56 Theydon Grove, Epping, Essex. February 22.

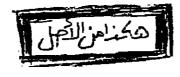

Albanian myths?

From Mr Peter Cuming

Sir, If your assertion (leading article, February 23) that Albania had only 40 lorries in 1991 is correct, I wish to claim a record for having personally wimessed 10 per cent of that nation's 1991 lorry fleet being involved in accidents in one week. As at the time I was travelling in one of Albania's private cars, which you suggest did not exist. I suppose my claim could be disallowed.

Yours faithfully. PETER CUMING, 34 Savernake Road, NW3. February 23 and the first of the second of

COURT CIRCULAR

BUCKINGHAM PALACE February 24: The Duke of Edin-burgh, Grand President, British Commonwealth Ex-Services League, today arrived in Cape Town to preside over the Seventy THATCHED HOUSE LODGE accompanied by the Hon Sir Angus Ogilvy, this evening attended a Charity Gala at the Yvonne Arnaud Theatre, Guildford, and was received by Major James More-Molyneux (Vice Lord-Lieutenant of Surrey).

Birthdays today

Mr Paul Ackford, rugby player. 38; Lord Bridge of Harwich. 79: Mr Pater Carter-Ruck, solicitor, 82: Mr. Johnny Cash, singer, 64; Sir Peter Cazalet, chairman, APV, 67; Mr Frank Copplessone, deputy chair-man, Westountry Television. 71; Mr David Edgar, playwright. 48; Mr S.J. Etherington, chief exec-utive, National Council for Voluntary Organisations, 41: Sir Jonary Organisations, 41: 3ir Donald Farquharson, former Lord Justice of Appeal, 68: Sir James Goldsmith, MEP and company chairman, 63: Dr BJ, Greenhill. author, 76; Mr Christopher Hope, writer, 52; Miss Emma Kirkhy, soprano, 47; Mr Alan Lloyd, deputy chairman. Association of District Councils, 60; Professor Noreen Murray, molecular biologist, 61: Sir Michael Perry, chairman, Unilever, 62: Mr Tony Selby, actor, 58: Dr Diana Walford, director. Public Health Laboratory Service, 52: Sir Everton Weekes. cricketer, 71.

Royal engagements

The Princess Royal, as President of the Save the Children Fund, will attend a Meetings and Incentive Travel Industry Awards gala presentation reception and dinner it Grosvenor House at 7.00. The Duke of Kent will attend an exhibition marking the 150th anniversary of the Heatherley School of Fine Art at the Mall

Today's events

Gallery at 6.15.

The Queen's Life Guard mounts at Horse Guards at 11.00.

Luncheon Northumberland Lieutenauc

iscount Ridley, KG, presided at a luncheon for the Deputy Lieuten-ants, past and present, of Northumberland, at Blagdon, North-umberland, on February 25, 1996.

Anniversaries

BIRTHS: Anthony Ashley Cooper, 3rd Earl of Shaftesbury, writer, London, 1671; Victor Hugo, author, Besançon, France, 1802; William Frederick Cody (Buffalo Bill). showman, Scott County, Iowa 1846; Emile Coue, psychotherapist Troyes. France. 1857; Frank Bridge, composer, Brighton, 1879. DEATHS: Thomas d'Urfey, satirist, London, 1723; Giuseppe Tartini, composer, Padua, 1770; Alexander Geddes, biblical critic. London, 1802; John Philip Kemble actor-manager. Lausanne. 1823: Alois Senefelder, inventor of lithography, Munich, 1834: Fred-erick Tennyson, poet, London, 1898 Sir Harry. 1898: Sir Harry Lauder, comedian Strathaven, 1950: William Ralph Inge, Dean of St Paul's 1911-1934, Wallingford, 1954; Levi Eshkol, Prime Minister of Israel 1963-69, Jerusalem, 1969; Karl Jaspers,

£1 and £2 bank notes were issued for the first time, 1797. Napoleon escaped from Elba, ISIS. The first Grand National steeplechase was run at Aintree, 1839. The steamer Birkenhead was wrecked off Cape Colony with the loss of 485 lives, 1852.

existentialist philosopher. Basle,

Radar (radio detection and rang-ing) was first demonstrated by Robert Watson-Watt at Daventry,

Dinner

Cardiff Business Club The President of Cardiff Business Club, Sir Idwal Pugh, the High Sheriff of South Glamorgan, Mr Wynford Evans, the Deputy Lord Mayor, Councillor J.R. Phillips, and the Hon Recorder, Judge Michael Gibbon, were present at a dinner held by the Club at the Royal Hotel, Cardiff, last Friday night. The guest speaker was Sir Thomas Bingham, Master of the Rolls. Mr Graham Hawker, Chairman. SWALEC. presided.

Nature notes

GUILLEMOTS and razorbills are visiting the cliffs on which they will nest, but they are not yet settling down on them. They leave the cliffs in the afternoon and go back to the sea to feed and roost.

These are the birds that are most in danger from the oil slick off the Welsh coast. Puffins are still out at sea: they are beginning to acquire their triangular red, yellow and blue beaks, but they will not come ashore until April. Yellowhammers have started to sing in hedgerow trees, and skylarks are singing steadily over the fields.

City streets are full of the ellow seeds of the plane trees, blown down by the strong winds last week. Red deadnettle is in flower: the hooded blossoms are pink.

The razorbill

and the leaves, which cluster at the top of the stalk, are often suffused with red. Colt's-foot is opening on dry roadsides: the scaly stems and yellow flowers appear first, and the leaves some weeks later.

The first pipistrelle bats are coming out in the evenings. flying round the roofs and making high-pitched calls. Foxes are mating: the vixen wails in the night, and the couple leave rank smells behind them.

Dear Jobberg

The cartoonist Larry with one of his creations that is featured among ten comic stamps issued by the Royal Mail today. Mel Calman. Times cartoonist until his death in 1994, is also represented. Larry — real name Terence Parkes -- launched the issue at the Cartoon Gallery, London, yesterday. Leading article, page 17

Amateur team uncovers Roman villa

By Norman Hammond, archaeology correspondent

AMATEUR archaeologists working on Sundays over 15 years have uncovered a Roman villa in Northamptonshire that was used for nearly 300 years.
Digging at Piddington, in the Upper

Nene Valley six miles south of Northampton, the group has documented occupa-tion from the late Iron Age down to the 4th century AD. During this period, the villa was established on the site of a native settlement, and then grew from a simple cottage villa" with a single range of rooms to an impressive country house with two sets of baths. After its peak of prosperity in the late 3rd century, the Piddington villa was occupied by several families of squatters before being abandoned around AD 380.

In spite of its rural location, there is evidence of Roman military activity. according to Roy and Liz Friendship Taylor, who direct the excavations. There are several pieces of bronze cavalry fittings, and a lot of imported pottery of types used by the invading army, such as Lyon ware, Hofheim flagons, and lead-glazed vessels from central Gaul," they report in Current Archaeology.

The first stone villa was built in the reign of Trajan (AD 98-117), but two nerations later a fire destroyed much of the building. When it was rebuilt suites of baths were added, one for the family and one for the estate workers. There were hot and cold rooms, with a cellar which is believed to have been used for storing the faggots for the furnace. The baths were refloored to solve recurrent drainage problems, and in the last phase benches were built where the occupants could sit waist-deep in cold water.

Water was provided by a timber pipeline, joined by iron collars which have been found. When the villa was abandoned, the smaller suite was being refurbished: "The final plastering had been prepared and polished, but never painted," the excavators say. At the same time, the main bath suite had been demolished but planned rebuilding never took place.

The excavators have suggested that the sudden abandonment was connected with the usurpation of Carausius and Allectus. two short-lived "emperors" who briefly established an independent realm in Britain late in the 3rd century. A coin of Allectus was found among the construc-tion materials, and "it is tempting to suggest that the owners-were supporters of Allectus using their new-found wealth to rebuild the villa", the report says. The names of two possibly successive owners of the villa are indicated by stamped tiles, bearing abbreviations for Tiberius Claudius Verus and Tiberius Claudius Severus, "clearly a pro-Roman family of long standing, Romano-British families generally adopted the names of the current emperors when they adopted Roman names: Tiberius Claudius was Emperor at the invasion.

"Two tiles from bath house read TCV, presumably Tiberius Claudius Verus. However, on a tile stamp part of the name Severus had been altered. Originally it just read Verus, and the 'Se' was added presumably at the end of the second century when Septimius Severus became Emperor."

The tiles and other finds from the Piddington villa are to be housed in a new museum, established by the Upper Nene Archaeological Society in the former Wesleyan chapel in Piddington village; the diggers are applying for National Lottery funding for the £27,000 needed for the conversion. The dig is described in an editorial in Current Archaeology as "perhaps the finest example of a purely amateur excavation"

Source: Current Archaeology 146: 57-64.

West Midlands, £595,040. Mr William Henry Harrison, of Alford, Lines Mr Donald Edmund Martin, of Sanderstead, Surrey 1993,378. Mr William Desmond Martin, of Rickmansworth, Herts, £602,543. Mrs Dorothy Eileen Peacock, o Caversham, Berks £683.316 Mrs Margaret Rose, of Whittlesey, Cambs £746.827.

> ___ £602.852 El.183.574.

Forthcoming marriages and Miss S.J. Reid

The engagement is announced between Simon Peter Templar, elder son of Mr and Mrs Peter Hall, of Hambleton, Rutland, and Stephanie Jean, only daughter of Dr and Mrs Angus Reid, of Coichesier, Essex

Dr J.R. Henderson

The engagement is announced etween Richard, elder son of Mr M. Henderson and the late Mrs Henderson, of Chesterfield.
Derbyshire, and Sonya Ame, daughter of Major and Mrs William Chevis, of Hastemere,

Mr E.S. Kennedy and Mrs H.R. Williams

The engagement is announced between Euan Stewart Kennedy, of Clapham, London, elder son of the late Mr A.S. Kennedy and of Mrs Kennedy, of Warish Hall, Esser, and Rosemary Jane. Williams, nee Shetliffe, also of Clapham, widow of Hugh Raby

Mr K.P. Lloyd. and Miss L.M.C. Kirwan-Taylor The engagement is announced between Keilh, son of the late Peter between kearn, son of the late reset lloyd and of Mrs. Lloyd, of Torquay, Devon, and Laura, younger daughter of Mr Peter Rirwan Taylor, of Bridge-hampion, New York, and Viscountess Lymington, of West-

University news

Cambridge Corpus Christi College Elected to Visiting Fellowships Professor A Anderson, Australian

National University, Camberra: V Berg-Madsea, Palacontological Berg Madagea, Pataeornological Museum, Uppsala Sweden R. Chivers, University of Surrey, Professor D Fitts, University of Pennsylvania; Professor W F. Kimball, Rungers University, New Jersey, A Meticalf, University of Newcastle, New South Wales; The Hon Justice R. D Nicholsan, University of Methodories: Professional Professional Professional Company of Methodories Professional Company of University of Melbourne: Professor R Voutilainen: University of Kuopio, Fraland: Professor W Wagner, University of Linz.

Elected into Flonorary Fellowshi from January 26: Sir Ronald Sword fragments

the gods recording to Debble Ford of the Hanley Museum where the finds will be reunited... One piece of the blade, dating to around 1000 BC, was found in 1982, the other in 1995, both by metal-detector users who reported and donated their finds. Both discoveries were made on hilltops. The handle of the sword has still to

Mr S.P.T. Hall

and Miss S.A. Chevis

Mr J.P. Peddie and Miss J.E. Andry

The engagement is announced between Jonathan, younger son of Mr and Mrs Peter Peddie, of Mattingley Green, Hampshire, and Jennifer, daughter of Dr and Mrs Peter Andry, of Great Rissington, Gloucestershire.

found miles apart

A Bronze Age sword has been found near Stoke-on-Trent in two pieces, two miles apart. and with 13 years between the two discoveries (Norman Hammond writes). The sword had been deliberately broken. and the fragments are thought to have been "an offering to

Memorial services

Andrew Duchess of Manches A memorial service for Andrea Duchess of Manchester was held on Saturday at St Andrew's, Kimbolton, Cambridgeshire. The Rev R.A. Frost officiated and the Right Rev Lord Runcie read the esson and gave an address. Mr Guy Whitehead, son, read a poem by Mr Joss Keni, son, and Mr Tim Best paid tribute. Mr and Mrs James Dennis, son-in-law and daughter, and other members of the family and friends were

A memorial service for Professor.

Ernest André Geliner, former Professor of Social Anthropolog at Cambridge University, was held on Sanirday in King's College Chapel. The Dean officiated, assisted by the Rev John McLuckie.

Dr Madawi al Rasheed read from Weber's Science as a Voca-tion, Dr Declan Quigley read from Descartes' Discourse on Method and Dr Helen Watson read an extract from Professor Gellner's owπ work, Legitimation of Belief. Professor Ronald Dore and Professor John Davis, Warden of All Souls College, Oxford, gave addresses. Members of the family,

Memorial meeting

Dr James Clyde Milchell A memorial meeting for Dr Jame Clyde Mitchell, Emeritus Fellow of Nuffield College, Oxford, was held on Sarurday in College Hall. Mr. Anthony Atkinson, Warden, pre-sided. Professor Norman Long. Professor Peter Warsley, Professor Ceri Peach, Dr. Steve Vertovec and : Professor A.H. Halsey also spoke. During the meeting Mr Anthony Heaft, piano, played Chopin's Noctume Opes 9 number 1 and with Mr. David Shires, trum-Recorded African music was also

Viscountess Ingleby

A Service of Thanksgiving for the life of Viscountess ingleby will take place in St Margaret's Church. Westminster Abbey at noon on Thursday, March 14, 1996. Those wishing to attend are requested to apply for tickets to: the Rector's Secretary, Room 14.1 Linde Cloister, Westminster Abbey, SWIP 3PL enclosing a stamped adposted on March 5.

後端には

露时:-----

Market 1

dente: . . .

Nor≟⊷.

lames .

Was ...

llactio-denies and

and the same of

All Part of Real

COMMENTAL

diameter,

Total User of the Con-

H. Horas

Approximation to

i:::

OMMAIL.

1000 G ...

the Treasure

Professor George Dunnet.

A memorial service for the late: Professor George Dunnet, CBE, BSc. PhD. DSc. PRSE, FIBiol. BSc. PhD. DSc. PRSE, Filbio, Professor of Zoology from 1971 to 1974 and Reguis Professor of Natural History from 1974 to 1992. University of Aberdeen, who dight on September 11, 1995, will be held in Kings College Chapel. Old Aberdeen at moon on Thursday, March 7, 1996. All friends and colleagues are invited to attend and should be seated in the Chapel by 11.50am.

Appointment

FAX: 0171 481 9313

Sir Angus Stirling is to be the senior policy adviser to the Nat-ional Heritage Memorial Fund. He retired as director general of the National Trust in December last year. The fund was set up in

YOUR WILL

If you are making your will please think of BLESMA. We Association, c/o Mildland mk pic, 90 West Smithist Landon ECIA.

BMD'S: 0171 782 7272 PRIVATE: 0171 481 4000

Do you not know that your body is a temple of the indwelling Holy Spirit, and the Spirit is God's siri to you? You do not belong to DEATHS yourselves... 1 Contribians 6 : 19,20 (REB)

BIRTHS BROWN - On 22nd February at St Thomas' Hospital, to Victoria (née Montagu) and Julian, a daughter, Olivia CHAMBERS - On 22nd

February 1996, to Georgina (née Kent) and Duminic, a gorgeous daughter, Isabella Alexandra Marie: A first mandritid for Bentrica and COLE - On February 16th, to Caroline (née Armstrong and Jeremy, a daughter isabel Emma Armstrong, i HAMBRO - On February 18th, to Haitle take Ward Jones) and Alex, a son. Benjamin Jake. LE GRICE - On 21st February

daugner Harrier Auce.

##OCKSINGE - On Petruary
19th. to Teresa (Aée Wormington) and Marthew.
a daughter, Flora May Susana. a sister for Annabel.

PRULHALL - On February 21st at The Notfolk and Norwich Hospital, Norwich to Sharen (née Butcher) and Ashley, a son William Michael MERCHEN - On February 19th to Simon and Selly (née Renwick), a son, Thomas Albert, With thanks to staff at Chelses and Westminster Hospital.

DEATHS

DICKIE - Peacefully at The Cedars. 303 Perth Road. Dundes, on Friday February 23rd 1996. William MacCarlane Dickie Ph.D. in his 100th year. formerly Librarian of University of College, Queen's College. Dundse, in the University of St. Andrews. Beloved humband of the late Janet Louise Blain. Funeral private.

EDMONDSOM-JONES - On 22nd February 1996, Sarah, beloved wife of the late Rev. Wilfred Edmondson-Jones, Private fumeral service. No flowers please by request, donations if desired to the Church of England Pensions Board, 7 Little College Street, London, SW1.

EGLETON - Joan Evelyn suddenly at home on 220d Pebruary. Beloved wife of Cive, mother of Charles and Richard, grandmother to Harriet, Alexander and Rory. Funeral Service at 200 pt. Frider 14 March at Harriet, Alexander and Rory, Funeral Service at 2pm on Friday 1st March at Holy Trinity Church, Bembridge, I.O.W. Family flowers only please, douations to imperial Cancer Research (O Warver Bros. Ltd., Bernbridge, I.O.W. 601963) 872898.

601983) 872898.
GARRETT - On Thursday, February 22nd peacefully, Disna Mary Garrett (Sumry).
M.B.E., wife of the late Robert Garrett. much loved mother of Tom. Disnie tided 1991) and Charles, grandmother and great grandmother. Fumerai Service at 81 Mary. The Soltons, on Friday Hanch Lar at 4pm. Family Govers 0819. Any donations to the Royal Star and Garler Home. Any donations to the Royal Star and Garter Home, HUSSEY - Society at home HUSSEY - Soddetly at nome Evelyn Heiden aged 88 years. Beloved mother and grandmother. Funeral Scryice to take place on Friday 1st March at Holy Cross Church, Uckfield at 20m. Enquiries to Cooper & Son tet: (01825) 763763.

PRINCS - Lore on Thursday 22nd February suddenly aged 64. Dear mother of Carolyn. Andrew and Jannifer. and loving grandmother. Funeral Service at Golders Green
Crematorium on Wednesday
28th February at 10.30 a.m. Flowers welcome to H. J. Rent Lambroke Grove, W10

DEATHS

North Wales, Bangor, 1958-84, and deputy leader of the British exlition which conquered Everest in 1953, and two years later the first man to reach the top of Kan-chenjunga, left estate valued at £94,135 gross, net same.

Sir Robert Charles Evans,

Mr John Richard Gammell, of Sherborne, Dorset, former northern region plastics sales manager with ICI, and who was awarded

Betws-y-Coed, Gwynedd, Prin-cipal of the University College of Professor Ivor Christopher Ban-field Keys, of Selly Park, Birmingham, Peyton and Barber Professor of Music, Birmingham University, 1968-86, left estate val-ued at £262,647 net.

the MC in the Battle of Cambrai in November 1917, left estate valued

Latest wills

at £228,883 net. He left £500 to St Mary Magdalene Church, Thorn-Mr Walter William Croxford, of Sideup, Kent, left estate valued at £202,689 ner. He left his entire estate to the RSPCA. Other estates include (net before Mr Harvey Markham Belkin, of Bushey Heath, Herts £2,170,817

Mr Kenneth Sidney Brindle, of London SW7 Beatrice Peggy Ross-Esson, of Dittisham, Devon £828,109 Mrs Gladys Eva Guy, of Chich-... £680,160 ester, West Sussex... Mr Gerald Egbert Kane, of

Mr John Moreton, of near idgnorth, Salop.... Mrs Nancy Newhouse, of Great Ayton, North Yorks E611.477 Mr George Eric Payling, of Doncaster, South Yorks...... £635,106 Jessie Raschkes, of Salford, Greater Manchester £1.038.644 Mr John Brodrick Tracey, of Exeter, Devon Barbara Weller, of Bed-_ E670.02i Louise Cridland, of Torquay, .. £718,109, Mrs May Sylvia Gill, of Aldridge,

MUSICAL

INSTRUMENTS

THE

ALTERNATIVE

PIANO SALE!

Choose from 100's of new & secondhand Upright, Grand & Digital pianes. You can even hirt one from only (20 per month with an option to

MARKSON PIANOS

Established 1910 0171 935 8682 (NW1)

0181 854 4517 (SE18)

TICKETS FOR SALE

TICKETS

FOR SALE

OVERSEAS TRAVEL

SERVICES

SPECIALISTS

GERMANY Daily low cost lights, 5181 429 2900, Vine Access, ASTA 90668, ATOL

TRAVEL Instruce & Worldwide Air Bress at low cost. Call 0171 754 7573. ATOL 74096.

VACATION TRAVEL

PERLES FE.

PARO S PALMA

PALAGA 6 CESECE

ALL'ANTE 9 MALTA

TENESEE 79 TIEREY

LASTELLANT 77 EMAGL

LANZARDIE 79 CYPELE

0800 371855 -

CAPE TOWN (585

PECTS PA

em. Villas/apts... hotels candias. golf hole. Hight ngmere init, 0181 684 242s tell apents. AFTA E143X

Harbridge, Hants......£1,353,173 Mrs Alice Olive Sanders, of East-

Mr Kenneth James Timms. of Hollywood, Wores Mr Anthony Henry Darwin Wil-Mrs Frances Margaret Worden, of Aspley Guise, Beds, £628,278.

be located.

TRADE: 0171 481 1982 TICKETS FOR SALE ALL AVAIL Planton, Super all nights. Chaten, Engles. Salgon etc. We deliver 017; 497 1407

TICKETS 5 RATIONS RUGBY ERIC CLAPTON. CARSE. TINA TURNER. BON JOY! BRICE BRIGHOSTEPN REE DIAMOND PHANTON. BUNGET ROYAL ASCOT

Any Ticket obtained. 0171 488-4414 ALL AVAIL: Premittee, all the stre. Emples. B. Springsteen Rughy, all spect 0171 ASO 6182

ALL TICIONTS: Int. Russy, Phan-lott, R. Alence, Chaples, Simply Red. All Instar pop. Sport & The abre, CC's accpt 0471 $20 0000 ABACUS TICKETS V I P Service Rugby, Euro 96 Footbell, Pharttom, Abeclutely all Pop, Sport & Theatre. Earlies

Call as Now

MATIONS Ringby 96' Tich Winded for all metrine Ti 0171 929 8622/ P: 929 644

TEL: 0171 323 4480 TICKETS (Bought & Sold)
Rugby 5 Nations
Phanton, Riverdance
Oliver, Saigon, Esc.
Turner, Brace Springers
E. Clapton, Bon Jovi, eed. Anything wrong piece re with me. You are my au moon and the stars. Always

ALL TICKETS 5 Nations Rugby 96 Bruce Springsteen, Ciapto Caste, Royal Ascot Phintom, Sureet etc.

5 Nations Rugby 96 Scotland v England England v Ireland Wales v France Match tickets avallable now 0171 929 5622 (City)

All oc's accepted UK HOLIDAYS

WINTER SPORTS care for all to-service must and woman who have lost limbs in the service of this country. WANTED BOOKS | Deraries and spar collections, Challes, Rare Ro Tel; 0171 361 0960.

OLD records, tradice, grantephones, strate brown six wanted 0.173 229 9618.

ROLEX AND CASTIER high cash price paid, 7nt; 0171 409 0050 feature quality. ANNOUNCEMENTS has aperiments available retired people. For informat write to CHA. Press Landon, WCSE GER

How near we are to the cure... idepends on you LEUKAEMIA S COM COMM FOR Lunden WCIN 157 071-005 0101

PUBLIC NOTICES

Public Notice MERCHANT SHIPPING (ACCIDENT REPORTING AND INVESTIGATION) REGULATIONS 1994

Public Notice is hereby given that pursuant to regulation 6(4) of the Merchant Shipping (Accident Reporting and Investigation)

Regulations 1994, the Chief Inspector of Marine Accidents has ordered an Inspector's inquiry into the grounding of the mt SEA EMPRESS off Milford Haven on 15 February

Any persons who desire to make representations to the Inspector concerning the circumstances or causes of the accident should write to the inspector at the following address, no later than 14 days from the date of publication of this Notice

Marine Accident Investigation Branch Department of Transport 57 Bronswick Place

Southampton, Hampshire S015 2AN THE DEPARTMENT

OMBOY - On February 17th 1996 in Cambridge to Care (nee Pearson) and Joseph, a daughter (Elizabeth Anne).

1996, to Joanna (nee Saunders) and Marcus, a daughter Harriet Alice.

Son tel: (01828) 763765.

[SAACS - Eric Hubert on 2200 February peacefully al. Galsworthy Hotse Nursing Home, aged 88 years, beloved husband of the late Norma and devoted father and grandfather, Fencies Service to be hald at Putney Vale Crematorium on Wednesday 28th February at 3.45 pm. Enquiries F.W. Palue, 29 Coombe Road, Norbiton, Kingston-on-Themes, Surrey (0181) 546-4813.

HARRAP - On February 26th 1985 George Pauli Minno. Much prissed by the many who loved him.

SHEPHERD - On 20th February 1996, suddenly at home. George Anthony (Tony) Shepherd C.M.G. Beloved husband of Sarah, loving father of Felicia. James and Rebecca. and wonderful grandfather of Thomas, isabelia. Freedde. Lucinda and Luke. Funeral Service of Friday. 1st March at 230 pm at $1 Andrews Church. Meanstoke. Hamis. Everyone welcome. There will be no memorial service. Family flowers only. densities to the Fauna and Flora International. All enquiries to Thomas Pink & Son. Rishop's Walliam, bet (01489) 822640, WHITEHEAD - Betty (née FOR SALE con, sission's waimen, the (0.1489) 822540.

WHITEHEAD - Betty (née Cochran). On February 22nd 1996 peacefully at home, aged 73. Dear wife of Michael, devoted mother of Stephen and Anne, and grandmother to six grandchildren. Funeral at St. John's Church, Simbridge at 2 pm on Thursday 29th February. Provens to L.W. Clutterbuck. 24-26 High Street, Cam. Gos.
WOOD: On February 22nd 1996 peacefully at his home. 6. John. aged 84 years. Funeral Sarvice at St. Nicolas Church. Pevensey. Sussex Church. Pevensey. Sussex Church. Pevensey. Sussex can Thursday 23th February

Church, Pevensey, Sussex on Thursday 29th February at 12 noon, followed by cremation. Flowers to Ha & Son Ltd., 19 South Str MEMORIAL SERVICES EROCKLESS - A memorial Evensors for Brian Brockless will be held on Sunday 3rd March at 6.30pm at St. Bartholomew-the-Great, London ECL.

IN MEMORIAM -PRIVATE

HUTH - To the dear memory of Val. on his birthday. "All my life, my dearest". Dispa. my life, my degree." Dispai. (RAVCHERRO - Victor. A. 1905 (USSR) - 25/2/1965. USA. Political and economic democrat. epaltarium. Rustan patriot and respecter of atmic/retigious aspirations. 1 chose readom. (1946) and 7 chose justice. (1961).

PERSONAL COLUMN GIFTS FLATSHARE ATTERSEA SREDGE, pro-to stage med has in private £360pcm 0171 9766218.

EAST PUTMEY - Prof 8 for dal cm 5 born smart flat. 4 min tube & BR. £340 pcm & bor rub do 0161 785 0941. RENTALS Tet 0171 243 0964 THE TIMES - 1791-1995 other Bies available. Ready for pre-sentation - also " Sendays". Remember When. 0181-688

ESO Orthodo 1770 Maries 1590 Marie 1590 Marie 1590 Palem 1590 Toronto 1590 Sel Antr

ALL WITH INVESE & SUMPREM DEST AMELIBLE AT DISCOUNT NATE

Tel: 01273 700737

FLIGHTS

ERNATIONAL

TRAILFINDERS >-

Low cost flights worldwide

01476 74111

ALCANTE # 559 FARD
PALMA ESI CYPTUS
CHRARES SIN MANCOS
GRECE SIN SOLARA
MALTA SIN SOLARA
SINAEL ESIS GREANDO

AL European & Worl

IWA. Specious 2 bed flee recently referis, porter, bai coay, large reces, opp part £380pw. 0171 379 4814. FLIGHTS DIRECTORY AFRICA seat sale . Jo'burg. Hargre, Natrobl. Der. Entenbe-Lages and more. Booking now far Summer/Jones. Critisian Travel . 0183 426 8444. JATA/ATOL 3848. Acces/Visa COSTCUTTENS on Rights & hole to Exerce, USA & most deather-tions. Diplome: Travel Services Lab 0171-730 2201. ASTA 257US IATA/ATUL 1368.

AIRLINK [UP TO 60% DISCOUNT ON FIRST, BUSINESS & ECONOMY CLASS FARES WORLDWIDE 01923 840472 CAPITAL FLIGHTS

8171 209 4808

BOGOTA £400 BUENOS AIRES £480 CARACAS £385 MEXICO £350 RIO/SAO £430 0171 730 8646

Tel: 9171 821 6616

100 4 20 50

Tet: 8181 $73 2944 All major oc's accepted ACCESS TICKETS Specialists in SOLD OUT EVENTS 5 Nations Rughy Bruce Springmen, Eric Clapton and all major pop shot All theatre trickers inc. Plantom ser.

0171 403 9555

Niall MacDermot, CBE, QC. former Labour MP, Financial Secretary to the Treasury, 1964-67, and Secretary-General. International Commission of Jurists, 1970-90, died in Geneva on February 22 aged 79. He was born in Dublin on September 10, 1916.

NIALL MacDERMOTS active career in British politics lasted only just over a decade. But, for both overt and covert reasons, it was a good deal more intriguing than most. He was a rising barrister with a distinguished wartime record behind him when he was first elected to the House of Commons in 1957.

At the beginning of the war he had been commissioned into the Intelligence Corps and rose rapidly to the rank of lieutenant-colonel at the age of 26. General Montgomery appointed him GSOI at HQ 21 Army Group in preparation for the Normandy landings. As the war came to an end, it was his responsibility to track down top Nazis. His incisive interrogation of Goebbels foreshadowed his future legal career.

legal career.

He was called to the Bar by the Inner Temple and was pupil to the then Treasury devil, Hubert Parker. He became a tenant in the burgeoning Common Law chambers of Ronald Argastrong-Jones. He joined the Miland circuit and quickly acquired a large London and circuit practice.

He was a most gifted and accomlished advocate. He had a commanding presence, handsome looks, a supple voice and a patrician but courteous manner. He was a first-class lawyer with a quick, objective and analytical mind. This made him an excellent pupil-master. He taught by example the value of preparation, the skill of argument and the art of how to carry, and not confront, the court. He took silk in 1963.

By then he was already a Member of Parliament, for the second time round. Originally elected for Lewisham North in February 1957, he lost the seat to Christopher Chataway at the general election of October 1959. But he was plainly regarded as something of a catch—he had joined the Labour Party only in 1956—and in 1962 he won another by-election at Derby North. He was from the Fabian, moderate tradition and would have approved of new Labour. He made a rapid mark in debate, especially after his second by-election victory.

No one was surprised when, at James Callaghan's instigation, Harold Wilson included him in his first 1964 Government as Financial Secretary to the Treasury. This is normally seen as a jumping-off post for high-flyers.

Yet when promotion finally came for MacDermot nearly three years later, it was only in a sideways move to be a Minister of State at the Department of Housing and Local Government. Just 12 months later he resigned from the Government — citing "personal reasons" — and in the 1970 general election did not stand again. For the last 25 years of his life it was almost as if his career in British politics had never been.

NIALL MacDERMOT

There was, in fact, an explanation both for his relatively late entry into British political life and for his somewhat abrupt departure from it. The son of an Irish KC practising in the Dublin courts, Niall MacDermot was sent to school at Rugby and then, unusually, attended first Cambridge University, where he read modern languages, and then Oxford, where he studied law.

It was while up at Balliol that the first misfortune of his career overtook him. In the course of a quarrel with a fellow-undergraduate he pushed him causing him to fall. As ill-luck would have it, the student concerned suffered from a heart condition and instantly died. The young MacDermot had to endure the full formality of a manslaughter trial, at the end of which he was acquitted without the jury even retiring. It still seems likely, however, that the whole experience left a scar which deterred him from seeking a public career, at least until the memory of it had grown less raw.

The second factor — accounting for his peremptory departure from politics - again had its origins in something that occurred well before he entered Parliament. In 1954 MacDermot, who had been married for 14 years, met and fell in love with a half-Russian, half-Italian language student who was to become a translator at the United Nations in Geneva. They maintained an intermittent relationship for ten years before, with the son of his marriage then grown up, MacDermot asked his doctor-wife for a divorce. This she agreed to, and in August 1966 in Geneva he married Ludmila Benvenuto — though not without giving Harold Wilson as Prime Minister advance warning of his intentions. Wilson pretended not to be bothered - telling MacDermot "There'll be talk, but never mind, it'll be a nine-day wonder" — but evidence has since surfaced that he took MacDermot's statement of intent a good deal more seriously than that. Certainly, before the marriage even took place, he was telling his confidant Dick Cros man that their colleague's ministerial life was over and that he would be leaving the Commons "within 12 months". (Presumably fear of a by-election, as Labour grew progressively more unpopular, prevented this from happening)

Eventually it was MIS that forced the issue. Towards the end of 1967 they intimated that they wished to talk to MacDermot's second wife and, having grilled her in the Defence Ministry for an entire week in February 1968, let No 10 know that they were not wholly satisfied with all her answers. Always a pushover for "spooks", Wilson's response was, rather tactlessly, to inquire of MacDermot as to whether he had ever told his wife "any confidential information".

MacDermot found this woundingly insulting and he resolved there and then that he had no future in politics. Within a matter of months he had resigned his job at the Ministry of Housing and announced his intention of leaving the Commons at the next election.

At first he returned more or less fulltime to the Bar. His last major bride was on behalf of the Wing Airport Resistance Association before the Roskill Commission Inquiry into the Third London Airport. If he had stayed at the Bar, appointment to the High Court Bench would have been assured.
As it was he preferred to go and live

As it was, he preferred to go and live abroad. In 1970 his appointment was announced as Secretary-General to the International Commission of Jurists based in Geneva, a post he filled with distinction for the next 20 years. He combined his deep commitment to the rule of law and human rights with his skill as a lawyer and a politician. In 1980 the Council of Europe awarded the Commission the first-ever Prize in Human Rights; this was followed by the Waterler Prize and; in 1989, by the Erasmus Prize. MacDermot was jointly responsible with Jean-Jacques Gautier for establishing the Association for the Prevention of Torture.

But he did not entirely cut his links with Britain. He took delight in his trusteeship of the Tate Galley, which he served until 1976, and was very touched in 1991 when he was advanced from OBE — to which he had been appointed in the military division for his wartime role — to CBE for his services to international justice.

He is survived by his second wife, Ludmila, and by the son of his first marriage.

MIKE WOOLLER

Mike Wooller, television producer, died on February 20 aged 69. He was born on January 17, 1927.

IN THE golden early years of British broadcasting, Michael Wooller played an influential role as director of studio-based television current affairs programmes, and as a producer of documentaries. He made good programmes himself, and created space for others to do so.

Born in Lancashire, Michael Herford Wooller excelled at sports at school, promising one point to emulate the achievements of his uncle, Will Wooller, at rugby. He worked as a radio studio manager for the BBC, and in Forces Broadcasting serving in Palestine. In 1953 he returned to the BBC as a cameraman, when he met his wife Joyce, a transmission controller. Together in 1956, they went to work for Granada, then preparing to begin broadcasting (with a tribute to the BBC) in Manchester.

Wooller soon became a director, calling the shots in the studio galley when virtually all television was live, particularly at Granada, where Sidnev Bernstein was determined to postpone the introduction of film and, when it arrived, videotape, as long as he could. Directing live television called for a grasp of angles, of visual possibilities, a sense of timing. a quick eve, a cool head, and a calm, commanding manner. Wooller had all that and more. Under his direction, even so simple a programme as What the Papers Say could be transformed into a minor masterpiece, with up to 120 cuts in only 12 minutes.

Wooller would have made a brilliant interior designer. For Searchlight, produced by Tim Hewat, a programme that made a statement, he devised a new, almost tabloid, visual style that influenced much that came after it. Instead of a crowded, lit studio in which every image had equal weight, Wooller kept the background dark and used light to concentrate the viewer's eye either on the presenter or on a blow-up beside him. This was the TV equivalent of the picture across five newspaper columns, or the headline in bold black type on the front page.

These programmes, apolitical but always crusading, shook viewers, as they were intended to do. The deputy director-general of the Independent Broadcasting Authority told the Searchlight told the Searchlight single programme in the first series had infringed the Broadcasting Act, with the possible exception of a programme on cruelty to children "And even then" he

ren. "And even then," he added, "I am not sure you should not have said somewhere that cruelty to children is a good thing." (The Broadcasting Act has since been amended.)

Wooller made the transition from directing texts to producing, and instantly found a new metier. Here, his judgment and basic integrity made themselves felt, and provided rock-solid support for others. With Michael Darlow, he made the Granada prizewinning triptych Cities at War.

He was invited back, at that time a high compliment, to the BBC. Working for the Music and Arts Department, he took charge of All in a Day and Omnibus. No one did this last better.

Under him fine documenta- Joyce rists — Geoffrey Baines, Leslie 1953.

Megahey, Colin Nears and Tristram Powell—did some of their best work. Although their boss, he never tried to make their films for them but was always supportive; he criticised when a response could still prove fruitful. He gave them freedom to explore; they did the rest.

BBC Television could have enlarged his responsibilities, but did not. Wooller went to the Thames documentary department. Here he acted as executive producer of Hollywood, a 13-part series by Kevin Brownlow and David Gill on the early years of American cinema. Typically, when it was urgently necessary to spend money on interviewing octogenarian pioneers with one foot in the grave, before the studios had agreed to make rights available in even a foot of film, he took the bold decision to press ahead. In the end he got the rights, the series triumphed, and his leadership was vindicated

Wooller became managing director of Goldcrest Television, an independent producer. For them he oversaw the making of a glossily successful mini-series The Far Pavilions and other television series. But Goldcrest. overambitious, went in for major feature films - a policy which some four years on was virtually to sink the company. Finally for Granada Film Productions, Wooller supervised the making, in three years, of four feature films, including David Hare's Strapless and the ambitious documentary series Man and Wooller's innate fairness and friendliness made him the most acceptable of colleagues. His qualities commended him across the industry. He served on the Council of the British Academy of Film and Television Arts (Bafta) and was Chairman from 1979 to 1981. He loved music, gardening and cooking, at which he excelled. He was a generous friend.

He is survived by his wife Joyce, whom he married in

HENRY LEWIS

rienry Lewis, conductor and music director of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra. 1968-76, died of a heart attack in New York on January 26 aged 63. He was born in Los Angeles on October 16, 1932.

CHARISMATIC and with a conductor's natural flair for command, Henry Lewis was one of the first black Americans to break down racial barriers in the world of classical music. He was the first black to conduct a world-class orchestra, the first to become music director of a major orchestra, and the first to conduct the Metropolitan Opera in New York.

Shaping the scores with a confident dramatic hand. Lewis led with a persuasive passion. In the course of a 47-year career, almost every major American orchestra—including the Chicago Symphony, the San Francisco Symphony and the New York Philharmonic—performed under his baton. He also made regular guest appearances in Britain with, among others, the London Symphony, the Bac Scottish Symphony and the Royal Philharmonic

Though he showed great technical command, Lewis was particularly known—and sometimes casual attitude on the podium. He would talk to the audience, inviting them to applaud if they wished at the end of some dramatic move-

75

Ĭa:

IJ.

Wt

mi

tc

rc i

ment. "I'm not a believer in the old-fashioned attitude of a conductor and orchestra playing for themselves and letting the audience listen as a kind of favour." he once said.

His concern was to make classical music accessible to as wide a range of people as possible. As conductor and director of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra he outfaced the censure of fellow Afro-Americans who accused him of trying to purvey "white" music to black people, and travelled with his company to ghettos, town halls and parks, playing to audiences who were often completely unfamiliar with a classical repertoire.

Lewis's musical talents had surfaced at an early age. His mother, a nurse, first sat him down at the piano at the age of five and though his father, a car dealer, hoped that his son profession", the young Henry showed more artistic aspirations and at junior high school leapt at the opportunity to learn the double bass. By the age of 16 he was a would follow a "respectable virtuoso and was invited to join the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra—as not only the youngest player, but also the first black ever to join. "I had to accept that I had to be better than the next guy and take a few risks. But I realised that I would benefit from it and did not resent it," Lewis later said.

In 1954 he was drafted into the US Army - though even here he maintained his interest in music, conducting the Seventh Army Symphony Orchestra in Stuttgart. On discharge he immediately returned to the Los Angeles Philharmonic with which in 1960 he made his conducting debut. A year later he made his operatic conducting debut with the San Francisco Opera's production of La Boheme. He also founded the Los Angeles Chamber Orchestra and further strengthened an already weighty reputation as a guest conductor working with orchestras all over America.

At the age of 36 Lewis made national headlines when he locat stiff competition to become the conductor and music director of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra. His was a colourful, indeed tempestuous, tenure. He recruited the highest calibre professionals, building the orchestra up into a first-class company with an impressively expansive repertoire. However Lewis, in his search for perfection, could be tyrannical and intimidating. During a three-week-strike a negotiating committee for the orchestra actually sought a contract clause stipulating that he should refrain from frowning during rehearsals and concerts. This clause was never drawn up though, for Lewis resigned.

Despite worsening lung cancer he continued to work for many years as a guest conductor for major orchestras in America and Europe. He conducted New York's Metropolitan Opera on its 1975 tour of Japan. He served in his latter years as music director of the Opera-Music Theatre Institute of New Jersey and of The Netherlands Radio Orchestra and in 1991 he was the music director for the London production of Carmen Jones at the Old Vic. He was also in great demand as a vocal coach.

On the night of his death the New Jersey Symptony Orchestra dedicated its concert to Lewis. The first piece of the evening, the prelude from Wagner's Parsifal, had last been performed by the orchestra under Lewis's baton

Lewis married, in 1960, the mezzo-soprano Marilyn Horne, with whom he often appeared. Though the marriage ended in divorce in 1979, they remained close friends and continued to perform together. He is survived by their daughter.

Brian Hogan, Professor of Common Law, University of Leeds, 196794. died of pneumonia on February 9 aged 63. He was born on May 4, 1932. NR v Shivpuri the House of ords had to deal with the

PROFESSOR BRIAN HOGAN

IN R v Shivpuri the House of Lords had to deal with the effect of the Criminal Attempts Act 1981 on one of those eternal conundrums of the law, "attempting the impossible". Lord Hailsham, the Lord Chancellor, confessed to some disquiet about embarking upon an examination of an area that had produced a "joust of almost unexampled ferocity between two of the most distinguished professors of criminal law in the kingdom". One of the jousters in ferocity between two of the most distinguished professors of criminal law in the kingdom". One of the jousters in this tournament was Glanville Williams, the other was Brian Hogan. Opinions may differ about criminal attempts but few would deny the correctness of Lord Hailsham's assessment of the status of the protagonists.

Brian Hogan was born the Brian Hogan was born the son a police officer in the North East. He claimed that at school he had shown ability only in geometry but had managed to acquire his School Certificate in Latin which in those days provided the passport to university entry. Graduating with first-class honours in law from Manchester in 1956 (after completing his National Service) he took up a post as a temporary assistant lecturer at the University of Nottingham.

At that time it was possible to study for the Bar in one's own time and Hogan entered Gray's Inn and was called in 1959. While still a lecturer at Nottingham he was appointed to the Chair of Common Law at Leeds in 1967. There he remained until he retired in 1994. He was head of the department of law three times and from 1974 to 1976 was chairman of the Board of Arts, Economic and Social Studies and Law. As the (sole) Provice-Chancellor from 1981 to 1983, his tenure coincided with the death of Lord Boyle and the first serious tide of financial cuts.

Crisis management and planning had then not yet become a way of life in tertiary education and Hogan found himself confronted for the first time with the harsh fact that budgets would have to be cut and staff shed if the university was going to remain affoat. With the help of the acting Vice-Chancellor, William Walsh, Hogan succeded in doing both, quickly but humanely.

humanely.
From 1966 to 1972, Hogan was editor of the leading specialist journal the Criminal Law Review. Together with John (now Sir John) Smith he worked on the book Criminal Law, which went into seven editions and is probably unique in the English and Commonwealth jurisdictions in that it has remained the leading academic textbook and at the same time has exercised a considerable influence on the decisions of the courts. He also co-authored, again with John Smith, five editions of Cases and Materials on Criminal Law.

10 c 10 d 10 d

4

÷$.

古の一方の大大大

But Hogan's range was than crimina law. Although he was uncompromising in what he demanded (he belonged to a generation which did not see this as problematical in a university), he was an excellent teacher able to represent ideas in a manner that could be grasped by the weaker pupils while at the same time offering something that would stretch the top 20 per cent of the class. Towards the end of his career he participated, albeit with some reluctance, in the national assessment of teaching quality, a process which he found to be seriously flawed in both design and

Although Hogan liked to cultivate an image somewhere to the right of Genghis Khan, he was in fact a liberal (with a small "l") and would-take great pains to further causes in which he believed. However, though he became heavily involved in administrative matters at Leeds, he was never likely to be attracted to administration as a career. He was too forthright to be all things to all men and his boredom threshold was too low for the grinding tedium of much of the paper generated by the academic system in recent

Brian Hogan is survived by his wife Pauline, and their son and daughter.

Church appointments

The Rev John Hilton, Vicar, Orford St Andrew (Liverpool): to be Vicar, Leeds St Wilfrid, Harchills (Ripon).

The Rev Donald Jones, Team Vicar, East Ham w Upton Park and Beckton (Chelmsford): to be Vicar, Nuneaton (Coventry).

The Rev Geoffrey Keating.

Vicar, Penponds (Truro): to be Vicar, Peterborough St Jude (Peterborough). The Rev Robert Lunnon, Vicar, All Saints, Orpington

(Rochester): to be also an Howardy Canon of Rochester Camedral.
The Rev Simon Moor, Curate, Slygness and Winthorpe (Lincoln): to be Assistant Curate,

Holy Cross, Airedale (Wakefield). The Rev Brian Morris, Assistant Curate, St Peter and St Mary, Hayling Island, in charge of St Andrew Conventional District: to be Priest-incharge. St Michael, Shalfleet and All Saints, Calbourne w Holy Spirit, Newtown, Isle of Wight (Portsmouth). The Rev Ivor Morris, Priest-in-charge. The Ascension, Chelmsford: to be Vicar of that benefice (Chelmsford). The Rev Clive Porthouse, Vicar, St Peter w Christ Church and St Matthew, South-borough (Rochester): to be also an Honorary Canon of Rochester Cathedral.

The Rev Chris Rankine. Assistant Curate, St Andrew and Church of the Resurrection, Farlington: to be Assistant Curate, St Mary, Alverstoke (Portsmouth).

The Rev Canon Martin Shaw,
Canon Residentiary of St Edmundshury Cathedral and Bishop's Adviser in Spiritual-

iry (St Edmundsbury and Ipswich): to be Canon Precentor of St Edmundsbury Cathedral and continue as Bishop's Adviser in Spirituality, same diocese.

The Rev Raymond Taylor, Vicar, St Paul, New Southgate: to be also Area Dean of Central Barnet (London). The Rev David Tonkinson, Chaplain. Bracknell College (Oxford): to be Diocesan Adviser in Social Responsibility (Portsmouth) and Honorary

Canon of Portsmouth Cathedral.

The Rev Anthony Tucker.
Chaplain to Sunton Centre and Priest-in-charge, St Katherine's, Teversal, and working in collaboration with the staff of St Mary Magdalene, Sutton-in-Ashfield: to be Priest-incharge. Norwell w Ossington.
Caunton and Cromwell and Diocesan Tourism Officer (Southwell).

Resignations and retirements
The Venerable Tony Turner.

Archdeacon of the Isle of Wight (Portsmouth): to retire April 30. The Rev Roy George, Rector, St Mary the Virgin, Rowner

(Portsmouth): to retire February 28.
The Rev Canon Derek Goodman. Diocesan Director of Education (Leicester): to retire August 31.
The Rev Leslie Morris, Assistant Curate (NSM). St Thomas a Becket, Warblington w St James, Emsworth (Portsmouth): to retire April 8. The Rev Bob Rudd, Chaplain, St Mary's Hospital, Newport. Isle of Wight (Portsmouth): retired January 13.

KING LEOPOLD'S ACCESSION ENTHUSIASTIC CROWDS

From Our Correspondent BRUSSELS, Feb. 25

A solemn Te Deum was sung yesterday at the Church of Ste. Gudule on the occasion of the accession of King Leopold III.

A few minutes before II a.m. a fanfare of trumpets rang out in front of the Royal Palace in Brussels, and the King and Queen emerged. The procession consisted of a military escort and black and gold carriages, each drawn by four horses.

The Rue Royale was again filled with enthusiastic crowds, as the procession passedalong it in bright sunshine to the church. As the King and Queen entered, bugles were sounded and the troops presented arms. Cardinal van Roey, the Archbishop of Malines, who received the King and Queen, greeted them in his address in the name of the episcopate and the millions of the faithful. After referring to the great reign of Afbert I, he prayed for the Blessing of the Almighty on the King and Queen, the Royal Family, and the nation. The King, in his speech of thanks,

The great Cardinal Mercier (the late Archbishop of Malines) for whom my father

ON THIS DAY

February 26, 1934

Leopold III, King of the Belgians, died in 1983. His actions as Commander-in-Chief of the Belgian Army during the German invasion of his country in 1940 aroused hostility to his rule, which led to his abdication after the Second World War.

had a great attachment, said from the pulpit of this church. The religion of Christ makes patriotism a law. There can be no perfect Christian who is not a perfect patriot. That truth gives a special value to the words which Your Eminence has just pronounced. The cruel trials through which we are passing find consolation in the thought of what is beyond."

The king and Queen took their places on the throne and the Te Deurit was stong by the 275 singers from Malines.

The Journal Official published this morning pardons for prisoners serving sentences not exceeding 120 days.

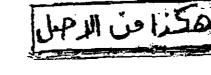

There is a regular pilgrimage to Marche les Dames, where King Albert died. Military aeroplanes have flown over the mountain and dropped flowers upon it, and the painter M. Vital Keuller is now making a tableau for the Arany Museum representing the fatal rock. This rock is part of the estate under sequestration of the Arenberg family. The case is at present pending before the Court of Appeal as Princess Paulline d'Arenberg claimed to be of Belgian nationality. The State wishes to acquire the rock.

RABBITS NOT WANTED AT TRISTAN DA CUNHA From Our Own Correspondent

CAPETOWN, Feb. 25
The Royal Mail liner Atlantis arrived here yesterday, having called on her way from South America at Tristan da Cunha.
When he landed there the Rev. Harold Wilde, who is to be chaplain to the island for the next three years, had with him four

Wilde, who is to be chaptam to the island for the next three years, find with him four rabbits, thinking they might breed on the island and give the islanders a constant supply of fresh mear. The headman, however, politely refused to have rabbits. Tristan da Cunha is already overrun with fats and cars, and the islanders are afraid of adding a third pest.

Olympia's showtime for he grid are in London for the grid metamorphoses into a set of steps; the design is are an an over time world are in London for the grid metamorphoses into a set of steps; the design is a set o an early spring Fine Art and Antiques Fair, in addition to those in summer and winter. What is particularly refreshing about the February show, which starts tomorrow, is the absence of a dateline: this means that rare antiquities are on offer alongside fine modern and even contemporary pieces.

One hundred and fifty dealers are showing at Olympia, not only from Britain but Switzerland, America, Hol-land, Australia, France, Spain and Hong Kong. This internationalism guarantees a rich mix of wonderful things, while the buyer can relax in the knowledge that every item has been vetted for authenticity, quality and fair valuations (£50 to more than £250,000).

Furniture is particularly well represented this season. Halliday's is furnishing its stand to resemble an English drawing room, with fine Regency pieces set around the centrepiece French marble mantelpiece in the style of Louis XVI, and lavishly decorated with ornate ormolu (c. 1840, £20,000). Patrick Sandberg has a marvellous to Gillows of Lancaster (c. 1820, around £8,000). Also by Gillows is an earlier Sheraton period secretaire bookcase in satinwood with rosewood banding (c. 1790; around £25,000 from Beau Nash House Antiques).

A rare and important 18th-century looking glass - prob-ably by William Kent - is offered by Christopher Hodsoll, the giltwood frame finely carved with swags and acanthus (Irish. c. 1730 and E95,000). Hodsoli also has a large selection of 17th, 18th and 19th-century (£10,000-£14,000). busts in order to demonstrate the range of desirables on offer we can step back about 1,500 years to discover a highly unusual Roman military altar embellished with gods and symbols. This 3rd-century AD piece is £7,500 from Spanish dealer Felix e Hijo. Or forward - to the beginning of this century: Fay Lucas has a lidded and turquoise studded silver tankard by renowned Art Nouveau designer the same period is a carved Lalique hair comb decorated with rose and brilliant cut diamonds (£30,000 from Aviva Chaya). The same dealer is also offering a 1930s Cartier bracelet, with no fewer than 260 diamonds, 17 emeralds, 15 sapphires and 13 rubies (£250,000). A selection of little-known leather Hermés desk furniture

Silver tankard by Archibald Knox; £7,900, from Fay Lucas includes a desk blotter (£900) and a waste-paper basket (£2.400) (2.400). Modern ceramics of the 1960s and 1970s by such masters as Lucie Rie (between £3,000 and £6,000 for a vase or bowl are available from Gallerie Besson, which also offers contemporary works, some as recent as 1995. Modern Chinese ceramics by Peter Wain are on display in what is billed as London's first ever selling exhibition of the work of contemporary masters. Fifty teapors will be shown — each hand-made over a period of 60 hours - at prices from £800 to £4,500.

Clocks and barometers are the territory of first-time exhibitor W.F. Turk. A really good range will be displayed with prices beginning at £3,000 and rising to about £30,000 for an exceptional early 18th-century burr walnut longcase clock.

Boxes and tea-caddies are always popular and a comprehensive selection will be on offer from 1780 which costs about E10,000.

What else is available? Well. as usual just about everything: There is line 17thcentury oak furniture (from Hall Hopwell and Peter Bunting), and pictures and drawings spanning all periods from early 17th-century old masters (Dutch dealer Wurfbain Fine Art) to modern greats such as Ivon Hitchen (The Paisnel Gallery).

Iso to be found are icons, art deco, glass, jewellery, textiles, treen and sculpture, together with that most attractive category: unclassifiable; The star here must be either o carpenter's model of a double revolution spiral staircase in walnut fruitwood and mahog any (France, c. 1900), or else an 18th-century life-sized papiers maché horse ridden by painted mannequin of 1820s Charles de Longlade is show ing these - and his reluctance to put a price on them might or might not betray a corresp ponding reluctance them adieu.

TO ADVERTISE CALL: 0171 481 1920

Carpenter's model of a double revolution spiral staircase in walnut, fruitwood and mahogany, made in France around 1900. This piece is shown by Charles de Longlade

RICHARD GREEN

Willem Chesz. Fleda (1594 - circa 1680).

Signed and dated 163(1). Panel: 101/4 x 141/2 in / 26 x 37 cm

Exhibiting at The European Fine Art Fair

Maastricht, The Netherlands

9th - 17th March 1996

Stand Number 316. Telephone: (00 31 43) 383 8651

33 New Bond Street, London W1Y 9HD

Telephone: 0171-499 5553 · Fax: 0171-499 8509

New York: 518-583 2060

FINE ART & ANTIQUES

TRADITIONAL FURNITURE REALISTIC PRICES

VICTORIAN, EDWARDIAN AND LATER FURNITURE IN OAK, WALNUT, PINE, MAHOGANY ETC.

FOUR FLOORS OF FINE FURNITUE!

30,000 sq. ft. of Showrooms Browsers Welcome! Free Parking

* Beds * Chests * Cabinets * Desks Wardrobes * Dining tables * Bookcases * Occasional tables * Chairs

* Display cabinets locks * Fireplaces * Jewellery * Brass * Silver. Thousands of pieces always on display at reasonable prices

OXFORD STREET ANTIQUE CENTRE

16/26 Oxford Street, Leicester
Only 10 minutes from M1, Junction 21 & M69 Intersection. Open Mon-Fri 10-5.30, Sat 10-5, Sun 2-5 Call for more details - Trade Enquiries Welcom

Tel: (0116) 2553006 Fax: (0116) 2555863 Bank, Credit & Debit Cards Accepted

Francis

Dench Antiques

English & Continental Furniture Statuary & Wiorks of Art

Exhibiting at Olympia,

Stand No. 30

27th February - 3rd March

Also at The Chelsea Antiques Fair

14th - 23rd March

Cromwell House

32 High Street

Sandgate

Tel: 01303 240824

Mobile: 0378 463068

FAX 01782 747651

ANTIQUES TRADE GAZETTE

0171 481 9313

Subscription £52 a year (Dept. 11) 17 Whiteomb St.

LOTS ROAD GALLERIES FINE ANTIQUES

China Mend

Clarica CRT Age of Jazz Tigures, price 27.50 (+ £2.50 p&p) and a

GREEN'S ANTIQUE DE III Emple Company to the Party of the Party

Tet che en

THE TIME ONCE AGAIN PRODUCIN ANTIQUES

SUPPLEMENT.

WITH THE MUST

TAKING P. . .

THE SUPPLEMENT

ONLY REACH THE

TOMES READERS

BEDISTRIB:

THE FOUR MAN

ART AND AN

FOR DETAILS

MIES TELEPHINA

TEAM DIRECT

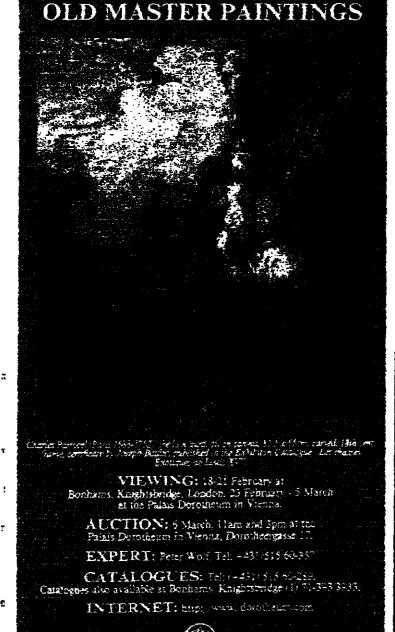

matching trank greeting card prices at £1.95 each are now available. __ Mark Hewitt)___ ne Heur: Tuesday - Sala

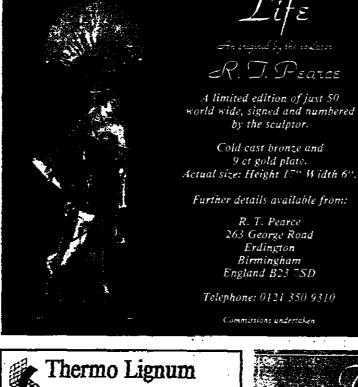

Tel/Fax: (01422) 347377

Discover The World of

Art Deco Originals A Wide Selection of Period Caramics By Carica Citi, Charlotte Rhead, State Cooper

INSECT PROBLEMS?

GREEN, FAST & TOXIN FREE

Computer Controlled Warm Air

Treatment

Phone for Free Advice

Unit 19 Grand Union Centre, West Row London W10 SAS

Moodworm

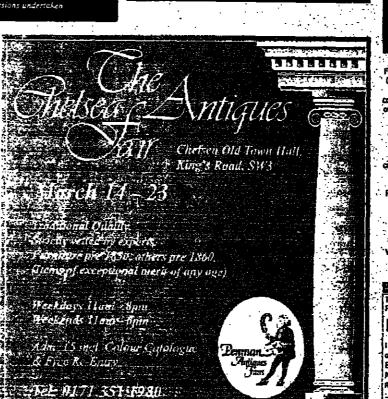

EFFECTIVE GUARANTEED

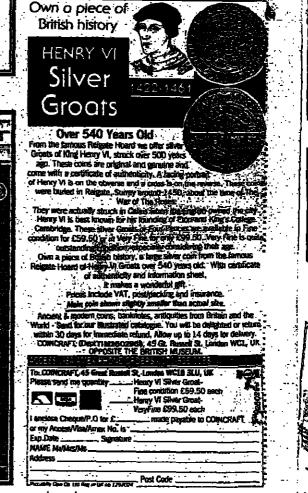

carpet beetle

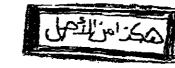

Fax: 0181 964 2969

booklice

silverfish

... the Olympia Fine Art and Antiques Fair. Joseph Connolly reports the great and the good the great and the good ative and magnetic ... it is in some ways a painting of its sculptures, ranging carlier (1928), up before his death nowned not only for the range and quality of items on offer, but also for the sheer extitement and unpredictability of its attendant non-selling exhi-

This has taken many forms over the years, and every tantalisingly brief exhibition has always surprised by showing either recent discoveries or else rarities seldom seen. This February, however, the fair has surpassed itself, with a major exhibition of two great artists: Henry Moore and Francis Bacon. Here we have not only 50 works drawn from largely private and little-known collections, but also the emergence of the earliest Bacon self-portrait in existence, painted in 1930 and long since presumed destroyed (Bacon spent a good deal of time during his later and wildly successful years tracking down and burning his early work.

Not only was the portrait unknown to Bacon scholars, out so too was any literature relating to the only time the picture was exhibited in 1930. then Bacon was 21. The catalogue (designed by Bacon himself), too, has now been unearthed, and will be on show at Olympia. The portrait was "out of the country" until a few months ago when, by way of word of mouth, it was offered on loan by "a friend of to Angus Stewart, curator of the Olympia exhibition. "It was a tense six weeks while we waited for the painting to be brought back to England, he says. The paint-ing hadn't been photo-

Lullaby: Sleeping Head. Lithograph by Henry Moore

When eventually the portrait arrived - a modestly sized canvas board, 15½ in x llin, Stewart was enraptured."It was spellbinding at first sight," he says. "Full of youth and vitality, it is provoc-graphed. We had no idea what ative and magnetic ... it is in Moore. Included here are 19 sculptures, ranging from the like it. Bacon dissected and before his death in 1986. The remade his face in a style that major and most arresting is unbelievable and at the bronze is Falling Warrior same time totally convincing." (1956/57), on loan from the Huddersfield Art Gallery, It certainly is a remarkably strong and accomplished though there are many exwork for so young (and un-trained) a painter. Although the influence of cubism is traordinarily fine small maquettes - family groups, animals, heads, torsos and mother and child studies evident, uniquely Baconian distortions are struggling to break free. There are seven other Bacons on view, ranging Backing up the sculptures is from a gouache, pastel and a wide range of works on pen and ink on paper from 1933 entitled Composition paper: chalk-drawn nudes, pencil drawings, and exam-(Figures), to an oil on canvas of ples of his wartime figures in 1989 - Study of Portrait of John Edwards. The 1950s, 60s air-raid shelters, executed in pen and ink with a chalk and 70s are also represented wash. Particularly sensitive by various oils. and memorable is a litho-Hanging alongside Bacon's graph from 1974 (one of an work will be portraits of the edition of 25) entitled Lullaby:

great man by other hands: two Sleeping Head. Given the rarity and quality Michael Leventis, one by Barry Joule and a drawing by of the works on show, this exhibition at Olympia is set to Jean Shepeard who, along with Roy de Maistre, was a be the honest ticket in town. fellow contributor to the 1930 exhibition. There also is a 1933

Bacon's studio.

 The Fine Art and Antiques Fair is at the National Hall Olympia, Hammersmith Road, London W14 (071-244 2214). Opening times: Feb 27-29 Ilam-9pm; March 1 Ilam-8pm; Sat 2 Ilam-7pm; Sun 3 Ilam-5pm, Admission E5, caloil by de Maistre depicting Although the "new" Bacon will undoubtedly steal the show, the lion's share of the exhibits belongs to Henry

The earliest Francis Bacon self-portrait in existence, painted in 1930, has only recently come to light. Long thought destroyed, its discovery caused a stir in the art world

NATIONAL

EXHIBITION

CENTRE

OPENING TIMES

onderful Antique Shop

Open 3pm-9pm & on Sundays 18th to 20th century

Something for everyone at

For further information, ostact Jill Cox, M.L.A.D.A.

Recreating

the period.

Fax: 003531 2886945

BEAUFIELD MEWS M.J.
We are also Dublin's Oldest Restaurant, 10 minutes from the city centre in Woodlands Avenue, Stillorgan, County Dublin

Tel: 003531 2880375

REAL WOOD FURNITURE

Superbly finished, high quality chairs, tables etc., in traditional styles. Minstrel House, 60 Oxford Street Woodstock, Oxon

Tel: 01865 863566 Fax: 01865 864192 Also at Newark Antiques Warehouse Keiham Road, Newark, Notts.

Tel: 01636 74869

PETER MORRIS

Dealer in Coins

Ask for your free copy of COIN LIST No. 35 or MEDAL LIST No. 3. 1 Station Concourse Bromley North B.R. Station, Kent

P.O. Box 223, Bromley, Kent BR1 4EQ Tel: 0181 313 3410

Interweb Systems

Limited

Tel: 0171 221 7102

Fax: 0171 221 7109

E-mail: info@desiderata.com

URL: http://www.desiderata.com

For further information, please contact

B.J. NORRIS

TRADITIONAL

original Victorian recipe. Enhances and enriches all woods. Ideal for Antique, Modern and Reproduction furniture. Find it in John Lewis Stores nationwide.

The Maltings Millfield, Cottenham Cambridge CB4 4RE Tel and Fax: 01954 251380

Cambridge Traditional Products |

The British Antique Dealers' Association

Visit our stand at THE OLYMPIA FAIR and our own fair THE BADA FAIR The Duke of York's Headquarters

19-26 March 1996

Gerald Sattin Ltd DOUGLAS BRYAN

The Old Bakery St. David's Bridge Cranbrook Kent Tel: 01580 713103

Specialising in 17th C. and 18th C. Oak and Country Furniture.

Exhibiting at Olympia Fine Art & Antiques Fair 27 February - 3 March, 1996 Stand No. 40. Mobile Tel: 0374 737303

Member BADA & LAPADA

PETER SCOTT

Specialists in Blue & White

Transferware & English Pottery.

Exhibiting at Olympia, Stand No.A19.

Also Exhibiting at April/August NEC, Birmingham

Bartlett Street Antiques, Bath, Avon.

Tel: 0117986 8468

Mobile: 0850 639770

URSULA GALLOWAY

RESTORER

Specializing in paintings, papier mâché, sculpture, carving, textiles, leather

01353 722435

Restorer for Olympia

W.S. JENKINS & CO. LTD. HARRELL'S Traditional Wax Polish

Manufacturers and suppliers of a complete range of wood finishing materials for Antique restorers and Furniture manufacturers.

> Jeco Works, Tariff Road Tottenham, London N17 0EN Tel: 0181 808 2336 Fax: 0181 365 1534 Free catalogue on request

OOLA BOOLA "ANTIQUES LONDON"

166 Tower Bridge Road London SE1

Tel No: 0171 403 0794/ 0181 693 5050

Fax No: 0171 403 8405

Robert Kleiner

& Co. Ltd.

30 OLD BOND STREET

LONDON WIX 4HN

TEL: 0171 629 1814/0171 622 5462

FACSIMILE: 0171 629 1239

NICHOLAS TOLLEY Equine Exhibition March 9th - 30th

Coinciding with the Cheltenham Festival

THE JOHN DAVIES GALLERY

For brochure and further details telephone: 01451 831698 Fax; 832477

March 12th, 13th & 14th from 5.30 pm - 7.30 pm

(100 a) . .

At William Tulman our craftsmen lovingly create modern masterpieces that reproduce the finest examples of English 18th and 19th century furniture to perfection. Call now and let us introduce you to quality that cannot hen only perfection is good unoug

30 St. James's Street, London SW1A 1HB Telephone: 0171-839 2500 Fax:0171-930 8106

14-24 Crouch Lane, Boroogh Green, Kent TN15 8LT Telephone: 01732-883278 Fax: 01732-884439

Exhibiting at The Country Living Fair this week

Large stocks of old desks, Oak, Mak Walner, Victorian, Edwardian, Bolkop, Partner's, Dickens and Pedestal Desks.

Control of the contro

DON SPENCER ANTIQUES (01926) 499 857 (01926) 407 989 MORRE 08565 25755

ANTIQUE ENGAGEMENT RINGS OF DISTINCTION,

QUALITY & VALUE GREEN'S ANTIQUE GALLERIES 117 Kensington Church Street, London WS 7LN Monday-Sacurday 9.30am-Spm - Telephone: 071 229 9618

THE SETTIMES

ONCE AGAIN "THE TIMES" WILL BE PRODUCING THE FINE ARTS & ANTIQUES FULL COLOUR SUPPLEMENT, IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE MAJOR LONDON FAIRS

TAKING PLACE IN JUNE 1996.

THE SUPPLEMENT WILL NOT ONLY REACH OVER 1.3 MILLION TIMES READERS BUT WILL ALSO BE DISTRIBUTED TO VISITORS AT THE FOUR MAJOR LONDON FINE ART AND ANTIQUE FAIRS.

FOR DETAILS OF OUR COMPETITVE ADVERTISING RATES, TELEPHONE THE SALES TEAM DIRECT ON: 0171-782 7255 OR 0171-481 1920. ALTERNATIVELY YOU CAN FAX US ON 0171 782 7930 or 0171 481 9313.

THURSDAYS FEBRUARY 29th MARCH 14th & 28th

James Davies

AT THE AGRICULTURAL HALL, MAIDSTONE, KENT mestes at 10 am

Viewing: MORNING OF SALE FROM 8.00 AM No Buyers Prentium For full details of all future suction sale: Consectal Norris, Auctioneers THE QUEST, WEST STREET, HARRIETSHAM, KENT THE MAIDSTONE (01622)659515

GEMSTONE & DIAMOND CUTTING & RESTORATION R. HOLT & CO. LTD 98 HATTON GARDEN LONDON EC1N 8NX

TEL: 0171 405 5286/0197 FAX: 0171 430 1279

Re-leather your desk or table dyed colours with easy fitting instructions. Choice CAN LANGE CAN ol gold tooling. Postal-services worldwide, K.RESTORATIONS

P.J. Gates (Photography) Ltd.

94 New Bond Street, London W1Y 9LA Tel: 0171 629 4962 Fax: 0171 493 4324

INNES GALLERY 7 Bury Street, St. James's London SW1Y 6AL Specialists in Fine Art Photography Worldwide Established in 1976

BUYING AT

OF GEORGIAN - REGENCY FURNITURE AND PORCELAIN SYMPATHETIC ANTIQUE RESTORATION FOR PRIVATE OR TRADE CLIENTS Furniture Repair French Poliching By

- Valuations - Porcelain Repairs "FREE COLLECTION AND DELIVERY" # LYMINGTON (01590) 673532

- Upholstery

120 HIGH STREET, LYMINGTON, SO41 9AQ

Tel: 0171 839 8083

MALCOLM

AUCTION?

Service provides access to 100,000 new items each week prior to sale. Three mouth trial period only £99 inc vat.

Phone 91983 826000 Senantes available via Pax bock (89) 616988 enter 150 despera

Not www.Tnesamus.cs.pk

Chinese Snuff Bottles, Porcelain and works of Art We are interested in purchasing collections or individual objects of > Exhibiting at the Fine Art and Antiques Fair. Olympia, London June 6-16th. Stand no. 57, Gold Section good quality

Stow-on-the-Wold

LATE EVENING OPENING - CHELTENHAM WEEK

NEWS

Ministers ready to admit mistakes

Measures aimed at restoring public confidence in the standards of government will be outlined by ministers today as they admit to mistakes in the arms-to-Iraq affair and try to head off an embarrassing defeat on the Scott report.

With the Government's fate in the hands of Northern Ireland's Unionist politicians in tonight's Commons vote, ministers are planning proposals intended to show that they take seriously Sir Richard Scott's criticism

Suicide bombers kill 25 in Israel

■ Islamic extremist suicide bombers launched two attacks on Israel, killing 25 people and wounding 77 in the country's bloodiest day for 20 years. The first, in Jerusalem, ripped a packed commuter bus apart. The second devastated a bus stop used by soldiers in Ashkelon. Pages L, 9

Labour's harder line

Labour is to drop its 15-year opposition to the Prevention of Terrorism Act in a move to kill any suggestion that it would be softer on the IRA... Page l

IRA hit-list

A hit-list of RAF stations was found in the hideout of the Aldwych bus bomber, police sources said as Scotland Yard warned that the IRA could strike without warning. .Page 2

Death pact

The three young Britons who killed themselves in a suicide pact in America habitually wore black in an apparent homage to their dead hero, a pop singer....Page 3

Austen's music A treasure trove of musical scores by Jane Austen's favourite composers and songwriters, many painstakingly written in her own hand, has been found at the author's family homePage 3

Albany rent rise

The historic character of Albany, the Piccadilly block of flats that has traditionally been a haven for men of letters, is threatened by 40 per cent rent rises that could force some residents to move _ Page 4

Cancer precaution

Two women at high risk of developing breast cancer decided to have their healthy breasts removed before there was any signPage 5

Farmer looks left

Sir Simon Gourlay, a past president of the National Farmers Union has stunned the farming community by announcing that he will be voting Labour at the next general election.......Page 6

Mother meets kilier

A woman has shaken hands with her daughter's murderer in jail after campaigning for years to be allowed to meet him Page 7

Mormons catching up The Mormon Church in Britain is beginning to catch up with the mainstream Christian Churches in membership.....

Germany falls behind Germany will fail to meet the entry criteria for European monetary union next year, according to calculations circulating in the finance committee of the German parliamentPage 10

Aircraft inquiry

Washington was trying determine if two Cessnas flown by four anti-Castro exiles had deliberately ventured into Cuba's air space before they were shot down by two Cuban MiGs.....Page 11

Buchanan campaign

During a drive to win Arizona's primary tomorrow on a message of protectionism. Pat Buchanan has rarely missed a chance to name as the root of all evil the shipment of cocaine and illegal aliens to America Page 11

Atherton caught out, embarrassed

It is safe to assume that Michael Atherton had not heard of the Pakistan Federal Union of Journalists. But after one of their number asked him a series of long-winded questions following England's cricket World Cup defeat in Rawalpindi the England captain may soon be apologising. He had been heard to mutter: "Somebody remove this buffoon".......Page 1

Thousands of Dubliners demonstrating in O'Connell Street for a new ceasefire. There were similar events in Cork and Belfast. Page 2

.. Page 13

Price Waterhouse, the City accountants, has secretly launched a High Court action against the Abu Dhabí authorities. This enjoins them in a $3 billion claim the firm collapse of BCCI Page 44 Takeover protection; New rules are to be laid before Parliament to protect building societies from hostile bids Page 44 is fighting in connection with the Pensions: The CBI warns that the costs associated with planned changes to pension law could amount to £500 million Page 44 Levi Strauss is to embark on a $4.6 billion leveraged buyout that will value the company at $14 billion and turn the controlling Haas family into some of America's richest individuals... Page 44

BUSINESS

THE TIMES

amplan & E Highlands

AA HOADWATCH

HOURS OF DARKNESS

Sun rises 6.54 2:7

FLICHT SAVEES

LONDON TO

PARIS

from £64 return

LONDON TO

MILAN

em £123 reterr

LONDON TO

NICE

from £91 return.

ans Air UK on 0345 656777 or codact your travel agest. All major cred ands accepted. Subject to maintain erport tax and different travel pa

Air UK

First quarter today

London 5.34 pm to 6.52 am Brestel 5.44 pm to 7.01 am Edinburgh 5.39 pm to 7.11 am Manchester 5.40 pm to 7.03 am

Penzance 5 56 pm to 7.11 am

Pretty as a picture: Ever since the early days of cinema. Hollywood and haute couture have enjoyed a symbiotic relationship. Now the

Good start: Tori Amos launches her British tour in Ipswich with a gig that provides some chilling Page 13

National Film Theatre is celebrating the links between film and Madding ballet: David Bintley's new dance adaptation of Thomas Hardy's novel, Far from the Madding Crowd, is being unveiled in Birmingham. .. Page 12

Few words: Ivan Heng's short solo performance piece offers a modern version of the 15th-century, 30-volume Chinese novel, A record of the Journey to the West Page 12

IN THE TIMES

■ PLAY TO WIN

players' performance

to win at Interactive

Check on your

Team Football

Times columnist

Libby Purves and

Life without Christopher: Julian Clary on the death of his lover from Aids - and why his stage persona has become a drag...... Page 15 Flickers of interest: Giles Coren has had enough of the female fashion for head tossing Page 15

Miracle in a molusc: Anjana Ahuja reports on the attempt to copy a chemical found in barnacles that could cure cancer... _Page 14

Health prints: Nigel Hawkes on the link between fingerprints and developing disease...

Olympia showtime: Dealers in London for a fair Pages 20, 21 event-.....Page 24 Racing: Norman Williamson is waiting to see ithis appeal against having mandaliny surgery this a. The British parliament opens a depion Hurdle

Football: Leeds United reached their first Wembley final for 23 years as goals by Phil Masinga and Tony Yeboah, set them on the road to a Coca-Cola Cup win over Birmingham City. Manchester

United beat Bolton Wanderers 6-0 to maintain their Premiership challenge Pages 23, 26, 27, 29

Cricket: Despite another depressing defeat by South Africa, there are signs of improvement in some aspects of England's play in the Athletica: Du'aine Ladejo is to be spoken to by Verona Elder, the Great Britain team manager, after unacceptable antics on the last lap of a relay in Clasgow ____ Page 32

Rugby union: Jack Rowell, the England manager, coach and rugby enigma, is determined to finish the task that he believes he has only

Skiling: Alberto Tomba, of Italy, collected his second victory of the Alpine skiing championships in Sierra Nevada, Spain, when he secured the gold medal in the stalom-

.....Page 25

World Cup

2, 5, 7, 24, 35, 44. Bonus: 30.

Preview: Deborah Cadbury updates her prize winning film of 1993 with new evidence of declining fertility in the male species: Assault on the Male (BB2, 8 pm) Review. The Sculptress, an exercise in gothic hokum, says Lynne Truss Pege 43

Scott vote

Tonight is a time for defending parliamentary sovereignty and good governance....

Bomb law

The bombings have made it harder for Shimon Peres and Yassir Arafat to reach out to the other, but they have increased the dependence of both on the survival of the peace ___Page 17 process

The joke is in the post

Young cartoonists chosen in memory of Calman, can calculate that if they capture the spirit of the age. they too can one day get their work on a postage stamp......Page 17.

WILLIAM REES-MOGG

The report of the Scott inquiry a same admirably thorough, lucid and fair-minded document. The debate so far has been inadequate confused and partisan, and today's debates in Parliament are unlikely to be any better PETER RIDDELL.

Mr Blair is trying to retain the support of Labour's core working class. supporters while abandoning Labour's old class-based approach, to: become a broader centre-left mec I :

nam -

4.72

四 心 一

ا العام

Real Property

Union

Th...

- نظلا

Intra . .

3035E i

USA T

desti ...

Mr. P.

100

MIT CO

da ::...

deres : #c---

Tr: -

ريا فألارة

趣 震震 . . .

20 Bur . −

W17 (

DR C. . . . Numara :

130 li וני. יוייות Birth die pinjer

Disaryo

iener for the

page 1, 1872 ; वंद्रायः _{सार्थन}

 $\text{of } f_{k,l_{\mathrm{BL}}}$ Polici : hering The the $\mathfrak{g}(\mathfrak{q}_{\mathrm{fin}})$ w խոշ թե

Onn: f_{finible}

MA

before the con-Empan:

PU .

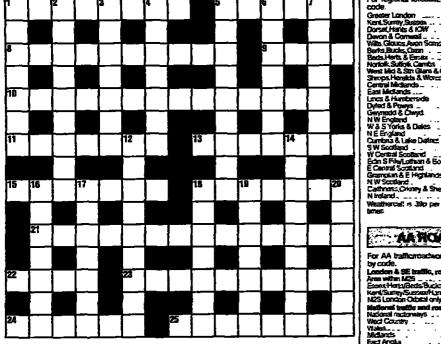

Niall MacDermot, former Labour MP, Mike Wooller, television producer, Henry Lewis, conductor, Brian Hogan, Professor of Common Law, Leeds Page 19

Attorney-General defends his position on arms trial; Dearing inquiry; threat to distribution of small; publications; juries Page I shoulder is successful so that he hate on the inquiry into arms sales policies must be exposed to open debate. That cannot occur when high officials mislead. Having done so, the two men should now depart — The New York Times

Sunny:

THE TIMES CROSSWORD NO 20,100

ACROSS

- l Undeveloped island Antarctic hero almost identified (8).
- 5 Capital vessel appearing after a short time (6). 8 Act silently to secure unfinished
- religious work's postponement 9 Tip for getting reduced fares (4).
- _ 10 Crashed in banker's car so think hard! (4.4,6). 11 Give support to this sort of
- passenger (5-2).
- 13 Recruits in French tournament action (7).
- 15 Spotted son getting kissed (7). 18 College visit produces cry of disapproval (7).
- 21 Reacting speedily, like adroit lotvery officials (5,2,3,4). 22 Southern chief's epic story (4).
- 23 A heartless lie, trouble for devotee
- 24 Row of houses in brief, it accommodates famous old actor
- 25 Musical instrument left concerthall after me (8).

- 1 Shuts up drink in house, being upwardly mobile (7). 2 Runs into one crack needing
- repair in rail (9). 3 Out-and-out antique fetched better price (7).
- 4 Restyle, introducing modifications in brief fashion (7). 5 State attorney defending doctor
- published notes (9). 6 African passing up fruit - 1 left one, too (7). 7 Prepare too much type for piece of
- text in scripture (7). 12 Meal quickly follows piece of good
- luck (9). 14 It may be well protected in multistorey buildings (9).
- 16 Provoking interest in the capacity of a beer taken outside (7). 17 Invention from commander at an
- advanced stage (7). 18 Protective cover for attractive girl
- outside class (7). 19 Lot more shaky, this, for musicians? (7).
- 20 Information from base (3-4). Times Two Crossword, page 44

Anatole Kaletska commentator of the year THESWEATHERCHE

Constant Much of England and Wales will be bright with some sunshine but there may be some early tog patches. There will be showers, especially in the west. For Northern Ireland, eastern and southern Scotland there will be surnly spells and a lew showers. Western and northern Scotland will have heavy showers.

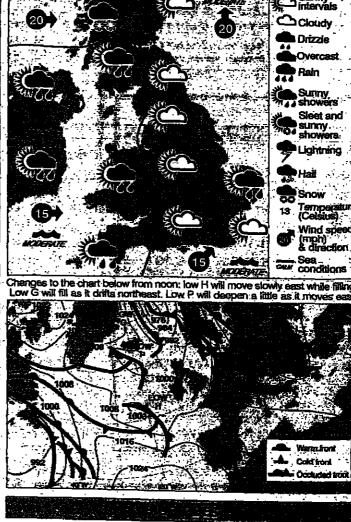

London, SE England, E Anglia: perhaps cloudy at first but becoming brighter isolated showers. Wind light, southwest. Fresh. Max 7C (45F).

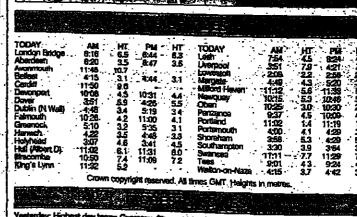

sunshine. Showers developing. Wind light, mainly southwest. Fresh. Max 7C (45F).

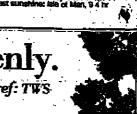

SW England, Wales, late of Mans showers, frequent and heavy. Steet or snow on high ground. Drier letter. Wind light, mainly southwest. Fresh. Max 7C (45F). Borders, Edinburgh & Durridee, Aberdeen, SW Scotland, Glasgow, Mo-ray Firth, Argyll, N Ireland: bright with surny spells, Isolated showers, Wind Ignt, southwest, Fresh, Max 6C (43F): ☐ Central Highlands, NE Scotland, NW Scotland, Orliney, Shetland: frequent heavy showers. Some trundery. Snow on the mountains. Chilly. Max 5C (41F). Outlook; most areas dry and bright.

0 14 0 21 0 04 0 17 0 31 024 10 D44 41 019 5.7 08 05! 41 030 23 005 30 030 58 002 10 050 02 061

Ajactor Alvosiri Algiara Anglara Anglara Anglara Baring Ba Ciphage Dubin Dubin Dubin Dubin Dubin Dubin Dubin Planton Franchi Geneva Garatta Hatania Hadania Hadania La Tapat La Tapat Liston Locamo Lucero Madrica Madrica Madrica Malaga Meta Meta Medon Mami Mami Mara Mostos Mostos Musich Nos Mostos Musich Napies Nos Parta Petin Praga Rodes Ro sezzone Santiago Santiago Santiago Santiago Santiago Templer Templer Templer Templer Templer Templer Templer Vanoren Ventra Vent

HEATHILR

CONTRACTOR

Changes to the chart below from noon; low H will move slowly east while filling Low G will fill as it drifts northeast. Low P will deepen a little as it moves east

